350 STEPS TO A SHOE

Shoemaking—which takes 85 per cent of the leather produced in America—is a much more complex production problem than it was 75 years ago, when leather shoes had identical rights and lefts—and were switched from foot to foot to obtain even wear, as we now do with our automobile tires. There are 350 operations involved in making a modern shoe. And shoes come in more than 1,500 various lengths and widths.

VIKING . . .

Wednesday evening supper guests at the Axel Jacobson home were Mr. and Mrs. Milford Olson and Michael. The honored guest was Jimmy Jacobson on his 12th birthday.

Mr. and Mrs. Milford Olson entertained in honor of Michael on his first birthday the following: Mr. and Mrs. Walter McKieth, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Pfannsmith, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Ward and family, Mr. Martin Olson and Darwyn and Laurence Ward from Fordville, N. D. and Mr. and Mrs. Axel Jacobson and Jimmy.

Mr. and Mrs. Axel Jacobson and Jimmy, Milford Olson, Rodger Sackett and Sigurd Holden made a fishing trip to Lake of the Woods Monday and visited at the Alex Krohn home at the same time.

Mr. and Mrs. John Julin and Irene and Mr. and Mrs. Percy Stokke and Marlys visited at the Oscar Hjelles home Sunday.

WHAT PRICE EDUCATION?

Medicine and dentistry run neck and neck for the most costly course at the University of Minnesota, including tuition and special fees, necessary books and instruments, board, room, laundry; veterinary medicine is indubitably third in the cost column, with law, pharmacy and technology (general or medical) crowding for the next four spots. Nursing is the least costly course, with basic professional nursing far at the bottom of the list because of low tuition fee and low board-room-laundry costs. Average non-resident cost of 14 courses analyzed, fall-winter-spring quarters, is $1,240; resident costs, figuring board-room-laundry on same basis as non-residents, average $1,053 for three quarters (lower tuition fees).

Hiring, buying, selling, are jobs that a Times classified ad can do for you.

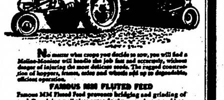
In 1945, the total wholesale value of petroleum products consumed in the United States was $3,732,560,000. In 1951, the total had risen to $9,370,568,000. Motor fuel alone rose from $2,370,568,000. Motor fuel alone rose from $2,202,460,000 in 1945 to $5,458,117,000 in 1951.



FAST, UNIFORM, ACCURATE DRILLING
MM Drills for every purpose.
MM Monitors were the world's first commercially successful grain drill.

No matter what crops you decide to sow, you will find a Moline-Monitor will handle the job fast and accurately, without danger of injuring the most delicate seeds. The rugged construction of hoppers, frames, axles and wheels add up to dependable, efficient operation.

FAMOUS MM FLUTED FEED

Famous MM Fluted Feed prevents bridging and grinding of seed. Revolving wall plate extends almost to the top and bottom of the deep feed cup to further assure a positive even feed. A high-quality steel compression spring holds the cylinder firmly against the close-fitting cut-off roll. Flax and other small and expensive seeds can easily be handled without additional equipment.

Come in and get the facts about MM Drills with a choice of single or double discs, press wheels, deep furrow or lister openers, and other special-tool equipment.

Capitol Chat

By Mrs. Coya Knutson
Rep. 65th District

My mailbox has been the recipient of dozens of letters from the depot agents and interested citizens in my area concerning Senate File 503. This bill if enacted will give the railroads authority to close any railroad station which falls below $8000 per year revenue from passengers and less-than-carload freight business alone or who fall below $1500 for any three-month period. This is an extremely vicious bill and I haven't met one representative who thinks this bill stands a chance. I doubt very much if the railroad lobby is powerful enough to put this one over.

I introduced a bill which will provide that if a majority of voters vote on an amendment it will carry. Many of our amendments are lost for the simple reason that those who do not vote on them at all are counted as a "no" vote.

A resolution has been introduced by Charlie Halsted to support the Supreme Court decision in the case of offshore oil land. It would be well to distinguish between the terms "tidelands oil" and "offshore oil." At present, and for three times in succession, the Supreme Court has awarded the tidelands oil to the ten-mile limit to these three states in dispute. The question concerned in this resolution, however, is in regard to the oil which runs beyond the ten-mile limit. In some cases it can be 40 to 50 miles out. Minnesota would stand to gain between $200 million and $300 million in its school-fund-if-the-federal-government keeps possession of these oil lands. We have been urged to ask our constituents to write their congressmen to support the retention of the federal government of this offshore land.

Yesterday we passed a bill keeping children in school from six to sixteen years, or until they have completed the ninth grade.

The best talking point for this bill was fact that many who finish the eighth grade need some inducement or incentive to enter high school. We felt that if they had that one year in high school they would be much more willing to complete the high school course.

We have been hurriedly passing local bills to try to make time for the more controversial ones which will begin to clutter up our calendar. Work in committees is fast approaching a "3-ulcer" job. I wish it were possible for us to serve and to become experts in the field of one or two committees. This would help to cut down the load and we feel we could do a better job—of course that is a highly debatable question.

QUESTIONS answered for VETERANS

(This service is based on questions asked at Veterans Administration offices in the State. Answers are supplied by VA.)

Q: I've just been released from the Army and I need treatment right away for a bad leg injury I suffered in Korea.

What must I do to get this treatment from VA without delay?

A: Go to any VA hospital or regional office with your discharge papers and with any other evidence you may have showing that you suffered your disability in service. As a Korean veteran, you may be entitled to emergency outpatient treatment.

Q: I am a blinded veteran, and I understand I am entitled to a seeing-eye dog at government expense. But I can't afford the expenses of going to the place where I'm supposed to learn how to adjust to the use of the dog. Is it possible for VA to pay these expenses?

A: Yes, VA may pay necessary travel expenses to and from the point where readjustment is available, as well as your meals and lodging during the period of readjustment.

Q: I am considered totally disabled for insurance purposes and yet I only receive a 30 percent disability compensation. Can my compensation be increased?

A: Only if the service-connected disability is shown to have become more severe. For insurance purposes, there may have been other nonservice-connected disabilities which, when combined with your service-connected ailment, produced total disability. Also, the criteria for determining total disability are different in insurance from those for compensation matters.

Do not turn back when you are just at the goal.

Voters of North and Rocksbury Townships

At the annual meeting March 10th the voters of the Townships of Rocksbury and North will vote on whether or not they want to purchase a rural fire truck.

According to the proposed contract between the Townships and the City this truck would be equipped with hose, ladders, extinguishers, etc. by the City at a cost of about $3,000. The City would also make repairs and maintain the truck and equipment for the life of the truck, which is estimated to be about 20 years, providing it could be used in the City when not needed in the Townships. The City would also man the truck.

The cost of a two ton fire truck and pumps with a 500 or 600 gal. water tank would be not over $8,000, the cost to be shared equally by the two Townships. This initial cost would be the last for the life of the truck.

For the past several years the City has made attempts to get the Fire Underwriters Inspection Bureau to lower insurance rates in the City. The Bureau tells them this would be impossible because the fire department has been answering fire calls out of the City, and it was felt that the City did not own enough equipment to go out of the City. The Inspection Bureau indicated that if the Townships wanted fire protection that they should endeavor to buy a fire truck and leave the City firemen answer calls out of the City with this truck. They also add that the type equipment now owned by the City is inadequate for rural fires due to the small quantity of water carried, pumps that freeze too easily, etc.

Following is the proposed contract between the City and the Townships of Rocksbury and North:

THIS AGREEMENT, MADE and entered into this .... day of .... A. D. 19...., by and between the City of Thief River Falls, State of Minnesota, party of the first part, hereinafter referred to as "City" and the Townships of North and Rocksbury County of Pennington, State of Minnesota, party of the second part, hereinafter referred to as "Towns" both municipal corporations of said state.

Witnesseth. The said City agrees to furnish fire service and protection to the property in said Towns for the compensation and on the considerations and conditions set forth, and the said City further agrees that its firemen will make a reasonable effort to respond and attend such fires; provided however.

That in responding to fire calls in said Towns the fire department of said City will use the fire apparatus furnished by said Towns for such purposes, or if this apparatus is out of commission, then any available apparatus belonging to the City will be used.

That in the event of two fire calls from said Towns, the first shall have priority, and the second call shall be answered as soon as possible. That road conditions and weather conditions must be such that the fire run can be made with reasonable safety to men and apparatus, and the judgement of the fire chief of said City or other officer in charge of the fire department shall be final in such matter.

That said City shall not be held liable in any way to the said Towns or any inhabitant or property owner thereof, or to any other person or firm or corporation for failure of said City fire department to respond to and attend a fire in said Towns, or to put out a fire, for damage to goods or for any other cause.

Said City further agrees:

To house without charge the fire apparatus furnished for such use by said Town, equip with hose and all other equipment deemed necessary and to carry liability and property damage insurance as is carried on the apparatus owned by the City. To make no claims against said Towns for damage or compensation claims arising from personal injuries of said City while in the fire service of said Towns, but to carry insurance to protect itself against such liability, and to save both parties harmless so far as the negligent acts if the firemen of said City are concerned, and not otherwise.

The said Towns agrees:

To purchase and deliver to said City for housing and use as herein provided such motor driven fire truck and portable pumper. This apparatus to remain the property of said Towns.

That the supervision and control of the fire department shall be and remain in the governing body of the City.

That said Towns will pay to said City for the services of such fire department at fires the sum of $20.00 for each hour or part thereof and $10.00 for each succeeding hour or part thereof. This money to compensate the members of the fire department and to supplement their Relief Association. The total amounts to be billed the Towns semi-annually by the City Clerk and turned over to the Treasurer of the Relief Association of the fire department.

That said Towns consent to the use of said fire truck and portable pump at City fires when not called to the service of said Towns, such Towns calls always to have priority, the City agreeing to pay for replacement of parts and all repairs in apparatus due to damage or breakage while in the fire service of the City or Towns.

That said Towns further agree to make sufficient levy for Towns purposes to pay for said fire truck and portable pump and compensation of City firemen as herein provided.

It is further agreed by and between the said parties that this contract shall not be binding upon either party until Towns supervisors shall have regularly adopted said agreement in resolution form, shall have entered such resoution on its records of proceedings and shall have certified a true copy to the city clerk nor until the governing body of said City shall have passed a resolution embodying the terms of this contract, shall have made it effective by publication according to law, and shall have certified a true copy to said clerk of said Towns.

This contract shall be and remain in force for a term beginning on the .... day of .... 19.... and ending on the .... day of .... 19....

This contract is made in duplicate and signed on behalf of said Towns by its supervisors and attest by the Towns Clerks.

Witness the signatures of said officers this .... day of .... A. D. 19....

State Report Shows Wide Variations in Assessment Values

A progress report of the equalization school aid review committee made public this week disclosed variations in the assessment of property which likely will attract wide attention.

The committee was created by the 1951 legislature to review the assessed valuations of property in school districts receiving equalization school aid. Equalization aid is distributed according to assessed value of property per pupil in the district, and the legislators felt it important to have some means of reviewing the assessments if uniformity is to be obtained.

If the property in a particular district were to be given an unusually low assessment, it was suggested, that district would get more aid than it is entitled to and would have an advantage over another district in which property is assessed at a proper level.

The equalization aid review committee is composed of Commissioner of Education Dean Schweickhard, Commissioner of Administration Earl Berg and Commissioner of Taxation G. Howard Spaeth. Teams of investigators working under Spaeth's direction have been busy for many months gathering and making an analysis of extensive samples of assessments in nine counties.

Included in the study reported are Red Lake, Becker, Pennington, Norman, Clearwater Clay, Mahnomen, Carlton and Aitkin counties. Similar studies of assessments in Hennepin and Wright counties are nearing completion. Later, it is expected the inquiry will be extended to all counties. If the review committee feels that property in any district is undervalued, it may ask the tax department to determine the true value.

The surveys made brought out a surprising variation in assessments. Among school districts in the nine counties, there were 7 in which the property was assessed at from 10 to 20% of its true value. At the other extreme there were 36 districts where the property was assessed at 70% to 80% of its market value. Others fell in between these extremes.

The disparity in assessments between counties also was pronounced. In Aitkin county, property was assessed at 24.65% of market value, while in Red Lake county property was assessed at 51.22% of market value, a difference of fully 100%. Figures for other counties were: Becker, 49.90%; Pennington, 48.17%; Norman, 43.14%; Clearwater, 37.30%; Clay, 36.92%; Mahnomen, 36.45%; and Carlton, 28.92%.

The same lack of uniformity also is evident between classes of property. For the nine counties the surveys show farm property is assessed closer to market value than other classes of property. Farm property was assessed at 49.27% of market value. Residential property was assessed at 27.28% of market valu. Industrial property was about the same, and commercial property was 30.96%, with public utilities listed at 43.7%.

Crowned Queen of the 10,000 Lakes

The queen of the 10,000 Lakes is Miss Ethelyn Olson, University of Minnesota senior from St. Paul, and last fall's Homecoming Queen. Miss Olson, was chosen queen for the 10,000 Lakes Association by a committee headed by Dr. Edwin Haislet, director of the Minnesota Alumni Association. Miss Olson was given her official crown February 24 by Governor C. Elmer Anderson, honorary chairman of the 10,000 Lakes Association.

Soil Test Is Like a Doctor's Exam, Authority Says

Director of Soil Testing Laboratory at 'U' of M. Explains Objectives

A soil test is like a doctor's examination. It has to be interpreted correctly and then, if necessary, proper steps prescribed.

That's the diagnosis of Paul Burson, who is in charge of the University of Minnesota soil testing laboratory.

"Just testing your soil isn't enough," Burson says. "That test must be interpreted in terms of fertilizer treatments, crops, soil conditions, and past soil management practices."

"Soil testing should be a regular guide in setting up a good soil fertility and management program on the farm. Don't limit it to a means of 'trouble shooting' when there is a soil problem," he says.

Burson went on to point out that a careful study of the 38,774 soils samples tested by the University soil testing laboratory since 1950 have revealed the following facts about soils and farm practices in Minnesota:

1. More farmers should be applying lime to their land in the lime-deficient areas.
2. More lime should be applied per acre than is now generally done.
3. Proper fertilizer grades are not being used. If one needed nutrient-nitrogen, phosphate, or potash—is lacking or short, the other nutrients in a fertilizer will not do as good a job as they could in correcting soil troubles. For example, if a soils test shows the need for a heavy application of phosphate plus some nitrogen and potash, the nitrogen and potash will not be fully effective unless the right amount of phosphate is present.
4. Farmers generally haven't been applying enough fertilizer per acre to give them the most for the money they spend on fertilizer. Fertilizers should be applied more heavily than they are now.

Holt Youth Wins Radio Speaking Event at Shows

Eddie Olson, Clearbrook, and LaRue Fricker, Holt, were picked winners of the district radio speaking contest conducted in conjunction with the Red River Valley Winter Shows at Crookston last Wednesday.

They each won a $15 cash award from the Minnesota Jewish Council and a chance to participate in the state radio speaking contest at University Farm, St. Paul, March 7. They were selected as the best speakers among nine contestants from Red River Valley counties.

Dorothy Jean Gillie, Williams, and Erland Carlson, McIntosh, were named as runners-up, each winning a $10 prize.

Editors' Highway Traffic Safety Group Renamed

Because they helped Minnesota achieve an outstanding national traffic safety record during 1952, all of the members of the Minnesota Editorial association's Safety Committee have been reappointed to serve during 1953, according to George A. Rossman, newly-elected association president and editor of the Grand Rapids Herald-Review. Theo. A. Norelius, of the Lindstrom Press, was re-named chairman of the committee. Serving with him again this year are Grace A. Dunn, Princeton; John Suel, Shakopee; John F. Tischler, Delaon; and Mrs. Mae B. Tygeson, Annandale.

Sales of Defense Bonds up in State

Sales of U. S. Defense bonds in Minnesota during January were the highest of any month in two years. They totaled $9,088,000 as compared to $6,443,000 in December and $7,509,000 a year ago. Of the above total, $7,187,000 or 78 per cent, came from the sale of Series E and H bonds to individuals. Series S and H sales for Pennington county were $13,107 in January according to J. M. Roche, county bond committee chairman. This compared with $25,117 for January a year ago.

MEMORY LANE

THE MILKMAN

Remember when all the milkman carried on his route was milk — just cow's milk? Today, in addition to homogenized, pasteurized & chocolate milk, his dairy items include several grades of cream, as well as half-and-half, cottage cheese and buttermilk. And what's enough to make any self-respecting cow turn up her nose, he also carries orange juice and eggs! Remember?

you wouldn't!

Just because, in some places, plowing is still done by a crooked stick pulled by a water buffalo, you wouldn't do your farming this way.

But some farmers, modern in their farming methods, are still backward in their business methods because they try to get along without a checking account. Why? They're easy to open, economical . . . and safe. Pay with checks of this bank.

1953 Studebaker Commander V-8 Starlight Coupe. White sidewall tires, chrome wheel discs—and glare-reducing tinted glass—optional at extra cost. Actual photograph

the New 1953 Studebaker
The new American car with the European look!

It's almost unbelievably low! It's impressively long and wide!
It has the sleek-lined smartness of a costly foreign car and it's right down to earth in price!

It's less than five feet high!
1953 Studebaker Starliner hard-top convertible!
Truly a new flight into the future!

The completely new, sensationally different 1953 Studebaker unquestionably is the most daring step forward of our times in automobile design.

Here, first by far in an American car, is the continental charm of Europe's most distinguished cars—an impressively long new Studebaker that is so very low most people can see over its top!

Come in and find out about the exciting new 1953 Studebaker—dramatic in verve and flair—breath-taking in beauty inside as well as outside. Find out how down to earth in price it really is.

A brand new type of Power Steering
A Studebaker exclusive—available in Commander V-8 at moderate extra cost
Huge new expanses of safety glass all around
All models—Champions and Commander V-8s—have one-piece rear windows as well as windshields
A new and safer low center of gravity
It gives the car road-tight stability on sharp turns as well as curves

Home Service Dept. of County Red Cross Handles Many Cases

Information released today by R. S. Eldevik, home service chairman for the Pennington county chapter of the American Red Cross, reveals that a total of seventy cases were given home service assistance during 1952. These included emergency communications service, assistance with applications for government allotments, referral to other community sources of help, and financial assistance. Eldevik stated that Red Cross home service functions as a link between the men in service, wherever they are stationed, and the mothers and fathers and wives and children back home. Red Cross Home Service stands ready at all times to help men and women in the armed forces and their families meet personal and family problems.

It also assists, whenever possible, veterans and their families. When an emergency arises and there is need to establish contact with a serviceman stationed outside the United States or on a ship at sea, home service becomes indispensable. Through the reporting and communications unit at national headquarters, emergency reports may be sent to or requested from military locations throughout the world.

What the home service program means to the people of this community, Eldevik said, should not be measured in terms of dollars spent, but rather by the humanity of its service, which knows no race, color or creed.

Modern Mining Method

Continuous mining machines, which claw coal from the face of the seam and load it at the same time, will account for some eight million tons of the bituminous coal produced in 1952.

Marshall County Engineer Asks No Road Extensions

A 1952 recommendation that no additional mileage be added to the county road system in Marshall county because of deterioration of roads due to increased traffic and heavier loads, was repeated by H. T. Swanson, Marshall county highway engineer, in his annual report to the county board of commissioners, which was released last week.

All available funds should be used to improve the road system as it is now designated, Mr. Swanson emphasized in his report.

The highway engineer also emphasized the need for shop facilities, stating the serious need for a central shop for repair and storage is very evident. With the large amount of equipment that the county now has, considerable savings could be effected and better service rendered by having a competent mechanic do the county repair work, he said.

During the past year 197 miles of state aid roads and 564.7 miles of county aid roads were maintained, the report reveals.

February Traffic Causes 18 Deaths

Minnesota motorists, evidently shocked by the 49 deaths resulting from January traffic accidents, turned in a much better record for the month of February, with only 18 deaths reported to the Minnesota highway department, according to preliminary figures available. This is only one more death than was charged against the state's motorists in February of last year and is the lowest death toll for any one month since then. The two-month 1953 toll now stands at 67 or 22 more than for the first two months of last year.

County Man Pays Top Sheep Price at Crookston Sale

Arlen Solem Bids $152 for Suffolk Ewe with Two Lambs Thursday

A Suffolk ewe consigned by Harden Stock Farms, Hawley, brought the highest price of any animal sold in the sheep sale at the Red River Valley Winter Shows in Crookston Thursday.

This ewe, with two lambs at side, sold for $152.50 to Arlen Solem, Thief River Falls. This is the second year in a row that the Harden Stock Farms have sold the highest priced ewe at the Winter Shows.

The 42 head of sheep sold this year averaged $75.77 for a grand total of $3,182.50. Last year 39 head averaged $82.30 for a total of $3,210.

The four Suffolk ewes in the sale averaged $129.37, the highest average price for any breed. This is $28 above the 1952 average.

Three Columbia sheep consigned by Billberg and Dahlquist, Roseau, averaged $118.33 for the second high breed average. This is the first time Columbia sheep have been sold at the Winter Shows. Five Shropshires averaged $60.50, about the same as last year's average.

In the Hampshire sale, D. R. Mosher, Beltrami, sold the top-priced ewe for $100 to Lawrence Hagl, Red Lake Falls. Thirty Hampshires averaged $63.90.

6,000,000 lb. of Rough Fish Taken from State Lakes

Approximately 6½ million pounds of rough fish have been removed from Minnesota lakes since last July 1, under contract, project, and state crew operations, according to Frank D. Blair, director of Game and Fish.

This was about one million pounds more than netted during the same seven month period in 1952, Blair said. Carp and buffalo fish were running much smaller in many lakes in 1953—about a half to three-quarter pounds on the average, where they used to average two pounds and better. As a result, more of them are sold for animal food.

Total poundage of rough fish taken under contract fishing, day labor, bullhead project, and permits during 1952 was 8,987,970 pounds, Blair said. Of this total 5,061,073 pounds was carp; 920,442 pounds was buffalo fish, and bullheads 2,320,097 lbs. Take of sheepshead totalled 521,400 pounds.

Also during 1952, Blair said, more than 191,000 pounds of fish were rescued from shallow lakes and transferred to deeper lakes as insurance against winterkill. This was in excess of the 123,000 pounds rescued in 1951.

District Rural Youth Parley at Warren Mar. 28

Rural Youth groups in Minnesota will hold four district conferences in March, Kathleen Flom, University of Minnesota assistant state 4-H club leader in charge of Rural Youth, announced today.

The ninth annual series of district conferences will be held in Faribault at Hotel Faribault, March 6-7, for southeastern Minnesota; in Montevideo at the Hunt Hotel, March 13-14, for southwestern counties; in St. Cloud, at Hotel St. Cloud, March 20-21 for the central area; and in Warren at the City Auditorium, March 28 for the northern district.

Programs for the events are being planned by special committees and district officers who comprise the state Rural Youth executive committee. Among the members of the state executive committee are Leonard Yutrzenka, Argyle; and Donald Schirrick, Red Lake Falls.

Marshall Youth Wins Grain Clinic at Winter Shows

Scoring 1254 out of a possible 1300 points, Frank Paulson, Marshall county, took top honors in a contest conducted during a 4-H grain clinic at the Red River Valley Shows in Crookston, it was announced today. He received a plaque from the Red River Valley Development Association. Those taking part in the contest rated samples of grain, identified various grains and weed seeds and wrote a quiz.

John Brandt, Dynamic Cooperative Leader, Dies in Middle River

JOHN BRANDT

John Brandt, dynamic president of Land O'Lakes creameries since 1924 and one of the founders of the organization, died unexpectedly of a heart attack last Wednesday evening in Middle River while in attendance at a church dinner that followed the annual meeting of District 17, L. O'L., held in the village during the afternoon. He was 67 years old.

After the close of the afternoon session at 4 o'clock, Mr. Brandt returned to Thief River Falls with Stuart McLeod for a brief rest at the McLeod home, and they then had gone back to Middle River for the dinner at 6:30.

Mr. Brandt had given a short talk, and was listening to a quartet number that was to conclude the program, when he slumped over in his chair. A stretcher was obtained and he was taken to the Collins home across the street, where it was ascertained that he was dead.

The body was brought Wednesday night to the Gulbranson Funeral Home in this city, and was taken Thursday morning to Minneapolis. Funeral rites were conducted Saturday afternoon from the Hennepin Avenue Methodist church in that city. Included in the large gathering in attendance were Art Stenberg, director of Land O'Lakes Creameries, and Mrs. Stenberg; Mr. and Mrs. Stuart McLeod and Morris Howick, assistant manager of the local L O'L plant.

Mr. Brandt was widely known thru his numerous speaking appearances in all parts of the Northwest, and his intense feelings on cooperative problems were reflected in his energetic manner of speaking.

In addition to the Land O' Lakes presidency, Mr. Brandt headed the National Milk Producers federation since 1941. This group represents dairy farmers from almost every State in legislative and education work in Washington.

He also served on a dairy industry advisory committee for Ezra T. Benson, secretary of agriculture. The committee's recent sessions led to continued support of dairy prices.

Mr. Brandt was one of the original committee of 11 which formulated and set up the forerunner of Land O'Lakes in 1921.

He was secretary of the group for the first two years of its ex-

1,500 Persons at L.O'L. District 17 Session in M. River

John Brandt in Final Talk Tells of Successful Mission to Washington

The Middle River high school auditorium proved to be too small to accommodate the approximately 1,500 persons who attended the afternoon session of the annual District 17 meeting of Land O'Lakes Creameries last Wednesday. Art Stenberg, district president, conducted the session.

In his final appearance preceding his unexpected death at a banquet Wednesday evening, John Brandt, late president of Land O'Lake Creameries, told of a recent conference in Washington with Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson, in which Brandt and other dairy leaders secured a pledge to extend 90 per cent support prices for butter for another year to April 1, 1954.

In the intervening months, Brandt said, the dairy industry is expected to develop a self-help program including the creation of a holding pool similar to the one maintained during the depression years preceding World War II.

Number Employed in City Declines Slightly in Feb.

A total of 2,506 persons was employed in Thief River Falls in February, the figure being six-tenths of one per cent below the total for February, 1952, it was announced this week by R. S. Eldevik, manager of the local office of the state employment service. He added that the current supply of labor is the highest of the winter season, but will be reduced when the construction season opens up later in the spring.

Polish Couple Are Naturalized Here

Kazimierz Soltowski and his wife, Janina Marie, both natives of Poland, became American citizens in naturalization proceedings conducted in this city February 25 by Judge J. H. John Deere Day Draws over 2,000

The annual John Deere Day Tuesday, sponsored by the Amundgaard-Lunke company, was acclaimed as a huge success. Approximately 1,000 persons attended free movie shows at the Avalon theatre during the morning and afternoon, while during the noon hour a tasty lunch was served to nearly 2,100 persons at the firm's headquarters on Atlantic av.

Girl Scout Court of Awards Is Set for Next Tuesday

The Girl Scout court of awards will be held Tuesday, March 17, at eight o'clock in the Eagles auditorium. All Girl Scouts and their leaders will be honored, and various proficiency badges and ranks awarded. Parents and friends are cordially invited to be present, officers of the local organization announced.

Thursday, Mar. 12, marks the 41st anniversary of the founding of the Girl Scouts of America in 1912 by Juliette Low. In observance of the occasion, several of the 19 active Girl Scout troops in Thief River Falls have arranged window displays in downtown business places, illustrating various phases of the program.

County Engineer Cites Load Limits on County Roads

Asks for Cooperation of Public During Spring Breakup Mar. 20-May 15

While a state law provides for a maximum load of four tons per axle on county roads during the spring breakup period from March 20 to May 15, the Pennington county board has authorized Joseph Seidel, county engineer to restrict limits to a maximum of two and one-half tons gross per vehicle, according to the condition of the roads.

Seidel suggested that farmers and other truckers do their heavy hauling before March 20, when the restrictions will go into effect. He also asked the cooperation of school superintendents and creamery managers in keeping their busses and trucks off the roads at times of rain or wet snow, which may soften the road bed, until the roads harden sufficiently to be able to carry the load without damage.

Failure to cooperate, said Seidel, will necessitate the imposition of the two and one-half ton limit during the spring breakup.

Arthur A. Johnson New Manager of Main av. Motors

Arthur A. Johnson, formerly sales manager of the Northern Chevrolet company, and associated with that firm the past 13 years, has taken over the position of manager of Main av. Motors, Inc., it was announced this week by Kern Olson, president. He added that J. M. Roche, who has served as sales manager the past year, will continue in that capacity.

C. and C. Hears Discussion of Bond Election

Don Olson of County Board Stresses Need for New Court House

More than 50 members attended the Civic and Commerce association luncheon meeting last Thursday noon in the Rex Cafe, and heard a discussion by Don Olson, member of the county board, of the court house building project which will be submitted to the voters of the county at a special election next Monday, March 16.

Olson also presented revised plans for the structure, which has been reduced in size from 400,000 cubic feet as originally planned, to 290,000, lowering the cost of the building by about $100,000. The original L-shape has been altered to a more economical rectangular shape, he pointed out.

Stating that the present county debt of $84,000 will be retired by 1955, Olson said that the proposed bond issue of $295,000 could be retired within a comparatively few years without any increase in the present levy of 7.35 mills for the bonds and interest funds.

Olson also stressed the acute need for a new court house, and J. L. Radniecki of Deer Park, who was present at the meeting, said that rural residents realize the need for a new building.

In the business session, Secretary Glenn Carlson reported that the Dairy Day movies taken here last June had been shown during the fall and winter at a large number of meetings in New York, Pennsylvania, Ohio and other states under the auspices of the Minnesota Dairy Industry committee, giving this area widespread publicity.

Ward Nichols, chairman of the tourist trade committee, announced that funds were being solicited to promote tourist traffic from Winnipeg to Thief River Falls, and he asked a generous response.

John X. Lynskey reported for the governmental affairs committee that plans were being developed to seek an expansion of area vocational school facilities in Thief River Falls.

After slumping to 20 below zero last Friday and Saturday morning, the mercury rebounded this week to springlike highs of 34 Monday and 37 Tuesday afternoon. Only a trace of precipitation was recorded during the week.

Hospital Benefit Rummage Sale to Be Staged Friday

The Thief River Falls Woman's club will conduct its second annual hospital benefit rummage sale Friday, March 13, from 10 a. m. to 6 p. m. in the Woman's club room adjoining the Civic and Commerce room in the rear of the Auditorium basement. Proceeds of the sale of wearing apparel and other items will be applied on the club's $900 pledge to the Northwestern Hospital building fund. Following last year's successful sale, $300 was turned in on the pledge.

Sam Sorenson Is Injured in Blaze That Razes Home

Heavy Traffic Prevents Fire Truck from Reaching Farm 4 Miles West of City

An estimated more than 100 automobiles carrying basketball fans back from the district tournament in Grand Forks Friday at midnight were attracted to the scene of a fire that destroyed the house on the Sam Sorenson farm four miles west of Thief River Falls and south of Highway No. 1.

The cars blocked traffic so effectively that a fire truck from this city was unable to reach the scene despite the best efforts of the firemen and Police Chief Ken Judy to open the clogged side road leading to the farm.

Sam Sorenson, who was alone in the house at the time the fire broke out, is receiving treatment in a local hospital for severe burns on his feet when he ran onto the burning linoleum floor in the kitchen, and his lungs also suffered from smoke irritation. His condition Monday was reported to be good.

Sorenson's mother, who recently was released from the hospital, fortunately was not in the house at the time of the blaze, as she has been spending a few days with friends while recuperating.

Krause Bros. Host to 500 People at Auditorium Show

Krause Bros. Implement Co. was host to nearly 500 persons at a Massey-Harris All-star Revue staged in the municipal Auditorium last Friday afternoon. The gathering enjoyed an interesting program of vaudeville and motion pictures, and the new Massey-Harris Model 33 tractor was displayed.

N.W. Hospital Makes Changes in Fees for Blood Transfusions

Several important developments arose out of the monthly meeting of the board of directors of Northwestern Hospital Association, Inc. held Monday evening.

One of the problems taken up was that of charges for laboratory processing and transfusion of blood. It was decided that henceforth there would be a charge of $10 per pint for the laboratory processes. These processes involve typing of the donors' blood, taking serology tests of the donor, cross-matching the blood with that of the recipient and taking the blood from the donor.

In the event these tests are taken in connection with donors who appear discontinuously rather than in a group of several for the same patient, the laboratory charge would be $10 per pint.

However, it often occurs that the patient must receive several pints of blood under a process of continuous transfusion. In such cases, if it is possible for several donors to appear and be processed through the laboratory in a group, there will be a reduction in charge for all additional pints beyond the first to $2.50 for each donor.

The actual transfusion which takes place either in the operating room or on the nursing floor will in the future be taken care of at a charge of $3 for the first pint and in the event additional pints of blood are continuously introduced, the charge beyond the first pint will be reduced to $2.50 for each pint.

The above changes in the charges in connection with laboratory work and actual transfusions represents a very substantial reduction from the present scale of charges for these services.

The board of directors also authorized Harold Peterson, administrator, to seek affiliation with the University of Minnesota country hospital nursing education program. Under this program, the University of Minnesota school of nursing, with other affiliated hospital nursing schools in the Twin Cities, would furnish Northwestern Hospital with six students of nursing who had had at least 18 months of prior preparation.

Groups of six students would be rotated every six weeks the year around. It was pointed out that affiliation of Northwestern Hospital with this teaching program would represent a definite recognition of the general excel-

Pennington County Residents to Vote Monday, March 16, on $295,000 Bonds for Court House

Polls to Be Open in Rural Precincts 9 a. m.-8 p. m., to Open in City at 7 a. m.

Voters of Pennington county have an important duty confronting them next Monday, March 16, when they are asked to appear at their regular polling places to make known their wishes in the matter of issuing up to $295,000 in bonds to finance the construction of a new court house in Thief River Falls.

The present dilapidated building was condemned by the state fire marshal in 1947 as unfit for further use.

County Auditor C. W. Rodekuhr announced that polls will be open in the rural precincts from 9 a. m. to 8 p. m., while Thief River Falls residents may vote in the Auditorium between the hours of 7 a. m. and 8 p. m. Polls also will open at 7 a. m. in the Town of North.

Rodekuhr added that the county is paying the cost of the special election on presentation of bills by the various townships, villages and city.

If approved at the election Monday, the proposed structure will be erected on the site of the present court house on Main av. at First st. and extending north on to the vacant property adjoining, which has been turned over to the county by the city.

The building would include three stories and would measure 142 feet wide with a depth of 62 feet. The county board plans to call for alternate bids on cement-faced and brick-faced types of construction.

Foss and Co. of Moorhead, architects, estimate that the building could be erected at a cost of $325,000, with an additional $40,000 for equipment. Of the total cost of $365,000, the county at present has $70,000 on hand in its building fund, with additional amounts due from the city liquor dispensary fund.

The county board during the past five years has been levying $10,000 a year for the court house building fund, in addition to a levy of 7.35 mills for the bonds and interest fund, or slightly more than $35,000 a year. By this means the county bonded debt has been reduced to $84,000, of which $52,000 will be paid in 1953, $23,000 in 1954 and the remaining $9,000 in 1955.

T. G. Evanson & associates, Minneapolis bond consultants, informed the county board in a letter last week that an average tax levy of 6.56 mills would raise $33,000 a year, or enough to retire the proposed $295,000 bond issue within a period of ten years.

Evanson also cited figures for retiring the bonds over longer periods. He said they could be paid off in twenty years with a levy of 4.13 mills or $20,000 per year, but added that bonds for the longer term would draw approximately one-half per cent more interest than would ten-year bonds.

The county board will not reach a decision as to the time of maturity of the bonds until after Monday's election.

12 Stores Sharing in Legion Style Show March 20th

Minneapolis Quartet to Supply Music at Event in Lincoln Gymnasium

The annual Legion-sponsored style show will be presented on Friday evening, March 20, at 8:30 in the Lincoln high school gymnasium. The theme of this year's show is "Wear the Right Clothes at the Right Time" and will feature four scenes with the latest fashions for sports and dress wear to be shown by cooperating merchants.

The general chairman of the style show is Ivan Bundy, with Marvin Lindberg and Stanley Gibson in charge of scenery and advertising. Highlighting the show will be the appearance of an outstanding girls quartet. The Harmony Honeys, who are affiliated with Sweet Adelines, Inc. of Minneapolis. Other entertainment features are also being planned by the committees.

The merchants showing the latest women's, men's and children's clothing are the Vogue, Lein's, Elaine's, Fashion Shop, S & L, Penney's, Montgomery Ward & Co., the Junior Shop, Hamilton's, Bjorkman's, Lieberman's, and the Hub Clothing.

Rocksbury, North Vote Purchase of Rural Fire Truck

Support Cooperative Move by Big Margin in Town Elections Tuesday

Voters in the township elections Tuesday in Rocksbury and the Town of North expressed themselves as being strongly in favor of the two townships joining forces to buy a rural fire truck in cooperation with the city of Thief River Falls.

The vote on the question in the Town of North was 71 in favor and nine opposed, while in Rocksbury it was 63 in favor and 19 opposed.

Officers elected in North included Lester Halvorson, supervisor; Edwin L. Swanson, treasurer; and C. C. Jensen, assessor. A $4,000 tax levy for township purposes was approved.

In Rocksbury, Harry Oen was named supervisor, while Mons Engelstad was reelected assessor and Rupert Swanson, Treas.

BPO Does Hosts to Their Husbands at "Hobo" Party

The B.P.O. Does entertained their Elk husbands at a "Hobo" dinner party at the Elks club on Sunday, March 8th; with the newly signed members and their escorts as honored guests of the evening.

The men were presented with attractive corsages made of radishes, carrots and cauliflower and the guests were dressed properly for the occasion, wearing everything from potato and feed sacks, to any clothing that could be found in rag bags.

The "Smorgasbord" dinner was appropriately served on long tables, covered with brightly checkered tablecloths. The platters of food were accentuated with lighted candles placed in candelabrums of old bottles.

Mrs. Ella Anderson was voted the "Queen of Hoboes" and was given a can of pork and beans. The two Johnson brothers—Ernie and Lloyd, tied for the honor of the "King of Hoboes" and were presented with a can of coffee and a sack of potatoes.

The Kangaroo Court was presided over by "Judge" Bill LaFave, and was ably assisted by "Bailiff" Frank Clinton and "Sheriff" Art Burke. Members were sentenced for coming too well dressed. It proved embarrassing to the Court, however, when the sheriff was forced to arrest his own wife for being too attractive and then the Judge was fined for impersonating a judge, and not having the proper credentials.

Bob Sjolestad's orchestra provided the music for the dance that followed the dinner and entertainment program.

Magazine Writes of Former Local Girl

An article in the current issue of Charm magazine, devoted to a description of the work being done by "Ann Pillsbury," director of the home service center of Pillsbury Mills in Minneapolis, is of special interest to residents of this community for the reason that Ann Pillsbury is a former Thief River Falls girl.

She is Ruth Andre, the former Ruth Peterson, daughter of Joseph Peterson, now of Minneapolis, but for many years employed by the Soo Line in this city. Her mother died several years ago.

Ruth was graduated from Lincoln high school as salutatorian was married to Gordon Andre, in 1930, and later from the home economics department at the University of Minnesota. She who was killed in an accident in Japan just after the end of World War II while serving on a special mission.

As Ann Pillsbury, she directs a staff of 13, nine of whom are graduate home economists in the home service department. She does a good deal of traveling about the country, and the most important function on which she works is the annual grand national Pillsbury recipe and baking contest held annually in the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel in New York.

Area Students are High in Studies at N. W. School

A total of 25 per cent of the students attending the Northwest School of Agriculture, Crookston, from the Red River Valley counties, made either the honor or high scholarship rolls for the midterm reports of the winter term. City Manager Plan Rejected in Fargo Election March 3

Voters in Fargo March 3 voted out the city manager plan of government by a margin of 2,377 to 3,757.

The total vote of 8,135 was a record turnout for a strictly city election, topping the previous high of 7,937 set in the 1932 city commission race.

The city manager plan, which has been in effect in Fargo since May, 1947, carried only 12 of the city's 37 precincts.

As a result of the election, City Manager James P. Dunn will lose his post within six months and the city will revert to the commission form of government.

Mrs. Raymond Bakken of Grygla was a guest at the Ray Harris home from Sunday until Tuesday. Mr. Bakken and Bella Tronnes of Bemidji also visited there Sunday.

Dakota Maid Style Revue Draws Crowds

The Eagles auditorium was filled to capacity last Saturday afternoon when the Dakota Maid Warehouse affiliated with the North Dakota Mill and Elevator sponsored its Good Neighbor Day. The program, which got under way at 1:30, featured comedies which were of special interest to the children and also movies showing what effect good feeding has on producing good quality livestock and poultry.

The main attraction, however, was an enjoyable style show sponsored by the Bemis Bag company under the direction of Harriet Overboe, Lincoln high school home economics instructor, and Sylvia Olson, Pennington county home agent. Phyllis Evenstad, instructor at the high school, served as narrator.

Three reigning queens were present and modeled formals made from Bemis bagging: Joanne Melberg, Minnesota Aquatennial queen; Marlene Jensen, Northwest Dairy Day queen from Ada; and Darlene Lee, Lincoln high school Homecoming queen.

The garments modeled included formals, play suits, pinafores, sun dresses, aprons, school dresses, beach wear, and pajamas. Those modeling were: Carol Conklin, Barbara Black, Marian Johnson, Barbara Klein, Darlene Alby, Ardis Anderson, Patricia Berg, Margaret Troland, Marilyn Helquist, Dorothy Gilbertson, Anita Mandt, Linda Mandt, Mary Ellyn Schulke and Marian Hogenson.

Little tots who modeled include Linda Olson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Don Olson; Bobby Ann Harmon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert S. Harmon; and Yvonne Sabo, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Emil Sabo.

lence of the local hospital's qualifications, would be stimulating to present nursing personnel and might, eventually, serve as a source for future recruitment of nursing personnel. In order to qualify for this program, it is required that the hospital must have certification of certain high standards demanded by the American College of Surgeons. Northwestern Hospital is so certified.

The hospital board instructed the chairman of the Building Committee to immediately urge Bettenburg, Townsend and Stolte, architects, to proceed with all haste toward completion of the working plans and specifications for the new hospital construction, with the aim in mind of meeting all deadlines required by the state department of health in connection with the Hill-Burton contribution of $414,000. The secretary of the board was also instructed to immediately contact the state department of health and inform officials there that Thief River Falls will meet the necessary deadlines and requirements.

Former Resident Killed in Pontiac, Michigan, March 3

Leroy Busse, Son of Mr. and Mrs. George Busse of TRF, Dies in Car-train Crash

Leroy Busse, 29, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Busse of this city, was killed Tuesday of last week in Pontiac, Michigan, when his car was struck by a train.

Mr. Busse was buried with military honors at Pontiac Friday afternoon. Among the relatives attending the services were Mr. and Mrs. George Busse, Roy Randorf, and Abner Johnson of Thief River Falls, and Mrs. Nelson Tanaka of Long Beach, California. Mr. Busse was employed by the government as city letter carrier in Pontiac and was also deputy sheriff.

Leroy Busse was born at Eveleth, Minnesota November 23, 1923. The family later moved to Red Lake Falls, where he attended high school, then to Thief River Falls. Leroy entered the Navy in 1942 and served for four years. His marriage to Miss Jean Thompson of Pontiac, Michigan, took place at Cour d'Alene, Idaho, November 15, 1945.

His wife and three children, Paul Leroy, Donnie Gene, and Ann Louise, survive him. He is also survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Busse of Thief River Falls, and a sister, Mrs. Nelson Tanaka, of Long Beach, California.

Anton Kleven is Buried at Grygla Monday

Funeral services for Anton Kleven, 58, of Grygla were held at two o'clock Monday afternoon at the Valley Lutheran Church at Grygla, with Rev. J. M. Erickson officiating. Pallbearers were Sam Bratell, Hans Hanson, Ray Hector, Olaf Olstad, Randolph Thompson, and Christ Anserud. Burial was made in the Bethesda cemetery east of Grygla.

Mr. Kleven was born in Gulbrandsdalen, Norway, June 3, 1891. He came with his mother and other members of the family to Beltrami county and joined his father who had homesteaded in Lee township in 1908. He was baptized and confirmed in the Lutheran faith and had served on school and township boards in the Grygla community.

Surviving are a sister, Mrs. D. O. Holter of Libby, Mont.; and three brothers, Albert of Elmira, Idaho, John of Grygla, and Harold of Hardy, Sask., Canada. His parents and a sister have preceded him in death.

Job Office Plans Farm Help Survey

Eldevik and Stadum at Conference in St. Paul

R. S. Eldevik and J. K. Stadum of the state employment office in this city left for St. Paul Monday where they will confer with other local office representatives in the agency to work out the details of the 1953 farm help survey.

It is expected that about 8,000 cards of the 155,000 that are to be circulated state-wide will be mailed in this area soon after March 15. The self-addressed, postpaid cards will request information about the supply of and demand for farm help, from now to the end of the hiring season.

The cards do not constitute an order for farm help and will be used only for the purpose of planning this year's mobilization of all available farm help.

T. K. Rynestad Rites on Friday at Grand Forks

T. K. Rynestad of Grand Forks, former resident of Thief River Falls, passed away Monday at a Grand Forks hospital following a recent stroke.

Funeral rites will be conducted at the United Lutheran church in Grand Forks Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock by the Reverends John P. Gaardsmoe and R. O. Storbe. Burial will be made in the Memorial Park cemetery in Grand Forks. The body will lie in state at the Hanson-Anderson funeral home Thursday night.

Mr. Rynestad, who was 73 years old, is survived by his wife and eight children, all of whom live in Grand Forks. They are Kittel, Halvor, Bert, and Fred Rynestad, Mrs. Andrew Wirkus, Mrs. John Brattell, Agnes Rynestad, and Mrs Peter Wirkus. He is also survived by a brother Knute of Grand Forks, and 10 grandchildren.

The deceased was born in Trail county, North Dakota, March 26, 1879, and lived in that vicinity until his marriage to the former Betsey Sannes at the Walle church on Dec. 21, 1904. After their marriage they moved to a farm near this city, where they resided for 26 years. They then moved to a farm near Grand Forks, where they resided until retiring 11 years ago and moving to the city.

Mr. and Mrs. George Handstad and sons and Mr. and Mrs. Carl Gustafson and daughter Launda Kay spent the weekend at the Chas. Elgin home at Badger.

John Brandt Dies in Middle River Last Wednesday

istence. In 1923 he became president. The organization became Land O'Lakes in 1924.

Born on a farm near Litchfield, Minn., second youngest of 12 children, Mr. Brandt was occupied until '34 with dairying on the family farm and working to better the farmer's position.

He was graduated from Litchfield high school in 1902.

Strongly opposed to regimentation of agriculture, he frequently remarked: "The more the government does for you, the more the government does to you."

He authored the so-called Brandt plan, which would set up a surplus holding pool for a commodity when production exceeded demand.

A special meeting of the Land O'Lakes board of directors had been called for Friday in Minneapolis by M. H. Mauritson, Shelly, first vice president of the organization.

The directors will determine what course to follow at the annual meeting of Land O'Lakes, now scheduled for Thursday and Friday in Minneapolis.

Surviving are his wife, Maude, two brothers, William Brandt, Minneapolis, and Dr. Albert Brandt, Vancouver, Canada and three sisters, Mrs. Minnie Schultz, Litchfield; Mrs. Albert Nelson, Minneapolis, and Mrs. William O'Keefe, St. Paul.

Final Rites For Ole Flateland Held at Trail

Funeral services for Ole K. Flateland were held Monday afternoon, March 2, at the Sand Valley Lutheran church in Trail, with Rev. Halvard Lie officiating. Mr. Flateland passed away at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Ole Gunderson of Trail, on February 25 at the age of 87 years.

The deceased was born in Valle, Saterdalen, Norway on January 30, 1866, and was baptized and confirmed in Norway. He came to America in 1887 and was employed at Thompson, N. D. until 1896, when he took a homestead in Chester township. His marriage to Ann Bjugson took place July 11, 1900. His wife preceded him in death in 1948 and he continued to make his home on his farm until March 1951, when he moved to the home of his daughter in Trail.

He is survived by the following children: Knute of Trail; Mrs. Marvin Tennisand of Grand Rapids, Minn.; Ted of Scobey, Montana; Ole of Milwaukee, Wisc.; Mrs. Ole Gunderson of Trail, and Oscar of Trail. Other survivors include a brother, K. K. Flateland of McCabe, Montana, and twelve grandchildren.

Masons to Note Centennial in St. Paul March 18

Visitors from a dozen states and at least four provinces of Canada will travel to St. Paul March 18, 19 and 20 to join in the centennial anniversary celebration of the Grand Lodge of Ancient, Free and Accepted Masons of Minnesota.

Bertrum Mosleth, master of the Thief River Falls lodge, has appointed B. Dan Bjorkman to represent the local lodge at the conclave.

The call for all lodges of Minnesota to be represented at the observance was sent last week by George W. Christie, grand master, who is publisher of the Red Lake Falls Gazette.

The first grand lodge session will be at 10 a. m., March 18, with a Masonic assembly scheduled at 7:30 p. m. in the theatre section of the St. Paul municipal auditorium. Guest speaker will be Thomas S. Roy, grand master of Massachusetts, rated among the foremost Masonic orators in the nation.

An historical pageant depicting the forming of the grand lodge in 1853 will be presented at 4 p. m., March 19, with a dinner program following at 6:15 p. m.

New officers will be installed in the closing grand lodge meeting at 9 a. m., March 20.

Former Resident of St. Hilaire Dies in Illinois

Mrs. Beda M. Johnson, wife of the late Ole Johnson, a resident of Evanston, Ill., for the past 24 years, passed away at the Evanston hospital March 5th at the age of 85 years.

The family lived on a farm three miles southeast of St. Hilaire for many years.

Funeral services were held at the Fitzgerald & Karsten funeral home, 1571 Maple Av. Evanston Ill., on Monday afternoon at 1:30 p. m. with the Rev. H. Olson of the Evanston Immanuel Lutheran church, and the Rev. H. Devries of the Winnetka Bible church officiating.

Mrs. Johnson was born in Vastergotland Sweden October 20, 1867, and came to the United States in 1901 and was united in marriage to Ole Johnson in the fall of 1901 at Rockford, Illinois.

She is survived by a son, Francis O. Johnson, a daughter, Mrs Ivar Johnson, and three grandsons, all of Evanston. Interment was in Memorial Park, Skokie, Ill.

Prowler Quint Wins District Cage Title by Defeating EGF in Finals Saturday 58 TO 37

Coach Bob Nick's Prowlers, putting a 25-point fourth period scoring splurge into the scorebook, pulled away from the East Grand Forks Green Wave to register a decisive 58 to 37 victory on Saturday night on the University of North Dakota fieldhouse court in the finals of the 31st district basketball tournament. In a preliminary game, the Crookston Pirates gained third place honors by scoring a 60 to 51 triumph over the Warren Ponies.

In making their successful defense of their district cage title, the Prowlers, in a first round game played on Thursday afternoon, eliminated coach Darold King's Red Lake Falls Eagles, 60 to 51. In a semi-finals game on Friday night, coach Nick's squad, playing near-perfect basketball, defeated the Warren Ponies, 58 to 36.

East Grand Forks moved through the tournament's lower bracket by defeating the Climax Vikings, 46 to 42, in a first round game on Thursday night; and edging the Crookston Pirates, 44 to 41, in a nip-and-tuck contest on Friday night.

In Saturday night's championship finals, both teams played cautious basketball during the first period and after four minutes had elapsed, East Grand Forks, on free throws by Darrel Winlaw and Howie Stallmo, held a 2 to 1 lead. Duane Rafteseth, lofting a long shot into the west basket, moved the Prowlers into the lead, and the locals protected that margin to gain a 9 to 8 lead at the end of the quarter.

Art Johnson and Bob Christensen, with a pair of field goals apiece, and Gary Smith, with a two-pointer, sent the Prowlers into a 21 to 9 lead late in the second period, and it was only through the efforts of John Black, who hit on three jump shots, and a gift shot by Orv Hodge, that East Side was able to pare the Prowler lead to 21 to 16 at the intermission.

Johnson for the Prowlers and Stallmo for the Green Wave were the scoring leaders for their respective teams in the third period, with each player racking up four field goals. The Prowlers added a pair of points to their half-time lead and held a 33 to 26 advantage as the fourth period began.

In the final period, with East Grand Forks forced to utilize a "press" defense, the Prowlers sifted through for numerous "lane" shots and took complete control of the game. Included in that 25-point fourth period scoring rush were the points that gave the 1952-53 Prowlers a new school scoring record, breaking the 1167-point total established last season. This season's team, with two games remaining to be played, has scored a total of 1185 points.

In their first round game against Red Lake Falls on Thursday afternoon, the Prowlers picked up their game-winning margin in the first period, holding an 18 to 9 lead after eight minutes of play. The Eagles made a rally in the third period that caused a flurry. Trailing by a 38 to 34 score shortly after resuming play after the intermission, Red Lake Falls, on a jump shot by Dick Williams, and a long toss by Jim Baril, pared the Prowler lead to two points. Johnson looped in a pair of Prowler free throws; Christensen found the ring with a long shot. Williams added a Red Lake Falls point from the free-throw line, and then Johnson, from in close, rolled in a field goal, giving the Prowlers a 44 to 37 lead.

The Prowlers, holding a 47 to 40 lead as the fourth period opened, boosted that lead to nine points on Smith's field goal, and held that margin to win by a 60 to 51 score. Duane Rafteseth's two field goals late in the period "insured" the victory.

Friday night's semi-finals game against the Warren Ponies was featured by the Prowlers sharp-shooting from the free-throw line, with the locals making twenty-eight conversions in thirty-six attempts.

Warren, on Roy Swanson's rebound shot and John Carlson's two-pointer, sprinted into a 4 to 0 lead. Rafteseth laced in a long shot and, following Smith's free throw, added another long shot, moving the locals into a 5 to 4 lead. Jack Fraser's hook shot sent coach Fred Petrich's Ponies again into the lead. Johnson's lay-up shot, and LeRoy Aasland's overhead flip gave the Prowlers a 9 to 6 lead, and from there on in the Prowlers were never headed, having an 11 to 9 advantage as the period closed.

In the opening minutes of the second period, the Prowlers, dropping in six free throws and a field goal, boosted their lead to 19 to 9, and a 25 to 14 margin at the intermission.

Warren, trailing by a 30 to 16 score after two minutes of play in the third period, rapped in six points, on a pair of field goals by Carlson and free throws by Carlson and Kay Herbranson, pared the Prowler lead to eight points. But in the final four minutes of the period the Prowlers, playing alert basketball, scored four feild goals and three free throws to boost their scoring advantage to 41 to 22.

Numerous reserves entered the game in the final period, and with Warren being forced to "rush the ball", many fouls were called by officials Mitby and Martin. In the final quarter, the Prowlers added eleven points through their efficient tossing from the free throw line.

From the State Capitol

By W. E. DAHLQUIST

After the longest and most bitter debate of the session to date the Senate last week voted to repeal the presidential primary law. There was quite general agreement that there should be a presidential primary. There also was quite general agreement that the present law had notable shortcomings. The differences in the argument arose mainly over the question of whether it would be better to amend the old law or write one that was entirely new.

It was not on so simple a question, however, that bitterness developed. There was an underlying cause related not so much to the defects in the old law but rooted in the manner in which the law had been used, or, as some stated abused. It went back to the contest by which Eisenhower's name was stricken from the ballot and actually the repeal vote last week was mainly a rebuke to those who sponsored and participated in that contest.

The debate did serve a useful purpose in pointing out the many difficulties involved in setting up a proper primary law. There is the difficulty of getting names of candidates on the ballot. Not all candidates desire to have their names submitted, especially when they face the strong opposition of a favorite son, and if a primary is to be merely an endorsement of a favorite son, then certainly it is not worth what it costs.

There is the problem too of providing for the selection of convention delegates by a democratic process. In our direct primary we elected a panel of convention delegates who favored the candidate we wished to support. We had no knowledge of what their second or third choice thinking might be. By this process we in fact delegated to a small group the privilege of selecting our candidate.

One suggestion that strikes me as having considerable merit is that we tie the preferential primary up to the precinct caucuses. That would tend to build up interest in these local meetings which are the first step in the organization of our parties. The precinct caucus should be a very important meeting. Certainly it is democratic and completely within the control of the people if they wish to exercise control.

A revitalizing of the precinct caucus would add strength and purpose to county, district, state and national conventions. Radio and television have made the larger conventions more democratic and responsive to public interest and appeal. Most of us probably will agree that conventions are a necessary part of the party organizations.

There is another advantage in combining a preferential primary with the precinct caucuses and that is the matter of cost. The taxpayers were out something like $300,000, I believe, in providing the privilige of voting for a native son last year. It seems to me that this purpose could be accomplished just as effectively and at no cost to the taxpayer by providing for a secret ballot expression of preference at these precinct party meetings.

Objectors to this idea probably would base their opposition to the requirement, that in order to express a preference individuals would have to identify themselves as favoring a particular party. But what actually is so bad about that? When people go to church they indicate a preference for the particular church they attend—and I think there is just as much prejudice related to religion as there is to politics. Public interest in politics is essential to good government.

The real estate men are back with their perennial request for a legalized closed shop. There probably is just as much justification for granting them the right to the protection of a licensing board as some that we have already provided for, but there already are too many, and we can get along nicely without one more.

In requesting the creation of boards of this kind the appeal is always based on a so-called public necessity. Always the best interests of the public are uppermost in the minds of those who speak for these groups. They are an extremely altruistic lot of citizens at this stage of the procedure. Experience shows, however, that the regulating we get from the boards already created is too often entirely selfish.

We are told by those who advocate a real estate board that licensing will eliminate the scoundrels from the business. That means there must be a few scamps now selling real estate. According to the proposed law, as is usually the case, all present real estate men would be automatically blanketed in and would receive their license without taking the examination that would be required of others later on. Therefore, we assume the scamps and scoundrels and incompetents will still be doing business for many years to come.

In fairness to the real estate dealers let me say that much of the opposition to a licensing act comes from real estate men themselves. I have received more letters opposing the proposed legislation than in support of it. But some day the legislature may be caught off guard and then another field of possible employment will be cast off for Young America. The young fellows would be justified, I believe, in starting a revolution along this line, demanding a removal of some of the barriers that have been erected to deny them freedom in the selection of an occupation or profession.

Hunters Asked to List Game Taken

Minnesota hunters have been particularly lax this year about sending in their report cards.

Bureau of game officials point out that the hunters' report cards are now overdue and should be filled out and mailed at once. The small game report card requires no postage while the big game tally takes a two cent stamp.

Game researchers need a healthy return on the report cards in order to provide necessary information to aid in setting of seasons for 1953. Hunters are urged to send the cards in immediately—whether or not they took game last year!

Load Restrictions Go into Effect Soon

Load restrictions to be put into effect shortly for trucks using state highways in this area were announced Thursday by Lee R. Boyd of Crookston, district maintenance engineer for the state highway department.

Routes affected, together with the gross weight per axle allowed, are as follows:

T. H. 1, East Pennington county line to Warren, 5 tons; Warren to Oslo, 6.

No. 11, Roosevelt to Warroad, 4; Warroad to Fox, 6; Karlstad to Donaldson, 6; Donaldson to west state line, 4.

No. 31, East Norman Co. line to North Jct. T. H. No. 32, 4; South Jct. T. H. No. 32 to North Jct. T. H. No. 32, 6; South Jct. T. H. No. 32 to Ada, 6.

No 32, South Norman Co. line to South Jct. T. H. No. 32, 6; North Jct. T. H. No. 31 to Fertile, 4; Fertile to Jct T. H. No. 2, 5; North limits Thief River Falls to Greenbush, 5.

No. 59, Erskine to Thief River Falls, 4; North Jct. T. H. No. 32 to Karlstad, 4; West Jct. T. H. No. 11 to South Jct. T. H. No. 75, 4.

No. 75, South Norman county line to Ada, 4; Ada to East Jct. T. H. No. 2, 5; Hallock to 3.6 mi. south of Noyes, 5.

No. 82, South Norman county line to Ada, 4.

No. 89, East Marshall Co. line to south Roseau Co. line, 4; South Roseau county line to Roseau, 5; Fox to Canadian border, 4.

No. 92, East Polk county line to Jct. T. H. No. 32, 4.

No. 102, Jct. T. H. No. 32 to Jct T. H. No. 75, 5.

No. 113, East Norman county line to Syre, 4.

No 219, Jct. T. H. No. 1 to Goodridge, 5; Goodridge to Jct. T. H. No. 89, 4.

No. 220, Jct. T. H. No. 81 to East Grand Forks, 4; Northland to Alvarado 6; West Jct. T. H. No. 1 to Big Woods, 6; Big Woods to Jct. T. H. No. 11, 4.

No. 222, Jct. T. H. No. 92 to Oklee, 4.

First restrictions normally are placed about March 15th to 20th, but it all depends on the weather, said Boyd.

The law automatically restricts loads on all county and township roads to 4 tons gross load per axle from March 20th to May 15th unless signs are erected designating a higher or lower limit.

On his 106th birthday Albert Woolston shoveled a lot of snow from the sidewalk in front of his Duluth home, and then shoveled his way through more than 3,000 congratulatory letters and messages. Mr. Woolson is one of two survivors of the Northern Army of 1860 . . . After 35 years Miss Anna Heise loves her Lake City Sunday School teaching opportunity more than ever . . . In 37 years of constant use Edwin Fidal, Linotype operator on the Grant County Herald at Elbow Lake, wore 7 inches off the legs of his comfortable old chair, which he recently reluctantly consented to have it replaced with a modern version.

4-H Club News

Smiley Club

A group of 4-H'ers and parents of the Smiley 4-H club met at the Adam Lendobeja home on Friday evening, March 6th, to make lamp shades and picture frames.

Pointers were given by Mrs. A. Lendobeja on the use, type, and color of shades. Six attractive shades were completed.

Pictures make attractive accessories for any home. Mrs. N. Nelson demonstrated how attractive and inexpensive frames may be made and finished at home. She also gave instructions on matting pictures. This was done by using heavy construction or blotting paper. In addition the mothers were given pointers on how to finish articles made from wood.

At the close of the evening, a pot luck lunch was served.—Shirlee Belswenger, reporter.

Silverton 4-H Club

The Silverton 4-H club held its March meeting Friday, March 6, at the Banner school. Lorraine Peterson gave a demonstration on making graham cracker dessert. The program consisted of several poems and group singing. Lunch was served by Mrs. Geo. Larson and games enjoyed by all. The next meeting will be held April 9, with Mrs. Bolstad serving.—Dawne Larson, reporter.

Kratka Club

The Kratka 4-H club met Friday evening, March 6, at School District No. 11. The program opened with community singing followed by a project talk by Gary Johnson on "Gardening." Gary has been one of the outstanding gardeners from our club for a number of years. Ray Mitteness gave beneficial information on gardening.

He also discussed the one-act plays, good grooming, and music contests which will be held next month. Following this Mr. Mitteness showed two films, one on "Dairy Day," and one on "Pioneer Days."

Since the schoolhouse in District 11 has been wired for electricity our meetings from now on will be held there unless otherwise specified.—Ralph Hanson, reporter.

Gustafsons Show '53 Nash Rambler

European Designed Car Available in 3 Models

Nash Motors last week unveiled its completely new 1953 Rambler series, featuring continental custom design combined with American passenger comfort.

Styled by Pinin Farina, leading European custom body designer, in collaboration with Nash engineers, the new Rambler line includes a custom convertible, station wagon, and Country Club hardtop convertible. C. Gustafson & Son now have the new models on display in their showrooms.

The Nash company announced that the new models offer traditional Rambler economy, combined with outstanding performance, comfort and ease of handling in city traffic and on the highway.

QUESTIONS answered for VETERANS

Q: To train under the Korean GI Bill, I understand that I need at least 90 days military service, unless I was discharged sooner for a disability. Must all of the 90 days have occurred after the Korean fighting began.

A: Not necessarily. You could qualify provided any part of the required 90 days of your military service took place after June 27, 1950, the date of the outbreak of hostilities in Korea.

Q: I'm taking institutional on-farm training under the World War II GI Bill. What happens if my annual income report isn't submitted to VA by the March 1 deadline?

A: If you don't send in your annual report on time, your GI subsistence allowance may be cut off as of March 31.

Q: I'm a World War I veteran, and my U. S. Government Life Insurance permanent policy has just lapsed, through oversight on my part. When I reinstate, must I pay interest on the premiums in arrears?

A: You won't be required to pay interest if you reinstate within three months from the due date of the premium in default. If you wait longer than that, 4% interest compounded annually must be paid on the premiums in arrears.

55 Men Attended Tractor Clinic in This City Monday

Five Factory Men from Three Companies Give Instruction to Group

A total of 55 men, representing 26 towns in this section of the state, attended a tractor clinic held in this city Monday under the local sponsorship of the Thief River Falls area vocational school, with arrangements handled by C. W. Pope, director.

Those in attendance gained much useful information from the five instructors, who were factory representatives from Delco-Remy, Zenith Carburetor and American Bosch companies.

The session continued from 1 to 10 p. m., interrupted by a dinner served in the Legion club room by the Legion auxiliary. Short talks were given by Alan Johnson, head of the automotive department of Dunwoody Institute, Minneapolis, and Harold Aga, former local resident and now head of the Mankato area vocational school's automotive department.

Everett Amundgaard also discussed safety on the farm. Also speaking briefly was Harold Ostrem, assistant state director of vocational education.

Similar clinics are being conducted at Tracy today and at Winona Friday.

Prowlers Bow to Fosston in Regional Play

Lose Tuesday 57 to 51; Bemidji and Fosston to Play for Title Tonight

The Bemidji Lumberjacks and the Fosston Greyhounds, champions of districts 29 and 30, respectively, will meet tonight in the finals of the eighth regional basketball tourney at Grand Forks. In first round games played last night, Bemidji, by 59 to 37 score, defeated Newfolden of the 32nd district; and Fosston, with a strong fourth period, eliminated the Prowlers, winning a 57 to 51 tally.

The powerful Bemidji club, holding Newfolden to a lone field goal in the first period, held a 17 to 7 first quarter advantage; and giving up but two field goals in the second period, to Gene Shern, the Jacks piled up a 38 to 16 lead at the intermission. After gaining a 53 to 24 lead moving into the final period, coach Bun Fortier inserted numerous reserves into the Bemidji lineup.

The second game of the opening night's tourney program, between the Prowlers and the Fosston Greyhounds, was a thriller until the final minute when Fosston, on a field goal by Jim Rude and a pair of free throws by Dick Kvare, garnered four "insurance" points and a 57 to 51 win.

Fosston held a 15 to 12 first period lead and a 26 to 25 lead at the intermission largely thru the sharpshooting of their guards, Gary Carlin and Dick Kvare. Kvare and Carlin each hit with a pair of out-court tosses in the first period, and Kvare added a couple of long shots in the second period. Art Johnson, who rolled in four field goals and three free throws in the second period to spark the Prowlers rally in the quarter, picked up three fouls during the first half, and in the opening minute of the third period, Art fouled Fosston's Glen Olson. Carrying four personals, coach Nick decided to withdraw Johnson from the game, with Evenstad moving into the lineup.

The Prowlers, utilizing an all-court press and after Fosston had sprinted into a 32 to 25 lead, began to take charge of the game. Gary Smith scored on a drive-in; Duane Rafteseth notched a pair of free throws, and after Kvare had added a Greyhound point on a free throw, LeRoy Aasland and Rafteseth looped in field goals, with Rafteseth's shot tying the score at 33-all after four minutes of the period had elapsed.

Kvare marked up a free throw; but Rafteseth, hitting with a jump shot, sent the Prowlers into a 35 to 34 lead. Kenny Nystrom found the west basket with a long shot, and the Greyhounds led. Larry Evenstad, with 2:05 to play, tipped in a rebound; and when Rafteseth scored on a rebound of Bob Christensen's free throw try, the locals held a 39 to 36 lead. Rafteseth added a point on a free throw, giving the Prowlers a 40 to 36 advantage. Fosston, with Lindberg and Kvare scoring on free throws and Stan Otness finding the laces with a field goal, pared the Prowler lead to 43 to 41 as the period ended.

A free throw by Carlin; and lay-up shot by Kvare; a tip-in by Stan Otness, and Bob Lindberg's rebound field goal, shoved Fosston into a 48 to 43 lead in the opening minutes of the final period. Gary Smith rifled a long shot into net for the Prowlers; but Don Otness, on a rebound, and Lindberg, from close in, gave Fosston a 53 to 45 lead with four minutes to go.

Art Johnson, back in the Prowler lineup, marked up two points on free throws, and then pushed in a pair of field goals, to pare the Fosston lead to 53 to 51 with fifty seconds to play. Jim Rude's one-handed toss, from the left side of the lane, and Kvare's free throws, closed out the game's scoring.

One of the game's highlights was the field goal scored by the Prowlers' Bobby Christensen just before the end of the first period. Christy, from more than half the length of the floor, let loose with a low-flying toss, and the ball swished into the west basket.

The Prowler's Art Johnson, although out of action throughout the third period and part of the fourth quarter, racked up eight field goals and six free throws to gain the game's high-point honors. Leading scorers for coach Bert Tveit's team were Dick Kvare with sixteen points and center Bob Lindberg with fifteen points. The Greyhounds played a very strong rebounding game, with Lindberg, Stan and Don Otness, and Glen Olson, rangy boys all, doing a fine job off the boards. That Fosston rebounding ability, plus the sharp basket shooting of Kvare and Carlin, turned the game in the Greyhounds favor.

The Prowlers will play the Newfolden Nordics in the preliminary to tonight's regional finals.

Large Audience Sees Billy Graham Film in Newfolden

One of the largest crowds to attend a gospel service in Newfolden viewed the Billy Graham Evangelistic association film "Mr. Texas" at the high school auditorium on Sunday evening, March 8. Attendance was estimated at over 600 persons. A re-run of the film was made on Monday afternoon for the local school with approximately 300 in attendance. Plans are being made to book the newest Billy Graham film "Oil Town" for a showing in Newfolden sometime this spring.

Keeping Score with "Huck" Olson

Hansen and Lundgren

Now that it is a fact that the North Dakota Sioux hockey team will not participate in the NCAA playoffs in Colorado, it can be revealed that the John Hansen that played with the Grand Forks Redwings and the Woody Lundgren that was in the Thieves' lineup in the Northwest Hockey league playoffs this week, were respectively Ken Johannsen and Derwood Swede Lund, both whom had been members of the Sioux hockey squad.

Johannsen and Lund had completed their college hockey eligibility, and as the possibility of the Sioux receiving a bid to the NCAA playoffs appeared remote, the two players decided to join the Redwings and the Thieves. And the management of the two clubs were glad to get the boys in the first round playoff's, Ken and Swede both carried their weight in the playoff's, and it is a "break" against the Thieves that the Roseau Cloverleafs will not permit Swede to play in the finals.

Grade School Hockey Finals

The teams from the Washington and St. Bernards school will meet in the tournament finals on Saturday morning at the Arena rink for the city grade school hockey title.

Washington, which will be rated as a slight favorite to defeat the St. Bernards Broncos, gained the finals by defeating Northrop, 4 to 0, in a first round game on Friday afternoon. And on Saturday morning, in a surprising upset win, the St. Bernards team edged out the Knox school sextet, 2 to 1.

During the season's schedule, the Knox school team, a smooth-skating and high-scoring club, had been undefeated, and they had entered the tourney as top-heavy favorites. The St. Bernards team, meanwhile, were on the bottom rung in the four-team league. In their playoff game against Knox, the Broncos, gaining a lead, played stellar defensive hockey throughout the final two periods to hold off the ever-threatening East-Siders. It's unfortunate that the game ended on a disputed decision, with Knox contending that they scored just before the final buzzer. The goal-judge, though, ruled that the puck had not crossed the goal-line, and that the victory went to the Broncos, 2 to 1. It was a heart-breaker for that Knox team to lose, and the tears that the boys shed were honest.

The St. Bernards team will be the short-enders again when they meet Washington in the final on Saturday morning, but the Broncos apparently relish the job of "knocking off" the favorites. It will be a case of offense, with Washington having the better scorers, against defense, with St. Bernards relying on David Gall and center Ice Froehle to protect the Broncos' cage.

The Surprising Spoilers

The Grafton Spoilers, beaten by the Prowlers here ten days ago by a 51 to 45 score, proved to be the surprise of the Eastern North Dakota sectional tournament, for Ed Claussen's squad, defeating Fargo Shanley, 57 to 52, won the Eastern Class A championship. Starting on Thursday, the Spoilers will be participating in the North Dakota Class A state tournament being played at Grand Forks.

Incidentally, that Jarl Pederson that played for Grafton, and who was a vital reason for the Spoiler triumphs in Fargo, was one of the most effective players to perform on the local court here this season. And the youngster, he's a junior with another year of eligibility plays his top-flight brand of basketball while handicapped by a crippled left hand. Pederson's left hand was mangled by the explosion of a dynamite cap some years ago, losing the first and second fingers and part of the thumb of the hand. Limited to the use of his right hand Jarl can play on even terms with most of the two-handed boys.

We hear that Bill Frahm, who has been on the starting five at Valley City, and who will also be playing in the North Dakota state tournament this week, will be returning to Thief River Falls next year. He'll be a welcome addition to the 1953-54 Prowler squad, for this year's club will lose four regulars by graduation.

They'll Be Trying for X's

Ted Mills and his Thief River Rifle club shooters—Ernie Bjerken, Leonard Hansen, Einar Swanson, Ev Amundgaard, Don Toomey, Wil Maves—will be entered in the Red River Valley tournament that begins firing at 8:00 a. m. on Sunday in the Armory at Crookston.

Mills, in his two years as local club president, has instituted a program that is beginning to play dividends. Ted's latest project is a class in rifle-shooting for boys in the lower teens, those of Boy Scout age.

And another project to which Mills is devoting much attention is his tutoring of Doc Jim Disse. Ted received considerable encouragemnt last week when, in a special match against Don Johnson, Jim won by five points. Einar Swanson claims that Don Johnson's downfall, and that's a mild word, was due to improper diet, and that he; Don, should limit himself to dry toast and mild tea before he engages in a two-man match against such opposition as Jim Disse.

Thieves Earn Right to Play in Final Round

Local Six Wins Three Games Out of Four from Grand Forks Redwings

The senior hockey Thieves, after being upset by the Grand Forks Redwings, 5 to 3, here Wednesday night in the third game of the best-of-five series, closed out their first round playoffs by defeating the Wings, 4 to 1, at Grand Forks on Saturday night.

By their triumph, the locals ended the series, having a three games to one edge over the Redwings, and earned the right to play the Roseau Cloverleafs in the best-of-three playoff finals. Roseau, after dropping their first game to the Warroad Lakers, defeated the champion Lakers, 5 to 3 on Friday night, and 7 to 5 on Sunday afternoon.

Following Tuesday night's game at Roseau, the Thieves and the Leafs will move to the Arena rink here for the second game of the series on Friday night, and a third game, if necessary, will be played on Sunday afternoon.

Saturday night's win over the resurgent Redwings, and which closed out the first round series, was due largely to the sturdy defensive play of the Thieves. The locals, gaining a 1 to 0 first period lead, a 3 to 0 lead at the end of the second period, and a 4 to 0 advantage late in the third period, had a shutout on the scoreboard until the final minute when the Wings' Odie Lowe, from in front of the net, shoved a shot past Jack Peters.

The Thieves, playing without the services of Church Russell, who was ill, and Bill Winters, who could not make the trip because of illness in the family were hard-pressed to register their 4 to 1 victory. Hec. Bourgeois, who played with the Crookston Pirates this season, was in the Thieves' lineup as a replacement for Russell.

While the fellows "skating out" were factors in giving the Thieves their deciding win over the game's particular star was the locals' goalie, Jack Peters. Peters, who belongs to the New York Rangers organization, turned in a "big league" performance on Saturday night, and deserved a shutout. Jack booted out 36 on-goal tries, having fifteen stops in the tense third period as the Wings shoved all their "power" on the ice in an attempt to remain in the playoffs.

Playing here last Wednesday night, the Redwings, with Prince Johnson scoring three goals, upset the plans of the over-confident Thieves of ending the series with three straight wins by recording a 5 to 3 triumph.

The game was a 2-all draw moving into the final period, but at 2:16 of the third stanza, Prince Johnson, with brother Buzz and center Ken Johannsen on the assists, scored on an angle shot. At 4:25 the Wings' sharp-shooting Ken McKenzie scored what proved to be the winning goal; and at 12:59 McKenzie added an insurance goal by scoring on an unassisted sortie.

While the Redwings were "up" for the Wednesday night game, and deserved the verdict, the Thieves were erratic in their team play and off-time on their rushing plays.

Northrop PTA to Meet on Monday

Northrop PTA will meet Monday evening, March 16, at eight o'clock. The film "No Greater Gift" will be shown and there will be a cake auction, with Mrs. Curtiss Nelson furnishing piano background music. A prize will be awarded to the couple who have attended PTA meetings for the greatest number of years. A short business meeting will be followed by refreshments served by the first grade mothers. The public is invited.

Soil Conservation Is Grygla Topic Feb. 28

The annual meeting of the Marshall-Beltrami soil conservation district held Feb. 28 was attended by 300 farm people.

Of particular interest was the progress report of the district as given by Oliver Howland, chairman of the board of supervisors. It showed that during the year 108 farmers had asked the district for technical assistance. Of these 71 had signed cooperative agreements and had started to work out their plan for future farming. Thirty-two miles of farm drainage ditches had been constructed benefiting 4,028 acres of land. Most of these farms had some financial assistance from the P. M. A.

T. M. McCall, superintendent of the Northwest school at Crookston gave an interesting talk on the needs of a healthy agricultural community, pointing out especially the need for a sound drainage program that will provide for sound water use and water conservation that will best serve all of the people of the area.

Frank Forbes, Marshall county agent, suggested that farmers should take advantage of the new varieties of flax, barley and newer methods of producing legume seed crops, and also pointed out that many farmers could profitably increase their dairy enterprise.

Keeping organic matter content of the soil at a high level was the subject discussed by Mr. Jacobson, Beltrami county agent. He suggested that organic matter can be maintained by growing grass and legumes in the crop rotation.

The program was concluded with the showing of moving pictures furnished by the implement dealers of Grygla.

Water Pollution Suit Started by Baudette Village

The village of Baudette has started legal action to restrain the city of International Falls and the Minnesota and Ontario Paper Co. from alleged pollution of Rainy river, it was announced last week.

In a suit filed jointly against the city and paper company, the village contends the city is dumping raw sewage into the river and that the paper company is allowing chemicals, paper fibre and other noxious materials to flow into the river.

The action was started in Hennepin county district court in Minneapolis.

COMPLETELY NEW NASH RAMBLERS INTRODUCED

This striking "Country Club" custom hardtop convertible is one of the outstanding models in the completely new Nash Rambler series for 1953, styled by Pinin Farina, leading European custom body designer. Three new station wagon models and a soft top convertible are also available. The trim and luxurious Country Club model, with an all-steel top, has unique cut-back rear windows, providing increased all-around visibility. A continental rear-tire-mount is standard equipment. Other features are an improved Super Flying Scot engine, a larger one-piece curved windshield, new solid and two-tone exterior color selections and new interior upholstery and trim combinations. Dual-Range Hydra-Matic transmission is offered in the Nash Rambler for the first time as optional equipment.

Livestock Sales at Winter Shows Bring in $38,272

Hereford Bull Consigned by Rothsay Man Brings Record Price of $1,500

A grand total of $38,272.50 was paid for 185 head of livestock — dairy and beef cattle, sheep and hogs—during sales February 26-27 at the Red River Valley Winter Shows, Crookston.

This included 64 hogs, bringing a total of $6305; 42 sheep, $3,182.50; 54 beef cattle, $22,060; 25 dairy cattle, $6,725.

A Holstein cow consigned by Darwin McTaggart, Campbell, sold for $500 to Seward Mostad, East Grand Forks, to top the dairy cattle sale. This was $50 below the price paid for the top Holstein cow, also McTaggart's, in the 1952 sale. Eight Holstein cows averaged $313 — $24 below last year's average.

Clifford Larson, Thief River Falls, sold the top-priced Milking Shorthorn bull to Orphier Vaudrin, Red Lake Falls, for $330. This is $100 below last year's top. Four milking Shorthorn bulls averaged $238.75, which was $148 below last year's average for four animals.

A Hereford bull brought $1500 in the beef cattle sale. This is the highest price ever paid for a bull in the history of the sale. The bull was consigned by Eddie Gronseth, Rothsay, and was purchased by Henry O. Balstad, Fosston. The animal was the champion Hereford bull in this year's beef cattle show at the Crookston event.

A special feature of the sale was the offering of a futurity Shorthorn cow by Odin Hanson, Thief River Falls, for purchase by a young beginner in the livestock business. It was bought by Marvin C. Nilson, Twin Valley, for $160.

Strickler Bros., Euclid, consigned the top-selling Angus bull and cow. Clarence Schulz, Breckenridge, bought the bull for $725, and Alfred Solem and Sons, Thief River Falls, the cow, for $335.

Proper Clothing Care Adds to Looks and Serviceability

Almost every major item which the consumer buys today is accompanied by an instruction booklet giving him full details on "how to use" and "how to care for" his new investment.

No such useful instructions reach him, however, when he purchases a suit, topcoat, sports jacket or other outerwear.

The "care of clothes" begins even before a man buys the apparel. In making his purchase, he should make it a practice to find out from the salesman, or through tags attached to the clothing, exactly what he is buying.

If the clothing he is buying contains wool, he will find that he is protected by a federal law, secured by the manufacturers of quality wool clothing in the consumer's interest.

Under this law—the Wool Products Labeling Act—labels must specify not only the proportions of virgin wool (the finest quality of wool), re-used wool and re-processed wool, but also the content of other fibers used to dilute the pure wool.

To assist the consumer in getting the most for his money, the following instructions are valuable guides:

Brush your clothing regularly —Dirt in your garments makes them wear out sooner.

Treat stains promptly — They may attack the fiber or dye. For best results, take the garment to a reliable cleaner. If you clean it yourself, use only cleaning agents which are good for the specific stain.

Hang suits properly — Use a hanger that fits so the garment will keep its shape.

Let them breathe — Hang them up in an airy place after removal. Wool needs air to help it spring back to shape.

Give them a rest — A 24-hour closet-rest adds life and looks to a wool garment, rids it of wrinkles.

Empty pockets when not in use—Weighty articles may pull the fabric out of shape.

Dry wool clothes away from direct heat — It dries out the fibers, makes them brittle.

Pressing, cleaning — Have your clothing cleaned periodically by a reliable cleaner to preserve its life and beauty.

Before storing — clean wool clothes spotlessly. The tiniest spot is an invitation to moths.

Driving Manners Are Held Key to Traffic Safety

The Legislature now in session is almost certain to enact several laws designed to increase safety on our highways, but the greatest chance for progress lies with motorists themselves in the improvement of their driving manners.

That is the opinion of Arthur V. Rohweder, Duluth, president of the Minnesota Safety Council. "Good motor manners," he stated, "are the outward expression of the motorist's attitude. In other words, good manners simply are doing the right thing whether a highway patrolman or city policemen is behind you or not—it means that you drive your car like a gentleman or lady at all times, not only when being followed by an officer of the law."

Examples of poor manners, he said, are failure to signal one's intention to turn, crowding pedestrians at crosswalks, failure to stop at stop signs, failing to dim headlights when meeting or following closely behind a car or driving over the center-line.

"Motorists who are discourteous," he concluded, "even though they may not intend to break the law, may be just as responsible for traffic accidents as the deliberate law violators. Our state's accident records show that it is the relatively little mistakes and violations which too often result in major accidents."

THE GIRL SCOUTS

On March 12th the Girl Scouts of America are celebrating their 41st birthday. To Girl Scouts everywhere congratulations! And a great big tribute to all volunteers who serve as leaders and in the other capacities, giving of their time and capabilities in molding and guiding our girls to that which is good, true and noble.

It is almost incredible that so much could be accomplished in the short time of its existence. Forty-one years ago Juliette Lowe, a woman of vision, invited eight young girls to her home for tea in Savannah, Ga., and from that small beginning Girl Scouting has blossomed into a group of nearly 2 million young scouts and adults whose interest is to make the world a better place in which to live.

Why, of all people, did Juliette Lowe organize Girl Scouts? Miss Lowe had a fortune in her own right, houses in London, Scotland and Savanna, Georgia—she was no longer young, having passed her fifty-second birthday, in poor health, very deaf, and no previous experience of any kind in social work. But her love for young people and her desire to help them to become real leaders in the moral, spiritual and civic life of their country inspired her to forge ahead against physical odds.

Her deafness, she turned into an asset. When she approached her friends with requests for their time and interest, she was completely deaf to their refusals and would brightly tell them where and when a group awaited them. Her faith in their ability accomplished her aim in getting them to work as enthusiastically as she, although they like herself had no experience.

Juliette Lowe recognized that the future of the world depends on the training of our young people in ideals of understanding and sympathy, of group loyalty, and individual worthiness. She also saw the need of international friendships, and promoted that to the extent that today a fund called the Juliette Lowe friendship fund is used to strengthen the bond between girls of thirty other nations by bringing them together, thereby promoting understanding and appreciation for people, for culture, races and creeds other than their own.

Visible fruits of her international promotion has reacher right into our own Girl Scout Council. We are very proud indeed to have Audrey Niemela of Roseau to have measured up to the rigid requirements necessary to be selected as our representative to the International Patrol Leaders Camp which is to be held in Finland in July of this year. Considering that there are only five delegates from the U. S. Audrey's selection is a distinct honor. To Mrs. Maurice Flagstad, an untiring and inspired volunteer worker go congratulations as leader of Audrey's troop.

Selection of participants in the program of international exchange was made on the basis of camping skills, knowledge of Girl Scouting, interest in international friendship, and ability to serve as a representative of both community and country as well as of the Girl Scout organization.

RED CROSS FUND DRIVE

Again we have the responsibility and the privilege to support the Red Cross in its 1953 campaign. To most of us, I believe, it is a heartwarming experience to know that our hands stretch out to alleviate the suffering of those who have been visited by disaster caused by nature or by war. When you are asked to be a volunteer worker in the Red Cross, in whatever capacity it may be, respond and be joyful that you have this opportunity to add your bit to an organization whose only reason for being is to help people who are in need. Red Cross is equipped as no other organization in the world to fly into action when and where disaster strikes; and who are the next victims no one knows.

This year Red Cross has been asked to take on an additional job; that of supplying gamma globulin. What is gamma globulin? It is a derivative of blood. A dose of the serum which requires approximately one pint of blood to produce, protects against the paralyzing effect of polio for about a month if injected after exposure to the disease, but before the virus reaches the nerve tissue.

Gamma globulin constitutes the brightest factor yet found in the fight against this dread disease, but unfortunately not enough gamma globulin can be produced to combat the expected epidemic. Red Cross has agreed to increase blood collections to meet this additional need as much as possible.

We, the people, who are the Red Cross will determine by our generosity how well this program is carried out.

With the world in a state of gloom as war clouds still darken the sky; it seems almost a day brightener to hear of sedate legislators working on bills such as: anti-dancing in the dark, candy cigarettes, treating in public drinking places. Next, I bet, will be toy pistols! And why not?

EDITOR'S NOTE—The Rev. E. C. Mead will write this column for the issue of March 18.

THEY AUTO NOT DO THIS

Still wearing 1921 license plates a 1911 Buick stands forlornly in John Stapf's garage at Farmington. He just got tired of driving it, and couldn't get it out now, if he wanted to, short of a major operation on the garage—a big tree has grown up directly in front of the car . . . At Redwood Falls Dr. Brainerd Cherry, veterinarian, starts an antique car collection with a 1910 Overland he found on a call in northern Minnesota, jacked up in an old garage since 1918. . . 'Twas snowy and slippery out, so Gene Volstad wasn't too surprised when, hearing a crash during the evening, he walked out his Granite Falls home to find another car hopelessly intertwined with the front end of his own parked vehicle. He was a little perturbed on hearing a second crash to find the back end bashed up, too—and the basher gone. Net cost for evening's entertainment $190 . . . While the drivers were getting a quick lunch a sleeping Canadian left the car at Wadena, and the drivers left the passenger. Police calls got them together after a few hours.

How good and pleasant a thing it is to seek not so much thine own as another's good, to sow by the wayside for the way-weary, and trust Love's recompense of love.

Report to the People

TEACHER CRISIS

One of the most serious problems confronting the people of Minnesota is the need for an increased supply of qualified teachers for elementary schools in both urban and rural communities. The number of births has increased beyond all expectations in recent years, and school enrollments are climbing as a consequence. Some 500 additional elementary teachers will be needed each year for the next few years to take care of the added enrollment resulting from the increased birth rate, and 2,000 more teachers will be required each year for some time to replace the 2,000 who have been leaving the profession each year. Most of those who give up teaching quit to get married, I am told, but many leave the school room to get more lucrative jobs in business.

A crisis is developing in the recruiting of teachers for our elementary schools as a consequence, and it is going to take extraordinary measurers to meet it and keep our schools staffed with competent teachers. It is possible for the schools and colleges to deal with the problem alone. It is going to be necessary for all citizens to help solve it.

Because of the extreme seriousness of the situation, I have decided to call a "Governor's Conference on the Elementary Teacher Crisis," to be held at the State Office Building in St. Paul, starting at 10 a. m., on March 23rd. Educators, school officials and representatives of some 70 statewide civic, business, agricultural, labor and parents' groups have been invited to attend and take part in the discussions that will run through the day. Out of the discussions, it is expected, will come a better understanding of the difficulties the schools are facing in getting teachers and a definite program that will increase the number of teachers available and improve the quality of the instruction.

Looking Backward

1923—THIRTY YEARS AGO

The new filtration plant was hooked up with the city water mains Sunday.—The state house of representatives passed a bill setting up a department of rural credit.—City voters turned down by a 3 to 1 margin a proposal to issue $50,000 in bonds to finance construction of a new bridge across Red Lake river at Third st.—T. K. Rynestad is the first farmer in this vicinity to install a radio set in his home.—C. D. Gustafson was recovering from a recent operation.

1933—TWENTY YEARS AGO

Kern Olson announced the opening in this city of Olson's Coffee Co.—Stanton R. Dahlen took over the insurance and farm management business of his father, the late H. S. Dahlen.—C. E. McCracken opened a real estate office here.—As a result of a bank holiday ordered by President Roosevelt and Gov. Floyd B. Olson, this community has been without the services of its two banks this week.—Mrs. J. J. Vorachek, long-time resident, died March 2.

1943—TEN YEARS AGO

City Clerk P. G. Pederson reported that net earnings of the municipal power plant in 1942 were $74,010, compared to $81,768 in 1941.—The home talent play, "Hip, Hip, Hooray," was acclaimed as a huge success, being witnessed by 3,500 persons at three performances.—The Red Lake county board appointed Noel Proulx from a field of 18 candidates to serve as sheriff, succeeding Carl Kankel, resigned.

WELL, IT'S ALL IN THE FAMILY . . .

Twin pupils frequently make the news, but not many schools boast lovely indentical twin teachers, as can Medford, near Owatonna, where Mrs. John LaBonte and Mrs. C. John Lieder meet these specifications.—Three sets of twins at the same time kept Loretto hospital attendants guessing.—Two sisters who share the same birthday, though not the same age, gave birth to sons in a Benson hospital the same day: Mrs. James Manley, Murdock, Mrs. John Diederich, Kerkhoven.—Though they donned uniforms a year apart, brothers Robert and Harold Synstelien of Jackson found themselves bunkies in Japan early this year.—Mother in Sweden, daughter Mrs. Ben Nelson, Mora, who had not heard each others voices in 40 years, celebrated the new year with a transatlantic telephone call.

FRESH FROM THE BARBER CHAIR

On the 40th anniversary of his professional debut with comb and scissors in a Springfield barber shop, his two partners Earl Johnson and Jack Heltzman gave Ike Black a really deluxe going over . . . Marty Pechek was not as scored as some youngsters on the occasion of the first haircut . . . Marty had full confidence in the barber, his great-grandfather Jalmer Pearson, who has wielded scissors and razor in a Tower shop since 1897 — 56 years.

GULLY . . .

By Mrs. Arnold Brovold, Gully, [illegible]

Mrs. Curtiss Melbo entertained a group of young folks on Wednesday, March 4 at four o'clock in honor of her daughter Jean's 6th birthday. The children all enjoyed lunch together, watched while Jean opened her gifts and played games. Present were Lois and Judy Melbo, Linda Johnson, Jerry, Franky and Bradley Forsberg, Pamela Melbo, Kay Bauman, Rosella Rolf, Carol Ann and Gay Brovold, Sharol Brekke, Julie and Gail Knudson, Lauren Fore, Terry Clausen. Also there for lunch were, Evelyn Monsrud, Carol Stahl, Mrs. Claus Clausen, Irene Johnson, Mrs. Maurice Melbo, Mrs. Rodger Melbo, Mrs. Kenneth Forsberg, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Rolf and Mrs. Arnold Brovold.

Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Thompson and Scott from Richmond, Calif., were afternoon and luncheon guests at her sister's home, the Kenneth Forsbergs on Friday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Bergh and Mrs. Thora Brovold attended funeral services at Grand Forks on Wednesday for Agnes Brogvold. Agnes was a sister of the late Jacob Brovold and the last member in that family.

Mrs. Ernest Rolf celebrated her birthday Tuesday, with Mrs. L. H. Aos, Mrs. Rodger Melbo, Lois and Judy, Mrs. Curtiss Melbo, Jean and Gary, there in the afternoon to help her celebrate and they were guests for lunch. Mrs. Ted Nyland and Mrs. Henry Nyland were there on Friday instead of Tuesday to observe her birthday.

Observe Silver Wedding Sunday

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Rolf celebrated their 25th wedding anniversary at the Lund church on Sunday with over 100 people attending.

Oscar served as toastmaster and led the program. Pastor Landvick spoke briefly, Mrs. Kenneth Rolf led the devotion. The group sang "What a Friend we have in Jesus", Barbara Bergh sang "Because," James and Mary Rolf sang "Jesus Bids Us Shine," Orville and Lois Rolf sang "Sing, Smile and Pray," Rosella Rolf, Rosalind Rouland and Geraldine Bergh gave a vocal selection. Truman Rolf gave the 25th Anniversary reading. Mrs. Peter Ostana also rendered a reading, and Mrs. Curtiss Melbo read two letters, and called upon for brief remarks appropriate to the occasion were Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Enerson, Mrs. William Rolf, Kenneth Jore, and Mrs. Selmer Enerson.

Mr. and Mrs. Rolf were married at McIntosh and have three daughters and one son. They are Mrs. Curtiss (Ruthie) Melbo, Sophie of Bagley and Rosella at home and Pvt Byron Rolf in service at Camp Carson, Colo.

Mr. and Mrs. William Rolf, who were the attendants at the wedding 25 years ago, were present. The ladies had corsages of yellow daffodils and the men wore white carnation boutonnieres. After the program lunch was enjoyed by all. The family and close relatives were seated at a table decorated with blue and white candles and place cards, with a wedding cake as the centerpiece. It also was trimmed in blue and white and was topped by miniature bride and groom and was baked and decorated by Mrs. Peter Ostana.

Sophie Rolf, 83-year-old mother of Ernest, was also present for the happy ocasion, having been granted the rare privilege of attending the silver weddings for all of her seven children. Ernest is the youngest member in the family and the last of the seven to observe his silver wedding. William was the only other member of the family present.

Mrs. Ernest Rolf's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Victor Enerson of McIntosh, also her brothers, Elmer Enerson and Clifford Hanson, her sisters Mrs. Fred Mielke of Minneapolis and Mrs. Selmer Enerson.

Mr. and Mrs. Rolf were presented with a purse of money from friends and relatives, a set of silverware and a silver cup especially engraved for the occasion. They also received a message of congratulations from their son, Byron, who was unable to attend as well as many others.

Waitresses included Phyllis and Gail Johnson, Gloria Enerson, McIntosh; Darlene Enerson, Trail, Mrs. L. H. Aos, Mrs. Gerald Hangard, Mrs. Floyd Berg, Mrs. Dorothy Nesvold, Mrs. Harry Melbo and Mrs. Charles Ohm assisted with the serving. Arrangements were made by Mrs. Peter Ostana and Mrs. Kenneth Rolf, McIntosh, and Mrs. Curtiss Melbo.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Forsberg and boys attended a get-together at the Henry Bergman home south of Clearbrook on Sunday afternoon. Other members of the family there were, Katherine Bergman of Minneapolis, Mrs. Marie Lewis, Maxine and LeRoy of Clearbrook, Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Thompson (Doris) and Scott of Richmond, Calif. Carl, Alvin and Barbara at home. Others there were Mr. and Mrs. John Olson and Barbara, Mr. and Mrs. John Strandell and Beverly, Mr. and Mrs. Gust Nordeen, Karen and Janine, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Lundeen and baby, Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Lindberg and Mrs. Thompson. All enjoyed lunch and movies taken in California and on the way here.

Carol Stahl of Gonvick was a weekend guest at the Curtiss Melbo home and also attended the reception of the Ernest Rolfs on Sunday.

Miss Peggy Lou Bergquist, R. N. of Portland, Oregon visited at the Anton Bowman home from Saturday until Wedenesday and with her grandmother, Mrs. Anna Bowman and other relatives. She was en route to New York City as an Ensign in the Navy Nurses' Corps.

Joyce Tharaldson, R. N., nurse at the State Hospital at Fergus Falls is spending from Saturday until Wednesday with her parents.

Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Aos and Harvey were in Crookston on Wednesday where they attended a meeting of a paint concern and were guests at a banquet that evening.

The Lund Luther League will meet next Sunday evening at the Lund church parlors. Hostesses are Mrs. L. H. Aos, Mrs. Ed. Ellertson and Mrs. Gerald Hangard. Everyone is cordially invited to attend.

Mrs. Ed. Ellertson spent a week in Minneapolis and returned on Saturday. She visited at the home of Mrs. Agnes Wild and with her sons, Norris and Carroll and with friends.

Duane Ellertson and Franklin Rouland drove to Bemidji Sunday and enjoyed skiing on the big Buena Vista Ski slide about ten miles north of Bemidji.

Visitors at the Carl Forsberg home Sunday afternoon or evening to help Carl celebrate his birthday were Mr. and Mrs. Peter Rutkowski and Viona, Mr. and Mrs. Ruebn Rydeen and daughter of Clearbrook, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Forsberg and boys. Mrs. Forsberg served lunch including birthday cake.

Mr. and Mrs. Claude Knudson and Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Berg spent last week in Minneapolis as delegates to the Central Exchange Convention from Monday until Thursday. Mr. and Mrs. Albert Nyland also visited in the Cities last week and attended some of the sessions. Claude Knudsons were accompanied by Mrs. Idius Christianson of Bemidji, Mrs. Ed Ellertson and Mrs. Karl Blanchard of Fosston. While in the Cities Kundsons visited with Mr. and Mrs. Alex Erickson, Charles Haugens, Winton Knudsons, Forrest Knudson, the Dennis Brettingen and Harry Ogin homes at Excelsior, Minn.

Edwin Christianson was in Gully Monday morning on his way to Ada to attend the area farm meeting there that evening where he spoke on "Farm Prices and Farm Business." Norman Larson, State Senator, from that district also appeared as a speaker and spoke about roads. Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Christianson together with other leaders of the Farmers Union plan to leave March 14 to attend the Conference of National Farmers Union leaders at Denver, Colorado, March 16, 17 and 18. Maurice Melbo is the driver of this bus and he plans to take his wife and daughter along on this trip.

How to Pick Best Nurse Crop

Pennington County farmers who want to obtain better stands of grass and legumes are advised to use care in selecting a nurse crop.

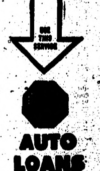
The ideal nurse crop, according to Dr. W. W. Brookins, well known crop expert, is one which offers just the right amount of protection—not too little and not too much.

Flax is generally considered the best choice because its small, narrow leaves allow more sunlight to reach the new seeding. An acre of flax contains about 3½ million plants while oats will average only 1½ million, yet scientific tests show 4½ times more light reaches grass underseeded in Flax than in oats.

As Flax matures, its leaves begin to fall, gradually admitting more light to the new seeding. By harvest time, the tiny plants are accustomed to full sunlight and suffer little shock when Flax is removed. On the other hand, tender, spindling plants over-protected by other crops, often suffer a severe set-back at harvest.

Twenty years of experiments in So. Dakota showed that Flax sown at its normal rate produced better stands of alfalfa than either oats, barley, or wheat sown at half the usual rate.

Brookins also points out that Flax and grass prefer the same type of seedbed — firm, well-packed, shallow, and moist. Both should be planted early and at the the same shallow depth.



Flax lets more light through

Free Booklet on Grass

How to make money with grass is the subject of a new booklet by the Flax Development Committee. It includes latest information on how to raise better pasture and more hay per acre. The Committee is interested in grass since Flax is so often used to help start new seedings.

Copies may be obtained without charge from the Flax Development Committee, 700 Baker Bldg., Minneapolis.

LOGGERS IN AN IRON MINE
THIS STURDY CRIBBING being built by Waino Tarvas and Evert Eskel is part of a new installation to speed ore shipments from an iron mine near Hibbing. A conveyor belt system is being built to carry ore to the surface. This cribbing, when filled with waste rock, will make a platform to support nine trucks dumping ore onto the belt. Winter work like this, preparing for a new ore shipping season, is going on all over Minnesota's iron ranges. Year-round work, usual in the ore industry today, assures steady jobs, steady incomes for the thousands of ore miners and their families—means benefits for all Minnesota. A fair deal for Minnesota's iron mining industry means a good deal for you.

CITY COUNCIL PROCEEDINGS

Thief River Falls, Minnesota

The City Council of the City of Thief River Falls, Minnesota, met in regular session in the Council Chambers on February 10, 1953. All members were present. The meeting was called to order at eight o'clock P. M.

Minutes of the meetings of January 13 and 27 were read and so approved.

Monthly reports of departments were presented, examined and ordered filed.

Applications for licenses were presented, as follows: Cigarette—Otis L. Wold, Arthur O. Erickson, L. Laliberte, Eagles Lodge, John K. Maney, Clifford Hugge, Pennington Hotel, W. G. Mayes, O. O. Ekeren, Gay Hattgen, Hans O. Prestby, O. H. Vraa, Albert Halvorson, Hartz Super Market. Renewals for Taxi Service, Olaf Hondrom and H. A. Dietz. Alderman Hunt moved approval and issuance of the same. The motion being seconded by Alderman Lund and the same was carried by roll call vote.

Application for building permit, duly approved by the Building Inspector, was presented by Thief River Grain Company, grain storage, No. [illegible] ft. Lot 33, Lot 36 and So. 37 ft. Lot 37 Soo Line right-of-way, cost $40,000. Alderman Bergland moved approval and issuance of permit. Alderman Hunt seconded the motion which was duly adopted.

Combination Automobile Insurance Policy No. 22-A-11270, insuring H. A. Dietz, d/ba Dietz Cabs, covering bodily injury and property damage liability in connection with operation of Taxi service, was presented and was approved as to form and execution by the City Attorney. Alderman Hunt moved acceptance and the filing of the same, Alderman Lund seconded the motion which was passed and adopted.

There was presented a petition for bituminous treatment of Zeh Street from Knight Avenue to Arnold Avenue, signed by Henry H. Nabben, Albert Sjolsvold and others and the same was ordered filed to await later action of the Council.

Pursuant to notice duly published, the Council proceeded to conduct a hearing in the matter of assessments against certain properties by reason of bituminous treatment of First Street, Red Lake River to Crocker Avenue, Red Lake Blvd, Third Street north to 7th Street and Dewey Avenue, Red Lake Blvd. to 8th Street; Sixth Street, Dewey Avenue to Red Lake Blvd.; Atlantic Avenue, Third to 8th Street; Zeh Street, Knight to Main Avenue and Crocker Avenue, Muzzy to Third Street. The assessment rolls were presented and examined. No persons appeared in objection to such proposed assessments. Alderman Land then introduced a resolution adopting said assessment roll, providing for installment payments of the same and moved the adoption of such resolution. Alderman Bergland seconded the motion. The roll was called on question of adoption and all members voted in favor thereof. The resolution was then by the President, declared passed and adopted.

There were presented the following applications for tax adjustments. Mrs Ruth Kortuen, for reduction of personal property valuation, 1952. A. I. Williamson, Clerk of Independent School District No. 18, for settlement, abatement of delinquent taxes, penalties, interest and costs against lots 1-8 and 19-24, Block 10, Original Townsite, for years 1916-1951. Alderman Christensen moved that such applications be approved and that such approval be transmitted to the County Board of Pennington County. Alderman Fuller seconded the motion and the same was duly passed by unanimous roll call vote.

Pursuant to Call for bids Alderman Bergland moved that proposals be opened and read for designation of official newspaper of the City for the year 1953. The motion was duly seconded by Alderman Christensen and carried. The bid of Thief River Falls Times was as follows: For publishing proceedings and notices $1.20 per folio for first insertion, $.00 per folio for each subsequent insertion with additional charge of $.40 per folio for tabular matter. Alderman Land introduced a resolution accepting such proposal and designating said Thief River Falls Times as the Official Newspaper of the City for the year 1953 and moved adoption of such resolution. Alderman Hunt seconded such motion and on a roll call the resolution was duly passed and adopted.

Alderman Hunt then moved that bids for designation of depositories of public funds be opened and read. Alderman Land seconded the motion which was carried. Proposals were presented by Union State and Northern State Banks of Thief River Falls, with assignment to the City of Thief River Falls of United States Governmental securities as surety for such deposit of funds. Alderman Bergland introduced a resolution accepting such securities assignment and designating each of such banks as depositories of public funds for the ensuing year and moved adoption of such resolution. Alderman Land seconded adoption. The roll was called on question and all members voted in favor thereof whereupon the resolution was declared passed and adopted.

Alderman Christensen introduced an Ordinance amending Section 1, Rule 27 of Ordinance No. 45, as amended by Ordinance No. 162 and 191, fixing the time of stated meetings of the City Council and moved that such ordinance be given its first reading. Alderman Fuller seconded the motion which was duly carried and the proposed Ordinance was duly read and filed.

H. A. Dietz appeared before the Council with a request that he be permitted to erect a temporary taxi stand on property between Third and Fourth street on east side of street sized 8 x 14 feet. Alderman Bergland moved that he present his request to the Building Inspector. Alderman Land seconded the motion which was carried.

There was presented by Rev. Helland of Northern Minnesota Tent Mission a request for the use of the Main floor of the City Auditorium for religious services, the first two weeks in July at a reduction from the present rental schedule and the same was ordered referred to the Building Committee.

Alderman Bergland moved that the Chief of Fire Department be authorized to increase the number of volunteer Call Men of the Department by two additional men. Alderman Christensen seconded the motion which was adopted.

There was discussion in the matter of certain refunds to consumers of electrical energy for payments previously made for additions to the distribution system and to their properties at the time that such properties were beyond the corporate limits of the City and the same was ordered referred to the Committee of Water and Light.

In the matter of Recreation Board's request for an appropriation to pay salary of Director of Marching Majorettes in the amount of $[illegible], the Council voted by unanimous ballot to reject such request.

Alderman Land introduced a resolution approving for payment various current bills against the City and moved its adoption. Alderman Hunt seconded such motion and the same was passed and adopted by unanimous roll call vote.

The meeting was then declared adjourned to Thursday, February 19, 1953 at eight o'clock P. M.

WOOL GARMENTS LAST 30 CENTURIES

The American Museum of Natural History in New York City contains the mummified body of a Peruvian priest who died 3,000 years ago. When the mummy was divested of its grave clothes, museum officials were amazed at the condition of the luxurious trappings.

The ornate wool embroidery used to trim the priest's tunic, shirt, mantle and headpiece was in complete state of preservation. It was the only textile to survive in entirety.

First short-wave motor vehicle telephones were installed in the Minneapolis area in 1946, when 25 cars were equipped and one radio channel was dedicated to their itinerant messages. Today three channels handle an average of 336 calls a day to and from 274 motor vehicles in Duluth, Fergus Falls, the Twin Cities, and their connecting highways. Several private planes also have air-ground shortwave telephones.

Big Variety of Birds at Mud Lake Refuge

The headquarters site of Mud Lake refuge is noted for the number and variety of birds that make their home there. The site is virtually an island surrounded by marsh and comprises a total of 68 acres. The edges of the island are made up of marsh vegetation while the interior has willow and aspen trees as the dominant vegetation. With an abundant water supply nearby, the area has all the requirements of ideal nesting habitat for birds.

During a census taken last summer there were 12,800 birds present on the island or about 188 birds per acre. A total of 28 species were represented, ranging in size from the Ruby-throated Hummingbird to the Ruffed Grouse.

Probably the most noticeable group of birds present are the swallows and their close relatives, the purple martins. Four kinds of swallows are present, namely the barn, bank, cliff and tree swallows. Each evening in the summer they can be observed by the hundred sitting on the power lines after the days activity of flying and catching insects. The swallows build nests of mud under the eaves of buildings.

Also quite noticeable but in smaller numbers are the kingbirds and phoebes. These are also birds that catch flying insects. Pity the poor hawk that shows up when a kingbird is around. Although dwarfed by the size of the hawk, the kingbird has a pugnacious spirit and can put the hawk to route with their fighting tactics.

Some of the best singers and more colorful birds are represented by the Baltimore oriole, robin, catbird and several kinds of warblers. Their best melodies are to be heard in the very early morning before most of us are even thinking of arising.

The mud flats and beaches of the island are the home of the killdeer and spotted Sandpiper. They skip along the beaches, very industriously looking for food in the form of water insects. The young are hatched on the bare expanse of beach with no protection except their protective coloration.

A common sight is that of the red-winged blackbird alighting on a cattail head that doesn't look strong enough to hold the bird. Also present in the cattails are several kinds of wrens which one may catch a fleeting glimpse of as they scurry along.

There are several families of that king of the upland game birds, the ruffed grouse. The drumming of the males can be heard almost any time from April to July. The hen with her string of downy young is a very appealing sight.

The English sparrow is a year around pest, but his brother, the song sparrow, is a very welcome summer resident. The goldfinch adds color to the landscape in the summer, and the chickadee takes his place during the winter months.

Less welcome visitors are the bronze crackle and cowbird. The flicker makes the refuge a concentrating spot before leaving for the southlands each fall. The mourning dove and black-billed cuckoo are quite inconspicuous in the heavily wooded areas.

Although not included in the census, ducks, crows and hawks often nest in areas close to the island. Large numbers of gulls and terns often feed on the lawns of the residences during the summer.

Although actually a small area it is quite remarkable the number of birds that find sanctuary on Headquarters Island. It clearly demonstrates the potentialities an area has once it is given protection.

While all these birds are incidental to the main purpose of the refuge, which is production and protection of waterfowl, they add much color to the interested observer. The public road going through the south part of the refuge affords the public an excellent opportunity to see all these birds first hand.

'U' Will Graduate 450 on March 19

Ceremony in Northrop Memorial Auditorium

Approximately 450 University of Minnesota students will march across the stage of Northrop Memorial auditorium Thursday evening, March 19, to receive their University degrees. The winter quarter commencement exercises will begin at 8 p. m.

Paul H. Giddens, new president of Hamline university, St. Paul, will deliver the commencement address, speaking on "Citadels of Truth and Freedom." Former chief of the history and political science department at Allegheny college, Meadville, Pa., he has been head of Hamline university since March 1.

University President J. L. Morrill will also speak during the program. The ceremonies will open with an invocation by the Rev. Joseph G. Vasiliou, priest and director of the Eastern Orthodox fellowship on the campus.

Malcolm M. Willey, University vice president in charge of academic administration, will introduce the deans of the University colleges so they can present their candidates for degrees to Dr. Morrill. The University president will then confer all of the diplomas.

Mary Jane Kliever, who lives at Mahnomen, took her bunny and climbed upon some of the sacks of mail piled high in the postoffice carrying Easter Seals to some 900,000 Minnesota families. Easter Seals arrived in most Minnesota homes this week as the 20th annual Easter Seal appeal got under way to raise funds for services to handicapped men, women and children of the state.

House Dress Has New Style Touch for 1953 Season

The newest home fashions offer every woman of the house a smart all-day wardrobe that does duty as hostess frock, shopping and streetwear outfit, and comfortable working garb as well. And in them this year are seen all the important fashion news including neckline interest, gay prints and princess styles.

Embossed cottons are seen in a variety of patterns, including diamond, honeycomb, blister and chevron types. They may be all one shade, or in a two tone combination, giving a sculptured look to the fabric. Pastels and white, often with dark trim, look gay and Spring like in these textures.

Glazed cottons in small prints such as the calico type, are sparkling fresh for Spring, and waffle pique prints in bold effects add dramatic interest, especially with brilliant colors on clear white grounds.

Especially suited to warmer weather are the cotton plisses. This practical fabric now takes pretty prints and eyelet trimming, retaining all the while its easy washing and no ironing virtues.

Details that make news in high fashion dresses, such as the Empire waistline, full skirts with oversize pockets, and pretty necklines, take over in the dress department, attractively ready for streetwear at any time.

MEN FIT BETTER

In 1875 the only important thing about fit of men's shoes was, "Is the size BIG enough?" Now, men's shoes can be fitted in sizes from 5 to 18, in widths AA to EEE.

WAGES GO UP

Shoe workers at the close of the Revolutionary War earned an average of 50c to 70c per day. Today the average pay for all shoe workers is $52 weekly.

175 DOZEN

100 BOOSTER FED hens lay an extra 35 dozen eggs per month!

Last year, in their four best laying months, American hens averaged 56.4% egg production — the equivalent of 140 dozen eggs per month per 100 hens.

But look at the average for Booster-fed hens!

Booster feeders in four states reported figures showing that: Booster-fed hens averaged 70.2% egg production . . . equal to 175 dozen eggs per month per 100 layers.

What a difference Booster Feeds made for these poultrymen! Imagine . . .

Booster Feeds gave them 35 dozen extra eggs from every 100 hens, compared with the nation's average.

If you want dozens of extra eggs . . . switch to Poultry Booster Feeds, Super treated with Archer Boostryn. Try Booster Feeds . . . see how they boost production and boost poultry income! Ask for meal, granu-bits or pellets.

Here's Packard's new medium-priced car!

The New Packard CLIPPER

Here's your opportunity to own and drive a really fine automobile at only a few hundred dollars more than you'd pay for a car in the lowest-priced field!

In all truth, the new Packard CLIPPER is enjoying public response far beyond expectations and has, since the first day it was shown!

Because the value is there, and the price is right.

How can Packard do it? Deliver so much big-car value and performance at medium-car prices?

FIRST: It's Packard engineering—traditionally fine, historically dependable. Packard, you remember, is the oldest maker of fine quality cars in America.

SECOND: Packard occupies a unique manufacturing position, for Packard alone with 54 years' experience in fine car building, combines craftsmanship of the highest character, and modern mass production techniques, to produce greater dollar for dollar values.

In addition to greater values, you get Packard's contour styling that is setting the new trend in automotive design. Contour styling means not only a handsomer car, but better visibility—any way you look! You get the smoothness and comfort of the famous Packard ride, too—real big-car ride!

New Packard CLIPPER

You get the unforgettable kitten-smooth, whip-quick pull and zoom of the Packard Thunderbolt-8 Engine—real big-car power!

In all, you get more than 70 big-car features!

If you plan to buy a car in the $2500 price-class be sure to see and drive the new Packard CLIPPER and compare it with other medium-priced cars. Surprisingly enough the CLIPPER costs only a few hundred dollars more than cars in the lowest-priced field. And, of course, there's a wide range of new beautiful CLIPPER models, any one of which will give you a lift, as well as a ride, anytime you drive it!

In addition to the new CLIPPER, Packard of course continues to build one of the finest cars in the world, sold under the single name PACKARD—America's new choice in fine cars. Now—Ask the man who owns one!

Here's proof that new Dodge trucks give you more for your money!

Actual comparisons of the 3 leading makes of trucks show that Dodge alone gives you the big plus values listed below . . . values that can save you hundreds of dollars over the life of your truck!

In these cost-conscious days, trucks are bought on facts . . . on proof, not promises. And we can prove that the just-announced Dodge trucks are the least expensive over the long haul. Stop by and learn why! Get the facts and you'll get a Dodge!

Of the 3 leading makes, only Dodge "Job-Rated" trucks give you . . .

7 GREAT ENGINES, with 100 to 171 h.p.—3 engines brand-new. Of the 3 leading manufacturers, no one offers as many engines as Dodge.

TRUCK-O-MATIC TRANSMISSION with gyrol Fluid Drive, for the best in shift-free driving. Available in ½- and ¾-ton models.

SUPERSAFE BRAKES of the advanced dual-primary type in 1- thru 4-ton trucks. Of the "Big 3," only Dodge offers these brakes.

More power in the 1½- and 2-ton ranges than the other 2 leaders.

More pick-up bodies than the other 2 leaders, including new 116"-wheelbase ½-ton pick-up.

Greatest ½-ton-panel payload and cubic capacity of the 3 leaders.

Fluid coupling, for smoother traction in ½-, ¾- and 1-ton models, offered only by Dodge.

2 fuel filters on all models to assure cleaner fuel and a cleaner engine.

Floating oil intake selects clean oil at top; avoids sediment at bottom of crankcase.

Water-distributing tube on all models directly cools valve seats . . . means longer valve life.

4-ring pistons on all engines save oil, upkeep.

Independent parking brake on all models is simple, efficient, powerful.

Rivetless Cyclebond brake linings last longer . . . no rivets to score brake drums.

Oriflow shock absorbers on ½-, ¾- and 1-ton models give smoother riding, greater driver control on roughest roads.

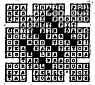
PUZZLE NO. 258

Answer to Puzzle No. 257



MONEY ALWAYS MAKES NEWS

$5 gold piece dated 1852 and a silver dollar dated 1878 are among the coin and antique collection of Mrs. Joseph Rosenstengel, near Sleepy Eye. . . She turned a New Ulm corner, the car door flew open, she heard a bump, but closed the door and drove on. But when Mrs. Pearl Benda of Madison Lake reached for her purse a little later, no purse. A quick check with the police, and there it was, with $427.85 intact, picked up by Elfred Flitter of Madelia and turned in without a glance at the contents. . . When one of Leo Juetten's cows was operated on at Maple Lake, not only nails but one nickel and one quarter were extracted and bossy went right on with her milk making . . . No one at International Falls Daily Journal can account for the dollar bill a distant subscriber recently found wrapped with her copy of the newspaper.

SMILEY . . .

By Mrs. Jim McCrum, Rt. 3, city

The March meeting of the Smiley 4-H club will be held this Friday evening, March 13 at the Hall. Response to the roll call will be naming a favorite song. A project talk will be given on gardening by Gloria Johnson. The topic for the evening will be on Plants and Shrubs. Demonstrations pertaining to this topic will be given by Harlan Rude, Joyce Helgeland and Johnny Konickson. The program will be arranged by Joyce Helgeland, Marlin Hutmaker, and Darryl Johnson. Recreation will be supervised by Shirley Beiswenger, LaVonne Diehl, and Carol Rude. Refreshments will be served by the Harman Rude and Jim McCrum families. Clean up gang will be Nelda Nelson, Carol Rude and Marilyn McCrum.

Eight young 4-H girls and their mothers met at the Adam Lendobeja home Friday evening for a lesson on making attractive lamp shades and some picture framing ideas. The leaders, Mrs. Lendobeja and Mrs. Norton Nelson were the instructors. A pot luck lunch was served also.

Frank Rose of Pelican Rapids was a Saturday visitor at the Otis Miller home.

Sunday visitors at the Clifford Jorde home in Steiner were Mr. and Mrs. Adam Lendobeja and Dianne, Mrs. Ada Jorde and Clarence, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Johnson and family of Rocksbury, Mrs. Curtis Swanson and daughter.

Their daughters, Dianne Lendobeja and Gloria Johnson were members of the Lincoln High School band that played during intermission. Dianne had been down to the tournaments for three evenings in succession.

Miss Gladys Vigen was home for the weekend. She came on Friday evening by car, having accompanied Morris Vaagness of Minneapolis and five other young folks from the Augsburg College she attends. They returned Sunday. Miss Gladys Vigen visited her brother Bert Vigen, and other relatives. The other young people visited their respective parents and others.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

A Difficult "Situation"

Did you see that "Classified Ad" last week? The one that wanted a farmhand who had to be "an expert agriculturist, sheep herder, tractor driver, bridge player," plus being "an authority on chemistry and mathematics"?

Slim Thomas, who ran that ad more or less as a joke, called and said, "I got 23 answers and almost every one claimed they could meet all those qualifications! That means I want to keep the man I have—'Handy' Peters.

"He was thinking of quitting but now I've got to talk him into staying. Handy never pretends to be an expert, he's just a good all-around hired hand."

From where I sit, Slim's smart to be wary of people who consider themselves to be all-around "experts." Some folks will "expert" on anything—from the clothes a man should wear to whether he ought to drink beer or buttermilk. Personally I don't want to "classify" myself as knowing all the right answers.

LIVEWEIGHT TRACTION

gives farming a real boost!

When your field work calls for more real pull, liveweight traction will see you through.

The hydraulic TRACTION BOOSTER in the CA and WD Tractors changes deadweight to liveweight. Weight of both tractor and implement is automatically shifted to bear down on drive wheels when soil is stubborn and tillage is tough.

The hydraulic TRACTION BOOSTER reduces wheel slippage—enables the CA and WD to do drawbar jobs that normally would require heavier tractors.

Stop in and let us show you how it works.

Functions of County Attorney Explained

Most people think that the life of a county attorney is one filled with the glamour of hunting criminals, searching for clues, and presenting dramatic evidence during murder trials. But in addition to handling the sensational criminal cases which make the newspaper headlines, the county attorney has a great many responsibilities in civil matters, the Minnesota State Bar association said today.

The county attorney is the elected representative of the people of his county in all matters dealing with the proper execution of the corporate affairs of the state and county in his jurisdiction, and in all civil court proceedings, as well as criminal cases.

The county attorney's duties in relation to conducting the business of the county include those of acting as legal counsel to the County Board of Commissioners and the county administrative departments. Among other things, he works on problems dealing with pension and welfare cases and tax proceedings, and gives opinions on many questions involving the limits placed by law upon the various powers of the County Board and its committees.

The county attorney also acts in all sanity hearing cases. These involve mental illness, mental deficiency, alcoholism and problems of the aged. The county attorney is the representative of the people of his county in asking for the commitment to state institutions of these unfortunate persons.

The county attorney is responsible for the prosecution of all criminal cases which fall within the jurisdiction of the state district courts. These include felonies, which are crimes punishable by imprisonment in the state prison or reformatory; and gross misdemeanors, which are punishable by confinement in the county jail for not more than a year. In most counties he also prosecutes misdemeanors under state laws, which fall within the jurisdiction of municipal courts and justices of the peace.

Presenting evidence and explaining the law to grand juries are other duties of the county attorney. In Minnesota, a grand jury usually acts on only two very serious matters—homicide (first or second degree murder, where a conviction would carry a life sentence), and investigation of possible malfeasance in office by public officials. If the grand jury should return an indictment, the county attorney then would prosecute the case in district court.

Some of the most important work done by the county attorney is in reference to juvenile delinquents—children under 18 years of age who are involved in crimes. Usually the juvenile or probate court judge asks the county attorney to present these cases, which are heard informally.

Ask Legislature to Set up Official State Residence

The Minnesota legislature is being asked to make Stonebridge, stately residence located near Mississippi River Boulevard in St. Paul, the official residence of the state.

Backed by a number of state and Twin Cities organizations, the move if successful will make Minnesota the 35th state with suitable executive homes.

The house is already the property of Minnesota, having been tax-forfeited when the heirs of Oliver Crosby, who built it in 1915, found no further use for it. Under the plan of a St. Paul committee, appointed by Mayor John Daubney, an apartment would be set up for the governor and his family, and other rooms in the house would provide meeting places for official state groups.

Malenkov Takes over Position of Russian Premier

Appointed to Succeed Joseph Stalin Who Died in Moscow Thursday

Georgi Malenkov, 51, succeeded Josef Stalin as premier of Russia Friday night, in Moscow, only 24 hours after the death of the Soviet leader.

The whole Soviet government and leadership of the Communist party was shaken up, while Russians by the thousands filed in miles-long lines past the bier of Stalin in Moscow.

The decisions were announced after a joint meeting of the central committee of the Communist party, of which Malenkov already was secretary, the council of ministers or cabinet, and the presidium of the supreme soviet.

Named deputy premiers were Vinchestav M. Molotov, Lavreenti Beria, Marshal Nikolai Bulganin and Lazar Kaganovich.

In addition, Molotov became foreign minister succeeding Andrei Vishinsky; Beria was made interior minister; and Bulganin was named minister of war.

Thus Molotov, deputy premier under Stalin, was returned to the foreign ministry, which he occupied in the postwar years when he represented the Soviet government at the Big Four conferences.

Vishinsky has been in New York attending the current session of the United Nations. The new appointments made him permanent representative of Russia to the U N.

Improvements to 50 Miles of Trunk Highways Planned

Improvements to 50 miles of Minnesota's trunk highways are included in a call for bids issued today by State Highway Commissioner M. J. Hoffman. Bids on the nine projects will be received March 27.

Other work includes two sets of traffic control signals and four bridges, one of which is an old bridge which will be erected at a new location.

The projects, by county and trunk highway, include:

Clay and Norman counties—T. H. 32—Gravel base and plant-mixed bituminous surfacing of 23 miles between Ada and Jct. T. H. 10, east of Glyndon.

Roseau county, T. H. 89—Grading, gravel base and road-mixed bituminous surfacing of 13 miles northerly from a point one-half mile south of Ross.

Success in life depends upon persistent effort, upon the improvement of moments more than upon any other one thing.

Swimming Course One of Services of Red Cross Here

Quentin Jones, Director, Reports 500 Children Took Lessons in 1952

The Red Cross "Learn to swim" program is one of the many services offered to this community by the local Red Cross chapter, Quentin Jones, waterfront director, stated today. Drowning is fourth on the list of all causes of accidental deaths. Each year more than seven thousand persons lose their lives by drowning; the victims are of all ages. Many of these drownings are caused by non-swimmers capsizing boats and others from not observing safety "common sense" in swimming.

Many drowning accidents could be prevented if the persons concerned could avoid fear and panic and would observe a few simple precautions. Unfortunately, however, the inexperienced non-swimmer when thrown into the water gets panicky and attempts to climb out of it, waving arms and legs vigorously. By taking part in the "learn to swim" program a person would learn that standing up in the water is the thing not to do.

The Pennington county Red Cross chapter, said Jones, in cooperation with the local recreation board and PTA's in the county, provided supervision and instruction to some five hundred youngsters last summer. Three hundred and ten completed the beginners' Red Cross swimming course.

This is only one of many types of service available from the Pennington County Red Cross chapter. Contribute generously to your Red Cross fund campaign this month, Jones requested.

Blue-Eyed Drivers Bothered More by Headlight Glare

Headlight glare from automobiles bothers blue-eyed drivers more than the brown-eyed.

That was the decision reached in a report made by the Optometric Extension Program, Duncan, Oklahoma, and made public today by Dr. Harold L. Carlson, Mankato, president of the Minnesota Optometric association.

"The blue eyes on the average are more sensitive to glare, less able to see well," the report states, "and as a safe driving tip it is suggested that the blue-eyed persons slow down when meeting autos with bright lights."

Dr. Carlson pointed out that eye color is apparently one factor in ability to see against glare, and that age, fatigue, lack of Vitamin A and alcoholic consumption are others.

Adequate Coal Reserve

Unless large new sources are found, the country's supply of natural gas may be exhausted in a generation, according to an official of the Washington Gas Light Co., while coal reserves are good for more than 1,000 years.

Times classifieds offer opportunities each week. Use them whenever you can and find an easy inexpensive way to sell odds and ends lying about the farm.

MEMORY LANE

THE OLD LAMP

Remember the old Kerosene lamp? During supper it stood in the center of the red checked table cloth. Later, held high by mother, it led sleepyheads to bed. Then father read the Evening Journal, while mother did her darning by its light. And it was always left burning in the window for Sister when she went out with her beau. Many nostalgic memories linger around the old lamp. Remember?

Spring Style Show to Be Staged by Legion in Linco[illegible] Gym Friday

12 Stores Cooper[illegible] "Harmony Honey[illegible] Minneapolis Wil[illegible]

New spring styles [illegible] for men, women an[illegible] will be displayed to resi[illegible] of this community at the annual Legion-sponsored style show in the Lincoln high school gymnasium Friday evening, March 20, at 8 o'clock, it was announced today by Ivan Bundy, general chairman.

Four attractive settings are being arranged as backgrounds for the parade of models presenting the latest fashions in dress and sports clothes selected from the stocks of twelve local merchants.

Dave Vaaler will serve as master of ceremonies, while Mrs. Stanton R. Dahlen will serve as commentator, calling attention to details of the various costumes.

A special feature of the program will be the appearance of the "Harmony Honeys", a girl's "Barbershop" quartet which appeared recently on the Parade of Quartets program at Northrop auditorium in Minneapolis.

The girls, all age 18 and natives of Jeffers, Minnesota, are Delrose Pankonin, bass; Marianne Peterson, tenor; Eunice Gollen, baritone; and Carol Wessell, lead. They have been singing together since childhood.

Assisting Bundy in arrangements for the revue are Marvin Lindberg, scenery, and Stanley Gibson, advertising; together with a committee from the Civic and Commerce association including C. R. Waldera, Sidney Lieberman and R. A. Mehlhoff.

The stores that will participate in the revue include the Vogue, Lein's, Elaine's, Fashion Shop, S & L, Penney's, Montgomery Ward & Co., the Junior Shop, Hamilton's, Bjorkman's, Lieberman's, and the Hub Clothing.

Dr. Starekow Appointed to School Board

Succeeds Dr. Nickerson; Board Grants Teachers Another Pay Increase

At an adjourned meeting of the Thief River Falls board of education last Thursday evening, Dr. M. D. Starekow was appointed to the board to succeed Dr. Neil Nickerson, who recently moved away from this city. Dr. Starekow will serve until the annual school district election in May.

The board also revised its salary schedule for faculty members for the coming school year, increasing minimum and maximum salaries by $100 a year. Teachers were given until April 1 to accept or reject contracts for another year.

The board accepted the resignations of Frank Summerside, instructor in vocal music in Lincoln high school, and Lester Swanson, veterans agriculture instructor. Summerside plans to take advanced studies next fall, while Swanson, whose resignation was effective Monday, is joining the state soil conservation service at Owatonna.

The new salary schedule as adopted provides for salaries ranging from $2,500 a year for teachers with two years of training and with no experience up to $3,900 a year for teachers with four years training and eight years or more of experience. An additional payment of $200 is made for married men teachers.

Under the schedule substitutes who teach only a few days at a time will be paid $9 per day in the elementary schools and $10 per day in junior-senior high school. If they teach continuously for a month or longer, they will be paid in accordance with the minimum annual schedule.

Council Seeks Bids on Street Oil for Season

Confirms Appointment of Oscar Bakke as Park Superintendent in City

Acting favorably on the recommendation of Ed Christensen, chairman of the street committee, the city council at its adjourned regular meeting Tuesday evening voted to call for bids on up to 70,000 gallons of road oil for use in street surfacing projects this year.

It also was voted to invite bids on up to 600 gallons of DDT insecticide to be used during the summer in exterminating mosquitoes and tree worms. Bids will be opened at the April meeting.

An ordinance changing the date of the regular council meetings from the second Tuesday of each month to the third Tuesday was given its final reading, followed by adoption.

At the request of the Union State bank, which is installing a drive-in teller's window on the alley side of the building, the council adopted a resolution restricting the alley to one-way traffic from south to north. The regulation will take effect after the necessary signs have been put in place.

The council confirmed the appointment by the park board of Oscar Bakke to the position of superintendent of parks, with the understanding that he also will handle maintenance of recreation facilities. Bakke has had several years nursery experience.

Fire Chief Roy Langevin reported that the boards of North and Rocksbury townships were ready to proceed with the purchase of a rural fire truck authorized in the March 10 town elections. Langevin said the boards wished to enter into a formal contract with the city for maintenance of the truck and personnel to operate it. Langevin was asked to arrange for a joint meeting of the council and the two boards to work out details.

Pending further action, the council deferred action on a report submitted by A. O. Stokke on the petition for sewer and water main construction filed last year by residents of the area in the Town of North annexed to the city at that time.

The council voted to rescind the franchise granted last month to City Cab to transport airline passengers between this city and the municipal airport. The action was taken on the advice of City Attorney Robert A. Wurst, who pointed out that the council had exceeded its authority in granting an exclusive franchise of this kind.

Minnesota "U" Band in Concerts Here Mar. 25

The University of Minnesota Concert Band will arrive in Thief River Falls next Wednesday, March 25. Its appearance here is part of its annual spring tour which begins March 23 and includes five Minnesota cities in its itinerary. Earlier in the day Gerald R. Prescott, director of the University of Minnesota bands, will arrive with certain of the band staff.

Near noon the 80-piece group will rumble into town in two large passenger buses and a baggage truck. Immediately the activity of unloading, setting up concert equipment and feeding of the group will begin. All phases of the operation have been carefully planned in order that everything will be in readiness for the matinee concert for students at 3 o'clock in Lincoln high school. Then, Wednesday evening the band will appear again in concert at 9:15, also in Lincoln Auditorium for members of the Northwest Concert association.

This famous collegiate group is the top band group in the division of band at the University. But it represents only a part of the total band program under Mr. Prescott's direction. Other bands at the University are the Football Marching Bands, the Varsity Band, and the Pep Bands. In all over 200 students participate as bandsmen. From these, the members of the Concert Band are chosen by a careful process of auditions and selection.

Usually the members chosen were successful as high school bandsmen, many were contest winners, and have continued to study and to improve their high levels of proficiency while in college. Some are majoring in music and music education. However, over half of the band is made up of students who are studying in other fields.

The programs which the band presents are carefully selected by Mr. Prescott and Mrs. Peiter-

Bids Being Taken on Carrying Mail to RLF, Crookston

Postmaster R. J. Dryden announced that sealed bids will be received by the postoffice department in Washington until May 1 on the contract to carry the mail between Thief River Falls and Red Lake Falls and Crookston for a two-year period starting June 1.

Prospective bidders may obtain further information at the postoffice.

Dryden also stated that bids for carrying the mail between the local postoffice and the municipal airport twice a day will be received until Friday, March 20.

Only One-fourth of Red Cross Goal Attained Monday

Solicitation under Way in Residential Sections of City and Rural Areas

Only about one fourth of the $4,624 goal of the fund drive of the Pennington county chapter of the American Red Cross had been reached Monday, March 16, according to R. J. Dryden, general chairman.

Stanley Gibson, chairman of the business section drive reported he is pleased with the response given by his soliciting teams. He urges all the business places to make an effort to wind up the solicitation of their employees as soon as possible.

All townships have been organized and it is hoped that by next week reports will be coming in.

The residential solicitation of the city went into high gear Tuesday. The campaign will extend through March.

Highlanding Lady Reaches Untimely End on March 10th

Mrs. Walter Johnson, 42, Dies of Self-inflicted Rifle Shot at Her Home

Mrs. Walter Johnson, 42, Tuesday evening of last week was the victim of a self-inflicted bullet wound above the ear, shot from a .22 rifle at the family home at Highlanding.

Her body was found in the yard at about 9 p. m. by her husband on his return from the store, where she had sent him to buy some groceries. She had been in ill health and had recently undergone treatment in a local hospital.

That the act was premeditated was indicated by a six-page letter left by her, in which she blamed no one for her rash act. Sheriff Arthur Rambeck, who investigated the circumstances, said that no inquest would be conducted.

Funeral services were held at the Highlanding Lutheran church at two o'clock Friday afternoon, Rev. Norval Wigtil officiating. The remains were laid to rest in Highlanding cemetery.

Cora Bell Johnson was born in Thief River Falls May 2, 1910, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Krause. She grew to womanhood here and was united in marriage to Walter Johnson on October 10, 1935. They established their home on a farm near Highlanding and have lived there since.

Mrs. Johnson took an active part in church and ladies' aid work and taught Sunday school for many years. At the time of her death, she was president of the Highlanding ladies aid.

She is survived by her husband, Walter Johnson; a son, Curtis Walter, and a daughter, Rosemary, all at home. The sisters and brother who survive are Mrs. Martin Troland, Mrs. O. M. Bishop, and Charles Krause, all of this city. Her parents, a son, and an infant brother have preceded her in death.

Load Limits Are Now in Effect on Dist. 5 Highways

Load restrictions for trucks using state highways in maintenance district No. 5, as detailed in the Times last week, are now in effect thruout the district, it was announced by Lee R. Boyd of Crookston, district maintenance engineer.

$295,000 Issue of Court House Bonds Approved in Light Vote

Vote in All Precincts of Pennington County Is 956 Yes and 396 No

Pennington county voters in a special election Monday approved by the decisive margin of 956 to 396 a proposal to issue up to $295,000 in bonds to finance the construction of a new court house in Thief River Falls, it was revealed in an unofficial tabulation Tuesday by County Auditor C. W. Rodekuhr. Fewer than one-fourth of the 6,000 qualified voters turned out to register their opinions.

The major part of the 560 vote margin in favor of the bonds came from the city of Thief River Falls, where the vote was 545 Yes and 66 No. In the remainder of the county the issue carried by a margin of 81 votes.

Eleven townships voted in favor of the bonds and nine against, with a 24 to 24 tie in Norden. The voting ranged from extremes of 12 Yes and 43 No in Star township to 22 Yes and one No in Black River.

Rodekuhr stated that T. G. Evanson & Associates, Minneapolis bond consultants, have notified the board that they will shortly present a proposal regarding the projected bond sale.

The board has indicated it does not expect to be ready to call for bids on the project before next winter, due to the fact that considerable time will be required by the architects to complete working drawings, and to the belief that better bids will be received if they are not called for at the height of the construction season.

Following is the unofficial tabulation of the vote in all precincts:

Public Invited to Hear Dr. C. G. Uhley Speak in Municipal Auditorium

Dr. C. G. Uhley of Crookston, president of the Minnesota division of the American Cancer society will be the principal speaker at an open meeting in the municipal Auditorium Thursday evening, March 19, at 8 o'clock, it was announced today by Mrs. Marjorie Kiland, head of the Pennington county chapter.

Dr. Uhley will discuss recent developments in the battle against cancer, and motion pictures dealing with the dreaded disease will be shown.

Also speaking will be Dr. Theodor Bratrud of this city, and Mrs. Emmett Israelson, chairman of the Pennington county cancer fund appeal, which opens April 1.

Local residents are invited to attend the meeting, said Mrs. Kiland.

County Finances Detailed in Times

Financial Statement Appears in This Issue

A detailed presentation of the fiscal affairs of Pennington county is given in the annual county financial statement prepared in the office of County Auditor C. W. Rodekuhr and published elsewhere in this issue of the Times.

The auditor's office, the report shows, issued warrants during 1952 in the aggregate amount of $1,483,165, including $669,037 in county funds and $814,128 in trust and agency funds.

Also given in detail is a listing of fox and wolf bounties paid, expenditures on county roads, on welfare and the various other county departments.

CHARLES RICHARDS AT INSURANCE MEETING

Chas. I. Richards, Thief River Falls, district manager for Modern Woodmen of America, has returned from a two-day stay in Milwaukee, Wisc., where he attended a sales meeting of the fraternal societys' agents from Wisconsin and Minnesota.

Glenn Carlson to Be Manager of St. Cloud Chamber Commerce

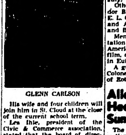
Glenn Carlson, for the past four years efficient secretary of the Thief River Falls Civic and Commerce association, late last week submitted his resignation, effective April 15. At that time he will take over the duties of manager of the St. Cloud Chamber of Commerce.

He will have two assistants to help him in directing the activities of the St. Cloud organization, which has 550 members.

A native son of Thief River Falls, and a graduate of Lincoln high school in 1938, Carlson has also held for many years the position of local agent for the Minneapolis Star and Tribune.

His boundless energies have found expression in a variety of other affiliations. He is serving currently as president of the Minnesota Association of Commercial Secretaries, as secretary of the Northwest Dairy Improvement association and as president of the Northern Minnesota Baseball league. He also is financial secretary of the Community Methodist church.

Carlson served two years as chairman of the Pennington county March of Dimes campaign, and is a past president of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, as well as being affiliated with the Elks and Eagles lodges, the Lions club and the American Legion.



GLENN CARLSON

His wife and four children will join him in St. Cloud at the close of the current school term.

Les Ihle, president of the Civic & Commerce association, stated that the board of directors and members of the association very deeply regret the loss of Glenn Carlson as secretary.

"During his tenure in office," Ihle said, "the association has made outstanding progress particularly in number of members

Mercury Rises to Balmy 47 Tuesday

Spring was definitely in the air here Tuesday afternoon as a balmy 47 degrees was recorded on the KTRF thermometer, preceded Monday by a reading of 34 and Sunday 31. Much of the season's light accumulation of snow disappeared during the week. Highway traffic was rendered hazardous Friday evening by a light rain that froze as it fell.

Welfare Board to Go to Conference in Minneapolis

Four Board Members and Social Worker to Attend Sessions March 23 to 25

Several persons from the Pennington county welfare board and staff will attend the annual Minnesota Welfare Conference March 23-25 at Hotel Nicollet, Minneapolis. The general theme of the meeting will be the question, "How can Government administration be simplified to reduce red tape, duplication and costs?"

Persons who will attend from this area include Merle Lindberg, Mrs. Adams Lendobeja, Mrs. Otis Wold, and Odin C. Hanson, of the welfare board; along with David Nelson, social worker of the staff.

Among the leaders and speakers at the conference will be Carl T. Rowan, Minneapolis author and newspaper man; U. S. Senator Hubert H. Humphrey, State Representative Howard Ottinger; State Senator Hans Pederson; F. W. Nichols, director of social welfare; George Grim, Minneapolis radio and news commentator; together with a long list of prominent faculty members from various colleges in the United States.

Friday the 13th Brings Bad Luck

Friday the 13th brought bad luck to two local motorists. While turning north from Fourth st. onto Main av., a car driven by Eugene Bennington collided with one driven by Gordon Hanson, who was traveling west on Fourth st. Police estimated damage to each car at $75.

Lucian Krause to Head Rotary Club

Other Officers Named in Annual Election Tuesday

Lucian Krause, manager of the Robertson Lumber Co. here, was named president of the Rotary club in the annual election conducted at the luncheon meeting Monday noon in the Elks club rooms. He will succeed Lloyd N. Bennes, retiring president, at the first meeting in July.

Others elected include Dr. Theodor Bratrud, vice president; Dr. E. L. Gilbert, secretary-treasurer; and Al Purdy, E. A. Hamerski and Bennes, directors.

Members enjoyed the presentation by Kalmer Ostby of an American Express Co. travel film, depicting scenic attractions in Europe.

Silverton Couple Feted Sunday on 25th Anniversary

About 60 relatives and close friends held a surprise gathering Sunday afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence L. Peterson in Silverton to commemorate the 25th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Peterson. Mrs. Erwin Johnson presented her parents with a corsage and boutonniere and the honored couple received a gift of 25 silver dollars cleverly attached to a silver tree arranged by their son-in-law, Erwin Johnson.

The following extemporaneous program was given: two piano solos by Mrs. Paul Peterson; song "Silver Threads Among the Gold" by a group of ladies; solo by Mrs. Raymond Brandt; poem by Mrs. Raymond [illegible]; humorous reading by Mrs. Arthur Peterson; song "Home, Sweet Home" by the seven children; duet by Mrs. Paul Peterson and Mrs. Benhard Wold; a talk by Rev. Raymond Brandt; and a closing song "God Be With You Till We Meet Again."

Several flash pictures were taken, after which a buffet lunch was served. The main centerpiece was a beautiful four-tier wedding cake topped with a wedding bell, prepared by Mrs. LeRoy Peterson, and silver trimmed candles.

The groom's attendant at the wedding 25 years ago, Adolph Christopherson, was present, but the bridesmaid, Mrs. Alf Larson of Pelican Rapids, was unable to be present because of weather conditions.

Mr. and Mrs. Peterson were married at the Mavie Lutheran parsonage by Rev. E. O. Sabo and have spent their entire married life on their present farm northeast of this city.

Their children, all home for the occasion, included Mrs. Erwin Johnson, Arnold, Irene, Loraine, Margaret, Carol and Joyce.

Easter Party Given For Mrs. Elsie Bugge

Group Four of the Rural Teachers surprised Mrs. Elsie Bugge when they gathered at her home for an Easter party on Saturday afternoon. All members were present and the invited guests were Mrs. A. C. Matheson and Mrs. Albert Swanson. At the close of a social afternoon, cake and ice cream was served by the self-invited guests. Mrs. Bugge was presented with an Easter remembrance.

New Officers of Newcomers Club Elected Mar. 11

The Newcomers Club, an organization of residents coming into the city in the past two years, met Wednesday evening, March 11. Meetings are held in the club rooms of the auditorium every other Wednesday evening. The club was organized by those newly arrived in the city for social purposes and to get acquainted. Original officers of the club were Mrs Richard Meyer, president; Mrs. E. Engquist, vice president; Mrs John Hermanson, secretary; and Mrs. Phil Hess, treasurer.

The following officers elected at last week's meeting are: Mrs. Les Campbell, president; Mrs. Lloyd Sunde, vice president; Mrs. Ed Kieffer, secretary; and Mrs. Ormond Johnson, treasurer. Hostesses were Mrs. Robert Connor and Mrs. Robert Haas, and the door prize was awarded to Mrs. Les Campbell.

The club now has a membership of about forty persons and it has been announced that new members will be welcomed. Anyone having been in the city two years or less is eligible, and prospective members are asked to contact the secretary, Mrs. Kieffer. The next meeting will be held March 25, with Mrs. Ormond Johnson and Mrs. Gust Thompson as hostesses.

Nova Scotia

Nova Scotia means "New Scotland," and the province lives up to its name. Amid the skirl of bagpipes this year, however, may be another sound—the clatter and groan of drilling rigs as Canadians probe for gas and oil.

Monthly Dinner Meeting of BPW Held March 10

The monthly dinner meeting of the B.P.W. Club was held at the Rex Cafe March 10. Mrs. Lucile Hulbert, chairman, presided.

It was reported that $31.02 was received at the recent food sale held at the Hub Clothing Store, this amount to be paid on the hospital pledge. A nominating committee was appointed by the chairman consisting of Emma Narverud, Florence Anderson and Joanne Wedul, who will present a slate of officers at the next meeting in April.

It was announced that the spring district meeting will be held here with district president, Joanne Wedul in charge. The committee for arrangements will be Kay Barzen, Loretta Helle, Edith Nordine and Ruth Beddie. In charge of registration will be Myrtle Lendobeja and Ann Johnson. The district consists of Bemidji, Crookston and Thief River Falls.

A rummage sale with Myrtle Lendobeja in charge will be held on Saturday March 28th.

The small business clinic to be held in St. Cloud April 25th was discussed. This clinic is sponsored by District Three and is open to anyone who enrolls at $1.00 per applicant. These clinics have been held in the past and have proved very helpful to anyone starting a business or continuing one. For further information write to Irene Rushing, St. Cloud, Minnesota.

The club welcomed a new member, Mrs. Elliott Wahlstrand who lives in the city but is employed as a social worker in Red Lake Falls.

After the business meeting, Kay Barzen introduced the guest speaker of the evening, Miss Margaret Walsh, whose home is in Ireland and who talked on the topic for the month "Health and Safety." Miss Walsh is employed as a nurse in the local hospital. She told about her services aboard an ocean liner and also in foreign countries during the last world war.

Meeting of AppMus Club Held at Roy Brown Home

AppMus Music Club met Monday evening at the Roy H. Brown home with Gail Brown and Marilyn Stenberg serving as co-hostesses.

Being Monday evening, the group listened to the musical programs on the radio. James Melton, tenor, starred on the Firestone Hour and Brian Sullivan was guest soloist on the Telephone Hour. The Band of America program concluded the radio listening.

Selected for the classical portion of the evening were two contemporary compositions. The first was the Miaskovsky Symphony No. 21 in F sharp minor, and the final work for the evening was the Concerto No. 3 for piano by the late Hungarian, Bela Bartok.

Farewell Dinner Given For Mr. and Mrs. Bredeson

Mrs. Naomi Bredeson entertained at a supper party Sunday evening, honoring her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Bredeson, who left Monday to make their home at Brainerd, where Mr. Bredeson has employment. She had as her guests Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Bredeson, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Cockrell, Jean and David, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bredeson and Robert, Jr., and James Bredeson.

American Legion & Auxiliary Note 34th Anniversary

The American Legion and the Auxiliary met Monday evening in the Legion club rooms. The two organizations held separate business meetings, followed by a joint program at nine o'clock honoring the past commanders. Gordon Nohre presided over the program, which opened with community singing led by Kern Olson. Mrs. Norm Peterson and Mrs. Rudy Sagmoen spoke in behalf of the Auxiliary.

The following past commanders spoke, giving the highlights of their year in office: Hans Chommie, George Werstlein, Orvis Olen, Rudy Levorson, Haakon Olson, Harry Lund, W. G. Claffy, Ivan Bundy, Gust Schilbred, Leonard Hanson, Alex Cloutier, and Kern Olson. Duane Rafteseth, accompanied by Mrs. Rueben Lockrem, sang several solos. A birthday cake, topped with 34 candles and baked by Mrs. James Steen, was presented to the post by Mrs. Norm Peterson. Pictures were taken following the program and lunch was served by the past presidents. Whist and bridge provided entertainment for the remainder of the evening.

Engelstad Babies Baptized in Double Ceremony March 8

A double baptism took place following morning services at the Trinity Lutheran Church on Sunday, March 8. The infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Engelstad was named Mark Lon, and Kim Jay was the name chosen for the son of Mr. & Mrs. James Engelstad. The latter couple served as sponsors for Mark and Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Engelstad were sponsors for Kim. Following baptismal services the two couples were dinner guests at the Paul Engelstad home.

Mr. and Mrs. Ole T. Byklum of Grygla Married 50 Years

Mr. and Mrs. Ole T. Byklum, pioneer residents of the Grygla community, were honored by 180 friends Sunday in Our Saviors Lutheran church in Grygla on the occasion of their golden wedding anniversary.

All five of their sons and daughters were present for the happy occasion, including Tellef and Ole Byklum Jr. of Grygla, Tilda Byklum of Los Angeles, Mrs. Betsy Kolshus of International Falls and Mrs. Anna Doeling of Billings, Montana.

Ole Byklum was married to Thora Nesland March 15, 1903, at the home of Ole Sletten near Grygla, where Rev. Halvor Bjornson held services. Following the ceremony the young couple had driven an ox team pulling an open sleigh to their new two-story log house in Spruce Grove township.

The program Sunday afternoon included devotions by Rev. J. M. Erickson, who also sang a duet with Mrs. Erickson; a talk by Rev. E. O. Sabo, a history of 50 years by Torjus Johnson and a history of the Carmel ladies aid by Mrs. Johnson; readings by Mrs. Fred Tresselt and Mae Mootz; and songs by the ladies aid and Mrs. Richard Edlund.

In behalf of the assemblage, Rev. Erickson presented the couple with a purse of money, and the Carmel ladies aid presented Mrs. Byklum with a berry spoon in appreciation of her 50 years of faithful service as a member.

The honored couple, immediate family, and the pastors and their wives were seated at a table decorated with candles, jonquils, place cards, and centered with a wedding cake trimmed in gold and white, topped with miniature bride and groom. A light lunch of wedding cake and ice cream concluded the afternoon's festivities.

Waitresses for the bridal table were Mrs. Oliver Howland and Mrs. Olaf Olstad, and those who served the other tables were Olive and Marion Olstad, Ione Byklum, Doris Howland, and Carol Arneson. Mrs. K. O. Byklum cut the wedding cake and Mrs. Beverly Leach had charge of the guest book.

The committee in charge of arrangements included Mrs. Gullick Byklum, Mrs. Knute Arneson, Mrs. Lyndon Magnusson, and Mrs. Manley Anderson.

Out of town guests in attendance were Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Peterson, Lillah Goodrich, Mr. and Mrs. Elmo Lusignon, all of Lancaster; Mr. and Mrs. Carl Dvergsten of Greenbush; Rev. and Mrs. E. O. Sabo, Mr. and Mrs. Leo DuChamp, and T. J. Lillevold of Thief River Falls; Mr. and Mrs. Richard Edlund, Mr. and Mrs. Halvor Holen, Mr. and Mrs. Selmer Holen, and Julius Tanem of Goodridge.

The group of guests included; Mr. and Mrs. Emil Stanina and girls, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Stanina and girls, Mrs. Mary Stanina, Mr. and Mrs. John Fisher, Mr. Walter Dubyzanski, and Raymond Ladwig, all of Middle River, Mr. and Mrs. John Sonnat, Carolyn and Rose Marie Stanina of this city.

Jerry Allan Muzzy Baptised Sunday Morning

Jerry Allan, son of Mr. and Mrs. James R. Muzzy, was baptized Sunday morning during services at the Community Methodist church, with Rev. E. C. Mead officiating. Sponsors were his grandparents, Mrs. Alvin Evenson and Mr. and Mrs. Nat Muzzy.

Those who were entertained at dinner at the Muzzy home following the services were the sponsors, Mr. and Mrs. Lester Muzzy and daughter Brenda, Ervin Muzzy, Mr. and Mrs. Merlin Evenson of Hibbing, Albert Swanson and Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Muzzy.

W. C. T. U. News Notes

The Legislative Department of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union has been exceptionally busy the past month. The bills receiving the most attention are HR 1227, a bill introduced by Joseph R. Bryson, to prohibit advertising of all alcoholic beverages. All citizens are urged to write their representative Harold Hagen, House Office Building, Washington, D. C. and Senator Edward Thye, Senate Office Building, Washington, D. C. asking them to support this bill.

An appeal was made from nearly every pulpit in Dist. 9 to write to Secretary of Defense, Hon. Charles E. Wilson, Washington, D. C. asking him to refuse permission for Air Force to have package liquor stores on bases and also for the Army to have hard liquor. A request was also made to get rid of all liquor on bases and army camps using powers Congress has given him.

There has been much activity in visual education. A number of fine films have been shown. Skid Row is being used in high school, and will be shown Sunday evening, March 22nd in the First Lutheran Church in the city.

The latest film, "The Choice is Yours" will be shown in the Community Church April 19th at 8:00 o'clock.

A pearl speech contest was held Sunday in the Zion Lutheran Church at the Fireside Hour. The medal was given by the Silver Creek Luther League in memory of Gunsten Knutson of the Silver Creek congregation and was won by Carol Torgerson, also of that congregation for her selection, "A Call To A New Crusade." Carol is now eligible for the Diamond contest as is Glen Koglin of Goodridge. Other contestants in Diamond Medal group are Rene Pederson and Connie Wollin, Greenbush, and Lois Bergeson, Ruth Tolo and Rae Carol Rasmussen all of Fertile.

The Sextet of girls from Zion church furnished special music. This group is one of he finest music groups in the Northwest. They are Mrs. Rueben Lockrem, Marian Koglin, Larrie Lou Haugen, Delores Rafteseth, Carol Davidson, and Arlys Hanson.

After singing table grace the large congregation was served a most delicious supper. Hostesses were Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Fischer, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Wendel, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Vigness and Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Vigness.

The WCTU will meet at the Lincoln High School auditorium at 2:35 Friday afternoon to see the film "Skid Row." After the movie the members will meet at the home of Mrs. Oscar Nelson, where lunch will be served. Mrs. Basil Wetsacott and Mrs. John Anderson will be the assisting hostesses.

Mrs. R. B. Westacott

GROWING WITH YOUR CHILD

Institute of Child Welfare, University of Minnesota

Can We Laugh at the Comics?

Have you, like most parents, wondered what the comics are doing to our children? This question concerns most parents sooner or later, especially when their children are among those from 8 to 18 who buy at least 50,000,000 comic books a month. Parents' opinions about comics are varied: some fear that their child will be drawn into delinquent activities thru reading comics, while others are more irritated by the wasted time that the comics consume.

Nobody really knows the specific effects that comics have on children. Most experts today, however, feel that human behavior is so complicated that it is impossible to trace a simple cause and effect connection. These people would probably say that in some cases delinquent acts are shaped by something read in a comic book, but not caused by it.

If a child had problems which led him into delinquency, he would surely find many other sources of ideas and suggestions outside of comic books. While we do not know the specific effects of comics, we are sure of this: the strong interest which children show in comics must be related to strong needs, even if we don't always know just what these needs are. In dealing with strong needs it is better to try to understand them and work with them rather than deny them.

Perhaps we wish the youngsters would read good books instead—but some of the very books we offer them, like "Huckleberry Finn," used to come in for disapproval, too. Action, adventure, magic, fantasy, history, humor are all stock ingredients of the rollicking story as well as of the comic book. In the comic, these ingredients are served up for the child with snap, crackle, excitement, color, and the reassurance that the bad guy gets caught in the end. Your librarian will be helpful in suggesting books which compete well with comics.

How about limits on comic book reading? Parents who show real interest in things which interest children, who show that they want children to learn and to have fun, who are ready with honest answers and comments about the adult world, will find that reasonable limits can be placed. The child's reading diet needs to be a balanced one, and it can be.

Correct Usage

When you look forward to some event, you "expect" it. You expect future events. You do not say, "I expect the man is a carpenter." You may say, "I suppose (or believe) the man is a carpenter."

Capitol Chat

By Mrs. Coya Knutson
Rep. 9th District

Legislation and government by "lobby and pressure" is the rule rather than the exception these days.

The "Truck Bill" this week brought to the capitol dozens of people in opposition. Advertising on this bill happened to be on what we might call a "raw" bill, borrowed from the New York Legislature. It is unreasonable and far-reaching in form. Blood pressure concerning this bill declined hurriedly when the people heard of its various amendments.

We have a lively discussion going on among the members of the Legislature concerning the effects of a sales tax. It is not supposed that this form of taxation will pass in this session, however, groundwork is being laid in preparation for such a tax in the next session of the Legislature. Before that time, however, it will have had a thorough airing all over the state.

After a heated battle of the wits in Welfare Committee the rent de-control bill was passed out with a majority of one. This particular bill concerned Minneapolis and St. Paul mostly, whose city councils had voted to retain rent control. The principle of going over the heads of city councils and home rule sets a dangerous precedent. It would be wise if we could give more home rule and place the responsibility directly in the hands of the people concerned.

We have had a lively discussion on the subject of constitutional revision on the House floor this week. Three bills have been introduced dealing with the same subject but none of the authors of the bills can agree as to the method of the final outcome of its implications. The question seems to be "Will the people have the final say in constitutional revision?" I feel that House File 100 would fill that bill because in this bill the people of the state will have the opportunity to sit in convention. In this way they will have in their hands the direct method in revision.

son, his assistant, to appeal to all tastes of the public and students. Consequently, some of the old and some of the new music is included. In its concerts here the band will play some Bach, Tschaikowsky, Wagner, Handel and Strauss as well as the moderns such as William Schuman, Elie Siegmeister, Serge Prokofieff, Benjamin Britten and others. And, of course, to be complete the band will also offer a group of stirring marches.

Soloists appearing with the band are Miss Shirley Peterson, pianist, a member of the music faculty at Northwest School, Crookston; and James Schatz, baritone, graduate student at the University of Minnesota.

Raymond Austad Hurt in Car Crash

Former Resident Injured West of Devils Lake, N. D.

Raymond Austad, 22, of Sanish, N. Dak., formerly of Thief River Falls, is in critical condition in a hospital in Devils Lake, N. D., suffering from injuries sustained in a car mishap 15 miles west of Devils Lake last Wednesday night.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Iver Austad of Sanish, Raymond, who was driving the car, suffered a crushed chest and broken collarbone, and has been unconscious most of the time since the accident.

His companion, Robert Rupp, also of Sanish, suffered head injuries and bruises, and was reported as being in fair condition.

The accident was believed to be the result of Austad falling asleep at the wheel of the car, which worked its way to the left side of the road and then hit a culvert. The car was completely demolished.

The Austads moved to Sanish from Thief River Falls last July.

Weed and Insect Meeting Tuesday in Red Lake Falls

The second annual Red Lake county weed and insect clinic will be held in the courtroom of the courthouse in Red Lake Falls on Tuesday, March 24, at 8:00 p. m.

The speakers for the evening will be John Angerman, district weed inspector; Sherman Mandt, county agent; and Dr. J. W. Butcher, state entomologist. A representative of the M. G. K. Chemical company will cover the chemical aspects.

The speakers will discuss weed and insect control and will show movies and slides.

The session is sponsored by the Plummer Air Service and lunch will be served.

This week Maurits Scholin and Marvin Anderson of Brodin Sheet Metal Works have been in Minneapolis, attending a heating and air conditioning clinic sponsored by the Waterman-Waterbury Company, manufacturers of Waterbury furnaces and air conditioners. New developments in warm air heating and cooling were discussed. These clinics are attended by dealers from all over the United tates.

'U' Band Director

Gerald R. Prescott, director of bands at the University of Minnesota, and one of America's outstanding music educators, will direct his 80-piece Concert Band in two concerts here Wednesday, March 25, a matinee at 3 p. m. and an evening concert at 9:15 p. m. in Lincoln auditorium.

Mr. Prescott has devoted a lifetime to the advancement of music education and to the development of bands. His activities have carried him into almost every state of the nation as adjudicator, music clinician, guest conductor and lecturer.

He came to the University of Minnesota in 1932 and has served there continuously as director of bands except for a three-year period during World War II. At that time he served as a music officer with the United States Army.

Rev. Mead & Dan Bjorkman Attend St. Paul Sessions

Rev. E. C. Mead and B. Dan Bjorkman left Tuesday for St. Paul where they will attend the centennial celebration of the Minnesota Masonic grand lodge Wednesday thru Friday in the St. Paul Masonic Temple.

On Thursday, the pageant '100 Years of Masonry' will be given in the auditorium of the temple and on Thursday evening the Grand Master's Banquet will be served in the ball room of the St. Paul Hotel. Rev. Mead is the present grand chaplain of the grand lodge.

Mrs. Mead also made the trip down and will attend the various social events prepared for the wives of the Masons who will be in attendance. They will return Saturday morning.

Mrs. A. Wilson Succumbs at Home of Brother

Word has been received by relatives here of the death of Mrs. Archie Wilson, formerly of the Goodridge community. She passed away at the home of her brother, Alton Johnson, at Eatonville, Washington. Funeral services were held there Tuesday, and Mr. Wilson will accompany the remains here for burial. Funeral services will be held at the Telemarken Church at two o'clock Saturday afternoon, Rev. Norval Wigtil officiating.

Deloris Omundson of Duluth and Orvis Hovland of Fertile were weekend guests at the Peder Omundson home.

Former Resident of City Buried Monday Afternoon

Miss Aagot Sortland, a former resident of Thief River Falls, passed away at Rice Hospital in Willmar on March 13, following an illness of two weeks. Funeral services were held at the Calvary Lutheran Church at Willmar Saturday afternoon, and the committal service took place at the Gulbranson Chapel at two o'clock Monday afternoon. Burial was made in Greenwood cemetery.

Miss Sortland was born in Norway May 25, 1888, and at the age of six years came to the United States with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. August Sortland. The family lived in Thief River Falls for many years, Miss Sortland being employed as saleslady at the B&B Style Shop. In 1933 she left for Willmar to take over management of the Betty Lou Shop. In 1934 she was transferred to Austin, returning in 1946 to Willmar where she and Mrs. Iver Engquist of that city became co-owners of the Betty Lou Shop.

She is survived by a sister, Mrs. Iver E. Olten of Billings, Montana, and a nephew, Francis Olten, of Vallejo, Calif.

Funeral Services Held For Grygla Pioneer Tuesday

Funeral services for Mrs. Annie Olson, a resident of the Grygla community for the past 40 years, were held Tuesday afternoon at the Valley Lutheran church. Mrs. Olson was 96 years of age at the time of her death on March 12. The final rites were conducted by Rev. J. M. Erickson.

Mrs. Olson was born in Roldal, Norway, November 10, 1856, and came to Wisconsin with her parents in 1868. The family later moved to South Dakota. Her marriage to Colben Olson took place at Grand Forks November 7, 1879, and they homesteaded at Buxton, N. D. They lived for a time at Gary, Minnesota, and since 1903 have made their home on a farm in Benville township, Beltrami county. She was a charter member of the Valley congregation and past president of the Ladies Aid.

She is survived by two daughters and three sons: Miss Sena Olson and Mrs. Nels Boaas of Gary; Gideon, Carl, and Swen of Grygla. There are also 18 grandchildren, 16 great grandchildren, and a sister, Mrs. Mary Sunday of Sioux Falls, S. D. She is preceded in death by her husband, three daughters and three sons.

Junior Red Cross Group Is Active

Now Making Gift Boxes for Children Overseas

The junior members of the American Red Cross in this community are completing their major project of the year—that of filling over 200 gift boxes which are distributed to homeless needy children over-seas. These small boxes, often containing a dozen useful and entertaining articles, are helping to create a strong bond of friendship between the children of the world.

Several of the local schools have received thank-you letters from children in the Philippine Islands expressing heart warming appreciation for these small gifts from the school children.

This service is but one performed by the Junior Red Cross. Local hospitals, the sanatorium and homes for the aged have been supplied with holiday favors, tray covers and filled nut and candy baskets made by pupils of the elementary, parochial and junior high schools. Christmas favors were distributed to a children's hospital, baskets of food and clothing were given to the needy.

A project will soon be under way to prepare favors and decorations which will be used next Christmas in the army and navy hospitals in Japan and Korea.

Lincoln School Paper Entered in Bemidji Contest

The Log, Lincoln high school newspaper, has been entered in the newspaper contest being held in conjunction with the sixth annual Bemidji teachers college high school journalism conference March 25.

The high school newspapers will be judged and given a critical scoresheet, while the winning printed and mimeographed newspapers will receive a trophy awarded by the Bemidji Pioneer Publishing company.

Last year a record of nearly 300 high school journalists assembled for the conference.

LOCAL MAN IS FINED $100 FOR DRIVING WHILE DRUNK

Rueben Olson of this city was brought into municipal court Tuesday afternoon by the highway patrol on a charge of operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of intoxicating liquor. He was fined $100 and $5 costs.

Mrs. Iver Aaseby, Mrs. Ole Taxeraas, and Mr. and Mrs. George Aaseby motored to Devils Lake, N. Dak. Sunday to see Raymond Austad, a nephew of the former, who is hospitalized there after being seriously injured in an auto accident.

One out of every seven persons employed in the United States works for the highway transport industries.

Homemakers Get Lesson on Fabrics

Group Meetings Are Now Being Held in County

Pennington county homemakers will receive information on selecting and caring for fabrics at the homemakers group meetings held throughout the county during March.

"Fabrics You Buy" was the topic discussed at the series of leader training meetings held last week and conducted by Sylvia L. Olson, Pennington county home agent. The lesson on fabrics was designed to give helps in selecting ready-to-wear garments and in buying fabrics by the yard.

Kits were distributed to the leaders showing different fabrics that are now available. These fabrics were identified by the leaders and a discussion followed on the basic weaves, the special characteristics of different fabrics, fabric finishes, and the care of both the natural and synthetic fibers.

The lesson on fabrics was the final lesson included in the home extension program for this spring. Project meeting will be resumed in September.

Rosengren, who will talk on African violets.

National Guard Stamp on Sale

The 3-cent National Guard commemorative stamp has been placed on sale at the post office. The color is blue, and an initial order of 110,000,000 has been authorized. The central design of the stamp depicts a typical National Guardsman ready for action. In the background scene to the left, the wartime activities of the Army and Air National Guard are portrayed by an amphibious landing with air cover. The guard's traditional peace-time role of protecting life and property in time of local disaster is shown in the background scene to the right.

2,247 LOSE DRIVERS PERMITS IN FEBRUARY

Revocations of drivers licenses were handed out to 527 motorists last month, while another 1,720 had theirs suspended for varying periods of time, according to the Drivers License Division of the Minnesota highway department.

The two chief causes for revocation were convictions for driving while drunk and speeding while failure to comply with the provisions of the safety responsibility act led all causes for suspensions.

A total of 6,719 driving tests were given by examiners during the month, with almost one-third of the applicants failing in their initial attempts.

Political Roundup

By Arthur Naftalin

This is the point in the proceedings of the state legislature when tempers begin to fray and tensions mount. The days slip by, and now there are only about four weeks left, and, as is customary, the big work still remains.

The session ends officially on April 22, but, if the windup is like those of other sessions, the clock will be covered and there will be one or more extra unofficial days.

Last week the irritability of legislators, which begins to show at about this time, was visible as several major items, including constitutional revision, FEPC, and redistricting, got some rough treatment.

Constitution Reform Killed

The proposal to call a constitutional convention was defeated in the house. Requiring a two-thirds vote, the measure mustered only 78 of the 88 needed votes. Passage of this bill would have meant a vote by the electorate in 1954 as to whether a convention should be called. Now such action must be postponed until at least the next session.

This session may still take action on two bills dealing with constitutional revision, one submitting a constitutional amendment requiring that findings of a convention be made subject to the voters' ratification, the other permitting legislators to sit as members of the convention. Both bills have already been passed by the house.

FEPC "Teeth" Pulled

The senate judiciary committee approved the employment on merit measure sponsored by Senator Gerald T. Mullin, but not until it had been amended by the deletion of provisions for court enforcement of violations. Sponsors grudgingly accepted the amendments but looked upon the bill as greatly weakened.

Even in its watered-down form, the bill's chances of passage are not strong. A companion bill in the house is also getting rough treatment, and tough floor fights will no doubt occur in both houses.

Redistricting Unlikely

Representative Alf Bergerud's proposal to reapportion the legislative districts got a rough going over in the house last week, too, and was finally sent back to committee.

It appeared unlikely that even a bill as mild as Bergerud's would pass this session. His proposal would simply reshuffle the districting of house members, keeping the total number at 131, although the senate would lose four of its present 67 members.

There was some prospect that the legislature might submit a constitutional amendment — for vote in 1954—making it possible to apportion one house on the basis of area, the other on population. Adoption of such an amendment might conceivably pave the way for reapportionment in 1955, thus ending a period of more than 40 years in which there has been no new districting.

Presidential Primary

The Senate has voted to repeal the Presidential primary, but Governor Anderson has indicated he will veto such a bill, if it passes the house. Best bet on this issue is that the house will vote some changes in the primary's procedures, and it will go to conference, with the result that the primary will be retained in some fashion.

Trouble on Elections

Representative Thomas O'Malley, of Duluth, chairman of the house committee on elections, was the center of some angry protests from committee members last week. The protests came to a boil when O'Malley arbitrarily adjourned a meeting of the committee when it was discussing the presidential primary repeal. Members charged that O'Malley has been running the committee without proper respect for parliamentary procedure. Speaker John A. Hartle said he would take the protests under advisement.

Obscene Books Bill

There were some lively moments when the house crime prevention committee considered the bill that would tighten governmental supervision of printed materials regarded as "obscene." Educators, book publishers, librarians and others entered strong protests that the bill would constitute an unnecessary interference with free press and speech. One committee witness said the bill would even outlaw the Bible. Further discussion was postponed until this week.

'U' Probe Supported

After much discussion, the Senate university committee approved a resolution memorializing congress to investigate further the charges that a Communist cell once existed at the University of Minnesota. This bill asks that there be a followup on the charges made by Bella Dodd in testimony before the U. S. Senate internal security subcommittee.

New University Regent

Majority Leader Roy Dunn said he would support Mrs. W. H. Dewey, Otter Tail county farm wife, for the vacant position on the University Board of Regents. She is one of about 20 candidates who have been suggested. The election will be March 31.

QUESTIONS answered for VETERANS

(This service is based on questions asked at Veterans Administration offices in the State. Answers are supplied by VA.)

Q: In applying for Korean GI training, must I submit the original of my separation papers (DD Form 214) along with my application form, or will a carbon copy be satisfactory?

A: You may submit an official carbon copy of your DD Form 214 as evidence of your active service. It is not necessary to submit the original.

Q: The Army made a determination that my disability occurred in line of duty. Is VA bound to accept the determination, in ruling on my eligibility for service-connected compensation?

A: The line-of-duty determination is not binding on the VA. However, VA will accept the Army's findings in ruling on whether your disability is service-connected—unless certain considerations would warrant a different finding.

Q: I am a widow of a World War I veteran who died as a result of a service-connected disability. Must I prove dependence in order to be eligible for death compensation payments?

A: No. Dependence is not a factor in determining your eligibility for death compensation.

Q: Since I have been totally and permanently disabled for six months, I have applied to VA for waiver of my National Service Life Insurance premiums. How long must I continue to pay my premiums, now that I have filed?

A: Premiums should be paid until you are notified that the waiver has been approved. Any premiums you have paid beyond the required premium-paying period will be refunded to you.

Q: My NSLI term policy has lapsed for two months. But it hasn't yet come to the end of its term. How can I go about reinstating it?

A: You may reinstate it by submitting a written application, accompanied by two monthly premiums, provided you are in as good health as you were when the premium lapsed. Application forms may be obtained at any VA office.

By W. E. DAHLQUIST

In the Senate Finance Committee we now have completed hearings on the needs of the various departments and agencies of state government and have started to make allowances. Across the corridor the House Appropriations committee is similarly engaged. When each group has come to its independent conclusion they will meet and adjust the differences. Out of this screening process, as finally approved by the legislature itself, will come the totals that will have to be provided for by taxation.

We tax because we spend and as we spend more, we must tax more. The only way to curb taxes is to curb spending. For the first time in the inflationary period of my service in the legislature there is an indication of a sincere desire to hold the line on spending.

The Finance Committee is cost conscious. There is an awareness that the income of agriculture, the state's main source of wealth is down. There is an awareness that the state itself is facing a tax crisis as are many local units of government. Those big balances we have heard so much about are washing out.

Here are a few examples of where we have gone with our spending in the last ten years.

	Education Aids	University Maintenance	Mental Hospitals
1943	$ 8,559,500	$ 3,734,000	$ 2,889,542
1944	9,150,000	3,800,000	3,149,221
1945	9,150,000	3,890,000	3,130,275
1946	9,137,000	3,825,000	3,590,821
1947	11,492,000	4,825,000	4,070,727
1948	24,116,600	8,087,248	7,140,112
1949	25,842,850	8,087,248	8,281,711
1950	30,320,300	12,252,019	8,780,815
1951	40,242,100	12,200,834	9,749,175
1952	51,632,600	14,136,654	12,381,366
1953	53,849,300	14,236,654	12,053,055

These increases are due in large part to inflated prices. They are due to some extent to expanded services. Adoption of the 40 hour week has contributed to the rise. Most of these increases probably can be justified. All of them came as a result of the demands of strong pressure groups.

These increases came quite painlessly because the old sources of revenue produced greatly increased returns. The revenues increased faster than the spending and balances were built up. Now at last we are in that inevitable and unhappy position of being geared to a spending program that calls for more expenditures than we have receipts. The gravy train has gone by and we are now confronted with a few of the disagreeable facts of life.

The increased spending came painlessly. To stop increasing and in some instances to reduce spending is not going to be entirely painless procedure. Somebody always gets hurt when you curtail. There are essential services that should not be curtailed. Some probably merit further expansion. The limiting must be in those services that are not essential. It would be well to eliminate entirely some services that are not necessary.

It is not easy unfortunately to accomplish so laudable an objective. There always is disagreement as to what is essential. What is necessary to one is unnecessary to another. Each extravagance has its advocate.

The fact, therefore, that we are actually cutting recommended expenditures in our Finance Committee is encouraging. We at least are off to a good start in making allowances.

One of the state aids to school districts is distributed on the basis of need in an attempt to equalize educational opportunities. Districts with a low taxable valuation per pupil receive proportionately more of this aid than districts with high valuations.

It has been recognized for some time that inequalities in assessment values have resulted in inequalities in the distribution of this aid. As a means of determining the extent of such inequalities the legislature two years ago made money available for some actual research in this field.

We now have a report on this research in nine counties that have been surveyed to date and the results are startling. In one extreme the property in seven of the school districts in these counties is assessed at less than 20% of its full and true value. At the other extreme, in 36 districts the property is assessed at more than 70% of its full and true value. The other 423 districts ranged between these extremes. The average "full and true" value of farms in the nine counties was found to be about 50% of actual market value while the "full and true" value of residences was less than 30% of market value.

As a result of this and other information revealed by the survey indicating a lack of uniformity in assessments both by counties and by classification of property, the study probably will be extended with the hope that the entire state can be covered in time for some changes in the equalization aid law by the next legislature.

A continuing research in this field probably would be desirable. Uniformity in valuations is essential to fair taxation. Uniformity can be achieved only as a proper relationship can be maintained between assessed valuation and actual values. With facts available as to actual market values throughout the state it will be possible to approach tax equalization on a realistic basis.

Share in Discussion of Adolescent Problems

The third annual Life Conference held at Crookston March 5 was well attended by homemakers of Pennington county. Over 180 people were present at the conference to take part in the discussion on the topic, "Understanding the Teen Age."

Mrs. Pearl Cummings, parent education specialist of the Institute of Child Welfare of the University of Minnesota, was the principal speaker and developed the topic in an educational and entertaining manner.

Some of the points discussed include quests of adolescents, adolescent needs, the well-adjusted adolescent, parents faults as reported by adolescents, and things that parents should do in order to help children develop into individuals that are assets to the community.

Those attending the conference from Pennington county were Mmes. Calvin Toomey, Ervin Chapman, Palmer Johnson, V. E. Copp, Ray Rausch, Al Brink, O. Gunstad, Melvin Mellin, LeRoy Scholin, Lloyd Johnson, Adam Lendobeja, Norman Johnson, Maynard Mehrkens, Norton Nelson, Wm. Kruse, Bernard Meyers and Mrs. Albert Koop.

Art Johnson Scores 409 Points for Local Quintet in 25 Games

Art Johnson, the Prowlers' big junior center, rolled up 150 field goals and 109 free throws in twenty five games to win the season's scoring honors with 409 points. During the 1952-53 season, the Prowlers amassed a total of 1284 points, breaking the school record established by last year's high-scoring aggregation with 1167 points. Defensively the 1952-53 Prowlers established a record, too, allowing their opponents a total of 1163 points.

Johnson, in compiling his 409-point total, scored consistently in "double figures," for in only one game, that being the second game played against the Fargo high school Midgets, was he held below ten points, and in that contest he scored nine points. His high-point effort was a 24-point total recorded against the powerful Moorhead Spuds. With his 409 points scored this season, plus the 121 points that he registered last year as a sophomore, Johnson, with an aggregate of 530 points, and needs but 268 points next season to reach the 798-point three-year record set by Roger Williamson.

A look at the record reveals that Duane Rafteseth and Gary Smith, of the regulars, had a fine free-throw percentages. Duane dropped in 76 points while missing 38 for a .667 mark, and Gary hit with 61 tries, missing on 36 for a .628 mark.

The Prowlers individual scoring records:

Ted Mills Wins in Crookston Shoot

Local Man Ranks First in Sharpshooter Class

Forty-four riflemen participated in the annual spring tournament of the Red River Valley Rifle and Revolver League held at the Crookston Armory on Sunday. Oliver Nygaard, the veteran Grand Forks rifleman, won the grand aggregate place award with a score of 953, winning first place awards in the prone and sitting events in the Master shooters division.

Other grand aggregate award winners were W. G. Coultier, with a 950 score in the Master division; Howard Ofstedal of Crookston with a 940 score in the Expert division; Ted Mills of the Thief River Rifle club with a 926 in the Sharpshooter class; and Lyndon Smith of Grand Forks with a 914 score in the Marksman class.

Local rifle club members that won first place awards in the various divisions were Wil Maves, with a 200-18x score in the prone event in the Expert class; Ted Mills, with a 198 score, in the prone event in the Sharpshooter division; Ted Mills scored a 198 to win another first place in the sitting event in the Sharpshooter class; and Mills earned his third medal by scoring a 185 in the kneeling position in the Sharpshooter class.

Leonard Hanson won first place in the Expert division in the kneeling event by scoring a 197; and Einar Swanson added a first place by totaling a 187 in the Prone-Standing event in the Expert class.

The Forks-Legion two man team of Oliver Nygaard and W. G. Coulter, with a score of 1903, won the two-man team event. And the Forks-Legion team—Nygaard, Coulter, L. E. Ferguson, and Lee Wong—won the four-man event with an aggregate of 3764.

Games were played and lunch was served by the Carl Alberg and the Joe Belange families.—Janice Finstad, reporter.

Children's Play is Given at Lincoln High School Today

When the curtain was drawn Wednesday in Lincoln high school auditorium, it revealed the colorful characters of the children's play "Six Who Pass While the Lentils Boil." The play was presented to 1,000 grade school children at 3 o'clock as a project of the all-girl Evening Dramatic Club of the high school, under the competent direction of Miss Hoffman assisted by the student director, Connie Walters.

The play is about a boy (Kathryn Flom) who has to stay home to boil lentils, and a queen (Sharon Evenstad) who, is trying to escape from being beheaded, meets the little boy and is hidden by him.

The following also have roles in the play: Nita Bakke, Barbara Klein, Dallene Rockstad, Durelle Newbury, Agnes Williams, Nancy Snyder, and Norita Blaeck.

The crews for the play included: props—Beverly Wegge, Floydeen Litstrom and Marlyn Johnson; makeup—Marian Kopplin, Audrey Haugen, Janet Nelson and Bonnie Meyers; costumes—Shelby Collins, Velda Votava, Janis Bugge and Carol Froiland.

Bemidji Quint Wins Regional Basketball Title from Fosston

Coach Clarence "Bun" Fortier's Bemidji Lumberjacks, fulfilling pre-tourney predictions, won the eighth regional basketball title by defeating the Fosston Greyhounds, 60 to 47, in the finals of the tournament that was concluded at the University of North Dakota fieldhouse on Wednesday night. The Prowlers, losers to Fosston in a first round game, won regional third place honors by edging out the Newfolden Nordics, 48 to 45, in a preliminary to the championship contest on Wednesday night.

Bemidji will begin their bid for the state high school title when they meet the Austin Packers, the region one representatives, in a state tourney first round game at 9:00 p. m. on Thursday night on the Williams fieldhouse court and the University of Minnesota campus. Completing the first round of play in the state tourney on Thursday will be Granite Falls vs. Moorhead at 2:00 p. m.; Madelia vs. Hibbing at 4:00 p. m.; and the defending state champion Hopkins team playing Red Wing at 7:30 p. m.

The Bemidji Lumberjacks, exhibiting their all-round basketball ability, and with their high-scoring guards, Larry Shaakey and Don Phelps, racking up 18 and 16 points, respectively, tagged a thirteen-point defeat on the Fosston Greyhounds in the regional finals on Wednesday night.

Bemidji sprinted away to a 12 to 7 lead, and a 29 to 20 advantage at the intermission. Using their full-court press to harass the taller Fosston team, Bemidji disrupted Fosston's control style of play, forcing the Greyhounds to make numerous erratic passes.

Coach Bert Tveit's Fosston team made their bid to overtake the Lumberjacks in the third period, paring the Bemidji score to five points, 33 to 28. Bemidji's sophomore forward, Jack Whiting, drove in for three field goals to shove the Jacks into a 45 to 32 third period lead.

The Lumberjacks "insured" the game in the opening minutes of the fourth period when they raced through the Greyhounds to gain a seventeen-point edge, and appeared on the verge of making the game a rout. As a result of their "pressing" tactics, Bemidji accumulated numerous fouls, and in the final period center Jim Lawrence and guard Larry Shaakey were forced out of the game via the five foul route.

In the preliminary game, the Newfolden Nordics, having shaken off the jitters that troubled the team in their game against Bemidji, played the Prowlers on near-even terms, losing by a 48 to 45 score.

Coach Bob Nick started a Prowler five that contained the seniors on the squad — LeRoy Aasland, Gary Smith, Bob Christensen, Duane Rafteseth, and Larry Evenstad—and this group, after giving the Nordics a 7 to 2 lead, rallied to trail by a one point, 13 to 12, at the end of the quarter. With juniors Gary Humes, Art Johnson, Ronnie Melhouse, Gene Bratsch, and Grant Gulseth in the Prowler lineup in the second period, the locals managed to outscore coach Lowell Anderson's team by one point, 6 to 5, and gain an 18-all draw at the intermission.

While the Prowlers led throughout much of the second half of the game although they trailed by a 30 to 29 tally at the end of the third period, the locals were not able to build up a lead until late in the fourth period, when field goals by Art Johnson and Duane Rafteseth sent the Prowlers into a five-point lead. A last minute Nordic field goal chopped the Prowlers' winning margin to three points, 48 to 45, and gave coach Nick's squad third place in the regional tourney.

Rockets-Smiley Hockey Game for Title Postponed

Wayne Paul Goethe's intermediates hockey team, unbeaten and untied in five games and claimants to the county and township independent hockey title, had their tournament finals game, scheduled to have been played against the Smiley township sextet on Tuesday night, postponed because of the ice conditions at the arena. It is hoped that a below-freezing spell of weather will occur and if the ice sheet becomes playable the two teams will play off the finals.

Goethe's Rockets reached the finals by scoring a lop-sided 9 to 1 victory over the Red Lake Falls intermediates in a slam-bang game on Monday night, with the Rockets' "power" line of Shorty Perkins at center and Delray Offerdahl and Jay McMahon at the wings accounting for five goals.

The Rockets were bulwarked on defense by the presence of Darryl Lund at a blueline spot, and with Billy Maruska, the former Prowler, in the nets.

Roseau Defeats Thieves to Win Playoff Honors

Wins 2nd and Deciding Game in Arena Friday by a Score of 4 to 2

The Roseau Cloverleafs, continuing to show their ability to defeat the Thieves, closed out the Northwest Hockey league's playoff finals by scoring a 4 to 2 win on the Arena ice here on Friday night in the second game of the best-of-three series. The Leafs had won the first game of the series, played at Roseau, by a 4 to 3 score.

Friday night's well-played game, and which was witnessed by one of the season's largest crowds, was a scoreless duel until midway in the second period when on a rush into the Thieves' zone, Don Stay flipped a pass to Bud Drown. Drown, from off the left of the net, drove a hard shot past the cage and when the puck rebounded off the north end-boards and in front of the goal, Stay banged a shot past goalie Jack Peters.

In the second period, the Thieves made countless goal-rushing sorties, but the Leafs' agile Don Collins, with an adept left hand, picked off and thrust aside the on-goal shots.

At the 7:46 mark of the third period, Doug Lewis, following a face-off in the Thieves' zone, flipped a backhand shot into the south goal; and a couple of minutes later, Stay, on a break and getting a pass from Lewis, came in for a goal, scoring at 10:44.

The Thieves, striving to remain in the playoffs, finally beat Collins, with Church Russell scoring at 16:26. And at the 18:14 mark, Mouse Efteland, with Paul Bedard on the assist, scored on a backhand shot.

Roseau added their "insurance" goal when Doug Lewis, at 18:56, recovered a loose puck near the Roseau blue-line as the Thieves were applying six-man power, and sent a long and sliding shot into the unguarded net. That goal snuffed out the locals' hopes of prolonging the series, and gave the league's northeast corner a monopoly on the trophies, with Warroad winning the league championship and Roseau the playoff honors.

The summary:

Thief River Falls (2)

The League's Second Best

The partisans of the Warroad Lakers can claim, and with sound reasons, that their squad is entitled to be ranked as the Northwest Hockey league's number one club by virtue of finishing in first place during the regular schedule. The enthusiastic followers of the Roseau Cloverleafs have solid foundation for their claim that the Leafs, by defeating the Lakers and the Thieves in the playoffs, are the league's number one team.

Well, while the fans in the north are contesting and arguing about the league's number one team, local fans can advance evidence that the Thieves are the league's second best. And the record will substantiate that claim. During the twenty-game schedule, the Thieves finished in second place, one lone point behind the first place winning Warroad Lakers; and in the league playoffs, coach Paul Bedard's squad, after eliminating the Grand Forks Redwings, lost to Roseau in the finals, finishing as playoff runner-up. That's about as second place as a team can get.

Basing our decisions on personal observation and on informal conversations with the league referees, we have concluded that the following players would be entitled to consideration in the naming of an all-league team: at goal—Jack John McGill Peters of the Thieves; at defense — Gordy Simpson of the Roseau Cloverleafs, Sambo Fedoruk of the Warroad Lakers, and Bill Dan Summers Winters of the Thieves; at wings—Ken McKenzie of the Grand Forks Redwings, Paul Bedard of the Thieves; Mike Hupchuk of the Warroad Lakers, and Church Russell of the Thieves; at Center—Odie Lowe of the Grand Forks Redwings, and Sergio Gambucci of the Crookston Pirates.

The margin of choice for goalie between the Thieves' Peters and Roseau's young Don Collins was very close, and it was only because of the consistent brand of hockey exhibited by the Thieves' net-minder that we gave the edge to Peters. At his best, Roseau's Collins, with a highly-educated left hand, was top-flight, but there were several games in which he revealed his lack of experience. And there can't be much argument but that McKenzie, Bedard, and Lowe were the league's best forwards, being able fore and back-checkers, and sharp around the net.

The trio of defensemen — Simpson, Fedoruk, and Winters —are all sixty-minute men, and Simpson and Winters in addition to being sturdy blue-liners, are fine rushers and can spearhead an attack. Fedoruk and Winters are fellows that relish the job of body-checking, and during the season they were given the job, by their respective teams, of "slowing up" the opposing team's high scorer.

Well Done, Prowlers.

Coach Bob Nick's Prowler basketball team, winning the 31st district title and a third place in the regional tourney, last week concluded a season that was as successful as the most rabid cage fan would have predicted when the boys drew their equipment for their opening practice session last fall.

Losing such Prowler standouts as Rog Williamson, Dick Bjorkman, Gary Anderson, Stan Rosengren, Chuck Dicken, Jerry Tygeson, and Bruce Williamson from the 1952 district champs, coach Nick had only Art Johnson, LeRoy Aasland, and Gary Smith as lettermen for this season's campaign. Those three boys, and with the "blossoming out" of such players as Duane Rafteseth, Bob Christensen, Larry Evenstad, Grant Gulseth, Gene Bratsch, and Ronnie Melhouse, all of whom came up from the reserves, gave the Prowlers a towering squad that provided several surprises during the 1952-53 schedule.

The Prowlers did reveal a couple of weaknesses during the season, and these failings were due largely to lack of experience. The locals were not able to cope with an "all-court" press, especially when applied with such finesse and ability as the Bemidji Lumberjacks. And the Prowlers, with plenty of ranginess, did not control rebounds, particularly off the offensive board, as well as expected. But if the Prowlers had succeeded in solving those two problems, it is possible that the locals would have won the regional championship, for they were that close.

Grade School Champs

Dale Wennberg's goal, after three minutes of play in the overtime period, gave the Washington grade school team a 1 to 0 win over the St. Bernards school team on Saturday afternoon, and the city championship. In a game to determine third place in the tourney standings, the high-powered Knox team, rebounding after their 2 to 1 defeat by St. Bernard's in a first round game, shellacked the Northrops, winning by a 13 to 0 score.

Washington, first in peace, first in war, and first in grade school hockey!

Incidentally, the city's grade school and junior hockey program is providing the youngsters with able training for their future careers with the Prowlers, and we'll wager that it won't be long before such names as Wennberg, Ranum, Hjelle, Clouse, Halvorson, Ness, Froehle, Gall, Erickson, Bjorkman, and Armstrong will be appearing on the Prowler hockey roster. These grade-schoolers are several years away from high school, but they are due to receive some expert training when they move up into Pee-Wee competition next year.

Game Refuge Reprts on Duck Migration Two Men Will Share

Ducks and geese will soon be winging their way north marking the beginning of another breeding season on Mud Lake refuge. An important summer activity at this station is the placing of numbered aluminum bands on the legs of several hundred ducks, mostly mallards. The purpose of this banding is to trace the migrational routes, length of life, wintering and breeding areas, and an estimation of the number of ducks killed in each state.

The results of several years banding activities at Mud Lake refuge have shown that a considerable percentage of the ducks raised on the refuge are shot by local hunters. Minnesota leads all other states in the number of band recoveries from this station, closely followed by the states where the birds spend the winter, Arkansas and Louisiana. All the rest of the states of the Mississippi flyway are represented as well as several states in the Central flyway and some of the Atlantic flyway. Returns have also come in from Mexico, Venezuela, Columbia and Canada.

An adult female mallard banded on Mud Lake on Oct. 17, 1952 was shot 11 days later near Boston, Oklahoma, a distance of 1,000 miles. This is by no means a record breaking flight either, since the fish and wildlife service has records of blue winged teal being banded in Canada and being shot in South America only 15 days later.

Another type of data recovered by banding is the length of life of ducks. A mallard duckling banded at Mud Lake in 1940 was shot in 1948 near Toledo, Ohio. The numbers were so worn on the band that they could not be read but were later brought out by the process of chemical etching. However, this length of life is probably the exception rather than the rule as most mallards in the wild have a life expectancy of from 3 to 5 years.

Probably the longest migrational flight of any Mud Lake bird is demonstrated by the Blue Winged Teal. Several of these small birds have been recovered in Mexico and even South American countries. This would mean a round trip mileage of almost 10,000 miles for any Blue Winged Teal completing the trip. Many banding recoveries are made by the highly superstitious natives in South America who think that the aluminum bands are sacred symbols from Heaven and wear the bands in necklaces around their necks. Since they are sacred they refuse to part with the bands or even allow the numbers to be read off the band. Much excellent scientific data has been lost in this manner.

Ducks show the same tendency as the Canada Goose to return to their original breeding grounds, at least as far as the female of the species is concerned. In spite of this, many Mud Lake birds have shown up in Canadian breeding grounds and also in other states. Scientists are puzzling over the peculiar behavior of certain ducks which make a flight north in late summer before making the long fall migration. Ducks banded at Mud Lake in August have been shot in Manitoba during September and October.

Itasca Park Drew 350,000 Visitors During Past Year

The headwaters of the mighty Mississippi river in Itasca state park continues to be one of the top attractions of the park system and Minnesota outdoors, L. F. Fiero, director of the State Parks division, said today.

The guest register shows that 37,652 people visited the area in 1952, and park officials estimate that about one in ten signed the register, making a total of between 350,000 and 400,000 who probably visited the area.

The visitors came from 48 states, of which Minnesota and the neighboring states of Iowa, Illinois, North Dakota, and Missouri led the list. Canada demonstrated its "good neighbor" policy by leading the list of 39 foreign countries with 346 vacationers registered. England, Norway, Germany, Alaska, France, Hawaii, and Austria were represented by 11 to 22 visitors each.

North Central to Open New Service in Michigan Area

Route Between Upper and Lower Michigan to Be Opened on April 4

North Central Airlines has selected April 4 as the date to inaugurate service between Upper and Lower Michigan.

"This concludes four years of effort by the Airline to provide much-needed service between the cities of Upper Michigan and their principal cities of interest in the lower peninsula, particularly Lansing and Detroit," says Howard A. Morey, airlines president. "We have provided scheduled service to upper peninsula cities since Dec. 1, 1949, but heretofore have been unauthorized to serve them in the direction of their business and social interests," he adds.

For the first time, the cities of Upper and Lower Michigan will be connected with scheduled airline passenger, mail and express service. Flights will be routed via Green Bay, Wis., across Lake Michigan to Grand Rapids and Lansing, terminating at Willow Run Airport, Detroit.

Upper Michigan cities now receiving North Central service are Menominee, Escanaba, Iron Mountain, Marquette, Hancock and Houghton on one route and Ironwood on another.

The new 286-mile segment to Detroit will increase North Central's overall route pattern to 2,573 miles.

Initial service will consist of two round-trip flights a day to Hancock - Houghton, originating at Detroit.

Official Vote on Presidency Given

The official vote for the presidency of the United States in 1952 was given Wednesday as 33,824,451 for Dwight D. Eisenhower and 27,314,987 for Adlai E. Stevenson.

The clerk of the national house of representatives announced the totals, based on official reports of all 48 states.

Former Local Man to Attend Parley in Washington

One of four Minnesota men summoned to attend a dairy industry conference in Washington, D. C., April 2 and 3 is Reuben F. Hadrath, formerly of Thief River Falls and now manager of the Maple Island Dairies at Stillwater.

Others who will attend are Frank Stone of Land O'Lakes Creameries, Minneapolis; S. T. Coulter of University Farm, St. Paul; and W. A. Gordon, St. Paul, secretary of the National Creameries association.

Secretary of Agriculture Ezra T. Benson, in calling the conference, declared that price props are not an adequate solution to the dairy problem, and that the great need is for a sound merchandising and promotion program.

Montevideo Girl Warmly Greeted on Uruguay Visit

Cinderella had nothing on 19-year-old Cathy Beal of Montevideo, Minnesota. In fact, the fairy tale heroine might well have cause to envy Cathy's experience on her recent visit to Montevideo, Uruguay.

Overnight — the small-town Minnesota beauty, who earns her living as a telephone company office worker, became the darling of the Uruguayan capital's greatest celebration—and the toast of an entire nation.

She was received by Montevideo's Mayor German Barbato and royally entertained at a round of brilliant social events. She ruled as honorary queen over Montevideo's spectacular Carnival and was wildly cheered by 300,000 Uruguayans as she rode atop an old-fashioned stagecoach at the head of the parade opening this celebration.

Wherever she went, Cathy stole the show. Introduced to the 50,000 fans at the Uruguay-Brazil football game, she was greeted by a spontaneous ovation befitting a queen. She received more publicity in the Uruguayan press than the top stars of Hollywood are accorded on their annual pilgrimage to Uruguay's famous International Film Festival.

Beware Thin Ice, Warning Issued

Parents Are Warned to Guard Against Mishaps

When the sun is a little warmer during the midday and the melting snow trickles down the sidewalk and the calendar says it will officially be spring in a few days—then it is time to write the annual story about thin ice and warn everyone to stay off the ice.

Game wardens and foresters report that much of the ice is not very thick and a few warm days will start to honey-comb the ice and water from the melted snow will cover the ice.

Each year small boys and girls are drowned and there are some who barely escape. Adults, too, are victims when they misjudge the strength of the ice.

Safety officials urge all parents of young children to start now to keep their youngsters off the ice and to check regularly during playtime. The spring-time urge to play on "rubber ice" and to splash in water is one of the most attractive and the most dangerous of child games.

Since it is impossible to tell exactly when the ice is safe and when it is not, it is always best to take no chances and keep off the ice and away from pools of water at this time of the year.

TO BE BUSY IS A BLESSING

By the Rev. E. C. Mead

A few years ago an accident occurred on one of the elevated structures in New York City. There was a minor collision between two trains and the usual number of passengers were jarred and bruised. Officials of the transportation company called in their lawyers and adjusters and prepared themselves to handle the anticipated number of claimants with tales of severe body bruises, internal injuries and nervous shocks. But the days passed and no such claims appeared.

Investigation showed that the accident had occurred when busy people holding positions of great responsibility were on their way to work, bankers, brokers, lawyers, realtors, doctors, managers, superintendents and secretaries with incomes and salaries in the upper financial brackets. The mystery was solved; people who were busy had neither the time nor inclination to bother with damage claims.

If the little accident had happened later in the day, when the shoppers and the less busy of the city's inhabitants had made up the passenger list, the story would have been different but the men and women whose lives were filled with an interesting and responsible activity were just too busy to discover any grievous disturbances in their physical and nervous structures which others would have found. The interest in keeping up with their work was so much greater than the emotion of greed.

Theodore Roosevelt was once asked if he were not greatly worried over the outcome of the Panama Canal Project. The author of 'The Strenuous Life' replied, "I know that I should be and I think perhaps I would be if I were not so busy." The great President of the United States was just too busy to worry.

A city official was accused of misappropriating municipal funds for his own personal use. It was alleged that he lived far beyond his means, gave expensive parties and in other ways revealed a way of life for himself and family that seemingly could not be realized from the salary which he received. A neighbor and the mother of six children was questioned concerning what took place in the accused official's home. She replied, "I have four 'teen age boys to feed, clothe and clean up after; what time do you think I have to notice what my neighbors are doing." That mother was just too busy to gossip.

When our first parents closed the door of Eden against themselves, the kind Heavenly Father blessed them with the only blessing that it was possible for Him to bestow. He said to Adam, "In the sweat of thy face shalt thou eat bread." He gave mankind work to do, service to be performed, burdens and responsibilities to bear and tasks to complete. And from that dim and misty past down to our own day, to be busy with something worth while, something that adds to the world's store of beauty or happiness or knowledge or service or love, is the greatest blessing a man or woman can know.

2,5000 TEACHERS NEEDED

I have been pleased at the response which has come to the letters we sent out announcing our conference on the Elementary Teacher Crisis. Persons in all parts of the state have written to say they will be on hand to contribute to the discussion of this important problem during the conference at the State Office Building in St. Paul on March. 23rd. Sessions will start at 10 a. m and run throughout the day.

The problem that confronts us cannot be solved by the teacher preparing institutions, superintendents, teachers or the state department of education. The cooperation and assistance of all groups and persons interested in the public schools is needed F. R. Adams, director of teacher personnel, state department of education, says:

"If teachers continue to leave the profession at the rate they have in the past few years, the schools of the state will need approximately 2,500 new elementary teachers each year (1) to replace those who have quit and (2) to provide teachers for the increased enrollments. This is more than twice as many new teachers as will be completing the programs of preparation for elementary teaching from all Minnesota colleges and universities this year."

Members of the Gully American Legion entertained members of the Gully American Legion Auxiliary at an American birthday party on Friday night. Everyone reported a good time square dancing. Mr. and Mrs. Harlow Nyland former members of the Gully Legion and Auxiliary, and now of Bemidji, were guests and Mrs. Nyland instructed and called the square dancing. The Legionnaires served cookies and apple cider as refreshments.

No Scrap in the BONE YARD

THE SNOW-COVERED MINING EQUIPMENT in this "bone yard" on the Mesabi range still has a lot of life left in it. Aldrich Pospichal of the mining company's mechanical division eyes a used shovel gear as he plans the schedule of repairs to be made. Overhauling and repairing equipment is a major winter-time job on Minnesota's iron ranges, as the mining industry prepares for a new ore shipping season. This year-round work, usual in the ore industry today, assures steady jobs, steady income for the thousands of miners and their families—means benefits for all Minnesotans. A fair deal for Minnesota's iron mining industry means a good deal for you.

Now! Dry-feed baby pigs!

with new pre-creep formula, made with

Land O'Lakes pig milk replacer

HERE'S a new way to get baby pigs on dry feed earlier than ever before! With Land O'Lakes new Pre-Creep formula, you can take 10-pound baby pigs off liquid milk completely, and still give them the real milk growing power they need. It's a mixture of 50% Land O'Lakes PIG MILK REPLACER, 25% rolled oats and 25% ground corn. Feed in ordinary feed equipment. Get a bag of PIG MILK REPLACER now . . . and make this new feeding method part of your regular hog program.

The hit-run driver

WHO DIDN'T GET AWAY

As his truck neared a corner in downtown Fort Duncan, telephone repairman Fred Rowley* looked left and right. A small coupe ahead started across the street—then it happened.

Out of nowhere came a speeding sedan that hurtled across the intersection, smashed the slow-moving coupe into the curb.

Passers-by hurried to help. Rowley, too, was half out of his truck. Then he leaped back in and kicked the starter. The driver in the sedan had backed off, was trying to run away!

Rowley gave chase and soon overtook the damaged vehicle. He held its surprised and protesting driver until police arrived.

Patrolman Mullins took a quick look at the culprit—then Rowley himself got a surprise.

"You've caught more than you expected, Mr. Telephone Man," Mullins exclaimed, "this hit-and-run driver of yours is an escaped convict!"

*Names have been changed, but the story is true.

Next time you take a bath...

. . . reflect that the water supply to your house is not much use without plumbing, bath and laundry fixtures—all of which you paid for. By contrast, the telephone requires no investment whatsoever on your part—even for repairs. It's a complete service. Any way you look at it, telephone service costs mighty little compared with most other things you buy.

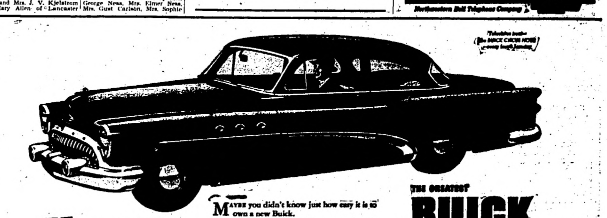
Television treat: the BUICK CIRCUS HOUR every fourth Tuesday



You can boss a Buick for only $2324.88

Delivered price of the Buick SPECIAL 2-door 6-passenger Sedan, Model 48D illustrated

MAYBE you didn't know just how easy it is to own a new Buick.

So we show some typical prices here—and proudly.

Proudly—because the price of any new Buick buys a lot more automobile, a lot more comfort, a lot more room and power and thrill than the same money buys elsewhere.

Nothing will prove this more emphatically, of course, than your own comparisons. So we invite you to start comparing.

Compare power and performance.

In these Golden Anniversary beauties, you'll find more lift and soaring thrill—from the highest horsepowers and compression ratios, Series for Series, in all Buick history—and from the infinite smoothness and dazzling getaway of the new Twin-Turbine Dynaflow Drive.*

Compare room, comfort, handling ease.

Every 1953 Buick has room to spare. Every one has the Million Dollar Ride with still softer all-coil-spring cushioning. Every one has easier steering and better balance.

Compare any other feature—style, smartness, luxurious finish—plus what you get for what you pay—and we honestly believe you'll soon be bossing a Buick, for keeps.

Come in and try one of these great cars—out on the road, where the story is told best—and let the thrills and values speak for themselves.

*Standard on Roadmaster, optional at extra cost on other Series.

SUPER 2-door 6-passenger Riviera, Model 56R, delivered $2746.56

ROADMASTER 4-door 6-passenger Sedan, Model 72R, with Power Steering and Twin-Turbine Dynaflow Drive, delivered $3394.36

Optional equipment, accessories, state and local taxes, if any, additional. Prices may vary slightly in adjoining communities due to shipping charges. All prices subject to change without notice.

CITY COUNCIL PROCEEDINGS

Thief River Falls, Minnesota

Pursuant to adjournment the Council of the City of Thief River Falls, Minnesota, convened in the Council Chambers on February 19, 1953, at eight o'clock P. M. with Aldermen Christensen, Land, Hunt, Bergland, Gjernes present. Alderman Fuller was absent.

Pursuant to call for bids for franchise for a period of one year for transportation of passengers to and from the Municipal Airport, the Council proceeded to consider such proposals submitted. One bid was in the hands of the Clerk, that of Olaf Homdrom doing business as City Cab, proposing to transport passengers at $.75 each from the Taxi Terminal to such Airport. Alderman Christensen moved that Olaf Homdrom be awarded a yearly franchise in accordance with his bid. Alderman Hunt seconded the motion. The roll was called on the question and all members voted in favor thereof. The motion was then by the President declared passed and adopted.

Alderman Land moved that a proposed Ordinance amending Ordinance No. 73, as amended by Ordinances Nos. 142 and 191, establishing the stated meetings of the City Council, be given its second reading. The motion was seconded by Alderman Bergland and was duly carried. The Ordinance was then read and filed.

In the matter of request of Rev. Helland of Northern Minnesota Tent Mission for a refund and special rental fee for use of the main floor of the City Auditorium for the conduct of religious services, which request has previously been referred to the Building Committee, Alderman Land moved that such request be denied for the reason that a reservation of such length as two weeks would conflict greatly with other reservations which might be requested. Alderman Hunt seconded the motion which was duly adopted.

There was presented and read a letter of the Division of Environmental Sanitation of the State of Minnesota, advising that there existed periodic pollution of the Red Lake River waters by the garbage deposited at the present location and recommended that such garbage disposal grounds be relocated to eliminate such hazard and suggested that consideration be given to the land-fill method of disposition or construction of an incinerator.

Pursuant to duly published notice the Council proceeded to conduct a hearing in the matter of petition of Theo. P. Kusmak, Louise Olson and others for construction of concrete curb and gutter along both sides of Merriam Avenue from First to Massey Street. No one appeared in opposition to such petition. Alderman Christensen then introduced a resolution ordering said improvement to be made, directing preparation of plans and specifications for the same and moved its adoption. Alderman Hunt seconded the motion. The roll was called on the question and all members voted in favor thereof. The resolution was thereupon declared passed and adopted.

There was presented by State of Minnesota a lease providing for the storage in the apparatus room in the building situated on Lots [illegible] Block 30, of the original townsite of a 500 gallon Civil Defense mounted trailer. Alderman Christensen introduced a resolution directing the execution of the same on the part of the City and moved its adoption. Alderman Land seconded the motion and the resolution was by roll call passed and adopted.

The Council was advised by M. C. Solberg, Chief Engineer of the Department of Aeronautics of the State of Minnesota, that engineers estimate of cost covering the installation of lighting facilities at the Municipal Airport, Project 9-21-053-304 had been increased to $17,000 and that it was necessary that the project application for Federal Aid on the project be increased to $8,500 and to provide $1,000 of matching funds by the City in addition to $7,500 to be provided by the State of Minnesota. Alderman Land introduced a resolution providing for the execution of an amended project application to conform to the recommendations made and moved adoption of such resolution. Alderman Bergland seconded the motion. The roll was called on the question and all members voted in favor thereof. The resolution was then declared passed and adopted.

There was brought up for discussion the matter of location of radio antennae with respect to electric power distribution lines and the opinion of the members was to the effect that such erection should be regulated and controlled by Ordinance to the extent that such erection would be required to be set back from any electric power line a distance of ten feet plus the overall height of the antennae.

There was presented by Soil Conservation Commission of the State of Minnesota, an invitation for bid carrying a rental fee of Sixty per month, for rental of office quarters in the old "Water Treatment Plant." Alderman Christensen moved that the proper officials of the City be directed to execute such invitation and forward the same to the Soil Conservation Commission.

The meeting was thereupon declared adjourned.

CARL E. GJERNES
President of the Council.

Attest: P. G. Pederson
City Clerk.

RESOLUTION

At an adjourned regular meeting of the City Council held February 19, 1953 Alderman Christensen seconded by Alderman Hunt introduced the following resolution and moved its adoption:

BE IT RESOLVED, By the City Council of the City of Thief River Falls, Minnesota, that

WHEREAS, Theodore P. Kusmak, Louise Olson and others did petition for the construction of concrete curb and gutter from the intersection of Merriam Avenue and First Street North to Massey Street all in the City of Thief River Falls, Minnesota, and

WHEREAS, upon notice duly given, a meeting was held on the 19th day of February, 1953 at which all persons whose property is liable to be assessed therefor could be heard, and

WHEREAS, no-one appeared in opposition to such petition,

NOW THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, that said improvement be and it hereby is ordered to be made,

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that the City Engineer is hereby directed to prepare the necessary plans and specifications for such improvement.

ROLL CALL

RESOLUTION

At an adjourned regular meeting of the City Council held February 19, 1953 Alderman Christensen seconded by Alderman Land introduced the following resolution and moved its adoption:

BE IT RESOLVED, By the City Council of the City of Thief River Falls, Minnesota, that

WHEREAS, the State of Minnesota Department of Civil Defense has arranged to furnish the City of Thief River Falls a 500 gallon Civil Defense trailer mounted pumper, and

WHEREAS, it has been requested that the City of Thief River Falls execute a 2-year lease to the State of Minnesota of that space wherein said pumper is to be stored,

NOW THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED, that said Civil Defense trailer mounted pumper be stored in the following described premises in said City of Thief River Falls, County of Pennington and State of Minnesota:

The apparatus room on that building situated on Lots Seven, Eight, Nine, Ten, Eleven and Twelve (7-12) inclusive Block Thirty-nine of the Original Townsite.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that the Mayor and City Clerk are hereby authorized and directed to execute said lease in behalf of said City.

ROLL CALL

Aldermen voting Aye: Christensen, Land, Hunt, Bergland, Gjernes.
Aldermen voting Naye: None.
Resolution declared passed.

CARL E. GJERNES

RESOLUTION

At an adjourned regular meeting of the City Council held February 19, 1953, Alderman Land seconded by Alderman Bergland introduced the following resolution and moved its adoption:

BE IT RESOLVED, By the City Council of the City of Thief River Falls, Minnesota, that

WHEREAS, a communication has been received from M. C. Solberg, Chief Engineer for the State of Minnesota Department of Aeronautics to the effect that the engineer's estimate for the cost of installation of lighting facilities at the Municipal Airport C. A. A. Project No. 9-21-053-304 has been increased to $17,000.00, and

WHEREAS, by reason of such increase it is necessary to revise the project application for Federal aid for such improvement to request $8,500.00 in Federal aid and to provide $1,000.00 in matching funds by the City of Thief River Falls in addition to the $7,500.00 provided by the State of Minnesota,

NOW THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, that the Mayor and City Clerk are hereby authorized and directed to execute the said project application so providing.

ROLL CALL

Aldermen voting Aye: Christensen, Land, Hunt, Bergland, Gjernes.
Aldermen voting Naye: None.
Resolution declared passed.

CARL E. GJERNES
President of the Council.

Presented to the Mayor February 19, 1953.

MEET A MAN WHO LIKES BASKETBALL

Not a major tournament game, and hardly a major high school game of basketball has been played in Minnesota for 15 years, that wasn't seen and analyzed and reduced to statistics by Minnesota's Mr. Basketball Fan Himself. Out of basketball season this hoop enthusiast talks basketball and sells real estate. He is Art Johils of Minneapolis, referee, announcer, and writer, who has pretty good grounds for his conviction that he has seen more Minnesota high school basketball games than any other fan. Art will be on hand at the lively contests promised for this month and our sports columns probably will carry some of his authoritative comments.

COUNTY BOARD PROCEEDINGS

OFFICIAL PROCEEDINGS, BOARD OF COUNTY COMMISSIONERS, PENNINGTON COUNTY, MINN.
March 3, 1953

Pursuant to law, the Board of County Commissioners met at the office of the County Auditor at 10:00 A. M. March 3, 1953.

Members present: Anderson, Hanson, Lindberg, Olson and Tasa. None absent.

The minutes of the meeting of February 3, 1953 were read and approved as read.

Application for "On and Off" Sale non-intoxicating malt liquor license presented by Bennie Gruven of Highlanding.

On motion by Lindberg and seconded by Tasa, the "On and Off" non-intoxicating malt liquor licenses of Stanley Dickson, Highlanding, Highlanding Township are canceled as of March 4, 1953 and said licenses granted to Bennie Gruven, effective March 4, 1953. Carried.

Sheriff Art Rambeck appeared with request for short wave radio hook-up for Sheriff's car. No definite action taken but further study asked.

Mr. Moby and Mr. Seeger heading a delegation from Oklee appeared before the Board with request for support for designating State Aid Road No. 6 as a trunk highway.

Commissioner Tasa introduced the following resolution and moved its adoption:

WHEREAS, the County of Red Lake has petitioned for the designation as a trunk highway of a road in said County beginning at the junction of State Aid Road No. 6 and trunk Highway No. 222 in Oklee, Minnesota and thence North on State Aid Road No. 6 to the North County line, and

WHEREAS, various delegations have requested that the northerly extension of said road in Pennington County North to State Aid Road No. 1 be similarly designated, and

WHEREAS, it appears that said road serves a large trade area, is extensively traveled and that such a designation would be economically desirable,

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, that the Board of County Commissioners of Pennington County hereby petitions the Legislature and Commissioner of Highways that the portion of State Aid Road No. 6 beginning at the South Pennington County Line and extending North to State Aid Road No. 1 be designated as a Trunk Highway.

The motion was seconded by Commissioner Hanson and upon being put to a vote was unanimously carried.

Chairman Hanson and Commissioner Olson were appointed to serve on canvassing board for the Special Road election to be held March 6, 1953, said Board to meet March 17, 1953.

Annual Financial Statement

To the Honorable County Board,
Pennington County, Minnesota.

I herewith present to you a full and accurate statement of the receipts and expenditures for the year 1952, together with a full statement of the finances of the County for the calendar year 1952, including all debts and liabilities and assets to discharge the same.

Respectfully submitted,
C. W. RODEKUHR,
County Auditor.

Moved by Anderson seconded by Lindberg that the Road Committee and the Bridges and Culvert Committee inspect Roads and Bridges and Culverts at 10:00 A. M. March 31, 1953. Carried.

Petition by Henry Bolstad et al presented requesting 1 mile of road between Section 2 of Smiley Township and Section 35 Silverton Township be designated as a County Aid Road. Petition read and ordered filed.

Application for Homestead Classification of Julius Tollefson, Kratka Township—approved.

Application for Homestead exemption by C. H. Swensen, Sanders Township—approved.

Application of Ruth Kortuem for reduction in assessed valuation of Personal Property, i.e. assessed valuation of fixtures reduced from $240 to $80.00. Read, approved and ordered to be submitted to State Dept. of Taxation for approval.

Application of Independent School Dist. No. 18 for Settlement of Delinquent Taxes and Penalties Involving Lots 1 thru 6 and Lots 19 thru 25, Block 19, Original Townsite, City of Thief River Falls read approved and ordered submitted to State Dept. of Taxation for approval.

V. Edman Renamed Head of Minnkota Electric Co-op

Millard Dailey Again Elected Secretary at Meeting in Grand Forks

Victor M. Edman of Alvarado was among nine directors of Minnkota Power Co-operative reelected to office at the annual meeting of the power cooperative March 9 in Grand Forks. Mr. Edman is president of PKM Electric co-operative and has also served as president of Minnkota since its inception.

Others reelected included: Millard Dailey of Red Lake Falls, M. S. Swanson of Hoople, Harry Marsden of Hendrum, Joseph Finell of Portland, John M. Peterson of Langdon, Peter C. Pearson of Lengby, John Wolden of Saum and Carl Wagner of Gonvick. Ordean Estenson of Climax was also elected to succeed the late John Helland of Hendrum.

At the meeting of the board following the annual meeting Victor Edman was reelected for his 12th term as president of Minnkota with Millard Dailey of Red Lake Falls as secretary-treasurer and M. S. Swanson of Hoople as vice president.

At the business session, Col. R. J. B. Page, who heads the Garrison district for the Army Corps of Engineers, discussed and showed a film on construction progress at Garrison Dam.

It is hoped, he said, that filling of the reservoir can be started this summer. When completed it will make an ideal breeding ground for all types of waterfowl.

Flood control is the major factor in the dam's construction, the colonel stated, with power generation actually a sideline. According to the present schedule, the first of five 80,000 killowatt turbines will be installed in April 1955, with the second to go in August 1955 and the third in February 1956.

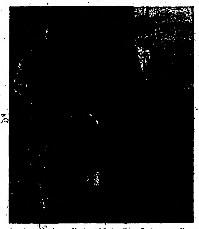
After Easter Services



Leaving church on Easter, this family reflects over-all good taste in its selection of clothes. Dad's suit is mill-finished navy blue flannel—a three-button model with flap pockets and center vent. Coordinating with it are a single-breasted, fly-front topcoat in long-wearing all-wool gabardine; a brown felt snap-brim hat; a red and silver brocade tie and a white broadcloth shirt. The young man of the family sports a raglan-sleeve topcoat of lightweight brown tweed, with matching cap, while mother wears a princess fitted coat of fancy boucle tweed in brown, green and white.

Gasoline from Coal

A new plant to produce gasoline from coal will be built at Johannesburg, South Africa, with a capacity output of gasoline and diesel oil totaling some 65 million gallons a year.

Coal exported overseas from the U. S. last year would fill a line of freighters 200 miles long.

Discourtesy Held Leading Cause of '52 Car Accidents

Highway Department Releases Summary of Auto-Mishap Causes

Plain, outright discourtesy, in the form of failure to grant right of way, was the one leading cause of motor vehicle accidents on Minnesota's streets and highways last year, according to a summary of accidents and their causes released today by the Minnesota highway department.

More than one-fifth of the 50,175 reported accidents were due to this one cause alone, the report shows. A total of 11,971 instances were reported in which this type of driving discourtesy resulted in accidents, with 38 of them causing death to one or more of the drivers or riders.

The report reveals that 73 fatal accidents resulted from drivers exceeding a safe speed, although not travelling faster than the posted limits; while another 44 fatal mishaps were directly caused by motorists driving at speeds greater than the legal limits.

But motorists were not the only ones whose wrongful actions resulted in fatalities, because the report shows that of the 103 pedestrians killed, 74 were guilty of violations of one sort or another.

Drivers who were under the influence of alchohol at the time of the accident were involved in a total of 2,489 accidents, with 49 of them resulting in death.

Because some drivers did not "believe in signs" and disregarded traffic control signs or devices, they were involved in 5,533 accidents and killed themselves, other motorists or pedestrians in 57 of these accidents.

Agriculture Sec'y. to Address Dairy Group in Chicago

The newly appointed secretary of agriculture will be the principal speaker at a nation-wide dairy meeting in Chicago on March 23.

This will be the 14th annual meeting of the American Dairy association. With a membership representing more than 90 per cent of the milk supply, it is expected that over 1000 key dairymen from coast to coast will be present at the Morrison Hotel on Monday, March 23.

Secretary Benson's Chicago appearance will be a major event in his announced plan to campaign for the development of "Self-Help Programs and Agriculture."

The ADA farmer-financed organization for advertising, merchandising, and research, is today the outstanding dairy "Self-Help Program" in existence.

Townships in Red Lake Co. Vote for Fire Equipment

Red Lake county farmers at their annual township elections March 10 voted in favor of purchasing extra fighting equipment for use in fighting rural fires, says the Red Lake Falls Gazette. Because of insurance regulations, municipalities cannot take equipment out of town which is intended for the protection of the municipality.

In 12 of the 13 towns of the county the vote was favorable to the purchase of equipment and failed in only one, River, where the vote was a tie.

4 powerful reasons why you get more of what you want...

1953 Chevrolet Advance-Design Trucks do more work for less money!

Advanced Loadmaster engine—standard equipment on 5000 and 6000 Series heavy-duty and forward-control models, optional on 4000 Series heavy-duty trucks.

more braking power!
In 1953, all Chevrolet trucks up to 4000 Series heavy-duty models have "Torque-Action" brakes. Series 4000 and above use extra-large "Torque-Action" brakes in front, "Twin-Action" type in rear.

more staying power!
Now, heavier, stronger, more durable frames increase rigidity, add to ruggedness and give more stamina than ever to all 1953 Chevrolet trucks.

more economy!

Two Men Will Share Duties of Late John Brandt in L .O'Lakes

Directors of Land O'Lakes Creameries, Inc., Friday in Minneapolis elected Mayne H. Mauritson, Shelly, president, and Frank L. Stone, Minneapolis, general manager.

Mauritson and Stone replace the late John Brandt, who held both positions. Mr. Brand died March 4.

Other new officers include Homer Melvin, Glenbeulah, Wis who replaces Mauritson as first vice president; Chris Shurson, New Richland, Minn., who replaces Melvin as second vice president, and Leonard Gengler, Caledonia, Minn., who replaces Frank White, Marshall.

The officers were named after delegates elected the new board at the closing session of the two-day annual meeting of the cooperative.

Arthur R. Ranum, Starbuck, Minn., farmer, was named to the board, replacing James Morton, Hancock, state president of the Minnesota Farm Bureau federation.

Albert Lindstrom Grove City, Minn., farmer was named to fill the board vacancy created by Mr. Brandt's death.

Mauritson, 62, farms a 200-acre Red river valley farm in Norman county midway between Crookston and Fargo.

His parents homesteaded the farm in 1874 after coming from Norway.

Today a son, Chester, 23, and family live on the farm with Mauritson and his wife.

Mauritson has been a member of the Land O'Lakes board 18 years and first vice president for six years. He was president of the Farmers Co-operative Creamery of Shelly for 19 years. As a director, he has been chairman of Land O'Lakes district No. 14.

He also was mayor of Shelly for five years and Norman county commissioner 16 years.

In accepting the presidency, Mauritson pledged to "carry on the work and policies of John Brandt."

Stone has been director of sales at Land O'Lakes since March 1, 1936.

He later became general manager of the Consolidated Badger Co-operative at Shawano, Wisc.

Dollar volume of $112,448,754.70 for total units handled during 1952 gave Land O'Lakes Creameries, Inc. its largest volume in history, Emil G. Johnson, treasurer, reported.

The volume represented at $12,413,666.49 increase over 1951, Johnson told the annual meeting of the dairy organization.

Butter receipts during the first six months of 1952 were 17.8 per cent over the similar period in 1951, and 16 per cent higher in the last six months.

Sales by the feed, seed and fertilizer division jumped to $12,267,107.12 compared with $9,753,139.31 in 1951, Johnson reported.

Current working capital position of the association increased from $8,476,521.93 at the beginning of 1952 to $9,545,917.13 on Dec. 31.

Clifford Skime, Roseau, won the creamery and butter grading contest. Moris Dunrud, Mentor, was second; John Godeke, Pease, third; David Thorn, Mora, fourth, and Elmer Loknsgard, Amboy, fifth

Job Office Opens Farm Help Survey

Local Office Is Mailing out 8,000 Survey Cards

Farmers, 8,000 of them, in Kittson, Marshall, Red Lake, Pennington and Roseau counties soon will be given an opportunity to indicate their farm help needs.

A survey card, says J. K. Stadum, farm placement representative of the Thief River Falls office of the state employment service, will be mailed March 19, asking farmers to estimate their needs for additional farm help or replacements for the period March through June They will also be asked whether they will be able to make any workers available from their farms for work on other farms, he said.

The survey here is part of a state-wide effort to appraise farm help needs. On the basis of returns the employment service will do all it possibly can to provide qualified workers.

"There will be problems," said Stadum, "and our office can help most if farmers will return the survey cards as soon as they receive them."

Minneapolis Man Chairman United Defense Fund Unit

Josiah E. Brill, Minneapolis attoreny, was re-elected state chairman of the United Defense Fund for Minnesota at the annual meeting in Minneapolis on March 2.

The organization raises funds for the U.S.O., American Relief for Korea and other defense related agencies.

Mr. Brill announced that, in 1952 Minnesota raised $292,102.42 for the United Defense Fund—78 per cent of this amount goes to the U.S.O., which helps so much in providing a "Home away-from Home" for our service people.

HARDWARE MEN SEEM TO WEAR WELL

When William Bofenamp died in January at Ellsworth, at the age of 87, he had been 52 years in the hardware business. —Hunt Brothers Hardware, Red Lake Falls, at 75 years of age, is one of the state's oldest business institutions and Sam E. Hunt, president, is a member of Our Own Hardware's Fifty Year club, along with Al Danek of Silver Lake, Julia Jetka, Little Falls, C. E. Sraen, Owatonna, A. O. Strand, Benson, and Albert N. Thysell, Hawley.—Among a growing collection of hardware antiques in the Biederman store, Osseo, is a hoe-like instrument with long square handle and half round blade 7 inches deep, 14 inches wide.

More than 50 percent of all passenger cars, new and used, are purchased on the installment plan.

Lana Turner and Kirk Douglas form the explosive romantic team of "The Bad and the Beautiful," story of a Hollywood tycoon who makes a star of an obscure girl and causes her to fall hopelessly in love with him. The picture opens Thursday for three days at the Falls Theatre with an all-star cast, including Walter Pidgeon, Dick Powell, Barry Sullivan, Gloria Grahame and Gilbert Roland.

Rules Are Given for Washing Wool

"U" Specialist Gives Hints on Best Methods

Washing is practical for many knit wool garments and lightweight flannel and challis, if it is done carefully, according to extension clothing specialists at the University of Minnesota.

The clothing specialists agree that dry cleaning is a "must" for most wool clothing. However, wool challis, lightweight flannels and most knit wool garments will launder successfully if these directions are followed.

Wash a wool garment before it is deeply soiled.

Use an "unbuilt" synthetic detergent, the type the manufacturers put out for washing fine fabrics. The "unbuilt" synthetic detergents are not quite so efficient at removing soil as the heavy-duty or all-purpose synthetic detergents and soaps, but they are less harmul to wool and do a satisfactory job if the wool has not become grimy.

Wash wool very gently in lukewarm suds with the least amount of agitation possible. A soak-wash of not more than 10 minutes is best. Rinse quickly but gently.

The University clothing specialists point out that these directions for washing woolens are based on a series of experiments conducted recently by the Bureau of Human Nutrition and Home Economics of the U. S. Department of Agriculture. The experiments included use of different types of detergents on the market, different temperatures of water and both gentle and severe agitation.

Sportsmens Show in Minneapolis to Display Fish

Visitors at the Northwest Sportsmen's Show, scheduled for April 3 through April 12, 1953, at the Minneapolis Auditorium, will again have an opportunity to view the various species of fishes found in Minnesota's waters, according to Frank Blair, director of the division of game and fish, Minnesota department of conservation.

The bureau of fisheries will again supply live fish to be exhibited in tanks at the Sportsmen's Show. This was a popular feature last year, both at the show and at the Minnesota State Fair, which features the exhibit annually.

Oil Industry

The United States oil industry now produces about 7,000,000 barrels of oil daily and employs 2,000,000 workers at over 50,000 wells, 300 refineries, 165,000 miles of pipe line, and 200,000 service stations.

FU Local Formed in Rosewood Area

Emil Anderson Elected President of New Group

A new Farmers Union local, named the Columbus local was organized last Friday night at a meeting in the Rosebank school.

Elected to offices in the local were: Emil Anderson, Rosewood, president; Ervin Jarshaw, Newfolden, vice president; and Mrs. John A. Thompson, Newfolden, secretary-treasurer. Harold Johnson, organizer from Greenbush, chaired the meeting, and spoke on the purpose and the functions of the Farmers Union locals. Herman Knutson, Warren, fieldman for the Minn. F. U. spoke briefly on the two parity formulas of the farm program, giving the position of the F. U. Erwin Reimnitz, of Thief River Falls, representing the Farmers Union Insurance was also at the meeting.

The Welch sales tax proposal for Minnesota was discussed by the group and a resolution was passed to go on record as opposed to a general sales tax.

Lunch for the meeting was furnished by Mrs. John Thompson.

The next meeting date was set for Friday evening, April 10.

1,600 h. p. Diesel Unite Purchased by Warren Plant

Fairbanks, Morse & company was awarded the contract to install a new 1600 H. P. generating unit at the Warren municipal power plant with a bid of $109,678 at a meeting of the city council March 10.

The new unit is known as the Model 38 with 10 cylinders and will generate 1136 K. W. of electricity. The unit has a generating capacity double that of the last engine installed.

A three cylinder Fairbanks Morse unit which was installed in the plant in 1928 when the power plant was converted from steam to diesel operation, will be replaced by the new unit. The bid price calls for labor, equipment and materials necessary for the installation.

MEMORY LANE
FIRST AUTOMOBILE RIDE
Remember your first automobile ride? You seemed to be flying through clouds—dust in reality! Once, you were sure father was going to hit a cow grazing by the roadside. But Bossy, upon hearing the chugging monster, leaped to safety. In time you became accustomed to automobiles, but for months you preferred jogging behind dependable old Dobbin. Remember?

Returns from Texas

Mrs. Gilbert Bakke returned late last week from San Antonio, Texas, after spending some time there visiting her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Larry Becker. She reports that the weather was nice and warm, a big change from this part of the country. While Mrs. Bakke was there, they spent a Sunday in Old Mexico. She said there is a great difference in the two places, even though they are not far apart. On her way back, Mrs. Bakke stopped in St. Paul and visited with her brothers, Adolph, Gotfred and Hartvick of that city.

Declamation

This afternoon, Wednesday, March 18, the sub-district declamation festival is being held in the Newfolden school auditorium. Members of the sub-district include Greenbush, Middle River, Karlstad, Strandquist, and Newfolden.

John S. Penn, head of the speech department of the University of North Dakota, has been secured as judge for the contest.

The turnout was good for the local contest, held Thursday evening, March 12, in the Newfolden school. Miss Phyllis Evenstad, an instructor in the English department of Lincoln high school in Thief River Falls, served as judge.

Winners, who go on to the sub-district festival, and their selections are as follows:

Memorized oratory—First, Carol Larson, "From Whence Cometh My Help?" Second, Anita Rokke, "While Rome Burns."

Extemporaneous manuscript reading—Ione Larson.

Dramatic—First, LaRue Fricker, "Three are Strong." Second, Arlyce Pederson, "The Fool Hath Said in His Heart."

Humorous—First, Loretta Sherva, "Don't Tell Me No Gossip." Second, Shirley Hagen, "China Blue Eyes."

The contestants and their coach, Mrs. Irv Tvedt, wish to thank the large number who showed so much interest in the declamations.

The district festival will be held in Karlstad Monday, Mar. 23.

Grygla Community Events of Interest

By Mrs. Gust Austad, Grygla, Ph. 14C20

Aged Resident Called by Death

Funeral services were held on Tuesday afternoon, March 17th, from the Valle Lutheran Church for Mrs. Colben Olson, who passed away at her home east of Grygla on March 12th. The Rev. J. M. Erickson and E. O. Sabo officiated at the rites and burial was made in the church cemetery. Pallbearers were T. R. Smith, J. C. Teigland, Marvin Sistad, Arthur Nordby, Allan Teigland and Alfred Landro.

Mrs. Olson was born Annie Hagen in Roldahl, Norway on Nov. 10, 1856. She emigrated to the United States with her parents in 1868, settling a New Lisbon, Disconsin, where she attended schools and was confirmed into the Lutheran church. On November 7, 1879 she was united in marriage to Colben Olson at Grand Forks, N. D. They farmed at Buxton, N. Dak. until 1898, when they moved to Gary, Minn. where they farmed for five years. In 1903 they came to Beltrami County where they homesteaded east of Grygla. This remained Mrs. Olson's home until her death.

She is survived by three sons, Gedion, Carl and Sven, all of Grygla; two daughters, Sina of Grygla and Mrs. Amand Hoass of Gary; eighteen grandchildren and 16 great grandchildren. She was preceded in death by her husband, three daughters, and three sons.

Mrs. Olson who was 96 years, 4 months and 2 days at the time of her death, was a charter member of the Valle Lutheran Church and Zion Ladies Aid.

George Thomas of Bemidji was a caller in town on Monday.

Former Local Man Promoted

Oliver Rude of Devils Lake, N. D. son of Mrs. Marie Rude of Grygla, who has for several years been the manager of the Devils Lake branch of the Concrete Sectional Culvert Company, has recently been promoted to Production Manager for the company's three plants located at Fargo, Grand Forks and Devils Lake.

Mr. and Mrs. Arvid Sistad and boys, Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Sistad, and Roger Peterson visited at the Marvin Foss home at Mentor a week ago Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Alton Mattson and girl and Miss Lois Mattson, all of Fosston, spent Sunday visiting with Mrs. Mattson's mother, Mrs. Bertha Fladeland.

Odell Nelson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Erwin Nelson, spent a few days in a Thief River Falls hospital last week.

Anton A. Anderson, owner of the Grygla Implement Company and dealer for Case machinery, has added the Massey-Harris line of machinery also.

Don't forget the free movies to be given at the Grygla Hall on Friday, March 20, beginning at 1:30. The films are sponsored by Henry Holte, local Minneapolis-Moline dealer. Door prizes will be given and free donuts and coffee will be served after the show.

Former Local Couple Observes Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Lunde, formerly of Grygla and now residing in Everett, Washington were honored at a silver wedding celebration recently. The party, which had been planned as a surprise to the Lunde's was given in their home in Everett with Mrs. Alf Peterson of Everett, formerly of Shelly, Minnesota in charge of arrangements. Present at the party among several others were Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Nubgaard (nee Margaret Brattell) and family and Mr. and Mrs. Lars Nygaard, all of Everett, Wash. and formerly of Grygla. The two children of the Lunde's were also at home for the occasion. A/c Rolfe Lunde from Mather Field, California and Miss Marlyn Lunde, a senior at College in Parkland, Wash.

The Lunde's received several lovely gifts, a purse of money from relatives and friends, at Shelly and a purse of money from Grygla friends.

Enoch Hestad, who was 88 years old last Tuesday was honored at a birthday party that evening, when several neighbors and friends gathered at the Palmer Sistad home. Mrs. Palmer Sistad had baked a white cake, topped with 88 pink candles, which centered the sewing table, when lunch was served at the close of the evening Enoch also received several gifts and cards. Those present besides the Sistad family were Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Braseth, Mr and Mrs. Curtis Nordby and family, Jens, Billie, and Mrs. P. J. Levang.

The Palmer Sistad home was the scene of another birthday party on Friday evening in honor of Linda Sistad, who was two years old that day. Guests were Mr. and Mrs. Joe Sistad and Adeline and Larry, Mr. and Mrs. Arvid Sistad and boys, Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Sistad and Willard Sletten.

Robert Qual and Arthur Nordby returned on Saturday evening from Minneapolis where they had attended the Land O'Lakes meeting.

Gordon Anderson, who is attending Dunwoody Institute in Minneapolis spent the weekend at his home here.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Sorenson of Minneapolis are the proud parents of a baby girl born on Mar. 11. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Sorenson and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Bush, all of Grygla.

Visitors at the Roy and Kernel Paulson homes over the weekend were Mr. and Mrs. Obed Sabo and Phyllis of Moorhead and Merle and Ole Dostal of Cyrus.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Salveson and Juel, Mr. and Mrs. Sivert Salveson and Mrs. Clarence Peterson motored to Fosston on Sunday where they visited at the James Salveson home. Mr. and Mrs. James Salveson had just returned the previous day from St. Paul where they had been guests at the Johnny Hoble home while Mr. Salveson attended the Land O'Lakes meeting at Minneapolis. Mr. Salveson had also had the occasion to visit with Clarene Doran, formerly of Grygla, who sent greetings to all his Grygla friends.

Mrs. Anna Brown, who has been staying at the Clifford Bjorkman home at Thief River Falls for the past several weeks returned to Grygla on Tuesday and is staying with her daughter, Mrs. Irene Sandberg.

Mrs. F. A. Brown visited at the Clifford Bjorkman home at Thief River Falls for a few days last week.

Mr. and Mrs. I. W. Anderson and Warren and Mrs. Elmer Hylland called at the Milton Sandsmark home last Monday evening.

Mrs. Harry McLean and girls, Mrs. Arvid Sistad and boys, Mr. and Mrs. Cleo Chapman and Billy visited at the A. Olson home last Tuesday afternoon on the occasion of Mrs. Olson's birthday. The self-invited guests brought a tasty lunch including a birthday cake, which was enjoyed at the close of the afternoon. Mrs. Olson was also the recipient of several gifts.

Mrs. Nels Dyrdal and Lloyd were Friday overnight guests at the Christ Stigen home at Thief River Falls.

Martin Loberg and Torjus Johnson were business callers in Bemidji on Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Palmer Johnson and family of Thief River Falls were dinner guests on Sunday at the Emil Clausen home.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Hylland and Albert Moe and daughter Marian drove to Baudette last Wednesday where they attended funeral services for Adolph Tomengen. The wife of the deceased is a cousin of Mr. Moe and Mrs. Hylland.

TWO NOTABLE LONGEVITY RECORDS

How many horsepower are required to carry 200 pounds a day for 12 years over a city mail route? Ray Hall has just retired from that stupendous task in Brainerd.—On any man's engine 45 years is long time, but that's what genial Mike Sharick has put in on the ore tracks in Oliver iron mines. However, 45 years of service is not Mike's only or greatest claim to attention. Not only have those 45 years been absolutely free of accidents, but during that period of service Mike Sharick has saved the lives of two fellow Oliver employees.

USO SERVES 100,000 MILITARY PEOPLE DAILY

Every day USO serves more than 100,000 of America's men and women in uniform in cities and towns throughout the United States and in many foreign countries. Funds to operate USO's worldwide program are raised through the volunteer contributions of the American people to their local Community Chests or independent United Defense Fund campaigns.

Coal plays a big part in cement making, which requires intense heat for the kilns.

Bath for Horses

Horses sometimes ride in planes, trains, or trucks; now it is possible for a horse to take his own bathtub along when he travels. The new invention is a bathing stall. The horse walks into it, a watertight door is closed behind him, and motor-powered nozzles shower his legs. The water rises until he floats. Then it swirls around him. There's nothing like a shower and your own private tub after a hot sweaty race, the horse seems to say.

Appeal For Many

Ample, back-belted coats will appeal to many. These are sometimes buttoned or yoked high in front for a suggestion of the Empire period. Belts are criss-crossed in back to hold the beauty of the skirt fullness.

Let us show you how good baled hay can be

The best way to judge hay quality is to examine it in the barn this time of year. Here are some things you will notice about rolled bales:

1 The hay is bright and green — just like it was baled.
2 Leaves are sealed inside the bale — almost no leaf loss during handling.
3 Bales that have been rained on are still good — they shed the showers.
4 Rolled bales handle without waste — won't buckle, break or fall apart.
5 Rolled bales are easy to feed — rolled out, cut open or fed whole.

Let us show you why hay in rolled bales is winning blue ribbons for quality at leading shows. Your livestock needs the best.

HIGHER Beer Tax Doesn't Make Sense To Me

"I see by the papers that taxes make up more than half of what my retailer pays for beer.

"Minnesota's breweries pay all the regular taxes paid by other businesses such as real estate, personal property, unemployment, auto, truck, gasoline, income taxes, license fees, etc. But, in addition, the Federal tax on a barrel is $9.00, the State strong beer tax is $2.20, and the State 3.2 beer tax is $1.10, totaling $10.10 a barrel in excise taxes alone.

"And now there's talk of more beer taxes — of boosting the State Tax from $1.10 to $2.10 a barrel — an increase of nearly 100%!!

"We all know this tax is a sales tax so if the law goes through, we would pay a 28% sales tax on a six-pack. It isn't fair to pass a law that singles out one product — beer, the common man's drink. Beer is my beverage; IT'S ONE OF MY LITTLE LUXURIES.

"Everyone knows who foots the bill. You and I would pay this increase too. Boosting the beer tax doesn't make sense to me."

Fashion Favorite

Wool tweed jersey is one of fashion's favorite fabrics for this season. It lends itself to a whittled silhouette but it can still be full-skirted and casual.

Extra Flavor

Having meat balls? In place of water, for cooking use a combination of bouillon and tomato juice and the meat will have extra flavor and color.

SOCIETY

Glenn Carlson Gets Tribute from C. and C.

Retiring Secretary Is Honored Last Thursday; Reports Are Submitted

More than 150 members of the Civic and Commerce association attended a dinner meeting of the group last Thursday evening in the Elks club rooms, and heard an address by A. B. Brown, Winnipeg insurance man. A summary of his speech appears elsewhere in this issue.

This was the last evening meeting to be attended by Secretary Glenn Carlson preceding his departure for St. Cloud, and L. A. Ihle, C. & C. president, who conducted the program, took advantage of the occasion to present Carlson with a handsome set of luggage as a parting gift from the association.

Ihle told of the efficient organization developed by the retiring secretary during his four years of service. Speaking briefly in response, Carlson thanked the membership for their cooperation and for having given him the opportunity to learn and progress.

Dr. O. D. Reich, president of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, also presented a gift to Carlson, a past president of the Jaycee group.

Bill LaFave, chairman of the road committee, reported on a recent conference with state highway department officials in St. Paul relative to projects in which this area is interested.

He stated that, so far as his committee is concerned, the No. 1 project is the improvement of Highway 219 between Goodridge and Grygla, and that No. 2 is the re-routing of Highway 59 from Lancaster directly north to the border to connect with Canadian Highway 59.

LaFave added that other projects on which his committee is seeking action include hard surfacing of [illegible] Thief River Falls to Erskine and straightening the S-curve on the highway southeast of this city; re-routing Highway 1 thru Thief River Falls; and a new bridge across Thief River on Highway 1 in this city.

Gordon Ballingrud, chairman of the merchants committee, announced plans for the Friday evening opening of local stores, starting March 27, and he stated that 33 prizes valued at $1,500 will be awarded on the next four Friday evenings.

Alvin Holzknecht, chairman of the industrial committee, told of negotiations currently in progress to secure the location in Thief River Falls of a small packing plant, and added that prospects of success are good.

He stated that prospects of obtaining a flax-straw processing plant had been delayed due to the recent destruction by fire of the pilot plant at the University of Minnesota. He also told of protracted negotiations, so far without success, to have this city selected as the site of a beet sugar refinery under consideration by sugar companies

900 Attend Farm Machinery Day of Consumers Co-op

The annual Consumers Co-op association Farm Machinery Day attracted about 900 persons from the rural areas to a program in the city Auditorium, and to an exhibit at the firm's headquarters on Atlantic av. Principal speaker was Quentin Cross of Minneapolis, manager of the farm machinery division of Midland Co-op Wholesale, in addition to which movies and other entertainment were presented.

To Rebuild Bridge at Red Lake Falls

The bridge on T. H. 32 over Red Lake river northeast of Red Lake Falls will be widened and rebuilt this summer by Helseth Engineering Co.

Construction on the project is expected to start around May 1 and will involve the raising and widening of the main span and the building of two approach spans. Traffic will be detoured through the north side of Red Lake Falls across the new Red Lake river bridge north of the city and then east to T. H. 32.

Warning Issued 'Keep Off the Ice'

Following a meeting of the Pennington county safety council Monday evening, Police Chief Ken Judy issued a warning to local children and their parents to refrain from walking on the river ice after this date. Judy stated that as a result of recent warm days, the ice sheet is in dangerous condition in numerous places.

Big Audience Enjoys Legion's 1953 Spring Style Revue Friday

Approximately 500 persons assembled Friday evening in the Lincoln high school gymnasium to witness an enjoyable spring style show sponsored by the local American Legion post with the cooperation of twelve apparel stores.

Thirty-six models garbed in the newest fashions for men, women and children promenaded on an attractive improvised walk the length of the gymnasium. Dave Vaaler served as master of ceremonies, with Mrs. Stanton R. Dahlen supplying an interesting commentary, while Erwin Cline furnished piano accompaniment.

Additional entertainment was provided by the Harmony Honeys, girls "barbershop quartet" from Minneapolis, who showed their talent by rendering a variety of popular selections.

Stores participating in the revue included S & L, J. C. Penney, Montgomery Ward, Bjorkman's Lieberman's, Hamilton's, Gibson's, Elaine's, Lein's, Fashion Shop, Vogue and Junior Shop.

Models presenting casual apparel were Yvonne Bredeson, Stan Gibson, Darlene Lee, John Hanson, Mrs. Ted Helle, Duane Lawrence, Pat Berg, Lloyd Hanson and Mrs. Wayne Levorson.

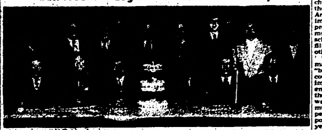
Sportswear was modeled by Lorraine Torkelson, Morris Flattum, Gloria Brunelle, "Bobo" Dicken, Ardelle Langaas, Chet Swanson, Mrs. Lowell Collins, Calvin Ripley and Donna Ballingrud.

Modeling dress-up attire were Joan DuChamp, James Gullingsrud, Frances Ueland, Bill Chadwick, Mrs. Charles Richards, N. H. Kortuem, Mrs. Waldo Field, Gaston Ward, Andrea Erickson, Kenneth Lalliberte and Mrs. Dave Vaaler.

The group of attractive youngsters who modeled children's garments included Bobby Race, Sara Beth Ekeren, Mary Don Hoaas, Carolyn Fosholm, Tony Lalliberte, John Weigelt and Donna Peterson.

Ivan Bunde served as general chairman of the revue, assisted by Marvin Lindberg, who developed the theme and special effects; Stan Gibson, entertainment and publicity; Walt Kavanaugh, lighting and sound; and Erwin Ferber, properties.

Past Heads of Legion Note 34th Anniversary



The group of Legionnaires pictured above, all past commanders of Ecklund-Holmstrom post and most of them veterans of World War I, were honored March 16 at a party commemorating the Legion's 34th birthday.

Succeeds Carlson

JAMES M. ROCHE

Whose appointment to succeed Glenn Carlson as secretary of the Civic and Commerce association, effective April 15, was announced today by L. A. Ihle, president. To familiarize himself with current activities, Roche will work with Carlson for two weeks preceding the latter's departure for St. Cloud. The duties of secretary are not strange to Roche, since he served the C. & C. in that capacity for more than two years in 1947-1949, preceding his 18 months service as acting postmaster here. He has since been associated with Main av. Motor as sales manager.

Ambrose Wysoski Elected Head of Local VFW Post

Ambrose Wysoski was named to succeed A. W. Appelquist as commander of the local post of the Veterans of Foreign Wars in the annual election of officers Monday evening. Others elected include Harlan Huseth, first vice commander; William Reed, junior vice commander; Appelquist, trustee; H. B. Raftesath, post advocate; Rodney Jensen, chaplain; and Dr. George Van Rooy, post surgeon.

Local Marine Killed in Korea Action Mar. 21

Pfc. Jos. Kreminski Jr. Survived by Wife Here and Parents at Hopkins

The fighting in Korea brought tragedy to a Thief River Falls home early this week when Mrs. Joseph C. Kreminski received a telegram from General Lemuel Shepherd Jr., commandant of the Marine Corps, informing her that her husband, Marine Pfc. Kreminski, 24, had been killed in action Saturday, March 21, in the performance of his duty.

The message included no details as to the circumstances of his death, but stated that the body will be returned to this city for interment.

Born in Duluth, Kreminski had been a Thief River Falls resident since 1946, and previously had lived at Warren for five years. He was drafted January 21, 1952, and after undergoing training at Camp Pendleton, California, went overseas August 15.

He was married July 1[illegible], 1947, in Thief River Falls to Miss Marjorie Zavoral, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Zavoral of this city. In addition to his wife, he is survived by his parents at Hopkins and one brother and eight sisters.

Making Plans for Youth Day May 1

President Eisenhower Proclaims Observance

In conformity with the proclamation by President Eisenhower of National Youth Day May 1, the local Elks lodge is planning for the observance of the occasion in Thief River Falls, J. E. Bloomquist, exalted ruler, announced this week, adding that [illegible] Jung will serve as chairman of the event.

Jung stated that the support of all local organizations and members of the school faculty will be solicited to make the observance a community-wide affair. They will be asked, he said, to attend an early meeting at which plans will be formulated.

The purpose of the occasion is to honor the future leaders of the nation, and to provide recreation with a variety of games and contests.

Immunization Program Slated in Local Schools

Kindergarten and First, 6th, 9th and 12th Grades Are Included in Program

Early in the school year the school Health Council planned an immunization program, Mrs. Margaret Race, school nurse, stated today. The program included protection against both smallpox and diphtheria for any kindergartner or 1st grader who does not have his immunizations up to date, and all 6th, 9th and 12th graders. It was recommended that 3rd graders have only the booster shot for diphtheria-tetanus combination, without the vaccination.

Permit slips will be handed out in the above mentioned grades this week. They are to be signed by the parents if the child desires protection against these two diseases at this time. Any child in any grade may be immunized under the school program if he desires, but he must ask his teacher or the school nurse for a permit slip, fill it out, and return it, as the others do.

"Many diseases are beyond man's control," said Mrs. Race, "but diphtheria and smallpox could be wiped out by adequate immunization. Let us, as parents, save our children from these two dreaded diseases. If we are careless about our immunizations, we will again experience those dreadful smallpox and diphtheria epidemics of years ago. We are fortunate to live in a day of vaccines and antitoxins."

Local doctors will cooperate by coming to the schools to do the work. The fee for a diphtheria shot is 50c and for smallpox vaccination, 50c.

Plans for Dairy Day June 9 to Be Made Here April 2

Detailed plans for the annual Northwest Dairy Day to be held in Thief River Falls Tuesday, June 9, will be developed at a meeting of the board of directors of the Northwest Dairy Improvement association in the Elks club rooms Thursday evening, April 2, at 6:30. In announcing the meeting, Stuart McLeod, president, stated that county agents from the dozen or more participating counties will be special guests.

Red Lake Electric Co-op to Meet in R. L. Falls April 1

Many from Pennington County Plan to Attend Session Next Wednesday

A large number of county patrons of the Red Lake Electric Cooperative are expected to attend the annual meeting next Wednesday, April 1, starting at 1 p. m. in the Red Lake Falls community hall.

The business meeting at 1:30 will follow a concert by the Red Lake Falls band. Henry W. Paul will present the president's annual report, followed by a report by Joseph F. Skala, secretary-treasurer.

Other business will include the election of three directors. Helmer O. Lind is the nominee from District No. 3; Jos. Skala, District 6; and George K. Larson, District 9. Other nominations may be made from the floor.

Entertainment will be provided by the Rainbow Valley Gang. Principal speaker will be Ralph Bartell, business manager of the Minnkota Co-op. of Grand Forks, who will discuss the future of Garrison Dam power.

Numerous electrical appliances will be on display and lunch will be served, it was announced.

After mounting to a balmy 50 degrees Friday, the mercury slumped this week to low readings of 17 Monday and 16 Tuesday morning. A drizzling rain Saturday brought .90 inch of precipitation, according to the KTRF gauge. Snow flurries visited the area Monday. Fair and warmer was predicted for today.

Plummer Plant to Conduct Its 50th Meeting Monday

A notable occasion in the history of the Plummer community will be observed next Monday, March 30, when the Plummer cooperative creamery will hold its 50th anniversary annual meeting. The session will be preceded by the serving of dinner during the noon hour. P. J. Gerardy, president of the creamery board, said that efforts are being made to secure an outstanding speaker. Gust Kraft is manager of the plant.

Stores to Open Friday Evening, March 27th; $1,500 Prizes Offered

As an added feature of the Friday evening opening of Thief River Falls stores, starting March 27, 90 local business places will offer prizes with a total value of more than $1,500 to those registering in the various stores.

Eleven drawings for prizes will be made the first Friday evening, March 27, with a like number to be made on each of the three succeeding Fridays.

It is announced that registrants, who must be age 18 or older, may register once in each participating store between the hours of 9 a. m. and 9 p. m. on March 27. Only those registrations made before 6 p. m. will be entered in the March 27 drawings, but all will be entered in each subsequent drawing.

Names of the winners will be received by radio over KTRF in each of the cooperating stores, and will be announced the evening of March 27 at 7 o'clock, 7:55, 8:30 and 8:55. The registrant must be in one of the stores when his name is announced in order to be eligible for a prize, except in the case of the $100 prize wardrobe, to win which he need not be present.

In addition to the men's or ladies' wardrobe, other prizes to be drawn for Friday evening, March 27, include a boys' or girls' bicycle, $25 grocery coupon, men's or ladies' watch, electric mixer, electric razor, clock radio, electric coffee maker, steam iron and combination waffle iron and grill.

The rules provide that merchants and members of their immediate families are not eligible to register, nor are employes of the Civic and Commerce association.

Names of the cooperating merchants and full details are published elsewhere in this issue.

May Seek Bids on Hospital Addition Sometime in June

Board Asks Architects to Prepare Working Plans as Speedily as Possible

At a meeting of the medical staff and the board of Northwestern Hospital on March 16th, S. L. Stolte of Bettenburg, Townsend & Stolte, St. Paul architects, presented preliminary plans and specifications of the new Northwestern Hospital addition.

These plans, although called preliminary, were the final plans prior to the actual working plans and specifications which are placed in the hands of contractors. Plans had already received the informal concurrence of the hospitals division of the Minnesota department of health and the United States Public Health Service. Concurrence of the local medical staff and hospital board was necessary to make this agreement final for all parties concerned.

After careful study of the plans, the medical staff and hospital board signified that the plans met with their satisfaction, and the architects were instructed by the board to proceed with all possible speed toward the completion of the working plans and specifications so that in June bids could be taken for the actual construction of the addition.

For the near future, therefore, said Harold Peterson, administrator, it appears that the working plans and specifications of the hospital addition will be completed by June 1, and that bids for construction will be called for in the month of June. With the full cooperation of those who make their pledges for local financial assistance, he added, it is quite possible that actual construction of the hospital addition could begin this summer.

Rotarians Hear Talk on Schools by Supt. Claffy

Members of the Rotary club at their luncheon meeting Monday noon in the Elks club rooms heard an enlightening discussion of the local school system by Supt. W. G. Claffy. He analyzed the sources of school income, and cited a new state survey as showing that tax rates for school purposes in the Thief River Falls District 18 rank well below most comparable communities in Minnesota. He also spoke on future building needs of the local system.

Red Cross Drive Receipts Are Now at Half-way Mark

Chairman R. J. Dryden Urges Solicitors to Finish Task This Week

Contributions in the Pennington County chapter of the American Red Cross campaign for funds neared the half way mark of the expected goal of $4,624, R. J. Dryden, fund chairman, reported Tuesday.

The campaign will continue thru March.

Walter Ekeren reports a gratifying response in the special gifts department. Excellent results are being reported by residential captains. Captain Mrs. Martin Aase reported $156.85 from her area, being the first to report.

Ten townships have reported but not one is quite complete. To date the high comes from Rocksbury reporting $72.65.

Dryden urges all chairmen to make a final effort to wind up the drive as soon as possible, so that next week's issue of the Times may have a complete list of results from each division.

Winnipeg Man Cites Progress in Canada at Meeting of C & C

Speaking on the topic, "What is Happening in Canada," A. B. Brown, investment assistant with the Great West Life Assurance company in Winnipeg, Manitoba, last Thursday evening gave more than 150 members of the Civic and Commerce association a comprehensive picture of recent outstanding developments in the Canadian economy.

As major factors in his country's progress to date, Mr. Brown cited an increase in the number of workers thru immigration, an influx of capital to finance development of its resources and a market for its products.

In testimony of Canada's abundant natural resources, he called attention to the more than 400,000,000 tons of iron ore now being developed in the Quebec-Labrador area; uranium, titanium and iron ore deposits in Ontario; nickel and copper in Manitoba; oil and natural gas fields in Alberta which already supply half the nation's needs; uranium, lead, zinc and gold in Saskatchewan; and a giant aluminum project being developed in British Columbia at a cost of a half-billion dollars.

This sudden burst of development, said Brown, is due perhaps primarily to an intensive application of modern scientific methods of detection, appraisal, transportation and communication. Helicopters, he said, are being used extensively in reaching inaccessible places.

Going hand in hand with the development of natural resources, he said, is a great variety of industrial expansion in steel, electricity and petrochemicals.

The Canadian people, he pointed out, have financed by far the greater part of their country's development without outside aid, adding that during the years 1949 thru 1951, only 14 per cent

City Couple Feted on 40th Anniversary

A group of friends surprised Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Brundin at their home last Sunday evening. They brought with them the makings for delicious refreshments and spent the evening in a social way in honor of the Brundin's 40th wedding anniversary. It was recalled that Mr. Brundin first was a resident of Thief River Falls from Nov. 1, 1911, until he married Miss Elvira Hedalen from Minneapolis at that city on March 22, 1913. The couple set up housekeeping at Glenwood, Minnesota, and remained here until March 1, 1949, when they moved to Thief River Falls. The Brundin's have four children, all of whom are married; Milton, residing at Fairbanks, Alaska; Dorothy (Mrs. Jack Mackinder) in Gooding, Idaho; Harold, at Glenwood, Minnesota; and Robert at West Point, New York. Mr. and Mrs. Harold Brundin and their daughters, Karen and Nancy, were here to help their parents celebrate.

Miss Mavis Stenvik Feted at Birthday Parties

To celebrate her 21st birthday, Miss Mavis Stenvik was honored at three parties Thursday and Friday, March 12 and 13. At the home of her grandmother, Mrs. Minnie Rindahl of rural Goodridge, several friends feted her on Thursday evening. They included Mr. and Mrs. Teloy Johnsrud, Mr. and Mrs. Orland Rindahl, Jackie, Gail, Susan, and Diane, Mrs. Chester Solberg, Mrs. Virgil Sunsdahl and Geraldine, Myrtle Jelle and Clayton Johnsrud. Decorated birthday cakes featured the lunch, and there were gifts for the honored guest.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Stenvik entertained at a turkey supper in her honor Friday, March 13. Guests were Mr. and Mrs. Chester Solberg and David of Goodridge, Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Sunsdahl, Geraldine, Donald, and James, Mrs. Florence Stenvik and Robert, Adeline, and Delores, Mrs. James Coan and Judy, all of Goodridge; Mrs. Lloyd Hanson and Yvonne Stenvik of this city; and Mr. and Mrs. Duran Kirschman of Red Lake Falls. Two birthday cakes were baked by the honored guest's two sisters, Mrs. Virgil Sunsdahl and Mrs. Chester Solberg. Several gifts were presented to Mavis.

Miss Stenvik was feted by her school pupils Thursday afternoon, at which time lunch was served including cakes baked by Mrs. Alvin Bakken and Mrs. Orville Christianson.

Marc Pream Notes Sixth Birthday Thursday

Marc Pream celebrated his sixth birthday Thursday at a party given by his mother, Mrs. Donald Pream. The children enjoyed several games, with prizes for the winners. Lunch was served and each child received a favor to take home. The group listened to the Mother Goose Express and Marc opened his gifts from the following friends who were present: Roger and Joel Fuller, Jerry Forsberg, John Severson, Ricky Borgen, Paul Wold, and Michael Hogenson.

LIBRARY NOTES

Picture books pertaining to Easter and springtime are being shown.

An egg tree similar to the one featured in "The Egg Tree" by Katherine Milhouse will be part of the exhibit. If any child wishes to donate an Easter egg for the tree it will be gratefully received.

B. Dan Bjorkman has very graciously consented to lend a miniature church which he has recently completed. When making a request for the loan we were told by Mr. Bjorkman it would be available as soon as the paint on the pews was dry. It is not the first time we have begged him to lend us his handicraft. The ship model remains at the library for safe keeping and is frequently the subject for comments.

Borrowers cards are issued free of charge to all residents of Pennington County and to students from adjoining counties while enrolled in the public schools. Besides this, cards are issued for a small fee on a membership basis to those living outside the county. At present the following towns are represented: Karlstad, Middle River, Gatzke, Euclid, Holt, Grygla, Argyle, Oklee, Viking, Red Lake Falls, Angus, Plummer, Newfolden and Warren. Since most of these people do some trading in Thief River Falls it is not hard to select and exchange books at frequent intervals.

Library hours are from 12 o'clock noon until 9 o'clock each week day.

Mrs. Wm. Yonke is Hostess at Coffee Party

Mrs. Wm. Yonke entertained at a coffee party Monday afternoon, having as her guests Mrs. Annie Lindblom of St. Hilaire, Mrs. Emma Rux of Sanders, and Mrs. Elsie Hassler of this city. At the close of a social afternoon lunch was served.

W. C. T. U. News Notes

The Womans Christian Temperance Union met on Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Oscar Nelson. Assisting hostesses were Mrs. John Anderson and Mrs. R. B. Westacott. Previous to the meeting the group met at the High School where they saw the film, "Skid Row".

A membership drive is being planned for the month of April. Mrs. Earle Ripley is general chairman and she appointed Mrs. Joe Stenberg and Mrs. Sig Grothe as captains of the two teams. Those two women chose up sides and the campaign is on.

Plans for the district convention to be held in Thief River Falls on May 18th were made. Mrs. Earle Ripley, housing chairman; Mrs. Charles Sagmoen, foods; Mrs. Louisa Anderson, registration; Mrs. Westacott, program; Mrs. Ripley and Mrs. Stenberg, decorations; and Mrs. Tarkel Ose, publicity.

Mrs. Koglin reported on a communication she had received from Rev. Emery Larson in which he offered to transcribe selections of the speech contestants who had won their medals recently. And the district decided to have him record several, all on one tape which could be used on other radio stations. He also offered time for W.C.T.U. news items from all Unions and Districts. These to be sent to Mrs. Westacott who will edit them and probably make into a transcription as a regular feature. Rev. Larson also stated the rules of his essay contest which he is sponsoring over KTRF. The first prize is to be a wrist watch and a camp trip; second prize, set of encyclopedias. The title of essay "Social drinking, What Do I Think?" 500 to 800 words.

Mrs. Westacott displayed a 30-volume Alcohol Reference Library which was a gift to this area from the Pennington Co. Social Action Group. These books to be used by students in high schools now starting units in Alcohol Problems." Miss Thora Skomedal, teacher, in Senior High School, requested permission to have the library in her class room for the next six weeks period. They will be placed later in the office of County Superintendent, where the public may have access to them.

Delightful Note

Lime juice on fruit salads adds a delightful flavor note to the salads. If desired, add some amount of lime juice to the dressing.

Carrots, if you select small whole ones, make a nice vegetable for dinner when dipped in milk and rolled in crushed cereal flakes. Fry them until crispy, golden brown.

Removing Cake

To loosen layer cake from the tin, set the cake pan on a cold, damp cloth for a few moments and it will come out easily.

Enlarged Hospital Auxiliary Will Be Organized April 8

Women in Surrounding Communities Are Being Invited to Affiliate

Wednesday evening, April 8th, will mark the date of the organization of the enlarged Northwestern Hospital Women's Auxiliary. A group of local women are already at work at the job of personally notifying women in the area served by the hospital to insure a very large turnout at this organization meeting.

It is hoped eventually to have the charter membership of this organization spread to representatives of existing women's organizations in other communities than Thief River Falls. Such women's organizations in St. Hilaire, Hazel, Plummer, Brooks, Oklee, Goodridge, Grygla, Holt, Viking, Newfolden, Middle River, Gatzke, Strathcona, and Strandquist will be contacted in order that the membership of the auxiliary may be fully represented by the area actually served by the hospital.

Women interested in becoming a member of the auxiliary are urged to contact Mrs. Milton D. Starekow, telephone 842.

New Chemical

One of the largest chemical companies in the United States has announced a double-barreled chemical weapon, to arm certain crop seeds against both disease and insect attack, will be available to farmers.

The material combines a fungicide to protect the seed and seedling against soil-borne diseases, and an insecticide which is toxic to insects in the soil that feed on the seed and young plant.

The new material is being recommended for use on corn and beans in many areas where both disease and insect onslaught have prevented growers from getting consistently good stands of these crops. It is also being tested for use with other crops.

In the ministry 23 years, Dr. Olson served as an infantry chaplain during World War II, and was wounded in action in France.

History of Glass

Man's use of glass began before history was written. Glass, fused in volcanic heat as obsidian, was used for weapons by the aborigines. Early Egyptians, and later the Romans, advanced the use of glass for objects of art.

But it was not until the American invention of a machine to make glass bottles in the 1880s that the production of glass blossomed into a great industry.

The inventor was Michael Joseph Owens. He worked for years before he invented his machine which was patented in 1904.

Owens organized one of the first big glass production companies and is credited with being the father of the giant glass industry of today.

Hydrographic Bureau

Navies in World War I had so much trouble understanding each other's hydrographic publications that the British and French called a conference in 1919 to straighten things out. From this 24-nation session, held in London, came the International Hydrographic Bureau, given a home in Monaco by the late Prince Albert I. Work of the Bureau today is particularly fascinating where it deals with the latest navigational inventions. Among these are radar, loran, and depth finding by echo. Like so many other international institutions, however, the Bureau is frustrated by the cleavage between East and West. Only one Iron Curtain country—Poland—is a member. It did not send delegates to the recent conference.

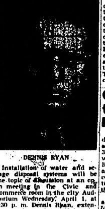
Water and Sewage Disposal Systems to Be Topic April 1

Rural Residents Invited to Hear Dennis Ryan, "U" of M. Extension Engineer



DENNIS RYAN

Installation of water and sewage disposal systems will be the topic of discussion at an open meeting in the Civic and Commerce room in the city Auditorium Wednesday, April 1, at 1:30 p. m. Dennis Ryan, extension engineer from University Farm, will lead the discussion.

Anyone planning to install either type of system should try to attend this meeting, said County Agent Ray Mittenes. Mr. Ryan, author of the much read extension bulletin on the subject has had considerable experience in this field. He has supervised installation of systems in all parts of Minnesota for several years. Also on the program will be a representative of the Portland Cement Company with a movie on sewage disposal systems.

The meeting with Mr. Ryan concludes the series of specialists scheduled for the 1952 Pennington county extension program.

Dr. Uhley Speaks on Cancer Malady

125 Attend Meeting in Auditorium Thursday

Dr. C. G. Uhley of Crookston showed slides dealing with the treatment of cancer and discussed danger signals at a meeting in the Auditorium last Thursday evening. Dr. Uhlig is president of the Minnesota division of the American society.

Approximately 125 persons attended the meeting. They also heard a discussion by Dr. Theodor Bratrud of recent progress in combating the disease, and an announcement by Mrs. Emmett Israelson, chairman of the Pennington county cancer fund appeal, of the campaign scheduled to open here April 1.

Completing the program was the showing of a motion picture dealing with "Breast Self-examination."

Horned Toads

Horned toads do not thrive in captivity unless they are kept under heat lamps and supplied with a large variety of live insects. Except in a big zoological garden, with ample facilities, it is difficult to keep them alive even during the summer, and still harder in the winter. Actually the horned "toad" is not a toad at all. It is a reptile, and the true toads are amphibians, like the frogs. Ordinary toads can be kept easily in a terrarium, which is an aquarium fitted up with natural but dry materials. There should be a shelter under which the toad can hide (such as an inverted flower pot with a piece knocked out of the edge), a place to burrow in the earth and an abundant supply of live insects, such as mealworms. In the summer the open terrarium may be placed out-of-doors at night with a light over it. Insects are attracted to the light and fall down, so the toads can devour them.

Ancient Art

A leading television station now has a program of music with finger painting in sand as a feature while numbers are announced. The art of sand-painting dates back to the early Navaho Indians. Intensely religious, they painted in sand as a form of prayer, especially for the sick. The work was elaborate and symbolic, accompanied by sacred chants. When the prayer was finished the painting was destroyed. Presumably, the patient recovered or died.

SUNDAY SCHOOL BEGINS APRIL 5 AT NEWFOLDEN

Sunday school classes will resume, after the winter vacation, in the Evangelical Free church in Newfolden on Easter Sunday, April 5. A combined Easter service and Sunday school will be held at 10:30 a. m. Immediately after this service the children will meet with their respective teachers to receive their material for the Sunday school year.

Fish Stories

Commercial fishermen catching menhaden along the Atlantic coast can tell the "mostest" if not the biggest fish story. Drawing a 1,200-foot-long purse seine around a school of menhaden, they often catch 100,000 fish at one time, and catches of half a million menhaden have frequently been made. A "set" of six to seven million is on record, but the net broke and all were lost. Menhaden average three-fourths of a pound in weight and one foot in length. They are not used as food, but provide commercial fertilizer.

East Marshall Co. Dairy Tour Mar. 26

To Inspect Dairy Barns and Feeding Operations

A tour of interest to all livestock men, especially dairymen, in Eastern Marshall county will be held on Thursday, March 26.

The purpose of the tour is to observe different types of dairy barns in operation, labor saving devices, milking and milk handling equipment, along with uses of roughage feeds including grass silage.

Donald Bates, extension agriculture engineer from University Farm, will be along on the tour to discuss farm buildings and related problems.

The tour will start from Middle River Co-op creamery in the morning and drive to Holt. County Agent Frank Borbes will be at Holt where the group will leave at 10:00 a. m. From there the tour will go through Steiner and Thief River Falls.

Two farms will be visited in the McIntosh area and one in Red Lake county. The farms are located on good roads close to highways.

Farmers interested in going on the tour should get together with neighbors and arrange for their own transportation.

If everything goes according to schedule the group should be back in Marshall county by 4 p. m.

Civic & Commerce Told of Canada's Recent Progress of the required capital came from abroad, mostly from the United States.

Stating that Canada by itself cannot consume all the items it produces, and that there are many other products that must be imported, Brown declared that his country believes in free trade on an international basis.

Material possessions are not Canada's sole asset, he stated. Others are high social and religious ideals, a strong spirit of unity and faith in their country, and the friendship of the American people.

In the course of his address, Mr. Brown gave an amusing theory of the manner in which the name Thief River Falls was derived.

"You are doubtless familiar with the origin of your name," he said, "but I myself was most interested to learn that there is, or was, no "Thief" in Thief River Falls. I understand that in 1700 the Dakota Indians lived here and called the place "Secret Earth." Later, it came to be called "Hidden Earth. Finally, the name and meaning changed to "Stealing Earth". It was then not much of a jump to the name of "Thief River." And lastly, "Thief River Falls."

Coffee Break Aids Morale In Hospitals Across US

The "coffee-break," fast-spreading, twice-a-day ritual in U. S. industry and commerce, has moved into the nation's hospitals and the doctors and nurses love it according to recent survey of 113 hospitals in 14 leading cities.

Some 77 per cent of hospitals visited reported daily or twice-daily coffee breaks. No city among those checked was without at least two hospitals where time out for coffee was a standing policy.

Of the 14 hospitals visited in the Detroit area for instance, all reported authorized coffee breaks. Scores of 100 per cent were similarly chalked up by Salt Lake City, San Francisco, New Orleans, Dallas and Denver, where hospital spokesmen were unanimous in their praise of the coffee-rest period for its proven benefits to the morale and efficiency of the personnel.

Typical of reactions to the hospital coffee break was that of the director of special services at Malden hospital, Malden, Mass., who said, "coffee periods make for better personnel relations and efficiency and improve general morale."

Although acceptance in hospitals of the coffee break is considered by most as a relatively recent reflection of its adoption by commerce and industry in recent years, the survey revealed this to be untrue in at least one case. One hospital, for example, among those checked, the Georgia Baptist hospital in Atlanta, reported that the coffee break had been in practice there since 1901.

Death Claims Mother and Son Six Hours Apart

Double funeral services will be held at Douglas, North Dakota, Sunday for Mrs. Ole E. Nelson and her son Norman, who passed away six hours apart at the Bethesda Hospital in Crookston. Mr. Nelson was staying in Crookston to be near his mother, who was confined to the hospital, when he became ill and passed away at 11 o'clock Sunday night, March 22. His mother died at five o'clock the next morning.

Norman Edward Nelson was born October 14, 1912, in Douglas, N. D. He was baptized and confirmed in the Trinity Lutheran church and after completing his schooling there worked on his father's farm until he bought his own farm in Douglas township. He had farmed there for the past ten years. He is survived by his father; and the following sisters and brothers, Mrs. Irvan Gunter of Erskine; Mrs. Selmer Norquist of Garrison, N. D.; Mrs. H. A. Budahl of St Hilaire; Mrs. Alois Blonigen and Leonard Nelson of Douglas, N. D.

Mrs. Ole E. Nelson was born April 16, 1882, in Norway. In 1902 she came to Sioux Falls, S. D. with her parents who later homesteaded at Douglas, N. D. Her marriage to Ole E. Nelson took place June 13, 1907. Last fall Mrs. Nelson came to St. Hilaire to make her home with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Budahl.

Besides her husband, she is survived by the following children; Mrs. Irvan Gunter of Erskine; Mrs. Selmer Norquist of Garrison, N. D.; Mrs. H. A. Budahl of St. Hilaire; Mrs. Alois Blonigen and Leonard Nelson of Douglas. Other survivors include two brothers, Lars Haugse of Great Falls, Montana, and Sigurd Haugse of McGregor, Minn. One daughter, as well as her son Norman, has preceded her in death.

Services Held Tuesday For Mrs. R. O'Hara

Mrs. Ray O'Hara passed away suddenly at her home in Norden township Friday. She was 51 years of age. Funeral services were conducted by Rev. J. O. Jacobsen at the Gulbranson Chapel at two o'clock Tuesday afternoon. Pallbearers were Melvin Bakken, Gilmer Bakken, Emil Swanson, Lars Engen, Selmer Olson, Gordon Olson and James Walker. Burial was made in Rindahl cemetery.

Mrs. O'Hara was born in New Solem township, Marshall county, September 11, 1901, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Berger Sevalson. She was baptized and confirmed in the Rindahl Lutheran church and made her home with her parents until her marriage to Ray O'Hara on February 16, 1926. For the past five years they have made their home in Norden township.

She is survived by her husband; a son, James of Minneapolis; two grandchildren, Linda Sue and Timothy of Minneapolis; and a brother, Thorwald Sevalson of Newfolden. Preceding her in death are her parents three sisters, and two brothers.

Former City Resident Dies in Cleveland

Mrs. Chas. A. Nelson, formerly of Thief River Falls, passed away March 23 at Cleveland, Ohio. At the time of her death she was 80 years of age. Funeral services will be held at the Gulbranson chapel at two o'clock Thursday afternoon, Rev. E. C. Mead officiating.

Mrs. Nelson was born January 1, 1873 in Sweden, and came to the Viking community with her parents in 1888. She married Charles A. Nelson in 1896 and they lived in Thief River Falls from 1913 to 1947. For the past six years, Mrs. Nelson had made her home with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Kelly of Cleveland.

Surviving are three daughters and two sons, Mrs. Julius Knutson and E. C. Nelson of Thief River Falls, Miss Stella Nelson and Mrs. L. J. Kelly of Cleveland, Ohio; and Clarence R. Nelson of Minneapolis.

Other survivors include three sisters, Mrs. John Wold, Fairmont, Minn., Mrs. Hulda Allen, Church's Ferry, N. D., and Mrs. Knut Willand, Williston, N. D.

Grandmother of British Queen Dies on Tuesday

Queen Mary, grand old lady of British royalty, died Tuesday night at her London residence.

The 85-year-old grandmother of Queen Elizabeth II succumbed after a prolonged battle with a gastric ailment. The official announcement of her death was made by Prime Minister Churchill to a hushed House of Commons.

Queen Mary, often called the "Grandmother of England," was the widow of King George V, who died in 1936. Her long life spanned the period from the imperial 19th Century days of Queen Victoria, through two world wars, to the tense times of the atom bomb and the cold war.

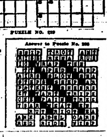
Answer to Puzzle No. 2[illegible]



Mrs. A. Wilson Laid to Rest on Saturday

Funeral services for Mrs. Archie Wilson, who passed away at Eatonville, Washington on March 14, were held at the Telemarken church Saturday afternoon. The final rites were conducted by Rev. Norval Wigtil and Rev. E. O. Sabo and interment was made in the church cemetery.

Mrs. Wilson was born at Middle River April 8, 1915, and moved with her parents to Border, Minnesota, when a young girl. After completing elementary school at Border, she attended high school at International Falls and after graduation enrolled at Moorhead state teachers college where she completed the teachers training course.

She taught for five years in this vicinity and on September 3, 1938, she married Archie Wilson at Bagley. They established their home in Kratka township where they lived until last November when they left for Oroville, Washington, to spend the winter with Mrs. Wilson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Knut Johnson.

During the time she lived at Goodridge, Mrs. Wilson was a member of the Telemarken congregation and was very active in church work. During World War II she served on the Pennington county FHA board.

Those who remain to mourn her death are her husband, Archie Wilson; her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Knut Johnson of Oroville, Washington; two brothers, Melvin of Oroville, and Alton of Eatonville, Washington; and her grandmother, Mrs. Petrina Joringdal of Thief River Falls.

Final Rites For Mrs. Mary Davis Held Wednesday

Funeral services for Mrs. Mary A. Davis, whose death occurred at Viking on March 21, were held at the Covenant Church at Viking Wednesday, March 25. She was the wife of Thomas Davis, who passed away a year ago.

Mrs. Davis was born July 5, 1867, in Cedar county, Iowa. She and Mr. Davis came to make their home in Middle River in 1920, and later farmed south of Newfolden where they lived until 1937 when they moved to Viking. Survivors are her son-in-law, Elling Waagedahl of Viking, granddaughter Betty Waagedahl, two brothers and several nieces and nephews.

Oldest Inhabited City

Damascus, fifty miles from Beirut and the capital of independent Syria, was founded no man knows when and may be the oldest city of earth still inhabited. Always those who lived there have needed good Damascus steel weapons. Its streets have echoed to the conquering tread of Israelites, Assyrians, Macedonians, Egyptians, Romans, Ommiads, Carmathians, Seljuks, the Crusaders, Mongolians, Ottomans, and the French. One of the armoring industry's chief patrons was the Roman Emperor Diocletian (A.D. 245-313). The craft perished in 1401, when Tamerlane carried off the smiths. Modern successors of those ancient artisans are gold and silversmiths, and craftsmen who produce inlays of wood, brass and copper.

New Fabric

Sheer-striped taffeta-finished organdie is one of the new fabrics for the season, and the style is the classic shirtwaist with a white organdie collar in a Peter Pan style. You'll like the cooling color choice from green, blue and lilac.

A century ago approximately 300 persons were engaged in the coal trade in Alabama. Now there are 22,000 production workers alone employed by the state's bituminous mines.

Group Plans for NMEA Convention

Local Teachers to Attend Bemidji Parley Thursday

Bemidji state teachers college will be host to a planning workshop March 26 of all officers and section chairmen of the Northern Minnesota Education Association who have responsibility for organization of the NMEA convention in Bemidji October 15 and 16.

Those invited to participate in this planning session from Thief River Falls include Arnold Larson, who will serve on the executive board; and the following group and section chairmen: Miss Virley Bagley, drama; Miss Bernice Troumbly and Miss Emma Tandberg, elementary and rural education; Miss Ellen Clark, English; Verner Johnson and J. A. Johnson, industrial arts; N. Quentin Jones, physical and health education; Albert Ahlquist, science; and Robert Nick, social studies.

The group will work collectively to correlate planning for the convention, with a major objective of getting each section's program organized in relation to the activities of the other sections.

Harry E. Bucklen, BSTC laboratory school principal and secretary of NMEA is in charge of arrangements for the March 26 meeting.

Easter Seal Sale Pays for Research to Help Cripples

County Committees Ask Residents to Remit for Seals Mailed Recently

Research into the cause of certain crippling conditions is one of the important activities made possible through Easter Seal contributions in Minnesota.

The Minnesota Society for Crippled Children and Adults, the Easter Seal Society, has made an annual grant to the University of Minnesota each year from Easter Seal funds for a special study being made in the Rh factor, one of the causes of cerebral palsy.

Prevention of crippling is one of the concerns of the Easter Seal Society along with the provision of needed services for the handicapped, H. B. Gough, St. Cloud, president of the society, said today. This is one of the reasons the society has initiated, as an Easter Seal service, a safety and accident prevention program in the schools of the state.

An intensive appeal to urge citizens not only to send in their Easter Seal contributions but to use their Easter Seals on packages and letters in the two weeks remaining before Easter will be made this week by Easter Seal county committees throughout the state.

Confirmation of Adults Set Sunday in Trinity Church

The spring adult class will be presented for confirmation at the 10:30 a. m. service at Trinity Lutheran Church on Sunday, March 29. Completing a course of instruction under the Rev. G. S. Thompson, pastor of the church, the members of the class will make confession of their faith in the impressive ceremony. The usual early service at 9:00 a. m. will also be held, it was announced. The chapel choir, under the direction of Frank Summerside, will sing at the early service, and the adult choir, directed by Lois Ekeren, will sing at the later service.

Gospel Mission to Hold Special Pre-Easter Rites

Rev. J. O. Jacobsen, vice chairman of the Union Gospel Tent Mission, announces Pre-Easter special services next week, March 31, April 1 and 3, respectively in Evangelical Free, Mission Covenant and First Baptist churches, at 8 p. m. Rev Jacobsen stated that Evangelist Ronald Dalzell will speak Tuesday night in the Free Church; Emery R. Larson, field secretary in Minnesota Union Temperance movement, speaks in Wednesday night's service at the Covenant church. Speaker for the April 3 meeting in the Baptist church will be arranged later.

Biggest Problems of Young People Are Unhappy Homes and the Draft

The problems of the nations youth have concerned the entire country in recent years.

Now, a national survey of 7,037 young people, reports that young people today are most worried about two problems: the draft and the threat of war, and unhappy relationships between fathers and mothers.

The survey, which included such diversified groups as a young ladies' finishing school in Massachusetts and a state reform school in the midwest, listed 23 problems that face today's youth.

Of the replies, 56 per cent listed the draft and unhappy relationships between fathers and mothers as the top problem.

The next seven included:

1. Developing healthy attitude about sex.
2. Being misunderstood by parents.
3. Finding the right job.
4. Use of narcotics.
5. Responsible driving of automobiles.
6. Use of alcohol.
7. Religious uncertainties.

The poll was devised by Miss Elma Phillipson, executive secretary of the National Midcentury Committee for Children and Youth.

It was not a scientific sampling, she explained. Nor did they attempt to differentiate between the voter's selection of problems that were important to him and problems that he thought was important to others.

Miss Phillipson reports that in her opinion, despite the obvious limitations of the poll, the results merit attention because they are unique. "So far as we know, there has been no similar attempt in recent years to find out which are the most serious problems of the young."

A surprising result of the poll was the low ratings given economic problems. A good home was voted 15th in the list of 23 problems. Good clothing and an automobile and television set were put at the very bottom.

"Since almost one-third of the nation's young people don't have living condition that measure up to the American standard, the low ratings were a surprise," Miss Phillipson said.

The overwhelming majority of the replies to the poll came from persons under 21. The total was 6,161.

The meeting was in the form of a rag ball social and the program consisted of an accordian selection by Eldon Moe, a solo by Joyce Rux, a duet by Muriel Copp and Arleen Malberg, demonstration by Jackie Anderson and Duane Bjerke, and a project talk by Richard Jorde. Ray Mittenesa gave a talk and showed movies on Dairy Day. Lunch was served by the Lloyd Nelson and Clifford Nelson families.—Inga Vatsaas, reporter.

Colorado's Governor Pays Off Election Bet

SALT LAKE CITY — Governor Dan Thornton recently payed off one of the most unusual election bets of the many thousands that were made last year.

He cleaned up the littered office of Utah's Governor J. Bracken Lee, who had messed up the place by scattering old ballots and sawdust.

The sweeping was the payoff of a bet between the governors on which state would have the best turnout at the general election, Utah won, leading the nation.

Governor Thornton donned the white uniform of a custodian, but kept his cowboy boots and Stetson hat. When the horseplay was over, he said that it was significant "that America still has its humor."

Governor Lee's office ordinarily is spotless. But not for Governor Thornton's arrival. Sawdust—and old ballots—were sprinkled around. Governor Lee posted a sign over his door: "Thornton swept here."

Oldest Municipality

Totnes in Devon is probably the oldest municipality in England. Dartmouth, British counterpart of the United States Naval Academy, lies on the English Channel coast to the south. At Princetown on the moor is one of England's most feared penal establishments. Devastated Lynmouth has a fortunate twin in Lynton. Situated atop a hill overlooking its recently flooded sister, it escaped damage. A number of other small villages alongside Devon and Somerset rivers are reported to have suffered. British police estimated that up to ninety persons may have lost their lives in the flood.

By W. E. DAHLQUIST

The liquidation of the state's Rural Credit Department assets has made good progress. The December 31 report shows that the number of mortgages and contracts for deed had been reduced to 2,085 with a total face value of $2,380,033.83. That means that the average mortgage or contract is now in the neighborhood of $1,000 and with land values up it is not likely that there will be further losses in this item.

Up to the present time the loss from the operation totals 41½ million dollars of which there is a net remaining unpaid obligation of about 25 million dollars. From the taxpayer's standpoint it has been a heavy burden with no redeeming virtues. And from the standpoint of the farmers who came out of the prosperous years of World War I with a top heavy load of indebtedness, these loans were of doubtful benefit. A few banks probably were saved but eventually they too went through the wringer.

This unfortunate venture is a good thing to remember as an example of unwise state activity. It also has value as an unfortunate experience reminding us as individuals that prosperity does not necessarily last forever, and that it is well to keep our debts under control. The sale of a quarter section farm in southern Minnesota recently at a price of $500 an acre was the kind of thing that brought us our bust in the twenties.

But getting back to our liquidation story, we still have a problem. While it is true that the state's remaining investment in mortgages and contracts become more secure as the balances are reduced, it is also true that they become less desirable from an investment standpoint. It costs just as much to service a small loan as it does a large one and as the loans shrink in size the cost of collection increases percentage-wise.

Since 1947, the cost of collections has been cut nearly in half in terms of dollars spent but in relation to the total collected the cost has nearly doubled. In 1947 it cost 3.2% to collect two and one-third million dollars. Last year it cost 6.2% to collect a half a million.

In another two years the state probably will be justified in disposing of the remaining assets by giving encouragement to debtors to finance their loans through other government or regular credit agencies. The Rural Credit Department is now operating a small loan organization. When it can no longer operate as an efficient and economical unit, and when its continued operation becomes an additional burden on the taxpayer, then a change is in order. This is a problem the next legislature probably will have to deal with.

The need for more equitable tax assessment is receiving more general recognition. The report of the committee that is making a survey of assessments to determine whether our present equalization aids to schools are fair has done much to call attention to this need.

Only nine counties are covered in the report that has been given to us. The results in these nine counties are so uniformly bad that authorization undoubtedly will be given to speed up this research. It is estimated that in another year at least 30 counties will be checked. This will be a sufficient base for the purposes of a study and the next legislature probably will have submitted to it several recommendations for drastic revisions in our taxing procedures.

In the interests of equality between counties and also in the interests of equality among the various property classes we must strengthen the assessment authority. In order to achieve equality in assessment you must have centralization of authority. That means we still have to make a sacrifice of authority at the local level.

The nine county report revealed discrepancies in the relationship between an assessor's estimate of full and true value to actual market value ranging from 10% to more than 100%. It doesn't make much difference to the taxpayer whether the assessor's "full and true" is the same as the actual market value, but it does make a big difference if the various assessors do not measure the property they assess by the same yardstick.

The size of our tax bill is determined mainly by the amount of money that is spent by the taxing units. If the assessed valuation goes up then the mill rate goes down. To this purpose it does not matter greatly whether assessed valuation be high or low. The important thing is that it have uniformity. Only as it is uniform between one district and another and between classes of property can we achieve equality in taxation.

AIRMAN WALLACE GROVUM ON BASKETBALL TEAM

Airman Wallace R. Grovum of the United States Air Force, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gunder Grovum, Thief River Falls, is playing with the Fort Slocum (New Rochelle, New York) basketball team in the First Army basketball tournament at Fort Monmouth, New Jersey, from March 22nd through the 27th.

Comprised of officers and enlisted men from the chaplain school, the Armed Forces information school and the 1207th Area Service Unit, the squirrels, as the team is known, have been competing with local civilian teams in the Senior 'B' League of New Rochelle, New York.

Airman Grovum first entered the United States Air Force in January 1951 and is now on duty in the personnel office of the Armed Forces Information school at Fort Slocum.

SGT. 1c CLARENCE DIMMEN IN ATOMIC MANEUVERS

Army Sergeant First Class Clarence E. Dimmen, whose mother, Mrs. Evelina Dimmen, lives in Thief River Falls, was one of the specially assigned Army men who participated March 17 in the atomic maneuver at Camp Desert Rock, Nevada.

He occupied a forward foxhole during the atomic blast and immediately after the blast charged forward in skirmishes to mop up an imaginary enemy theoretically weakened by the A-bomb blast.

Sergeant Dimmen, whose wife lives in Fort Lewis, Wash., is assigned to the 163d Quartermaster Laundry Company, now at Camp Desert Rock, formerly of Fort Lewis.

He is a veteran of World War II.

SGT. 1c LLOYD MERCIL AWARDED BRONZE STAR

Sergeant First Class Lloyd M. Mercil of Brooks has been awarded the Bronze Star medal for service during the period from March to August, 1952, it was announced today by headquarters of the Minnesota Military District.

During this period Sgt. Mercil performed his duties as a platoon guide in an exemplary manner. He constantly stressed discipline, efficiency and skill on the part of each member of his unit, molded a well-coordinated and highly effective combat team. His coolness in combat, his extensive knowledge of the deployment of light weapons, and his personal interest in his men, resulted in the successful completion of many combat missions with few casualties sustained in his unit.

RED LAKE FALLS SAILOR IN MEDITERRANEAN AREA

Joseph H. Demarais, seaman, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter J. Demarais of Red Lake Falls, while serving aboard the destroyer USS Gainard, recently had the opportunity to participate in a ship sponsored tour of Syracuse, Sicily. The Gainard is with the Sixth Fleet in the Mediterranean and has taken part in numerous exercises at sea and has made several good will visits to ports in the Mediterranean.

His Duty

In Hartford, Conn., Patrolman Arthur Barnard found a store door unlocked, investigated, got out an hour later when the owner arrived with the key.

Fly Line

Generally speaking, it is the function of the fly line to carry the fly or light lure out to the fish. For this reason, it is fairly heavy and so constructed that it will float if kept properly dressed.

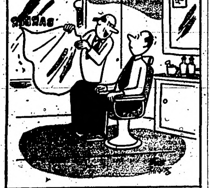
LAFF OF THE WEEK



"I'm new here—I don't believe I know your blood type . . ."

Capitol Chat

By Mrs. Coya Knutson
Rep. 65th District

It seems that most of my important bills are getting a hearing this week and one should be endowed with jet propulsion to get to meetings on time and often in different committees at the same time.

Party designation, of which Mr. Day and I are two authors, completed its last hurdle Tuesday. Mr. Day made the most convincing speech on the subject. He said, in conclusion, that "whoever presses the red button on this bill is ashamed of his party." In the course of the stormy discussion, the authors were called "peanut politicians" by those who had been on both sides of the political fence and by this bill were "caught in the squeeze." The bill now goes to the Senate, which would do well to look to their election in two years.

House File 811, concerning Hunt State Park, has received favorable tentative approval and will be considered with other park bills. This bill concerns the park site only. The road is still another matter. The park situation is a huge problem in our state. There is a plan being discussed to try to raise money for the parks by charging $1 for a windshield stamp as an admittance fee to our largest parks.

I am alarmed to report that Senate File 503, the "depot closing bill" passed out of the Senate committee with a vote of 12 to 1. It is still a bad bill and our only hope is that we can kill it in the House. I feel, however, that we as citizens in small communities are probably somewhat to blame for such legislation. If we would support our local railroads more than we do, we may avoid such a possibility. The plan behind this bill is to close many small stations all over the state, as the railroads intend to go into the trucking business. They are doing a certain amount of it now and this, of course, would increase it all the more. If this bill were passed, goods would be shipped to large centers and distributed to small towns and communities by railroad-owned trucks. Naturally, the railroads are "watching with glee" the fight that truckers are putting up against the so-called truck bill.

Tuesday evening the Senate and House Education Committees were invited to hear a discussion on the need for a school building program and the possibility of an educational television network in the state. We heard testimony from various parts of the state where a building program is in dire need. The conditions explained were almost too staggering for the imagination to comprehend. Of course, the question of the dedicated funds looms larger than ever before.

Hinduism

Hinduism has no set creed. Sarvepalli Radhakrishnan, the philosopher who recently resigned his post as India's ambassador at Moscow to become Vice-president of the Republic of India, has described the Hindu beliefs as mysticism tempered with tolerance in his widely quoted book "The Hindu View of Life." He says, "Hinduism requires every man to think steadily on the life's mystery until he reaches the highest revelation. While the lesser forms are tolerated in the interests of those who cannot suddenly transcend them, there is all through an insistence on the larger idea and purer worship."

5 Trumpetsound Students Attend Session in Minot

Five students of Trumpetsound Institute returned Tuesday from Minot, North Dakota where they attended the annual mission conference at the Dakota Lutheran high school. They are Beverly Schey, Strandquist; Lila Clouse, Thief River Falls; Orville Ostrand, Strandquist; Lawrence Larson, Strathcona; and Edwin Kjos, Pelican Rapids.

Also in attendance were Mr. and Mrs. M. P. Clouse of this city. Mr. Clouse, executive secretary of Trumpetsound Institute, was in charge of two sessions of the conference.

Raymond B. Martin, president of the school, was the inspirational speaker at the evening sessions. During the week messages were heard from twelve different missionaries.

GULLY . .

Mr. and Mrs. Rodger Melbo, Judy and Lois, Mrs. Victor Shelquist and Gordon Shelquist of Clearbrook drove to Crookston on Sunday and visited at the LeRoy Shelquist home and were supper guests there.

Mr. and Mrs. Archie Bauman and family visited and were supper guests at the Amos Thompson home at Weme.

Beverly Bergh attended the basketball tournament in the Cities.

Mrs. Harry Melbo received word last week of the death of her sister, (Hilda) Mrs. E. W. Sand of Fort St. John, British Columbia. Her other sister, Mrs. Charles Ohm had just recently left here for a visit with her sisters in Canada. She arrived at Fort St. John on Thursday evening and her sister passed away on Saturday morning. Mrs. Ohm also plans to visit another sister (Stella) Mrs. Ottoman Olafson at Edberg, Alberta, as well as many other relatives before returning home.

A meeting for Homemakers in and around Gully was held in Gully on Tuesday. Joyce McKinnon Home Demonstration Agent from McIntosh gave instruction in reupholstery.

Harley Shurson, County Agent for East Polk and Joyce McKinnon of McIntosh were in Gully Friday evening for a meeting at the hall for youngsters from the age of 9 to 21 who were interested in starting a 4-H Club. Much interest was shown by both youngsters and parents and another meeting is scheduled for April 10 when they plan to sign up those interested.

122-YEAR TALK

America's Oldest Border Dispute Finally Settled

WASHINGTON—The oldest dispute in the new world, possibly the longest of history, has finally been settled. Colombia and Venezuela, after 122 years of negotiations, have agreed to Venezuelan sovereignty over Los Monges, "The Monks," a cluster of eight uninhabited rocks at the mouth of the Gulf of Venezuela.

The dispute began in 1830 when Simon Bolivar's "Great Colombia" broke up and claimed conflicting slices of the country. Each claimed "The Monks."

Los Monges comprises three groups of sunbaked crags about 20 miles off the Guajira peninsula. The highest is 230 feet above the Caribbean. No one has ever lived on the islets.

The rocks are of great importance today because they stand watch over the approaches of Lake Maracaibo's steaming, oil-rich shallows below the Gulf of Venezuela. Maracaibo is one of the great oil producing basins of the world. Forests of derricks rear from the water as much as eight miles offshore.

In the old days the islands were pirate lairs and smuggler's ports. But their one claim to attention in the modern world is the possibility that the oil of Maracaibo may extend seaward as far as the rocks themselves.

But it took 122 years of the wordiest negotiations in history to settle the dispute that has caused constant trouble between Colombia and Venezuela.

"Locofoco"

Locofoco, a political term, originated in 1835 for a member of the Equal Rights party, a faction in the Democratic party in New York. One section of Democrats, hearing of a plot to put the lights out at a Democratic meeting, to be held in Tammany Hall, October 29, 1835, brought supplies of loco-foco matches in their pockets. Light was restored, and the scheme baffled. They put their leader in the chair and adopted an equal rights testimonial, and passed resolutions against bank and paper money. The opposing section immediately dubbed them "Locofocos."

GROWING WITH YOUR CHILD

Institute of Child Welfare, University of Minnesota

The Other Son

The high school teachers were glad to see Bob Johnson entering their classes. Bob's older brother, George, who had graduated the year before, had been everyone's pride and joy — an outstanding boy — basketball and baseball star, president of Student Council, and class valedictorian.

But Bob was a great disappointment. His schoolwork, only average the first year, dropped almost to failing by his third year. Although he was big and muscular and looked athletic, he never even tried out for a team. He spent most of his spare time just "fooling around" with a small group of friends.

"Perhaps he isn't well," suggested one of his teachers. Said another, "Perhaps he just isn't very bright." But the doctor reported him in excellent health. The school psychologist gave him a battery of ability tests and found that while Bob was not quite as bright as George, he was capable of much better work than he was doing. People finally concluded that Bob was just plain lazy. After all, he had the same parents and teachers as George, so his trouble just couldn't be the fault of home or school.

Or could it? Once, when Bob was a small boy trying to learn to handle a knife, his mother commented that George had learned it a lot faster. The day he told his first grade teacher that he thought he was really catching onto reading, she said, "That's nice. Your brother learned to read awfully fast." One day he ran home to tell his parents about the home run he had made in a backyard baseball game, and his dad said to his mother, "Will you ever forget the day George hit seven?" And so it went.

Adults seldom praised him; instead, they were disappointed that he hadn't done more. No matter what Bob did, George had already done it, and better. He seemed to fall short, no matter what he tried, of making a place for himself and winning any regard for his skills. Finally, he gave up.

Children need encouragement in terms of their own abilities; comparisons can defeat effort and destroy interest.

Population Gains

NEW YORK—The Pacific Coast states now have a population six times what they were in 1900, according to a recent industrial survey.

Contrasting this remarkable growth, the survey notes, that the West North Central states show only 36 per cent increase for the same period, while the East South Central division and New England also record only modest gains.

Even in terms of actual increases, the West has chalked up "impressive growth statistics," the survey reports. Taking the Mountain and Pacific states together, about 20 million persons now reside in this area compared with four million in 1900.

This gain is about equal to the actual increase in the Middle Atlantic states, which include New York, Pennsylvania and New Jersey.

Hopkins Quint Again Captures State Title

The Veteran Hopkins high school team, state champions in 1952, made a successful defense of their basketball title on Saturday night when, in the finals of the tournament held in the Williams fieldhouse on the University of Minnesota campus, they defeated the Hibbing Bluejackets, 58 to 47. In the preliminary games played on Saturday night, Red Wing defeated Madelia, 77 to 62, to win the consolation honors; and in a game to determine third place, the Bemidji Lumberjacks, on Larry Shaskey's field goal with seconds to go, edged out Granite Falls, 65 to 64.

Hopkins, ably coached by Butsie Maetzold and with a lineup that boasted two of the state's finest high school players in center Dave Tschimperle and guard Jerry Porter, were pressed by the alert and agile Hibbing club in the finals, and it was only in the final minutes of the game that defending champions were able to pull away from coach Mario Retica's seventh region contenders.

The winners held a 13 to 12 advantage at the end of the first period, and maintained that lead to hold a 23 to 22 lead at the intermission.

Hibbing, with a third period rally, carried the game to a 32 to 32 score before Porter and Tschimperl combined to give Hopkins a 40 to 36 lead as the final period opened. In the fourth period, Hopkins, resorting to a control style of play, manuevered the over-anxious Bluejackets into making defensive errors, and, with Tschimperle breaking loose for lay-up shots, moved away from Hibbing to score an 11-point win.

In tournament first-round games played on Thursday, Granite Falls scored a decisive 72 to 53 win over the sixth region's Moorhead Spuds; Hibbing eliminated Madelia, 64 to 45; Hopkins, on a strong fourth period rally, defeated a powerful Red Wing club, 49 to 47; and the Bemidji Lumberjacks, in a high-scoring title, bested the Austin Packers, 75 to 73.

On Friday night, in the championship round semi-finals, Hibbing out-ran the Granite Falls club to register a 55 to 47 triumph, and Hopkins handled the Bemidji Lumberjacks without much trouble, winning by a 69 to 56 score.

On the ten-man all-tournament team selected at the conclusion of the tourney, Hopkins, Hibbing, Red Wing, and Granite Falls were honored by gaining two places apiece, while Bemidji and Madelia each had one player named to the squad. The all-tournament squad: forwards — Allen Rice, Hibbing; Wayne Deden, Red Wing; Omar Larson, Granite Falls; Mike Marion, Hibbing; and LeRoy German, Madelia; centers — Dave Tschimperle, Hopkins, and Jim Lawrence, Bemidji; guards — Jerry Porter, Hopkins; Ted Grams, Granite Falls; and Bernard Raetz, Red Wing.

WHAT'S BETTER THAN ONE TOPCOAT?
ANSWER:
A Zip Liner OF COURSE:
Here's a coat made-to-order for Thief River Falls' changeable spring climate! A coat that is as comfortable to wear at 37 degrees as at 57. The big comfort secret is the removable lining. You zip it out for mild days; when the temperature takes a dive you zip it back in . . . in a few seconds. We have these coats in many smart fabrics, styles and patterns.

Ten Panel Talks on Hospital Care Slated over KTRF

First of Series Will Be Broadcast Next Sunday Afternoon 3 to 3:30

Beginning Sunday, March 29th, from 3:00 to 3:30 p. m., a series of ten panel discussions relative to problems of good hospital care of patients will be presented over Radio Station KTRF. The panel discussions being arranged under the supervision of radio station officials and Harold W. Peterson, administrator of Northwestern Hospital, are to be given each Sunday at the same hour.

This week's topic is entitled "What is Involved in Good Post-Operative Care of Hospital Patients." Participating in the panel will be Dr. Theodor Bratrud, Dr. Milton Starekow, Josephine Goode, R. N., charge nurse on the surgical floor; Ruth Organ, director of nurses; and Harold W. Peterson.

This series of panel discussions will attempt to show what is meant by good care of hospital patients of various kinds, some of the problems involved in adhering to these standards in the present building setup, and how this care can be improved under the plans for the new hospital addition.

AIRPORT NEWS

Les Ringstrand, accompanied by Frank LaFleur, flew his Cub to Grand Forks recently to spend the day.

Bob Ness and Dick Gunter flew the Interstate over from Erskine and left it here for relicensing.

Martin Rantanen and Chris Kierk flew to Argyle last week to bring back a Cub which Martin had purchased.

Alfred Gedde and Tom VanMeter from Fergus Falls, flying an Aeronca Champion 85, were here Thursday visiting with Walt Jung.

Bill and Jim Adams from Roseau flew their Cub over and left it here for repairs. They flew back in the Cruiser which had been left here previously.

Doc Lyons and Bert Paso from Grand Rapids were here on business last Thursday. They were flying a Piper Cruiser.

Father McMahon from Badger, flying his brand new Piper Pacer, stopped at the airport Thursday on his way home from Grand Forks.

Martin Rantanen and George Bell flew the Stinson to Rugby, North Dakota on Friday, taking Loren Voldness there to drive back a car.

Max Jensen is the new owner of the red and blue Aeronca which for the past few years belonged to Chris Kierk. This is the ship that Clara, Jackie and Beryl all learned to fly in. It was also the means by which Chris engendered the urge to fly in many an unsuspecting passenger he was just "taking up for a ride." We hope the new owner will have as much fun with it as the Kierks did.

Desirable Wood Keeps Home Fires Burning

Fireplace wood that burns cheerfly, aromatically and with good heat adds a lot to hearth and heart. But there is quite a trick to getting the desired effect. For rule of thumb, wood that is hard and heavy usually makes the best fuel.

If it's heat and lots of it you want, two of the best bets are white oak and hickory. One cord of each is approximately equivalent to one ton of coal. Some others that rate among the tops in the heat parade are birch, sugar maple, red oak and white ash.

For those who delight in exotic aromas and intriguing spark, white pine logs, along with a few pine cones, will fill the bill. The fine fragrance results from the high resin content of the wood. Firs, in the evergreen family, offer the same performance, but their fuel value is less.

Getting an inspiring fireplace fire calls for a special technique. Put a good-sized log in the back of the fireplace. Start the fire on the andirons in front. Then feed on the smaller logs.

A Regional Problem

For the second successive year the eighth region gained third place in the state high school basketball tournament, and this year's accomplishment, by the Bemidji Lumberjacks, surely equals, and perhaps surpasses, the third place finish of the Halstad Pirates last year. It's a debatable question whether or not Bun Fortier's Bemidji team possessed more ability than last year's champion Halstad club; but, according to first-hand reports, this year's state tournament produced more high-class basketball teams than the 1952 tourney, and it was quite a satisfactory performance for the Jacks to win third place.

It must be grudgingly admitted that Bemidji, more than any other team, has been instrumental in improving the caliber of basketball in the eighth region. The Lumberjacks have been criticised because of the classy "imports"—Wes Sabourin, Chuck and Jack Aakhus, and Larry Shaskey—have been factors on building up the Bemidji cage record. But it is a fact, too, that the Bemidji authorities haven't been forced to twist the arms of these boys to get them to enroll at Bemidji. Bemidji has apparently used high-class salesmanship in "selling" the Lumberjack school to these boys. And for both sides, it has been a case of value received.

Bemidji will continue to be problem for the eighth region, and the only solution is to produce better basketball teams than the Jacks.

Clearing the Rebounds

The Winnipeg Maroons, losing to the Regina Caps, 4 to 1, in a game played at Moose Jaw on Monday night, were shoved out of Canada's Allan Cup senior hockey playdowns, losing the inter-provincial series to the Caps, four games to three.

The progress of the Maroons was watched with considerable interest by the Northwest Hockey league fans, for the Winnipeg club was composed of the players that played as "imports" down here this season. Here is the roster that manager Joe Mathewson entered in Canada's senior hockey competition: goalies—Don Collins, and Bun Nicholson; defense — Jack Mason, Bob Middleton, Bert Van Belleghem, and Gordy Simpson; forwards — player-coach Wally Stefaniw, Doug Lewis, Ken McKenzie, Church Russell, Murray Balagus, Hec Bourgeois, Ken Little, Stan Craig, Odie Lowe, Jim Young, and Vic Love. That roster is an indication that Winnipeg's best players were playing in the Northwest league this year.

Incidentally, we've learned that Church Russell's complete and legal name is Churchill Davidson Russell. Church, who was a popular and free-wheeling forward for the Thieves this season, played for the New York Rangers in the NHL in 1946-47, and in that season Church scored twenty goals for the Rangers.

There is still quite a fair sheet of ice on the Arena rink, and the boys have been engaging in some informal games. Last Thursday night, Wayne Goethe's Rockets defeated the Smiley team, 7 to 2, and gave the Rockets a solid claim to the county's independent hockey title. Giving aid and assistance to the Smiley sextet in their game against the Rockets was Paul Bedard and Darryl Lund. Paul donned the pads and played goalie for Smiley, while Darryl played at center-ice.

About That Time

It's about time that Berdeen Nornes issues a notice for a gathering of the local apple-knockers congregation, meaning that the Thieves baseball organization is due for their annual meeting.

What with the Armed services making their draft calls on the nineteen-year olds, the Thieves will have several problems to solve before they will be able to field a team. Larry Shorty Perkins, the Thieves' third baseman, is subject to a draft call, and it's probable that he will receive his "greetings" before the baseball season opens. It is reported, though, that Shorty is to file for a deferment on a dependency basis, claiming as his dependents the other eight members of the Thieves baseball club. Shorty contends that the removal of his RBI and fence-denting ability would create undue hardship on the Thieves.

Miscellany

Prowler cager Larry Evanstad, scoring four field goals and a free throw, turned in the best game of his high school career against the Newfolden Nordics in the regional tournament consolation the other week. And the reason for Larry's performance was that the coach of the Newfolden team, Lowell Anderson, is Larry's cousin. Larry, to keep peace in the family, couldn't allow Newfolden to win that consolation game. — With Bob Nick relinquishing the Prowler cage duties to take over the junior high school principalship, the local authorities have been conducting interviews with prospective candidates for the basketball coaching position. It is reported that there are several highly-regarded cage mentors who have expressed an interest in the job.

"Greatest Show on Earth" Voted Best Film of 1952

Stage veteran Shirley Booth, 45, and Gary Cooper, gun-toting hero of the films, won Oscars Thursday night in Hollywood, Calif. as the top movie performers of 1952.

"The Greatest Show on Earth," made by Cecil B. DeMille, was named the best picture of the year.

Gloria Grahame, 27, southern belle of "The Bad and the Beautiful," and Anthony Quinn, revolutionist of "Viva Zapata!" were named the best supporting players of the year.

Miss Booth won for the screen reproduction of her role in the stage play, "Come Back, Little Sheba." It was her first movie appearance. Cooper won for his acting in "High Noon."

Editorials . . .

By H. O. Berve

I feel that the contributions of all those who have written these guest editorials have been very much worth while, and I trust that I, to at least some extent, may be able to give expression to a few worth while thoughts on the editorial page of the Times. Indeed, to me it is a great privilege to be allowed to express myself in this way through the medium of the Times and I want to extend to the editor in chief my appreciation of the courtesy that has been extended to me in this manner.

OUR COMMUNITY PROGRESS

Much progress has been made in our community over the last fifty years or so, and many changes have taken place from time to time. The people have now again spoken, and soon the old landmark that served as a city hall forty years ago, and since that time as a Court house will have to give place to a new and up to date structure. One after the other the old landmarks disappear from our city. Looking back over half a century I believe we will all have to admit that there has been a lot of progress in our community and in our part of the state. The modern roads, the ditches, and the large fields all over the country, and the modern up to date farms and farm buildings all tell the story of progress. We may get into a discontented mood, and we may now and then grumble long and loudly but looking back over the years we will nevertheless all have to admit that we have experienced a wonderful growth in this part of the State, and that we have much for which to be thankful.

JUST PLAIN FOLKS

A friend of mine came into the office the other day and complained bitterly about the "millionaires and the lone plumber" of President Eisenhower's cabinet. After listening to him I cannot help but wonder what the millionaires and the plumber will do for our country. Will the millionaires lead our country along the road of progress to continued prosperity? Or will it after all have to be the plain ordinary folks like the plumber who will have to show the way?

A lot of us have always had the idea that after all the growth and progress of our country has come from the needs and aspirations of just ordinary mortals. The new administration has been in office only a little less than three months. In spite of falling farm prices let us give "Ike" a chance to show what he and his cabinet can and will do. If Ike can end the Korean war then he will have done something that will earn for him the gratitude of the American people.

But at the same time as we speculate on what the future will bring let us also remember that nearly two thousand years ago there was a wise and great man who said that "Where your treasure is, there will your heart be also." While awaiting developments to see just what will happen, let us patiently keep our fingers crossed and try to maintain an attitude of watchful waiting, hoping that the hearts of the millionaires and the lone plumber may not be entirely too much concerned with the welfare of General Motors and the Hannah Dock and Coal Company, rather than with that of the plain folks at home.

THE INVESTIGATION MANIA

One of the most striking phenomena of the present day is the investigating mania that has laid hold of so many people, particularly of our public officials, and our members of Congress. A large part of our public officials seem to feel that the only way to impress themselves on the public is to shout and talk in a loud voice, point a finger of suspicion at someone, and accuse them of being subversive, disloyal, or communist. If you follow the McCarthy line, or the McCarran line then you are a great man. A lot of our public officials, especially members of Congress, are now seeking to feather their own political nests by casting doubt and suspicion, and distrust on their neighbors. As American citizens we should note carefully what is going on and what is being said.

The latest victims of the McCarthyites, and the McCarranites are the instructors and professors in our schools and colleges and universities, and now according to the latest reports they are even going to start to investigate our preachers and their churches. You are no longer to be allowed to think, or speak or preach on social and economic questions, and if you are inclined to be progressive in your thinking you are apt to be branded as un-american.

I am just wondering whether or not the time may not come when some members of Congress will seek to investigate our citizens to see how they vote. From that it is only a short step to try to dictate to our citizens how they are going to vote, and who they are going to vote for. This is worth thinking about. We have in our Congress today a group that wants to act as the accuser, the prosecutor, the judge and the jury. A lot of intelligent people including many members of our bar associations are very much concerned about what is going to happen to our American liberties. It might be well for the American people to speak up and put an end to the activities of the McCarthys, the McCarrans, and the Veldes in and out of Congress.

LET US PROTECT OUR RESOURCES

I fully agree that our young people constitute one of the greatest resources we have in this country. There are undoubtedly a few rattlebrains, and a few delinquents among the young, just as there are among the grown-ups, but the majority of them are sound. At the same time therefore that we talk and think about the delinquency among the young let us also stop to consider whether or not this delinquency is not due to some neglect of one kind or another. When we think of juvenile delinquency would it not be well to give some thought to the conditions that cause and lead to juvenile delinquency. If we tolerate conditions in the community, state and nation that lead to drunkenness, lawlessness and delinquency then we are ourselves to blame for the result. I for one believe that it is our duty as good citizens to help to remove the conditions that lead to delinquency. The welfare of our young people is far more important than commercial profits. We can become so timid that we fail to speak up against things that are wrong.

Political Roundup

By Arthur Naftalin

Action on a dozen different legislative fronts was being stepped up this week as the 1953 session moved towards the home stretch.

The session ends three weeks from next Wednesday, and these will be hectic weeks—as they always are—with leaders in both houses fighting the calendar and the clock in a desperate effort to "solve" a myriad of state problems before the time runs out.

As the week opened legislators' attention was centered on a wide range of matters, including the continued hunt for new revenue, liquor control, party designation for legislators, increasing basic school state aids, establishing an educational TV program, increasing unemployment compensation benefits, selecting a new University regent, ending rent control and public housing authorities, licensing real estate dealers, and settling on a program for rural highways relief.

Tax Hunt Continues

Adoption of a sales tax in some form still appears likely, although there are a variety of schemes in various stages of discussion. The latest proposal called for a 40 per cent cut in the personal property tax for the "business inventory" class, to be combined with the plugging of what the proposal's sponsor called a "loophole" in the present tax structure.

Proposed by Senator Emmett L. Duemke of Minneapolis, the bill would require the tax commissioner to compare property valuations on the property tax return with property listings on the taxpayer's income tax return. Duemke offered statistics showing that the tax cut would reduce revenue by about $12 million, but "plugging the loophole" would raise an estimated additional $18 million.

'Compromise' on Highways

One of the toughest problems before the session, that of finding sufficient funds to assist rural roads, appeared to be nearing a harmonious "compromise." Some legislators have been insisting on a long-term highway study to determine needs for an extended period before taking action to assist counties and towns.

Those urging some form of meaningful action in this session—led by former Governor Hjalmer Petersen of Askov—have insisted that a long-term study is not likely to yield information not already known and that such a proposal is only a delaying tactic.

Last week it seemed possible that agreement would be reached to conduct a shorter study, to be completed by March 15, after which the Governor would summon a special legislative session to submit the survey findings to the people in the November 1954 general election.

Party Designation

Candidates running for the state legislature would appear on the election ballot as Republicans or Democrats or as Independents, if the party designation bill clears the senate. It got house approval, 88 to 36, but faced a tough fight in the senate. The legislature has been chosen on a non-partisan basis since the election of 1914.

State School Aid

Prospects that the basic state school aid might be increased from $70 as at present to $100 per pupil dimmed last week when the senate education committee were given figures showing that the $100 rate would deplete the state income tax fund, leaving it, in fact, with a $17 million deficit. Some increase is likely, but may not go higher than $80.

Upping State Salaries

A tough fight was in the offing over the proposal to give state employes in the nine lowest pay categories salary increases. Those opposing pay increases at this time won a delaying action last week, but supporters promised no letup in their fight. Proposed increases would cost between $1.5 and $2 million.

To Name New Regent

Next Tuesday the house and senate will meet in joint session to elect a new University regent to fill the vacancy caused by the death of J. Seneca Jones. Last week the house and senate university committees recommended the election of Mrs C. E. Howard of Chanhassen, former state chairwoman of the Republican party. She faces some tough opposition, however, because Majority Leader Roy Dunn, leader in a different faction of the Republican party, indicated he would oppose her.

Liquor Control

The attempt to empower the agents of the liquor control commissioner to make arrests appeared lost last week, but debate was continuing in the senate over whether to permit the commissioner to suspend licenses of municipal liquor stores for violations by employes.

Licensing Realtors

Debate was continuing over this controversial bill. It would require the licensing of real estate brokers and agents, making it necessary for them to observe certain restrictions in their transactions.

FIRES WARM UP NEIGHBORLINESS

Don Hansen's filling station and garage burned at Hardwick, near Luverne, putting Don pretty much out of business. Neighbors, lots of 'em, got together, the debris was cleared away, the buildings were rebuilt, and Don's in business again.—Barn, out-buildings, hay, oats, lots of valuables went up in costly smoke on the Henry Kruize farm near Morris. Neighbors rallied and soon new buildings were rising out of the ruins and Kruize farm production continues.

We might say that the first day of spring was ushered in with a bang this year, bringing thunder, lightning, hail and rain in good measure. It isn't very often we ever have such weather in March. Mrs. Elmer Ness predicts it means a late spring, while Mrs. Arthur Lund says she heard it meant good crops. We'll just have to wait and see the results.

MOTHER NATURE TRULY BOUNTIFUL

Mandy, Ed Kopplin's Labrador retriever, gave birth at Litchfield to 13 puppies on Friday the 13th.—A complete egg, shell and all, was found within an 8-incher at Ivanhoe.—Five calves in one year is a practically unbeatable record set by a Holstein on the Lepper farm near Hawley: Twin bulls, then less than a year later triplet heifers. — While nasturtiums bloom at New Ulm and poinsettias at Litchfield in defiance of out-of-season temperatures.

Here's Your Starting Team For a FINE FINISH!

Firzite
Brings out the full beauty of fir plywood and other soft woods. Helps you achieve dramatic, modern effects on hardwoods.

FIRZITE seals the wood pores, makes it possible for you to give fir plywood surfaces a first-class stained or satin-smooth painted finish.

FIRZITE tames the wild grain . . . virtually eliminates grain-raise and checking. In either white or clear . . . it's easy to use, takes only a few minutes to apply.

For today's exciting, modern blond or pickled effects, use white (or tinted) FIRZITE. Buy it in pints, quarts, gallons or 5-gallon cans.

Satinlac
Here's your best bet for getting a dramatically fine finish on hardwoods.

SATINLAC is a clear finishing material that preserves and enhances the charm of all woods. It can be brushed or sprayed.

Age cannot darken or yellow the clear, sleek finish you get with SATINLAC.

Ask for SATINLAC in pints, quarts, gallons, or 5-gallon cans.

For help on your wood-finishing problems, ask for our helpful, free leaflet "How to Use Firzite and Satinlac".

Flavor-talk... that made folks curious

Over a million beer drinkers switched to Hamm's Beer in just the past two years. They heard talk about a wonderfully refreshing flavor—a special kind of crisp, clean-cut flavor—captured in the land of sky blue waters. They were curious. They tried Hamm's and decided it was their kind of beer.
Try extra refreshing Hamm's Beer.

P. S. Thank you! Your calls for Hamm's have made it the favorite of them all in the Upper Midwest.

Building a New Taconite Railroad

NEAR BEAVER BAY, rail-gauge operator George Hiltunen aligns the track of Minnesota's newest railroad. Other workers are already busy laying down new lengths of rail. When completed, the line will carry trainloads of taconite rock from the mine to the processing plant being built on the shore of Lake Superior. By 1955 the first shipments of concentrated iron ore will be on their way to the blast furnaces from this $160 million project. Taconite and low-grade ore processing hold the promise of a bright future for the iron ranges—if Minnesota's iron mining industry can produce these ores at a cost that can compete with ores from other areas.

Here's how co-ops help you fight this squeeze two ways!

Cooperatives are the balance wheel that strengthens our free economy
FIRST, through your marketing co-ops you sell your crops at the best possible price, with selling costs held to a minimum. In addition to getting better prices, dairy, grain, livestock and other co-ops have improved quality and expanded the markets for farm products.
SECOND, through your supply co-ops, you keep down production expenses.
The squeeze between falling prices and rising costs is a serious problem. But during the squeeze, as in good times, strong co-ops can make a big difference in your income.

Such a car as this would not be possible without Hudson's exclusive "STEP-DOWN" design!

The Hudson Jet has the floor recessed within the base frame. This provides the lowest center of gravity among American cars, and makes it possible to safely put more power in relation to weight in the Jet than in any other low-priced car.
A compact, economical wonder car with a hug-the-road ride like the Hudson Hornet itself!
Here is a new kind of compact, economical car, with such high-power performance . . . such luxurious interiors . . . such a remarkable ride, durability and safety . . . that it can be compared only to the fabulous Hudson Hornet itself!
Because of Hudson's exclusive "step-down" design, which creates the lowest center of gravity among American cars, the new Hudson Jet safely handles more power in relation to weight than has ever been possible in any other car in the low-price field. We invite you to try this new kind of car—at your very first opportunity!
New Dual-Range HYDRA-MATIC DRIVE and sensational TWIN H-POWER either or both optional at extra cost
HUDSON JET
In durability and quality a worthy companion to the Hudson Hornet and Hudson Wasp

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh
"Biff" Falls for His Own Story
Biff Morgan's four-year-old daughter Rusty is something of a night owl. Stays awake way past her bedtime.
Every night Mrs. Morgan complained about how hard it was to get Rusty to go to sleep. Finally Biff decided to handle the situation. "Anyone can get a kid to sleep — takes a little patience! Here, hand me her storybook."
He grabs the book and goes into Rusty's room. About an hour later Rusty comes padding out in pajamas and hands her mother the book. "Read it quietly," she whispers, "so we don't wake Daddy."
From where I sit, Biff won't be so quick to be a "child-care specialist" the next time. If we could just resist being such "know it alls," our neighbors would be better off. Take those who would deny me a glass of beer with my supper — well, I might not care for the buttermilk they like. We all ought to realize that we all have different abilities and different preferences, too.

Tennessee, which produces bituminous coal at the rate of 5 million tons a year, has enough solid fuel in reserve to continue this pace for 25 centuries.

Within five years, the Ohio River will carry as much or more coal for electric power generation alone as it now carries for all public and private use.

"U" of M. Experiment Stations Report on Vegetables for 1953

Pennington county gardeners who like to plant a few new varieties of vegetables each year will be interested in a publication of the Minnesota agriculture extension service just off the press, reports County Agent Raymond Mitteness.

Called "Vegetable Varieties for Minnesota," the new revision of Extension Folder 154 describes some of the new vegetable varieties which were tested this past year and are being recommended for planting in Minnesota. The tests were made at the University of Minnesota agricultural experiment station, its branch stations and in home and commercial gardens thruout the state under the supervision of Orrin C. Turnquist, extension horticulturist at the University of Minnesota.

Also included in the folder is a list of older established varieties suggested for planting in Minnesota. The folder is available from the county extension office.

Among the new varieties which have done well in tests Turnquist recommends:

Faribo Hybrid F1 asparagus, a vigorous plant which produces large spears.

Wade's bush snap bean, resistant to common bean mosaic and powdery mildew, which produces high yields over a long period and is excellent for freezing.

Cherokee wax bean, early and productive, with long, fairly straight yellow pods.

King Red Beet, a dark red globe-shaped beet, quite free of light rings.

Hybrid "R" squash, a heavy producer of uniform, orange-colored fruits which are good keepers and are excellent for cooking.

Miniature sweet corn, an early high-yielding hybrid in the midget class particularly suited to small gardens because of the small plants. The pencil-thick cobs are good for freezing.

Golden Freezer sweet corn. A mid-season variety with long, slim cobs, excellent for eating fresh and for freezing.

Marketer cucumber, a very vigorous dark-green slicing cucumber.

Salad Bowl lettuce, tolerant of summer heat and slower to bolt than some older varieties. It produces a rosette of attractive, short, wavy, notched leaves.

Cavalier tomato, a new bush-type tomato which produces large globe-shaped fruit averaging about 6 ounces. It is earlier than Firesteel.

Comet radish, a good size globe-shaped radish with bright red color which stays crisp much longer than other varieties.

Minn. 6-1 muskmelon, a mid-season maturing, high-yielding variety with large oval fruits with small seed cavities and thin rind.

Other new varieties are discussed in Extension Folder 154.

Leftover Peas

Leftover peas will go well into a salad with diced celery. Add some cubes of American cheese with the mayonnaise to increase the appeal.

Almost 2 million tons of coal are produced annually by the 45 mines in Kansas.

Sales of Savings Bonds up in State During February

$6,800,000 Worth Sold; Sales in Pennington in Two Months Hit $25,683

February sales of U. S. Savings Bonds in Minnesota totaled $6,800,000 bringing 1953 sales up to $15,900,000 or 15.8 per cent of the goal set for the year. February sales a year ago were $5,700,000.

This year's volume compares with $13,300,000 for the same period last year and represents an increase of $2,600,000 or almost 20 per cent.

Sales for Pennington county were $25,683 in January and February according to J. M. Roche, county bond committee chairman.

A national effort to increase bond sales will begin on April 1 when members of women's organizations will spearhead a drive to increase the number of Bond-a-Month customers in banks.

The campaign, to be known as the Women's Crusade for Security, will be headed up by Miss Adelaide Enright of St. Paul and cooperating with her will be all national women's organizations represented in Minnesota as well as many local women's organizations.

The Bond-a-Month plan, Miss Enright announced, is a service offered by commercial banks to checking account customers. They may authorize his bank to deduct the cost of a bond from his checking account each month. The bank will then issue the bond and mail it to the customer.

State CROP Unit Retains Chairman

Rural Overseas Program to Continue This Year

Leonard Harkness, state 4-H club leader, was re-elected chairman and Governor C. Elmer Anderson, honorary chairman, at the annual meeting this week of the Minnesota Christian Rural Overseas program committee.

Annual report made by J. A. Halvorsen, director, shows that five carloads of lard weighing 120,977 pounds, and 37,750 pounds of milk powder were sent to Europe in 1952 by Minnesota farmers. Value of the gift was in excess of $41,000.

Other officers and directors named at the meeting are Stanley B. Folsom, Minneapolis; Reverend N. B. Hansen, Hutchinson, Reverend Alvin R. Nygaard, Willmar and Reverend Willert Zahl, Danube, all vice-chairmen; R. Alvin Wilson, Minneapolis, secretary; Dr. Carl B. Drake, St. Paul, treasurer.

Serving on the Friendship Acres committee are Commissioner of Agriculture, Myron W. Clark, St. Paul, chairman; John B. Vandermyde and E. C. Field of Minneapolis; W. J. Kortesmaki, St. Paul. Friendship Acres is a plan in which participants in CROP set aside a portion of produce and at maturity give the yield through the county CROP organization.

Sponsored in the state by the Minnesota Council of Churches, CROP is now under direction of the National Council of Churches. Forty carloads will be the goal for this year.

Young Drivers Figure in Most Auto Accidents

Motorists in the 25-34 age bracket had the most traffic accidents and also were involved in the greatest number of fatal mishaps during 1952, according to a summary of motor vehicle accidents released by the state highway department. The report reveals that this age group, which probably includes a greater number of drivers than does any other group, was involved in more than one-fourth of all the accidents reported and also in more than one-fourth of the fatal accidents. Their record was 21,515 accidents, with 170 of them fatal.

Following closely behind, however, were the drivers in the 15-24 age group, with 19,992 accidents and who also had 170 fatal accidents.

A break down of this latter classification shows that the drivers in the 15-17 group were involved in 4,200 accidents, including 36 fatal mishaps. The 18-19 group had 4,973 accidents, with 41 of them resulting in death. Drivers in the five-year group from 20 through 24 reported 10,799 accidents, of which 193 were fatal.

Youngsters 14 years of age and under were involved in 121 accidents as drivers of motor vehicles. Of these, six accidents resulted in fatalities.

Eagles Cited for 'Get out Vote' Aid

Praised by American Heritage Foundation

The Fraternal Order of Eagles has been cited, along with 27 other national organizations, as an award winner in the 1952 "Register and Vote" competition sponsored by the American Heritage Foundation, according to a report by Harvey R. Helle, secretary of the Thief River Falls aerie.

Announcement of the award was made by Charles E. Wilson, former president of the General Electric Corporation and chairman of the Heritage Foundation's committee of judges. In making the award to the Eagles, Chairman Wilson said the Eagles program was "the most comprehensive and effective register and vote plan developed by a national service organization."

Prior to the 1952 Presidential election, the Eagles waged an intensive educational campaign among its membership and the general public on the importance of registering and voting. Each subordinate aerie and auxiliary was sent promotional material recommending the use of a "chain" post card. Each member of the Eagles was asked to send a post card to five people, reminding each to register, when necessary, and to vote. Each recipient of a card was likewise asked to send a similar message to five other people.

Besides the post card promotion, the Eagles prepared a hundred thousand "Register and Vote" circulars which were distributed to members and the general public.

Oklahoma, now producing nearly 2¼ million tons annually, has mined less than 1 per cent of its coal.

Room to Spare — inside and out

YOU'RE looking at the car that offers you more room and power for the money than any other six-passenger sedan made in these United States.

You're looking at the 188-hp Buick ROADMASTER Riviera Sedan, where headroom, hiproom, legroom and kneeroom are so spacious—you can seat six full-size adults in supreme and day-long comfort.

But lest you think this premium roominess comes with a penalty in handling ease—we have good news for you.

This 1953 ROADMASTER is powered by the world's newest and most advanced V8 Engine—an engine so compact, it has permitted the building of an entirely new and far more maneuverable chassis around it.

So every inch of roominess in America's big-room sedan is retained—but now with over three inches less bumper-to-bumper length.

Beyond that, you have easier handling from this Buick's short turning radius—shortest of any other car of equal size and weight.

You have Buick's POWER STEERING to give you full advantage of this short turning radius without strain or struggle—and Power Brakes,* if you wish, for practically effortless braking control.

Wouldn't you like to see and drive this superbly fine car—try it for power, for room, for ride, for handling ease—and for the smooth, flash-fast getaway of its new Twin-Turbine Dynaflow Drive?*

Visit us this week—we'll be glad to seat you at the wheel of the greatest Buick in fifty great years.

*Optional at extra cost.

Yours in every '53 Roadmaster at no extra cost

LIVEWEIGHT TRACTION

gives farming a real boost!
When your field work calls for more real pull, liveweight traction will see you through.
The hydraulic TRACTION BOOSTER in the CA and WD Tractors changes deadweight to liveweight. Weight of both tractor and implement is automatically shifted to bear down on drive wheels when soil is stubborn and tillage is tough.
The hydraulic TRACTION BOOSTER reduces wheel slippage—enables the CA and WD to do drawbar jobs that normally would require heavier tractors.
Stop in and let us show you how it works.

Poor Little Hill!

You're looking at a very discouraged hill!

Ever since that ribbon of paving outlined it, it has been a challenge to motor cars.

For miles and miles it winds up the side of a mountain; and it has sharp curves, and steep grades that spring out of the curves so a driver can't get a start.

Half-way up, there's a watering place—put there so drivers can stop and refill their radiators.

Yes—it has been quite a hill. But not any more!

The driver of the car in the picture above took off at the base and sailed right up to the top—and never gave it a thought.

You see, he's driving a 1953 Cadillac—with its great high compression 210-horsepower engine—and its vastly improved Hydra-Matic Drive.

We heard recently of two men who drove from Florida to Detroit—in a 1953 Cadillac.

The driver had made this trip before—and as they left Knoxville he said to his passenger: "Man, are we going to find a hill between here and Lexington!"

After an hour or so, the passenger said: "Where is the hill?"

And the driver said: "Just wait!"

So they waited—and presently they saw a sign which read: "Lexington."

The driver was dumbfounded.

"I can't understand it!" he said. "There used to be a hill there—a big one! I know from experience."

Naturally, this great car gives you more than the ability to master hills.

When you float along with a tremendous reserve like this, you have the easiest ride imaginable.

It gives you confidence, too—and helps you to relax—for you know you have the power for any emergency that may arise.

It makes the whole car a symphony in motion. In fact, the ride is so smooth and soothing that, not infrequently, passengers sleep as they ride.

Come in and try it for yourself. The car is waiting—and it's an experience you ought not to forego.

SMILEY . . .

By Mrs. Jim McCrum, Rt. 3, city

The Smiley Community Club met Friday evening at the Hall at one of the most enjoyable meetings the members have had for some time. Jack McKechnie, as chairman of the program committee did a good job by having the Shriners' Oriental band complete with costumes, of which he is a member, perform their mystic music in several numbers. Mr. McKechnie also gave a brief sketch on the origination of the Oriental band and the part they play, locally and nationally. An educational and colorful movie on "Orchards" was also enjoyed. The hilarious high light of the program was the side-splitting rendition of a musical number "The Long and the Short of It" by Judge Paul Lundgren and Jack McKechnie. The community club wishes to express a thank you to those Shriners who gave such a treat in the program for that evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Lendobeja, Mr. and Mrs. S. S. Nelson all of Smiley, Mr. and Mrs. B. K. Johnson of Kratka formed a little birthday surprise party on Mrs. Floryan Szymanski Wednesday evening at her home in Kratka. They brought a birthday cake and gifts.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Kisch announce the arrival of another grandchild, Debra Ann, who was born March 3 to Mr. and Mrs. Roy Stepan (Donna Kisch) in Minneapolis. This is the Kisch's third grandchild. The two others are children of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Ristau (Audrey Kisch) in Milwaukee.

Mrs. Mike Antonoff, Mrs. Geraldine Olson and daughter, Lana accompanied Joe Virzi to the Cities Sunday evening by car. Little Lana will receive medical aid at the University hospital. Mrs. Carl E. Olson is caring for her daughter's children during her absence.

Election of officers for the Bethany Luther League was held at the annual meeting Sunday evening in the church parlors. The new panel includes President, Mrs. J. W. Lendobeja, vice president, Gerald Sanders; secretary, Gloria Johnson; treasurer, Elwood Tieman. Elected as delegates to the National Luther League convention at Fargo in July were Robert Johnson and Dianne Lendobeja, alternates will be selected later. The pastor Rev. O. O. Bjorgan was pleasantly surprised on being reminded of his birthday by the Luther Leaguers when he was presented with a cash gift by the president, Mrs. J. W. Lendobeja who also baked a birthday cake for him. The cake was consumed along with a bounteous lunch served by all members.

Sunday evening visitors at the Jim McCrum home were Mr. and Mrs. Martin Karlstad, Mr. and Mrs. Iver Karlstad all of Thief River Falls. The Karlstads are former Smileyites.

A young miss was nine years old Sunday. She is Phyllis Olson and she had a birthday party Saturday afternoon at the home of her parents, the Mark Olsons. Her guests were the following classmates Faye Fuller, Joy Noel, Nancy Stensgaard, Dorothy Johnson, Angela, Gregory and Judith Rambeck, all of Thief River Falls. A neighbor girl who is not a classmate, Sharon Knutson, was also a guest. The girls had a wonderful time with games and a feast topped off with birthday cake and ice cream. Phyllis received pretty and useful gifts.

Visitors at the Norman Johnson home Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. VeDell Smith all of Crookston.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Kisch and Gardovon, and Janice Carpenter were Saturday evening visitors at the Vernon Kees home. They also helped young Vivian Kees celebrate her birthday.

Mrs. Adam Lendobeja left Sunday for the cities. While there she will attend a County Welfare Institute for four days. She accompanied several other local county welfare board members and a social welfare worker, David Nelson. Mrs. Lendobeja is a member of the county board also.

A goose dinner was enjoyed at the Mark Olson home Sunday by the following who also helped Phyllis Olsen celebrate her birthday, Mr. and Mrs. Jim McCrum, Marlyn and Bobby, Mr. and Mrs. Winton Knutson, A. P. Waller of Brinsmade, N. D. Afternoon visitors were Martin Holtmaker and Dennis Nelson. Mr. Waller will remain at the Olson home after having spent the winter months at the Winton Knutson home in Numedal.

A pink and blue shower was held for Mrs. Robert Peterson Thursday afternoon in the Bethany church parlors immediately after the Ladies Aid services and prior to the lunch served by Mrs. Adam Lendobeja and Mrs. Norman Johnson both of whom were the hostesses to the aid that afternoon. The lovely and numerous gifts were presented to Mrs. Peterson by Mrs. Arnold Hammer the Aid president.

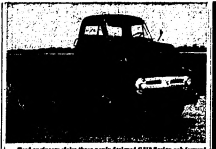
Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Kisch and Gardovon were Friday evening visitors at the R. H. Ruprecht home in Adger.

The Helperettes will meet at the Archie Anderson home next Wednesday, March 1st. The project lesson on "Fabrics" will be given by Mrs. Harlan Knutson and Mrs. Bob Kraemer. The president, Clara Olson, requests all aprons are to be finished and brought to this meeting for display.

The S-K twins hockey team played the Rockets in the Arena Thursday evening. It was a snappy game and the Twins were the losers.

Adam Lendobeja and Dianne spent Sunday afternoon at the Lloyd Johnson home in Rocksbury. Others there were Mrs. Ada Jorde and sons, Mr. and Mrs. Steve Jeanett and family, Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Swanson and daughter all from the Steiner community.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Knutson of Thief River Falls were Sunday evening supper guests at the Andrew Kisch home.



Ford engineers claim these newly-designed C-750 Series cab-forward trucks set a pattern for the industry with their wider, 3-man cabs with full-width seats. They have greater maneuverability and shorter turning radius; new, curved, one-piece windshield with 55 percent more visibility and 4-foot wide rear window. Synchro-silent transmissions do away with double clutching. This new cab-forward design makes possible almost all engine service operations from the front of the truck.

THE PRIZE BOOB

By Ona F. Lathrop

Bill Bayliss was the prize boob of all the neighbors in "The Court." If anybody as much as started a paint job on one of the little white houses that dotted the street like a string of china beads, Bill would come sauntering across, paintbrush in hand, with that look in his eye.

"Hi there, fella. See you got yourself a nice piece of work cut out. Want a little help?" And he'd set to and paint as long as the job held out.

If there was a lawn to grade or a fence to build, Bill would turn up with the proper tools, grinning in his good-natured way, and help until the job was done.

When Janet West wanted to entertain her bridge club in her newly pine-panelled living-room last spring before their sidewalks were in and their front yard a mudhole, here came Bill trundling a wheelbarrow of his own stepping stones that he'd taken up and brought over for Janet's 'girls' to walk in on. You couldn't hate a guy like that, and yet he made the rest of us feel like pikers!

Polly, his wife, complained a little. They had built their own house, moving in before the partitions were in to save rent and they were still 'finishing'—only there didn't seem to be any hurry about it—for Bill.

"If only Bill took as much interest in our own place as he does in the rest of yours," Polly would wail. "I've been trying to get him to put up shelves for my canned fruit for two years, and the children's room still isn't painted but he says that makes it nice—they can mark on the walls all they want to and then we'll do it over when they know better!"

The other wives sympathized with Polly, but they all welcomed his help and plied him with coffee and cokes, and you always heard them bragging what a wonderful fellow Bill was, and how possessive Polly was.

But when calamity struck, we opened our eyes. Polly and the children had been gone weeks caring for her sick mother when Bill went home dog-tired from helping Jim Curtis with his porch, and fell asleep with a cigarette in his hand. The next thing The Court knew, the fire department was tearing down the street trying to save the little white house that wasn't finished yet.

Bill didn't even let Polly know, and the next day he started all over again. But this time he wasn't alone. Every one of us had a debt to pay Bill Bayliss in one way or another and we were there too. That house got repaired in nothing flat, and we all turned in and painted it inside and out. The girls washed up the curtains and fixed the inside. We put up the shelves for the canned fruit and painted the kids' room in circus colors. We graded up the lawn that Bill had never got around to doing, and each of us contributed some planting or perennials where the firemen had trampled theirs out. Bob West even took up the stepping stones and came trundling them back to set in place the night before Polly came home.

When Polly walked in and saw things shining and heard what had happened, she broke down and wept on Bill's shoulder. We all stood around grinning proudly as if we'd originated the 'help one another' theory, until Polly said, "I know I don't rate all this, but I realize you did it for Bill, and he certainly deserves it. If ever a man was a big-hearted boob, it's Bill, and I'll never complain again when he goes off to help the rest of you."

We murmured silly things sheepishly about neighbors always standing ready to help, and that's what friends were for. But the look on Bill's face was enough to repay us a hundred times over for the little we had done. Now there's a guy that The Court is proud to have living in it, even if he is one prize boob!

FLAX GROWERS

IS YOUR INVESTMENT PROTECTED?

FEDERAL ALL-RISK FLAX CROP INSURANCE PROTECTS YOUR INVESTMENT ALL THE WAY—BUT YOU MUST ACT NOW!

Farmers expecting to carry Federal crop insurance on their 1953 Flax Crop are warned that time is running out for signing new applications. March 31, 1953 is the final date for receiving applications, according to Oscar J. Houske, chairman of the Pennington County PMA Committee, who administers the Federal Crop Insurance program in Pennington County.

After March 31st it will be too late to sign up for this all-risk policy for 1953. Every eligible flax producer who is interested in protecting this investment from planting to harvest is urged to contact the PMA office before that date.

The Federal Flax insurance policy covers all natural cropping risks, Mr. Houske explains. While the financial guarantee is not so attractive when compared to a bumper yield, the level of coverage is high enough to ease the shock when crops fail for any reason. The unprotected farmer who loses his cash operating expenses for one or two years is really crippled. The risk is too great and isn't necessary. Our crop insurance program operates on a sound business basis, and all claims are paid promptly by check.

Flax insurance contracts in force for 1953 are continuous, and will remain in effect from year to year unless cancelled by the insured. You may terminate your contract for the next year by cancelling it not later than December 31 of any year.

Crop conditions vary from year to year — no two years are alike. No one knows what hazards lie ahead for 1953, so why carry all the risk yourself when you can get protection for cost.

FOR FULL PARTICULARS CONTACT YOUR PMA OFFICE BEFORE MARCH 31, 1953

St. Paul Hospital Notes Centennial on May 16 and 17

Minnesota's oldest hospital, St. Joseph's of St. Paul, will observe its Centennial May 16 and 17, bringing world famous medical personalities to the Northwest.

Among them will be Sir Alexander Fleming of London, England, discoverer of penicillin; Dr. Philip S. Hench of the Rochester Mayo Clinic, co-discoverer of cortisone, and Dr. Richard R. Trail of England, tuberculosis specialist.

Both Sir Alexander Fleming and Dr. Hench are Nobel prize winners for their efforts in developing the two so-called "wonder drugs."

Other guests and speakers at the observance will include Dr. Louis H. Baier of Hempstead, N. Y., president of the American Medical Association; Dr. Harold L. Foss of Danville, Pa., president of the American College of Surgeons, and Dr. William Boyd, pathologist of the University of Vancouver, B. C.

Motorists Vision Theme of Parley

Because highway accidents rank high among the causes of death in people of all age groups, motorists vision will be the theme of the 53rd annual convention of the Minnesota Optometric Association, according to Dr. Harold L. Carlson, Mankato, president of the group. All sessions will be held at the St. Paul Hotel April 12, 13, 14.

Youth Camp Set for Oak Island

Sponsored by Catholic Diocese of Crookston

Dads can soon join their adventure-minded sons in the camping and canoe tripping of Laketrails Base Camp on Oak Island, Minn., farthest north recreation center for boys of high school age and older, Father Mehrkens, director, said today at East Grand Forks.

Laketrails, sponsored by the Catholic Youth Organization of the Crookston diocese, will open officially, June 27 and will close August 9.

The decision to encourage fathers to participate in the program was made at a recent meeting at Crookston.

Officials of the camp met to lay plans for the second summer of operation.

The camp fee for each week of camping is $35 for adults.

Boys are accepted after they have completed the eighth grade. The fee for boys of high school age and older is $25 for one week and $20 per week if the boy stays for two or more weeks.

Father Mehrkens said that any boy interested in attending the camp should write: Laketrails Base Camp, Box 324, East Grand Forks, Minn.

School District at Middle River Increased in Size

An additional fourteen sections of land were added to the Middle River high school area as a result of action taken by the Marshall county advisory committee Monday, March 16th at Warren.

A petition had been submitted to the advisory committee by the school board at Gatzke requesting that the remaining fourteen sections in the Gatzke district now in the Roseau high school area be transferred to the Middle River area.

After only a brief discussion the request was granted. No protest was made by Roseau.

The advisory committee consists of the superintendents of schools of Marshall county, with John O. Pearson, county superintendent, acting as secretary.

A 20-act water and stage show with Joe McKenna, Hollywood comedian, as Master of Ceremonies, will provide entertainment.

N. W. School to Hear 'U' M. Head Thursday

Dr. James L. Morrill, president of the University of Minnesota, will deliver the address at the 45th annual commencement exercises at Northwest School of Agriculture, Crookston, at 2:00 p. m. on Thursday, March 26.

Superintendent T. M. McCall announces that one hundred students from the Red River Valley counties of Minnesota and North Dakota will receive diplomas. Robert Hausmann of Hillsboro, North Dakota, valedictorian, will give the address for the senior class. Darrell Hausmann, a brother of Robert, the second highest ranking senior, has been named salutatorian for the class.

Music for the program will be provided by the mixed choir under the direction of Miss Patricia Harman. The processional, a two-piano arrangement, will be played by Adelle Larson, Twin Valley, and Marlys Love, Euclid; Miss Harman will play the recessional. The Reverend John G. Lewis of Crookston will give the invocation.

Scholarship certificates, medals, and scholarship cash awards for outstanding achievement during the school year will be awarded at the Commencement program.

Two Hazards Face Motorists During Spring Break-up

Two main spring-time road hazards face all motorists using Minnesota's trunk highways and rural roads, according to the Minnesota highway department. The chief threat to safe driving are breaks in the bituminous surfaces or heaves in concrete pavements. The Department's maintenance crews are making every effort to mark or repair all of these, but even so, reduced speeds, especially at night, are required for safe driving.

The other danger which exists presently on rural roads is listed by the Department as "soft shoulders." This condition is especially dangerous on newly-constructed roads on which shoulders have not yet had time to become covered with sod. Motorists are warned to drive onto all road shoulders at this time of year at greatly reduced speeds. High speeds can be extremely dangerous and can result in serious accidents.

Driving at reduced speeds, with added caution, can help motorists avoid needless accidents during the spring break-up on rural roads, says the Department. Paying strict attention to warning signs and flares is a motorist's best way to drive safely during this time of year.

Easy Rinsing

Spray attachments make rinsing easy, use less water, if that is a factor. They should be rinsed immediately so that soap doesn't streak them.

Busy Mines

West Virginia's mines annually ship at least five million tons of coal by barge down the Kanawha, Monongahela, and Ohio rivers.

Long Bridges

Florida's Overseas Highway to Key West ranks as one of the longest oceangoing roads in the world. One link, the Long Bridge, jumps seven miles of open water. The Thousand Islands International Bridge between New York State and Ontario leapfrogs from island to island for eight and a half miles. The San Francisco-Oakland Bay Bridge extends eight miles, including a tunnel in the middle through an island. A railroad bridge over Lake Pontchartrain in Louisiana is seven miles long, with a nearby highway bridge of five miles. Gandy Bridge near Tampa, Florida, which like the Chesapeake Bay Bridge is part causeway, totals six miles.

SLEEPY JAKE'S RABBIT

By Virginia Struble

It was mid-February and too cold to placer the creek, so the miners were gathered in the Crystal Palace Saloon. The Crystal Palace had no crystal and was as flimsy as any building on the gulch. But it was warm and the boys sat near the stove swapping yarns because they couldn't afford to drink or play faro.

"Wish something would happen," said Hank with his elbows on the bar. "I don't get even the exercise of turning a spigot when you boys are broke."

Big Mike, owner of the Crystal, rubbed a hole in the frosty window with his fist and looked out.

"Here's news," Mike announced. "Sleepy Jake's shot a rabbit. Got it while he was setting coyote traps probably."

"That's news all right," yawned Steve, who sat tilted back in a chair with his feet on a table. "The rabbit must have been sleepier than old Jake."

"How sound do you suppose Jake sleeps?" asked Buckeye Williams.

"We was Pike's Peakers together," said Jack. "He slept so sound one night his cabin liked to burned down on him. Had to throw water on him to wake him up. I got a Lincoln skin that says Jake wouldn't wake up if we was to walk in and eat that rabbit right under his nose." Jack held the bill.

"I got trade dust to match you." Mike pulled out his pouch.

Steve brought the front legs of his chair down to the floor with a bang. "Tell you what. Buck and me are disinterested parties since we can't bet. We'll go over to Jake's and eat the rabbit."

"That's one way to get a square meal when you're broke." Mike's laugh took the sting from his words. "First we got to be sure the rabbit is cooked and Jake's asleep. How long does it take to cook a rabbit, Hank?"

"'Bout three hours, I'd say, if it's an old one." He pulled on his black mustache. "If Jake ketched him, he's sure to be old."

Three hours and several games of seven-up later, the miners wrapped themselves in heavy coats, caps and mittens and tramped out into the snow packed street.

The four moved quickly toward Jake's shanty. There a savory odor greeted them.

"Mmm!" Steve licked his lips as he put his ear to the crack in the door. "Yep, he's snoring. It's a cinch."

Big Mike pulled the rags out of the broken window to watch the proceedings. Jack crowded up beside him. Steve pushed the door open and Buck followed him inside.

Jake slept in a chair. A heavy skillet was steaming on the stove and the men tip-toed toward it. Steve set the lid aside. Buck took a fork from the table and speared a piece of meat. While he waved it in the air to cool, Steve knifed himself a brown-crusted leg.

Buck bit into his piece and pantomimed its excellence to the men at the window. He cleaned off the choicest of the meat and reached for another piece.

"Give us some," whispered Jack. Two rib pieces were pushed through the hole. Steve stumbled over a coyote trap but Jake in his rickety chair, continued snoring.

They piled the bones on the table and Buck smeared grease on Jake's lips and hands. Reaching for Mike's flashy tie pin, he motioned Steve outside. Buck knelt behind Jake's chair and gave a vicious stab with the pin.

Jake let out a startled yelp and sprang to his feet. He looked at the empty skillet, the pile of bones, his greasy hands, and ran his tongue over his lips.

"I must have et that rabbit in my sleep," he said doubtfully, "but it sure lies light on my stomach."

After the laughing was over, Jake shook his head. "Sorry to tell you this, boys, but that rabbit was bad sick. I was cooking it for coyote bait."

Coal burned in the generation of electricity for New York City is at the rate of an entire trainload every six hours—more than 280 cars of coal every 24 hours.

In 1914 it took wages from 22 hours of factory work to purchase one ton of bituminous coal, while in 1951 it took only 10 hours.

KRATKA . . .

By Mrs. Alvin [illegible]

Mrs. Archie Wilson passed away March 14 at the home of her brother Elton Johnson in Eatonville, Wash., where she and her husband had spent the winter months. She was laid to rest in Telemarken church Saturday March 21 where she was a faithful member. During her lingering illness she never complained, but her charming personality will always live on in the hearts and minds of those who knew and loved her. Sincere sympathy is extended to Archie Wilson for the recent loss of his loved one. Relatives from a distance who attended Mrs. A. Wilson's funeral were Mr. and Mrs. Fred Wilson of Minneapolis, Mrs. June Berg of Rapid City, S. D., Mrs. Evelyn Van Scholack of Watertown, S. D. and Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Kjolsing of Spicer, Minn. Hilda Wilson also returned to her home in Thief River Falls after spending the winter months with her daughter Evelyn in Watertown, S. D.

Snake River

Leaving Idaho at Lewiston, the Snake crosses southeast Washington to join the Columbia near Pasco. The Snake river's 109,000-square-mile basin is two-fifths of the area of the Columbia river system. Small ocean vessels threading inland some 400 river miles to Lewiston, make the lumber center Idaho's "seaport." A score of dams already in use along the Snake river and its tributaries produce electric power, help absorb spring floods, and store water carried by concrete sluices to desert reclamation tracts where potatoes, sugar beets, and grains are grown.

If Pie Runs Over

If a pie runs over in the oven, smoke and odor can be prevented by sprinkling salt over the juice.

Epilepsy

The epilepsy seizure itself is only a sign of the trouble. The trouble is an irritation of the brain. The brain has many functions, and it has a part for each function. One part we think and learn with. One part has to do with seeing and hearing. We control muscles with one part. The kind of seizure a person has depends—to a large extent—on the part of the brain that has been mildly injured. This irritation can start before birth or anytime after. But in many persons with epilepsy, the cause of the trouble can't be found.

Two Universities Launch New Journalism Courses

Two Eastern universities—Syracuse and the Hartford Seminary Foundation—have announced a joint program to train men and women to write simple leaflets and articles for the millions of adults who are learning to read in underdeveloped countries around the world.

The announcement was made by Dr. Wesley C. Clark, dean of the Syracuse University School of Journalism, and Dr. J. Maurice Hohlfeld, acting dean of the Kennedy School of Missions of the Hartford Seminary Foundation, "a university of religion" at Hartford, Conn.

The need for workers trained in "literacy journalism" or "simply journalism" has been pointed up recently, because technical programs to develop the so-called backward countries rely on the printed word for long-term success, Deans Clark and Hohlfeld said. The step is also a reaction to the expansion of Communism.

"The Communists have worked diligently to spread their cheap propaganda materials among the masses of Asia as they learn to read," the announcement added. "By contrast, our side has been pretty slow in getting out newspapers and magazines for the new readers in their own languages."

"But now we're going to do it. Both thoughtful leaders in the West and officials of national governments in the East are coming to see that we have to produce simple, helpful literature to educate and inspire new literates. This agreement is one of the first big steps to that goal."

The plan provides that qualified college graduates shall spend a year at the Foundation in Hartford to study such courses as adult literacy education, linguistics and anthropology. Then each student will spend a year at Syracuse in writing, editing and graphic arts classes. Upon completion of the program, he will receive a master of science degree from Syracuse University. Robert Laubach, who has been on literacy teams in Africa and Southeast Asia, Professor Root, acting director of religious journalism, and Dr. George Bird, chairman of the Graduate Division will cooperate in the program at the Syracuse School of Journalism.

"Because of the need for this kind of journalism, we believe graduates will find opportunities to go abroad and enter this new writing and editing field," Dean Clark said. "The United States government, the various governments of Asia, and private organizations, such as church mission boards, have expressed a desire for qualified persons who can put out attractive publications for the masses of Africa, the Near East and Asia."

KRATKA . . .

Mr. and Mrs. Manuel Rude returned to their farm in Kratka on Monday. They had spent the past five months in Williston, N. Dak. where Mr. Rude was employed with the Gardner Electric Co. The winter was exceptionally nice out there. The months of February being the warmest in 22 years. When they left plans were under way for an Oil Discovery Day celebration to be held April 17th and 18th at which mineral rights valued at $5,000 were to be given away and there was to be a free Western barbecue for 15,000 people. Williston is a center for the oil industry being developed in Northwestern North Dakota. A recent survey indicated there would be need for 500 workers by May 1st.

Cherry Trees.

Oriental flowering cherry trees are no longer imported because of the danger of bringing in disease which might harm American stone fruits. However, the original and subsequent importations have provided a source of beautiful trees which may be found flowering throughout the United States. In the same spirit that prompted Tokyo's gift 40 years ago, Washington has just sent 55 cuttings to Japan from the 11 trees still living of the original Tidal Basin planting.

OUR LAND

Prepared by the Minnesota Soil Conservation Service in cooperation with University Farm, St. Paul

Mulching Machine

Kenneth Hoppe, Wilkin Soil Conservation District, has an unusual piece of equipment. It is a mulching machine which attaches behind the plow and picks up straw from unplowed land and places it over on the fresh plowing, thus protecting the loose soil from wind erosion. "Of all the machinery I have, that is one piece I would never dispose of," he said. Kenneth has his farm laid out in strips and two 4-row shelterbelts run east and west across the 160 acres. Last spring he set aside a 3-acre plot and planted it to trees and shrubs to furnish food and cover for upland game and birds. Usually this is done with wasteland, but Kenneth's plot is the same soil as most of his farm, and in fact was part of one of his strips.

More Alfalfa Seed Available

There will be more certified Ranger alfalfa seed available in 1953 than ever before, according to L. J. Elling, research associate in agronomy at the University of Minnesota. And the price will be lower than at any time in the past. Production of certified Ranger is estimated at about 27,000,000 pounds for 1952 as compared with 14,000,000 pounds in 1951 and 4,7000,000 pounds in 1950. Approximately 83 per cent of the certified Ranger was produced in Arizona, California and southern Utah in 1952. This is outside the region of adaptation for this variety. However, if you buy certified Ranger you are buying seed that will give satisfactory performance. Don't buy Ranger from the Southwest that's not certified.

Hegseth Elected

Theodore Hegseth of Fergus Falls was elected president of the Minnesota Association of Soil Conservation Districts at the association's annual meeting at St. Cloud, January 8. Mrs. Burton Chambers of Owatonna was reelected president of the women's auxiliary, Daughters of the Soil.

Wins Camp Story Prize

Earl Madison, St. Paul, has been named winner of first place in the newspaper reporting contest for 4-H club members who attended the 4-H Conservation Camp at Itasca Park last September. He won $5 for the best published newspaper account of the camp activities. Winners of $3 and $2 second and third prizes were Margaret Boggs, Aitkin, and Lorna Underthuun, Danvers.

IF PHILIP APPROVES

By DOROTHY BOYS KILIAN

IN the flickering firelight John could see the grave expression on Katherine's face; he knew what she was thinking about. He leaned forward and said earnestly, "My dear, I'm afraid of what tomorrow may do to you. And I think it's time to put up a real fight for our happiness—yours and mine."

Katherine turned to him. "Darling, you know I've come to love you. I can't tell you what knowing you this last year has meant to me."

"But that isn't enough, Kathie. That's only the beginning—or should be. I want to marry you, you know, or haven't you heard?"

"I have heard, John." Katherine smiled and patted his arm. "And I don't mind telling you I loved hearing it; but—well, you know what is worrying me." She glanced instinctively up toward the second floor.

"Yes, I know. It's Philip. But Kathie, your son is twelve years old, old enough to realize how lonesome you've both been these seven years since his dad died. And you know I'd do my darndest to be a good father to him."

"Of course you would, John. And he doesn't dislike you. But somehow, oh it's hard to explain, you just haven't gotten next to him."

John stirred uneasily. "Yes, I think I understand. And that's what worries me so about tomorrow. When you and Phil go to that dedication ceremony, and he sees the new airport being named for his own father—well, it may make you both slip back into the past where I can never find you; unless we've come to a definite decision about us beforehand."

Katherine was still for a moment. Then she said, "I'm afraid you're right. Why don't you go upstairs and talk to him now?"

"I'd like to, but what on earth can I say to him at such a time as this?"

"Just try it, John."

John stood up slowly. "Here's hoping," he said.

Philip's bedroom door was half open. John stopped just outside and looked in. Phil, standing at his dresser, gave no sign that he knew anyone had come up.

"Phil, may I come in?" John asked.

"What?" Phil turned around. "Oh sure, sure, come in."

He moved away from the dresser and John realized that the boy had been looking at his dad's photograph.

A wave of frustration swept over John as he looked from the picture of the father to the living son. He knew what Katherine meant. She could not hurt this image of her first love. All the things he had thought of saying sounded hopelessly inadequate. Philip waited silently.

Yes, it was impossible to say anything now. As John turned reluctantly to go out, he put his hand on Phil's shoulder. "Take care of your mother, tomorrow, Philip. It may be hard for her," he said, and started out the door.

"Wait!" Philip's voice was trembling. "What made you say that?"

"Why—" John hesitated. "I guess because I love your mother so much," he answered gently.

Warmth was creeping into Phil's eyes as he looked up into John's face. "I have to tell you—" the words rushed out. "It gave me the funniest feeling when you said that. It's exactly what Dad said to me. The day he left that last time, he stopped me in the hall just before we all went out to the car."

The room was very quiet for a moment. John fairly held his breath.

Then Philip came closer and laid a hand almost timidly on his arm. "You know what?" he said. "I think Dad would have liked you. I think he'd like you to help me take care of Mom."

"It's all right then, about your mom and me?" John wanted to be very sure.

"Yep, it's O.K. by me." Phil smiled.

"Come on," John said. "Let's go down and tell her."

QUESTIONS answered for VETERANS

(This service is based on questions asked at Veterans Administration offices in the State. Answers are supplied by VA.)

Q: If a veteran gets additional disability compensation for a dependent parent, is that additional amount sent directly to the parent, or is it part of the check the veteran gets?

A: The additional amount becomes part of the single monthly check that the veteran receives. It is not paid separately to the parent.

Q: I have been rated 80 percent disabled by the VA. I have five children. Will I get additional compensation pay for each one of my children?

A: No. You will receive the extra amount that is paid to veterans with three or more children. There are no additional rates authorized for children in excess of three.

Q: I made out a check to VA for my National Service Life Insurance premium, and my bank returned it to VA, stating there weren't sufficient funds to cover it. Meantime, it turned out the bank made a mistake; I did have sufficient funds. Will VA give me the chance to make up the payment without jeopardizing my insurance protection?

A: Yes. VA will give you an additional period of 31 days from the date of its letter notifying you of nonpayment, to make up all back premiums through the current month.

JUST WHAT MAKES A GREAT UNIVERSITY?

Teaching is probably the basic activity of any educational institution, but more than that is involved in a University of the size and strength of Minnesota's great institution. Extension services, carrying the University to farm and home, are a major part of this pattern of activity. Third factor is research, in many forms in many fields. Cultural and recreational opportunities at U of M are numerous and diversified. Convocations bring speakers of national note. Participation and audience music thrive in University Band, Student Symphony, various Choruses, Artists Course, Minneapolis Symphony Orchestra. There are University Theater and University Gallery; the huge main and many technical libraries, major and minor museums; Coffman and Ag Unions with restaurants, music, indoor games; and the far-reaching intra-mural and inter-campus sports and athletic program so popular with so many.

Two County Men Lose Lives in Car-truck Collision in Fog Near City Early Tuesday Morning

Paul Schenke of This City and Lloyd Wilkens of Goodridge Are Killed

A double tragedy struck this community Tuesday morning when Lloyd Wilkens, 32, of the Goodridge community, and Paul Schenke, 37, of Thief River Falls were killed in a car-truck collision on a county road seven miles east and one mile north of this city.

Poor visibility resulting from a heavy fog prevailing early in the morning was held accountable for the accident, which occured shortly before 8 o'clock at a road intersection.

At the time of the crash, the milk truck driven by Schenke was proceeding north, while Wilkens was driving his car west toward Thief River Falls, with Mrs. Wilkins and their sons Ronald, 5, and Donald, 2, as passengers.

The entire family was thrown out of the car by the impact, landing in a field nearby, where the car came to rest. Wilkens died shortly after being placed in an ambulance. His wife, an expectant mother, escaped with bruises and minor lacerations, but is being treated in a local hospital for shock.

The two children were reported at the hospital as being in poor condition, both suffering from concussions and shock, in addition to which Donald has severe lacerations about the face.

Schenke's death was believed to have been almost instantaneous, he having been thrown free of the truck into a water-filled ditch, with a portion of the wrecked truck body covering him.

At the time of the accident the Wilkens family, who live two and one-half miles north of Goodridge, were on their way to the hospital in this city where their seven-year-old daughter was to undergo a tonsillectomy.

Paul Schenke has lived in Thief River Falls since returning from service in World War II, and he is survived by his wife and two daughters. Funeral arr-

Festival Rites Arranged Here Easter Sunday

Local Churches Will Join in Celebrating Christ's Resurrection

Christ's resurrection will be celebrated on Easter Sunday, April 5, in festival services in churches in this community and throut the Christian world. The rite of Holy Communion also is being administered the remaining days of the Lenten season.

Trinity church will hold a sunrise communion service Sunday at 6 a. m., followed by a festival service at 10:30, the Sunday School session being canceled. Norwegian communion service will be held Thursday at 3:30 p. m., followed at 8 p. m. by communion for those with surnames from A to M, while Friday at 8 communion will be held for those with names from N to Z.

Zion church will hold a sunrise service Easter morning at 7, followed by festival services at 10:30. Special music will be supplied at both services. Communion rites are scheduled for Thursday evening at 8.

St. John's Lutheran church will conduct services on Good Friday at 8:15 p. m. and Easter services Sunday morning at 10:30. The Evangelical Free church will hold services Sunday at 11 a. m., and a testimony meeting at 7:45 p. m.

The Community Methodist church has arranged two identical Easter services for 9:30 and 11 a. m. Sunday. The choir will sing, and there will be no Sunday school. The First Lutheran church also will hold two services Sunday at 9 and 11 a. m.

The Mission Covenant church will hold its Easter service at 11 a. m. and the Sunday school will present several numbers at the evening services at 7 o'clock.

The Sunday school at the local Tabernacle also will share in Easter services to be held Sunday morning at 9:45, with the church choir also participating. The regular 11 a. m. service has been canceled.

$2,319 Turned in to Red Cross up to First of Week

R. J. Dryden, Campaign Chairman, Extends Drive to Saturday, April 4th

With $2,319.83 in contributions turned in up to the first of the week against a quota of $4,624, the annual Red Cross fund drive in Pennington county, scheduled to close March 31, has been extended to Saturday, April 4, R. J. Dryden, campaign chairman, announced today.

He added that considerably more than the amount turned in has been collected to date, but that the canvassers are holding up returns until their assignments have been completed.

Included in the amount turned in is $1,112.75 collected in about three-fourths of the business district by teams under the supervision of Stanley Gibson and Philip Hess.

Dryden urged solicitors, both in the city and rural areas, to make every effort to turn in their final reports by April 4. He added that those who have not been solicited, but who wish to make a contribution, may mail it to him at the local postoffice.

Pennington Board Asks Final Plans for Court House

The Pennington county board, at an adjourned session last Wednesday, made further minor changes in the layout of offices in the plans for the proposed new court house.

The drawings were then returned to the architects, M. O. Foss & Co. of Moorhead, with the request that they be revised and returned for consideration by the board at its April meeting next Tuesday.

If approved at that time, the board will order preparation of working plans for the structure, which is expected to require several months, so that actual construction will be delayed until the spring of 1954.

Second of Series of Drawings for Prizes Set for Friday Night

Eldevik Named to Head Elks Lodge

To Be Installed April 9 Succeeding Bloomquist

R. S. ELDEVIK

R. S. Eldevik, manager of the local office of the state employment service, was named exalted ruler of the Elks lodge in its annual election Thursday evening. He will be installed April 9 as successor to J. E. Bloomquist, who has served the past year.

Others elected include Alvin Christofferson, leading knight; Robert Carlson, loyal knight; Philip Prichard, lecturing knight; Ole E. Engelstad, secretary; Stanton R. Dahlen, treasurer; Myron Haroldson, trustee; and Elmer Satre, tiler.

Eldevik will serve as delegate to the grand lodge convention to be held this summer in St. Louis, Missouri, with Bloomquist as alternate. Delegates also were named to attend the Elks state convention in Duluth.

C. and C. to Meet at Noon Thursday

Melvin Joppru to Tell about His Sales Barn

Members of the Civic and Commerce association at their luncheon meeting in the Rex Cafe Thursday noon, April 2, will hear a talk by Melvin Joppru on the successful operation of his livestock sales barn adjoining this city on the northwest.

Reports also will be submitted by Ward Nichols on tourist traffic from Canada, and by Bill LaFave on a measure recently enacted by the state legislature to re-route Highway 59 directly north from Lancaster to the Canadian border.

Stanton R. Dahlen, national councilor of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce, will report on the annual election of directors being conducted by the chamber.

Cancer Fund Drive Opens in County

Solicitation Starts in Rural Districts Today

The Pennington county campaign for funds to support the National Cancer Society's program of research into the cause and treatment of the disease is getting under way today in the rural areas of the county, and will start next week in Thief River Falls.

Mrs. Marjorie Kiland, county commander, stated that Mrs. Agnes Israelson is chairman of the fund drive, assisted by Mrs. Charles Booren and Mrs. Orris Johnson, co-chairmen.

A solicitation of both the business and residence districts of this city will be conducted, said Mrs. Kiland.

Airline Service Restored Today

After City Engineer Douglas Stewart announced Tuesday that the runway at the municipal airport was again in condition for use, Chet Matthews, station manager for North Central Airlines, stated that scheduled airline service between this city and Minneapolis was resumed this morning (Wednesday).

Following a successful premiere of Friday evening store openings March 27, at which ten valuable prizes were awarded to as many patrons among the hundreds stationed in local stores, it was announced today that 11 similar prizes will be distributed Friday evening, April 3.

Eligible to compete are all those who registered March 27, and also those who register Friday of this week between the hours of 3 and 6 p. m. This will be the last registration to be conducted, altho the drawings will continue Friday evenings, April 10 and 17. Only those 18 years or older may register.

To avoid conflict with Lenten services, the drawing Friday will be conducted at 7, 7:30 and 9 p. m. with the winners required to be in one of the stores.

Prizes to be drawn for at 7 p. m. include a $25 grocery coupon, men's or ladies watch, electric shaver and clock radio. To be drawn at 7:30 are a watch, electric coffee maker, waffle iron and grill, steam iron and electric mixer.

Registrants will not be required to be present, in one of the stores to qualify for the living room suite to be awarded at 9 o'clock. Two one-year subscriptions to the Thief River Falls Times also will be given away.

In last Friday's drawings, the principal prize of a $100 wardrobe was awarded to Henry Rasmusson of Middle River, who was not required to be present. Other prizes awarded to patrons in the various business places included the following, the winners having been selected in a drawing conducted over Radio Station KTRF under the direction of Don Olson, station manager.

S. W. Kezar, Rt. 4, electric shaver; Ernest Thompson, Fosston, 21-jewel watch; Wesley Jorgenson, Newfolden, and Mrs. Nicolai Urdahl, Rt. 3, Goodridge, 1 year subscriptions to the Times; Mrs. J. M. Thorstad, city, $25 grocery coupon; Nels Syverson, city, combination waffle iron and grill; Mrs. Floyd Canfield, city, boys bicycle; Mrs. L. W. Manning, city, steam iron; Mrs. John Scholin, Rt. 5, electric coffee maker; Oscar Liden, city, electric mixer.

Two Halma Young Men Hospitalized by Auto Accident

Sustain Injuries When Stolen Car Runs into Ditch Near St. Hilaire

Two Halma young men were hospitalized here, one of them with serious injuries, when the stolen car in which they were riding ran into the ditch a mile south of St. Hilaire Saturday evening at 8:30.

Sheriff Arthur Rambeck, who investigated the circumstances, said that the two, Morris Anderson and Earl Peterson, had started out from their home in a decrepit old car with no license plates.

When they got near Red Lake Falls, the car ran out of oil, and the youths abandoned it, going into Red Lake Falls, where they took a car owned by Lawrence Audette of that city, and then started north.

Anderson is being treated in the hospital for a brain concussion, a broken hip and broken ribs. He is making a good recovery, his physician said Monday.

Peterson, who escaped with cuts about the head and a sprained ankle, will be released from the hospital shortly. A service man, he was home on emergency leave due to the fact that his father was in a Warroad hospital after having been injured in a car mishap.

It was indicated that Red Lake county authorities will bring charges against the pair as a result of stealing the Audette car.

LOCAL MASONS INVITED TO RECEIVE HOLY COMMUNION

Rev. E. C. Mead, minister of the Community Methodist church, announced today that members of the Masonic lodge may receive the sacrament of Holy Communion at the church Thursday evening, April 2, at 7 o'clock.

Red Lake River Friday Claims Life of Child, 2

Arlyn Arthur Adamson Drown When He Strays into River at Horseshoe

Red Lake river in this city claimed its first victim of the year Friday afternoon when Arlyn Arthur Adamson, age 2, son of Mr. and Mrs. Merlyn Adamson of the Horseshoe area, was drowned shortly before 5 o'clock.

He had been playing with two other children when last seen, and a few minutes after it was discovered he was missing, his mother and neighbors, aided by the police, began a search for him.

Little tracks were found leading out to the edge of a 20-foot wide ledge of ice between the river bank and open water, and after a 40-minute search the child was found in the water about 200 feet down stream, where he had been carried by the swift current.

Benedict O'Boyle, a neighbor, started administering artificial respiration, and firemen used the resuscitator, but to no avail.

Arlyn Arthur Adamson was born November 19, 1950, at Fordville, N. Dak. The family moved here in June of 1951. He is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Merlyn Adamson; a sister, Sherry LaRae; a brother, Don Lynn; grandparents Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Infeld of Fordville, N. Dak. and Mr. and Mrs. Grant Adamson of Thief River Falls; great grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Infeld of Fordville, N. Dak.; great grandfathers, Gotfred Anderson of Middle River and Joseph Ryant of Fordville, N. Dak.

Funeral services were held at one o'clock Tuesday afternoon at Zion Lutheran Church, with the Rev. Walter M. Pedersen officiating. Burial was made at Greenwood.

Jaycees Will Pick Candidates Apr. 2

In preparation for their annual election of officers to be conducted later this month, members of the Junior Chamber of Commerce will nominate a slate of candidates at a meeting Thursday evening, April 2, at 6:30 in Inga's Cafe, Milton Relerson, secretary, announced today.

Mrs. Grace Disse of Detroit Lakes arrived here Tuesday for the birthday of her granddaughter, Linda Sue Disse, and to spend a few days at the Dr. Disse home.

County Agents to Be Guests April 2 of Dairy Day Unit

County agents from a dozen counties in Northwestern Minnesota that are cooperating in arrangements for the annual Northwest Dairy Day in Thief River Falls June 9 have been invited to attend a meeting in the Elks club rooms Thursday evening, April 2, at which detailed plans for the event will be developed.

The meeting of the board of directors was called by Stuart McLeod, president of the Northwest Dairy Improvement association, sponsoring agency.

He stated that Lew Conlon of Minneapolis, manager of the Minnesota dairy industry committee and one of the originators of Dairy Day, also is expected to be present.

E. C. Karwand Body Found in His Home Tuesday Evening

Longtime Resident of City Died of Gunshot Wound - Sunday Night

E. C. Karwand, native of this community and for many years rural credit supervisor here, late Tuesday was found dead in his home with a shotgun wound in his head. A note had been left by him indicating that he had taken his own life in a fit of despondency.

The body was discovered seated on a chair in the back entry of the Karwand home when a neighbor called to consult him on a business matter. He was alone at the time the rash act was committed, Mrs. Karwand having been confined in a local hospital for most of the past two months.

A near neighbor reported to authorities having heard what sounded like the report of a gun Sunday night at about 12:30. The weapon used was a .410 shotgun.

Mr. Karwand was a veteran of the first World War, and was married shortly after the war to Miss Bertha Olson, who survives his death, together with a son Elwood, serving with the air force in Alaska.

As a young man, Karwand had served as cashier of the former Citizens State bank of Hazel.

Funeral arrangements are being held up, pending word as to when Elwood Karwand will arrive from Alaska. A complete obituary will be published in the next issue of the Times.

Stores Close 12 to 3 Good Friday, April 3, for Special Services

Traditional Good Friday services will be held Friday afternoon at the city Auditorium, under the joint sponsorship of the First, Zion and Trinity Lutheran churches. With the cooperation of the businessmen, stores will be closed from 12 to 3 p. m. The service begins at 1:15 p. m.

"How God Meets Man," is the general theme of the service for this year. The first sermon will be preached by the Rev. Carl F. Johnson on the subject: "Facing the Cost." The Rev. G. S. Thompson will preach on "Paying the Price." and the Rev. Walter M. Pedersen will discuss the theme: "Redemption Assured."

A floral setting will be arranged by Mostue's Floral Shop, and special music will be supplied by the Zion ladies' sextette.

Good Friday services also will be held at 1:30 in the Community Methodist church. The Rev. E. C. Mead will speak on "The Seven Words from the Cross."

Geo. Mostue Sells Greenhouses to St. Paul Resident

George Mostue, local florist, today announced the sale of his greenhouse property at 933 Arnold av. N., recently operated by Newland Bros., to Aldin R. Sampson of St. Paul.

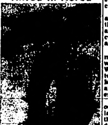
Sampson was graduated in July, 1952, from the University of Minnesota college of agriculture, where he majored in floriculture and horticulture. He is a veteran of five years of service in naval aviation in World War II, being discharged with the rank of lieutenant senior grade.

Sampson has been joined here by his wife and four children.

EASTER VACATION UNDER WAY IN LOCAL SCHOOLS

If school pupils look unusually cheerful this week, it is because they are enjoying their annual Easter vacation, which started Friday afternoon and will continue until Tuesday morning, April 7.

Killed in Korea



JOSEPH KREMINSKI JR.

Who was killed in the fighting in Korea March 21. The picture above had been taken in Korea February 18, according to word received from him by his wife in this city preceding his death. He was 24 years old on February 26. Preceding his induction into the Marine Corps January 21, 1952, Kreminski had been employed by the Soo Line in Thief River Falls for five years at the roundhouse and as a fireman.

Council Acts to Give Salary Hike to City Employes

Also Discusses Fire Truck Pact with North and Rocksbury Boards

At an adjourned meeting of the city council Tuesday evening, action was taken to adjust the salaries of municipal employees, giving the majority an increase of $10 per month, effective April 1.

Present at the meeting were members of the town boards and other citizens of North and Rocksbury townships. They submitted a suggested contract between the boards and the city for the operation of the rural fire truck the two townships propose to purchase. It was indicated action on the contract will be taken at the next meeting of the council.

The council granted the request of the Northwest Dairy Improvement association for permission to erect a tent at the rear of the arena for use in the event of unfavorable weather on Dairy Day June 9.

City Attorney Robert A Wurst was instructed to draft an ordinance regulating the activities of out-of-town dry cleaners within this city.

PAST MASTERS TO STAGE INITIATION FOR MASONS

Pre-school Clinic Is Scheduled for Saturday April 18

The annual pre-school clinic for children who will be attending kindergarten next September will be held Saturday, April 18, it was announced today by Mrs. Andy Williamson, who again will serve as chairman.

She added that Saturday, April 25, has been set as the date for medical examinations, vaccination and immunization. Children who plan to start school, she said, are required to register and attend both clinics.

Further details will be announced in later issues of the Times.

Women's Auxiliary of N. W. Hospital to Be Formed Apr. 8

Head of Kittson County Hospital Unit to Speak at Organization Meeting

Progress in arrangements for the organization meeting of the Northwestern Hospital women's auxiliary is shown in developments the past week. The meeting will be held Wednesday evening, April 8, at 8:00 p. m. in the Civic & Commerce room in the basement of the city Auditorium.

Speakers will include Mrs. M. A. Ziegler of Kennedy, president of the county-wide Kittson Memorial Hospital Women's auxiliary of Kittson county, and Harold W. Peterson, administrator of Northwestern Hospital.

A large number of personal telephone invitations have been made and some 500 return postcard announcements of the meeting have been sent out. These announcements include invitations to a great many women outside the city limits of Thief River Falls, and an attempt has been made to include representatives of women's organizations in the numerous outside communities served by Northwestern Hospital.

The organizing committee in its attempt to contact interested women expresses regret at its inability to get in touch with all women in the hospital area who might possibly be interested in allying themselves with this organization. They want to express their unqualified wish to have as many women attend this meeting as possible, both inside and outside the Thief River Falls community. Whether a personal or postcard invitation has been received or not, all women in the area served by Northwestern Hospital are cordially invited, it was announced.

Local Couple Exchange Vows Here Saturday

In a ceremony at the Community Methodist parsonage at eight o'clock Saturday evening, March 28, marriage vows were exchanged by Marie Rubie Bryant, daughter of Mrs. Helmer Udstrand of this city, and Clyde Shumway, son of Mrs. J. S. Steen, also of Thief River Falls. The single ring service was read by the Rev. E. C. Mead.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her mother, wore a dress of pink and white silk chiffon, with white pumps, and a white orchid corsage. Mrs. Derwood Lund, sister of the groom, attended the bride as matron of honor. Her street length dress was of taffeta having a black background with pink floral print, and her corsage was made up of carnations and pink roses. Vernon Stenberg of this city was best man. The groom and his attendant wore white carnation boutonnieres.

For the occasion, the mother of the bride chose a beige dress of silk crepe with a mixed corsage. Mrs. Steen was attired in a black silk taffeta and had a similar corsage.

Mrs. J. S. Steen entertained the bridal party at a reception following the ceremony. A two-tier wedding cake centered the table from which refreshments were served.

Mr. and Mrs. Shumway left on a weekend trip to Grand Forks and have returned to make their home at 520 Tindolph Ave. So., Thief River Falls. The groom is employed as bookkeeper for the Falls Soft Water Service. Before her marriage the bride was a waitress at the Hotel Pennington Coffee Shop.

Relatives here for the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. James Steen of Riverdale, N. D. and Mr. Derwood Lund.

Miss Gladys Strum, in company with the Misses Orpha and Irene Johnson and Deldrea Andol of Roseau, spent the weekend in the Twin Cities attending the Ice Follies and visiting with friends.

Wayne Loeffler Marks Seventh Birthday March 26

Mrs. Elgin Loeffler entertained Saturday afternoon in honor of her son Wayne on his seventh birthday. The children enjoyed a series of games, for which they received prizes, and Mrs. Loeffler served a birthday lunch featuring individual cakes with lighted candles.

Wayne received a variety of gifts from his friends including Joel Wiener, Kenneth Larson, David Borsheim, Bobby Loeffler, Michael Dahlen, Roger Johnson, Ronald Kvikstad, Steven Stokke, John Couvrette, Patrick Munt, Robert Benson, and Thomas Morben.

On Sunday Mrs. Loeffler again entertained for Wayne, having as her guests Mr. and Mrs. Joe Loeffler, Mr. and Mrs. Francis Loeffler, and Miss Lucille Loeffler.

LIBRARY NOTES

To make the library more in keeping with the season, friends have brought pussy willows. Children are donating eggs for the egg tree. Mr. Waldorf came in with a beautiful bunch of snapdragons grown in the city greenhouse.

Boys and men are especially interested in two fine martin houses made by William Hoefer. By the way, we saw something in Mr. Hoefer's work shop up on LaBree Avenue which we know will have a strong appeal for little girls. Mr. Hoefer has promised to lend it for display, anytime we can use it. This will be soon after Easter.

Several people are working on correspondence courses connected with the North Dakota or Minnesota Universities and spend time at the library doing research. Besides material owned by the local library, books from the Library Division of the Department of Education in St. Paul are available, and in some cases, books from twin city libraries through an inter-library loan arrangement.

Books received this week and ready for circulation are:

Vanderbilt, Amy Vanderbilt's Complete Book of Etiquette.
Lewis, Willa Cather
Brooks, The Writer in America
Ferris, Standing up to Life
Cushman, Stay Away, Joe
Cost, The Hour Awaits
Toynbee, The World and the West
Guardini, The Faith and Modern Man
Wright, The Outsider
Carse, The Beckoning Waters
Helfert, The Doctor Disagrees
Dyar, News for an Empire

The study group chose Thief River Falls as their next meeting place, with Dr. Diase as chairman.

Mr. and Mrs. Sig Salveson left Monday to return to Los Angeles after visiting with friends here.

5 Natives of India to Study Farming in County in Fall

Coming to U. S. under International Farm Youth Exchange Program

Five young men from India will visit Pennington county next fall. They will spend three months in the United States under the International Farm Youth Exchange program, County Agent Ray Mitteness stated this week.

They will visit Pennington county for approximately four weeks—from September 10 to October 15, and while here they will live with different farm families. The purpose of the program is to promote better understanding between nations and, of course, these men from India will be interested in learning about farm life and methods of farming in the United States.

On completion of their stay here they will return to India to become farm leaders or instructors. These men will be between 22 and 30 years old, most of them will have had college degrees in agriculture and also experience in that field in India. Prior to coming to Pennington county they will spend three weeks in New Mexico and five weeks in Lincoln county.

County 4-H Play, Music Festival Set April 13, 14, 16

Finals Scheduled for Lincoln Auditorium on Thursday Night, Apr. 16

Pennington county 4-H clubs will hold their annual play and music contests on April 13, 14, and 16. Elimination contests are scheduled for Goodridge on Monday, April 13, and for St. Hilaire on Tuesday, April 14.

These programs will begin at 7:30 p. m. Two plays and two music numbers will be chosen from each to be given at the finals to be held in Thief River Falls on Thursday, April 16, at 8 p. m. in the Lincoln high school auditorium. The good grooming contest will be held in connection with the finals on the 16th at seven o'clock.

Winners at these events will take part in regional programs given during 4-H club week at the Northwest School of Agriculture at Crookston. The public is invited to attend these local talent shows. A small admission fee will be charged.

Missionary Will Be at Tabernacle Sunday Evening

Guest speaker Easter Sunday evening at 7:45 at the Assemblies of God Tabernacle will be Rev. Wesley Hurst, missionary to Tanganyika, British East Africa. Mrs. Hurst will accompany him in vocal numbers and Rev. Hurst will play the trumpet.

Rev. Hurst and Rev. Abbott the local pastor, were associated together in training and also in their first pastorate. Until recently, Mr. Hurst held a pastorate at Kalispell, Montana.

The public is invited to the service. A missionary offering will be received for the Hursts, who expect to leave for Africa in a few days.

Mrs. J. O. Hoyum Is Laid to Rest Friday Afternoon

Funeral services for Mrs. John O. Hoyum, who passed away March 24 at the age of 71 years, were held Friday afternoon at the Zion Lutheran church, with Rev. Walter M. Pedersen officiating. Pallbearers were Oscar Vigness, Oscar Bakka, Oscar Arndtson, H. A. Dahlen, Joseph Paulsberg, and George Vraa. The remains were laid to rest in Greenwood cemetery.

Mrs. Hoyum was born at Hatton, N. D. January 25, 1882. She moved to Ross, Minnesota, with her parents when a young girl. She was baptized and confirmed in the Lutheran faith and on November 1, 1906, married Rev. J. O. Hoyum. Before moving to Thief River Falls eleven years ago, Rev. Hoyum served Lutheran parishes at Lake Lillian, Wannaska, and Goodridge. During the time they have lived in the city, Rev. and Mrs. Hoyum have been members of the Zion congregation.

Those who survive include her husband, J. O. Hoyum, and the following children: Mrs. Gust Holt and Mrs. Morris Owen, city; Mrs. Alfred Loer, Humboldt, Minn.; Mrs. Howard Yearout, Waukegon, Ill.; Mrs. Forrest Stern, Norcatur, Kansas; Edwin and Martin of Thief River Falls. Sisters and brothers who survive are: Albert, Oscar, and Lawrentz Aase of Thief River Falls; Edwin Aase of Warren; Mrs. Alfred Dicken of Thief River Falls; Mrs. Christ Hoyum of Lake City, Minn.; Mrs. Lloyd Cornell of Red Wing, Minn.; Mrs. Lillian Holt of Martinez, Calif.; and Mrs. Selma Elton of Pinecreek. Her parents, two brothers, and two sisters have preceded her in death.

Services For Henry Feldmann Held at Grafton

Henry Feldmann of Newfolden passed away at a local hospital March 25 at the age of 55 years. Funeral services were held at the Zion English Lutheran church at Grafton, N. Dak. Saturday afternoon, Rev. Alfred Thiem officiating.

Henry John Feldmann was born at Grafton January 22, 1898. After reaching manhood, he farmed in that vicinity until three years ago when he came to Newfolden.

He is survived by two brothers, Walter Feldmann of Grafton and Benjamin Feldmann of Wahpeton, N. Dak., two sisters, Mrs. Lawrence Gabbert of Grafton and Mrs. Herman Knudson of Newfolden.

Peter S. Meyers Succumbs at Local Hospital

Peter S. Myers, a resident of Thief River Falls for the past eight years, passed away at a local hospital Tuesday morning. At the time of his death he had reached the age of 73 years. He is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Oscar Thatoldson of Goodridge, and a son, William Myers, of this city. Funeral services have been tentatively set for Friday afternoon at the Gulbranson chapel. The complete obituary will appear in the next issue of the Times.

Civil Air Patrol Officials Confer Here Wednesday

Shown are Colonel Laidlaw, Pope, Major Courtney and Sgt. Bill Davis, the last two being regular army men assigned to the CAP.

Neal Fox, information officer of the local squadron, reported that it now boasts a membership of 31 and extends an invitation to air-minded citizens to affiliate with the unit.

Rites Held Monday for Mrs. Caroline Knudsen, Pioneer

Widow of Late Bernhard Knudsen Had Been Area Resident Since 1897

Mrs. Caroline Knudsen, 84-year old pioneer resident of Thief River Falls, died here Friday morning at the home of her son, Clarence, 603 Horace Ave. N.

Born May 8, 1869, in Orskaug, near Aalesund, Norway, she came to Grand Forks, N. D. in 1891, and married Bernhard Knudsen there in 1893. They homesteaded a farm in Marshall county, northeast of Thief River Falls in 1897, residing there until 1908 when they moved to Thorsby, Alabama. The following year they returned to Minnesota and purchased the Central Hotel in Thief River Falls which they operated until 1915. Later they operated the Soo Cafe for a number of years. Mr. Knudsen died in 1943.

Mrs. Knudsen was active in church, civic and fraternal organizations, having served twice as president of the Trinity Lutheran ladies aid, and was a charter member of the local Daughters of Norway lodge organized in 1911. For a number of years she was a member of the Rebekah lodge. On many occasions she appeared as a speaker before various groups. In 1911 she made a trip to her birth place in Norway, accompanied by her son. She was one of the Pioneer Mothers honored last year by the Civic & Commerce association.

Beside her son, Clarence, she is survived by her daughter, Elfrida, Mrs. Dieng Bjornaraa, Minneapolis; two grandchildren, Carolyn Bjornaraa of LaPorte, Ind., and Bernard Knudsen of Minneapolis; a brother, Oluf Vaksvik of Grand Forks, N. D.; a sister, Mrs. Ingebrigt Gausness of Orskaug, Norway, and a nephew, Ole Ness of Thief River Falls.

Funeral services were held Monday afternoon at Trinity Lutheran church, with Rev. G. S. Thompson officiating. Two Norwegian selections were sung by Walter Ekeren; and Mrs. A. L. Hamilton was the organist. Pallbearers were Anton Hall, Herman A. Kjos, Edward Ness, T. J. Reierson, Gustav Schilbred, and Henry Storhaug, all of Thief River Falls.

Numerous memorials were received, to be used largely for Trinity church activities and projects.

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Cleveland of Warren attended funeral services for Mrs. Ray O'Hara last Tuesday.

Robert Carlson to Be Local Agent for Star-Tribune

Robert Carlson, for the past four years employed by Len's Tire Service, last Friday was appointed Thief River Falls agent for the Minneapolis Star-Tribune, succeeding his brother, Glenn Carlson, who has served as agent since 1936. The appointment is effective next Sunday, April 5. Robert Carlson stated that he will devote his full time to his new position, and added that he is moving the agency office from the basement of the Union State bank block to new quarters in the Coca Cola building at 120 Main av. S.

Funeral Services Conducted for Mrs. J. H. Sannes

Final rites for Mrs. J. H. Sannes, 76, were conducted at two o'clock today at the Zion Lutheran church, Rev. Walter M Pedersen officiating. Mrs. Sannes, a resident of Excel township for 34 years, passed away on March 29. Serving as pallbearers were Herman Christofferson, Sigurd Grothe, Knut Knutson, Harry Knutson, Millard Nelson, and Gustav Bridston. Interment was made in Greenwood cemetery.

Mrs. Bergit Sannes was born in Satersdal, Norway, September 24, 1875. She came to Crookston at the age of 18 and in 1898 married Jorgen H. Sannes in that city. They established their home on a farm near McIntosh and later farmed near Gonvick from 1912 to 1919, when they came to Excel township. She was a member of Zion Lutheran church and an active worker in the congregation.

She is survived by four children, Mrs. Leo Sikeotis of San Francisco, Mrs. Harold Lykset of Fergus Falls, Helmer and Gilfred of Thief River Falls; and six grandchildren. Besides her husband, she is preceded in death by one grandchild.

Rotarians View Historic Photos Taken by J. Borry

Members of the Rotary club were in a reminiscent mood at their luncheon meeting Monday noon at the Elks club rooms, when they examined a collection of photographs, some of them dating back a half-century or longer. The pictures which were brought to the meeting by Alf Borry, had been taken by his father, J. Borry, pioneer local photographer, who died many years ago.

Sales Tax Bill Is Introduced in Legislature

New Levy Would Replace Personal Property Tax; Food, Drugs, Gas Exempt

Shall all Minnesota personal property taxes be abolished and a 3% sales tax be placed on all retail sales except food sold through grocery or meat stores? That's the 75 million dollar question facing the Minnesota legislature with the introduction Saturday of the long rumored "package" tax proposal.

Reduced to the simplest terms, the bill would:

1. Repeal the personal property tax on household goods, livestock, and implements, equipment and machinery; the flight property tax and the grain bushel tax.

2. Tax telephone companies on an ad valorem basis instead of a gross earnings basis.

3. Impose a general sales tax on all tangible personal property, public utilities services, theatre admissions, and hotel and similar room rentals. However, food and food products purchased at grocery stores and meat markets, and drugs and medicines sold on prescription would be exempt. Gasoline, off-sale liquor, and cigarettes would be exempt because they are presently subject to a state sales tax.

Author of the bill estimate that it would bring into the state treasury approximately 75 million dollars annually. Of this amount, 80% would be returned to local governments—county, village, city, school districts—and 20% would go into the state's general revenue fund.

Part of this 80% would be distributed to each county in lieu of the personal property tax which has been collected in that county. In other words, each county would receive a sum equal to the personal property taxes received in that county for the assessment year of 1952. This would be paid to the counties every quarter. The counties would then apportion these funds on the same basis as the personal property taxes for the assessment year of 1952 were distributed.

The remainder of the 80% would be allocated to the counties in proportion to the population of the county, and the percentage of the sales tax which has been collected in that county. The counties will apportion these funds in the proportion which the amount of the levy of each unit upon property for the current assessment year bears to the total levy upon all property within the county for that year.

Approximately one-third of the additional revenue proposed for distribution to local governments from the sales and use tax will go to school districts. This amount, according to the estimate, would be equivalent to an increase over the state as a whole of approximately $5.00 in the per pupil basic school aid.

Twenty per cent of the sales tax revenue, or approximately $15,000,000, will go to the state. Nine million of this sum will be required to finance administration and collection of the sales tax, and to replace taxes lost to the state through the discontinuance of the personal property tax, and taxes which are in lieu of personal property taxes. The remaining six million would be available for the general revenue fund, or for any tax reductions which the legislature may approve.

If passed by this session of the legislature, the law would go into effect on July 1, 1953. It is estimated that the tax collected for the third quarter of 1953 would amount to about $15,000,000. Since the local governments would have received their personal property taxes for 1952 (they were due February 28, 1953), they would not need this money. Therefore it is proposed that this be placed in the Veterans Compensation Fund and be used to apply on payment of the veterans bonus.

In this way, the backers of the bill hope to pay off the bonus before the ten year period originally set up in the bonus bill. The $5.00 special head tax and the 5% bonus surtax could thus be eliminated sooner, and thousands of Minnesota citizens would be excused from paying any state income tax at all.

Other exemptions included in the bill are motor vehicles acquired by disabled veterans; sales to religious, charitable, scientific literary, hospital or educational institutions; admissions to state, county, district and local fairs; transportation service; meals served by public or private schools to students and teachers; and newspapers or periodicals which are regularly issued at intervals not exceeding three months.

In addition, anyone trading in an old automobile on a new one would pay the sales tax only on the difference between the delivered price of the new car and the trade-in allowance on the old one.

Retailers would be required to turn in reports and funds collected every quarter. They would be permitted to deduct 2% of the total taxes collected as their fee for serving as tax collectors.

The bill also includes a "use" feature in connection with articles which are purchased outside the state and are shipped into Minnesota, and which do not become a part of any manufactured produce which will be sold at retail in the state. Making such articles subject to the tax prevents outside manufacturers and retailers from having an unfair advantage over their Minnesota competitors.

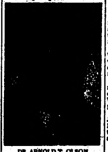
Minneapolis Man Newfolden Good Friday Speaker



DR. ARNOLD T. OLSON

Dr. Arnold T. Olson of Minneapolis, president of the Evangelical Free Church of America, will speak at the Union Good Friday service in the Newfolden high school auditorium on Friday, April 3, at 8 p. m.

President of the 25,000-member denomination since June, 1952, Dr. Olson's 23 years in the ministry have included service as infantry chaplain in World War II during which time he was wounded in action in France. He served a rural church in Houston, Minnesota, for three years, a suburban church in Staten Island, New York, for 15 years and a church in Minneapolis for four years.

His experience as a churchman has covered almost every phase of pastoral and administrative work. As a young seminary graduate he did home mission work, later serving as youth evangelist and editor of the youth page of the denomination.

Churches cooperating in the union service are the Lutheran Parish of Newfolden, Evangelical Free Church of Newfolden and Bethesda Lutheran of the Viking Lutheran Parish. Special singing will be given by the participating churches and a free will offering will be received for the American Bible Society.

Ancher Nelson Is Named Head of REA

Eisenhower Appoints State Official to Post

President Eisenhower Monday nominated Lt. Gov. Ancher Nelsen of Minnesota to be chief of the Rural Electrification Administration.

Nelson would succeed Claude Wickard, a Truman appointee, who recently resigned by request of the Eisenhower administration.

The White House announcement on nomination of Nelsen came while he was at the White House conferring with the president.

Eisenhower's press secretary James C. Hagerty, told newsmen Eisenhower was "very happy that the lieutenant governor has accepted this appointment."

The job pays $15,000 a year. REA's principal function is to make loans to bring electric power to farms.

Since 1924 he has operated a 280-acre farm near Hutchinson in central Minnesota.

After serving on local township and school boards, he was elected state senator in 1935 and reelected every two years until 1948.

Safety Council Lists 1 Death in '52 County Traffic

Thief River Falls Has Clean Slate Past Year, Annual Survey Reveals

One person was killed in a traffic accident in Pennington county in 1952, with none occurring within the city of Thief River Falls, it is revealed in the annual report of the Minnesota Safety Council, made public last week.

Martin Naeseth of the Gatzke community, the lone fatality, died of injuries sustained July 29 in a highway mishap one-half mile north of Goodridge.

In this county, which ranks third among 22 counties with populations ranging from 10,000 to 15,000, a total of 89 property damage accidents was reported, resulting in injury to 70 persons.

Thief River Falls ranked eighth among 31 cities of 5,000 to 10,000 population, reporting 64 property damage accidents and 25 persons injured.

Marshall county, with two traffic fatalities, ranked fifth among 17 counties of 15,000 to 20,000 population. The county reported 58 property damage accidents and 54 injuries.

Red Lake county, with four deaths, ranked tenth among ten counties with populations of less than 10,000. A total of 37 persons was injured.

For the state as a whole, 537 deaths were recorded, with 19,201 persons injured and 37,[illegible] accidents resulting in property damage.

By W. E. DAHLQUIST

By a one-sided vote the conservative House of Representatives has decided in favor of electing members of the legislature by party designation. If the Senate goes along with this idea then in the next election candidates for these offices will wear a party label. Both major political parties have favored a change to this system in recent years so whether or not the party system should be adopted is not strictly a party issue.

Minnesota is the only state that elects a two-house legislature without party designation, and that appears to be a strong argument in favor of a change. It can be conceded, I think, that electing the legislature by party designation would strengthen the political parties which, in our system of government probably would be desirable.

As one who looks upon this as a question of only academic interest I might pass along some of the factors that will influence the decision of many of the members of the Senate when they cast their votes. The Senate presently is loosely organized with a too-large majority group presumably in control. Actually, aside from the problems of managing the machinery of the law-making processes, the differences between the majority and minority groups are indistinguishable. Other than on the questions of organization I can't think of a single issue in recent sessions on which the Senate has divided by a fixed pattern.

Those who have served in both houses, and those who have observed the two houses in action, tell me that compared to the House the Senate is a comparatively friendly fraternity. This is understandable for several reasons. The Senate is smaller in numbers and there is a closer personal relationship among the members. Because its members are elected for four year terms instead of two, membership in the Senate is more stable and most of the members have long terms of service to their credit, (or discredit).

Considering these factors in terms of what would happen if we should elect and organize the next legislature by party designation, we know that the result, in the Senate, would be revolutionary regardless of which of the two major parties gained control. Some of the important committee chairmanships are held by men who classify as Democrats. Several of them have a background of legislative experience that dates back far into the pre-Stassen age. A Republican victory would unseat them. A Democratic victory would have the same general effect in reverse.

These are considerations that will influence voting when the question of party designation comes before us. For the Senate party designation means reorganization. With party designation we undoubtedly would get stronger parties. The governor's position as the head of the party probably would be strengthened. But regardless of what is done, in the future as in the past, we will have good government and we will have bad government and politicians generally will continue to be long on promises and short on performance.

A sales tax to replace the personal property tax and reduce the income tax is before the House. It still is my opinion that such a tax has no chance of passing in the present session. There is no widespread appeal for the repeal of the personal property tax which produces nearly 60 million dollars, practically all of which goes to local units of government, and certainly there is no widespread appeal for a sales tax.

In another two or four years, however, we may find ourselves with a sales tax not as a replacement of other taxes, but to provide new revenue. The Minneapolis Tribune for instance says shame on us if we don't increase basic school aid to $90 per pupil unit. If this is done the next session of the legislature will find itself looking for an additional 50 million dollars to maintain the program we have adopted.

At that time the ever virtuous Tribune will say shame on us for recklessly spending the state into higher taxes.

SALVATION ARMY CANCELS MEETINGS UNTIL SUNDAY

Special meetings of the Salvation Army have been cancelled until April 5 because of union meetings in other churches. Rev. Roy Dalzell and Mrs. Ruth Anderson will conduct meetings from April 5 through April 12, with the exception of Monday evening. The regular meetings will begin at 8 o'clock each evening, street meetings at 7 o'clock, and prayer meeting at 7:30.

Mr. and Mrs. John Hermanson visited at Walter Sorters on Saturday afternoon. In the evening Mr. and Mrs. Joe Schloffer, and children visited there.

Marilyn Sigerud was an overnight guest of her aunt, Mrs. Cora Vraa on Saturday evening, and at the Garfield Iverson home on Wednesday.

Ione Vraa and Marilyn Sigerud visited school in Dis. No. 48 on Monday.

We are sorry to hear Ethel Iverson is in a hospital with a virus cough due to a cold.

Services were held in the Rosendahl church on Sunday. At this service Robert Eidelbes was confirmed by Pastor O. O. Bjorgan.

Edgar Miller and Raymond Coan motored to Langdon Friday. Delores Miller accompanied them.

Pfc. Bernard Hovet, Delores, Marilyn, Edgar and Norman Miller were Monday evening lunch guests at John Millers.

Mr. and Mrs. Ole Sunsdahl and family were Thief River Falls callers on Saturday and also visited at Kenneth Sunsdahls. Carol remained to visit with Eldonna.

Mrs. Selmer Holen was the guest of honor on Wednesday evening, the occasion being her birthday. Those there besides the honor guest were Mr. and Mrs. Ole Sunsdahl and family; Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Wells and children, Mrs. Tenold and Mr. and Mrs. Albert Johnson and family of Ely. Four birthday cakes centered the table. She also received many nice gifts.

Mr. and Mrs. Otto Sigerud, Beverly and Virgil visited at the James Coan home Monday evening.

Mrs. Lloyd Hanson and Frances of Thief River Falls is visiting for a few days at the Florence Stenvik home.

David Solberg celebrated his first birthday on Sunday afternoon. Guests there were Mr. and Mrs. James Coan and Judy, and Mr. and Mrs. Hans Solberg. He had three birthday cakes.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Eidelbes, Mr. and Mrs. Alhart Dahl and Mr. and Mrs. James Coan and Adeline Stenvik visited with Ray Wells at the Deaconess hospital on Sunday afternoon.

35TH WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

Mr. and Mrs. Albin Dahl were honored at their home on Monday evening by a large group of friends and relatives on the occasion of their 35th wedding anniversary.

The program included devotion by Rev. O. O. Bjorgan. Duet, "God Will Take Care of You", by Delores and Doris Stenvik and Janice Quam. Song by Jeanette Stenvik. Mrs. Halvor Holen presented a reading about the couple's history, and also gave them a gift. A purse of money was presented them from the large group present which included Rev. and Mrs. O. O. Bjorgan, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Race, Mrs. Tillie Brattland, Mrs. Louis Quam and boys, Mr. and Mrs. James Wells, Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Wells, Mrs. Ray Wells and family, Mr. and Mrs. George E. Mosher, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Coan, Mr. and Mrs. Ole Sunsdahl, Mr. and Mrs. Orville Dahl, Miss Mabel Smith, Delores Stenvik, and Mrs. Ole Olson.

A delicious lunch brought by the guests was served buffet style. The wedding cake decorated with a miniature bride and groom was baked by Mrs. Selmer Holen.

Art Sorter and Martha, and Mrs. Gertie Sanstad of Middle River were Monday evening supper guests at Walter Sorters.

Edwin and Otto Sigerud and Walter Sorter motored to Grand Forks Monday and visited with Ray Wells at the hospital. On their way home they stopped and were coffee guests at the Lloyd Taylor home at Honeyford, N. Dak.

AROUND the COUNTY with RAY MITTENESS AGRICULTURAL EXTENSION AGENT

After several months of consideration this column has been started as a new feature of the County Extension Service. It has been added to assist in bringing the latest agricultural news and developments to Pennington County farmers.

Seed varieties

Speaking of new developments—one of the most frequently asked questions at this time of year is what variety of grain should be planted this spring. This of course, is a rather hard question to answer because on the recommended list there are a number of varieties, and chances are several of them will do about equally well.

The wheat varieties recommended for this area are: Mida, Lee, Rival and Rushmore. Rushmore is a new variety added this year, it is a cross of Thatcher and Rival, that originated in South Dakota. It is three or four days earlier than Rival and Mida and for that reason has had less stem rust in University trials. It is a beardless wheat about the same height as Lee.

Barley varieties on the list include, Kindred or Ɛ. Montcalm, Vantage and Portland. Kindred and Montcalm are all right for malting barley. However, for this area I would stay with the Kindred as a best yielder even though it has a bad reputation for weak straw.

With oats and flax it is a different story. There are quite a few varieties on the list. I might add a few varieties not on the list are commonly grown here and have proved themselves satisfactorily.

Many Kinds of Oats

Oat varieties include Bonda, Clinton, Mindo, Andrew, Shelby, Ajax, Branch, Clintofe, and James, a hulless oats. Clintofe is a new addition to the list and is similar to Clinton but about two inches taller and two days later in maturing. It's principal advantage it its resistance to all races of crown rust in North America and it shows some resistance to stem rust. This was originated in Iowa and in Minnesota and Iowa tests has yielded a little higher than Clinton.

Recommended flax varieties are—Koto, Minerva, Redwing, B-5128, Redwood and Marine. Redwood and Marine are rather new varieties and hold much promise for this area. Redwood was generally grown for the first time last year and showed up very well. It is a fairly late maturing variety, but is a week earlier than B-5128, or about the same as Minerva. In yield tests by the experiment station it has been comparable to B-5128 and is a better yielder than all varieties at the Northern Stations. For earlier planting this flax looks good for Pennington County. Marine is the other new flax variety and is available only to certified growers this year but should be generally available for 1954. It is another early flax similar to Cheyenne but has yielded a little better in University tests. This was developed by North Dakota.

Bulletin Available

All these grain varieties are described in Extension Bulletin 22, available at the county extension office. A similar bulletin on vegetable varieties is also published by the University Extension service. This should be a must for anyone planning a garden. It contains the results of new varieties tested in 1952 and also lists those varieties good for freezing. This is particularly important since there is quite a difference in how different varieties freeze. Just like to add a word of caution again—buy your seeds, whether grain or vegetable, from good, reliable dealers. Every year there is a certain amount of seed salesmen promoting some new unheard of variety, and usually at a pretty fancy price. Most of the time these seeds are no better than the varieties recommended. There are plenty of good dealers to supply any variety you might want that are doing business every year and will stand behind their products.

Lots of Talent

The Double N 4-H club really has the talent in music this year. In order to pick a number for the coming play and music contest they held their own elimination contest in the Civic and Commerce room last Friday evening. Five different groups took part in this contest and there were many other members that play musical instruments that did not participate. The change in the rules this year eliminates all solo numbers. The Double N club is presided over by Eva Mae Armstrong. It is the newest club in Pennington County.

Skilled Clinician Laboratory Head at N. W. Hospital

Northwestern Hospital announces the employment of Lois Kelpin of Winnipeg, Manitoba, as head of its clinical laboratory. Mrs. Kelpin holds a bachelor of science degree in the medical sciences from the University of Saskatchewan. This is a special four-year course designed for clinical laboratory technologists.

Following graduation in 1945, Mrs. Kelpin served her internship at Winnipeg General Hospital through all of the six departments of the laboratories of that hospital and spent a total of 2½ years there. She then worked for over three years for a large medical group clinic in Winnipeg. For the past 1½ years, she has been employed by the Manitoba Cancer Research Institute.

As a result of this training and experience, Mrs. Kelpin comes highly recommended as a registered medical technologist, said Harold W. Peterson, administrator. He added that her training and experience will be of great assistance in the setting up of new laboratory facilities in the new addition to the hospital.

Shrine Circus to Open in G. Forks at End of April

Kem Temple's Shrine Circus, greatest indoor circus ever to be staged in the Northwest, will be presented in Grand Forks April 30th and May 1st, 2nd, and 3rd, and everyone of the thousands of first through eighth grade pupils in the schools of the northern Red River Valley will be given a free ticket.

Through a unique ticket distribution plan, the pupils will be guests of businessmen in all the towns throughout the area.

In addition to those free tickets, there will be general admission tickets for adults and special priced tickets for high school and college students.

The thousands who attend the show will see 36 of the best professional acts in the show business which have for years been mainstays of the largest canvas-top traveling summer circuses. They have been brought out of their winter quarters and assemblies into a well balanced two-hour entertainment which will be staged in three full sized sawdust circus rings in the University of North Dakota Fieldhouse.

SOUTH ST. PAUL MARKET
Slaughter Cattle and Calves

Cattle receipts on Monday showed a decrease, both locally and around the 12 market circle. The drop off in marketings here numbered only around [illegible] head, but the 12 leading centers had [illegible] fewer than last Monday. Supplies, however, continued considerably larger than the same day a year ago. Locally slaughter steers and heifers made up the large share of the crop, such kinds comprising about 70 percent. Quality of the slaughter steers and heifers proved rather plain with low-good to low-choice grade offerings predominating. Cows made up around 25 percent of the receipts, with the balance largely replacement stock. Most salesmen priced their offerings on a higher level and this fact tended to slow up the early forenoon trade. Beef prices in the East were generally unchanged from Friday, but carried a weak undertone. However, reports from the Chicago live market revealed that slaughter steers and heifers sold sharply higher, and this tended to have a stimulating effect locally. When established slaughter steers and heifers at the local center sold mostly steady with last week's close. Except for overly fat beef cows the balance of the cow supply found a dependable outlet at fully steady prices, instances in extremes showing as much as a 50c upturn. Bulls held about steady. Vealers ranged steady to $1.00 lower, with weakness due largely to closer sorting. Replacement cattle moved slowly at about steady prices.

Invites Public to Attend Free Movies at Garage

With the Minneapolis-Moline Co. as co-sponsor, the Northern Chevrolet Co. will stage a free motion picture program in its showrooms Saturday, April 4, starting at 9 a. m., and continuing thru the afternoon, when lunch will be served.

A. F. Holzknecht, manager, announced that films to be shown are "The Crack in the Iron Curtain," a tour of Yugoslavia; "Rivers and the Soil," the story of the nation's great rivers; and "Glory of Paris," depicting scenes in the French capital.

Also to be presented is "Mozart's Wonderland," a visit to Salzburg, Germany, where the composer was born.

2 More Townships To Vote April 9th on Soils District

Thursday April 9, is the date set for the election on the admission of Polk Centre and Sanders townships to the Pennington County soil conservation District. All farmers living in these townships are urged to turn out and vote on the question, said County Agent Ray Mitteness in announcing the election.

The polling places will be School District 166 for Sanders and School District 99 for Polk Centre township. Polls will be open from eight to ten p. m.

At the present time the district includes all but four townships in Pennington county and is now in its fourth year of service to Pennington county farmers. The district headquarters are located in the Lieberman Building in Thief River Falls, with Don Lawrence as farm planner for the district.

Some Field Work Already Started

Mild spring weather prevailed locally during the past week, the maximum temperatures each day ranging from 46 to 49. Field work has already begun in a few favored spots in this area, and if the dry weather continues, seeding operations should get under way earlier than usual.

MUSCULAR DYSTROPHY VICTIMS GO TO UTAH

To Appear Friday

Guests at the Good Friday evening services at the Assemblies of God Tabernacle at 8:00 p. m. will be Rev. Lawrence Larson and Byke Friend of Crookston, regularly heard on the program "Hymntime" over the Crookston radio station. Byke and Larry, as they are known to their radio listeners, will be making their second appearance at the local church, according to Pastor Robert Abbott, of the Tabernacle. These young men will present a program of favorite Gospel hymns and Mr. Larson will speak. Their music features the guitar and violin, as well as vocal.

An added feature will be a special Good Friday broadcast to be heard over KTRF at 4:00 p. m. sponsored by the Tabernacle and presenting Byke and Larry.

Grass Fire Threatens Ed Johnson Farm Home

A change in direction of the wind Monday afternoon caused a grass fire that had been set on the Ed Johnson farm four miles southeast of the city on Highway 59 to spread to the straw banking around the house.

But for the timely arrival of two Kulseth brothers who saw the fire from the highway and who threw water on the blaze to bring it under control, the house would have been destroyed, according to Fire Chief Roy Langevin, who brought equipment to the scene.

A chimney fire developed Monday morning at the home of Marvin Sletten at 722 Markley av. S., no damage resulting.

Enought coal to heat a million homes—7 million tons annually—will be used to generate electric power required by the Ohio Atomic Energy project.

Marshall County Soil Conservation Dist. Is Expanded

Oliver Howland, chairman, announced that Rollis township in Marshall county was officially accepted into the soil conservation district. The action was taken at the regular meeting of the Marshall-Beltrami district supervisors held in Grygla Monday, March 30.

Mr. Howland pointed out that the facilities and services furnished by the district are now available to the farmers in Rollis township.

The ten farmers who had signed initial agreements during the past month were approved for assistance and Willard Roeske, local representative for the SCS was instructed to work with them.

Don Lawrence, farm planner from Thief River Falls, discussed the place of Birdfoot Trefoil in the agricultural program. He pointed out that it is a legume well suited to permanent pasture use. He also stated that it will grow when most other legumes will not thrive.

A short moving picture "Hay is What You Make It" was shown.

ADDITIONAL LOCALS

Mr. and Mrs. Knut Austad returned Tuesday from St. Paul were they had visited relatives. They were accompanied by Mrs. Jorgen Austad, who spent the weekend at the home of her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Don Cecka, in White Bear Lake and also made the acquaintance of her grandson, Richard Donald.

Northrop Quintet Wins City Title from Knox School

Phil Beadle's Cagers Take Championship by Decisive Win, 32 to 17

The grade school basketball championship for the 1952-53 season, and possession of the Bjorkman trophy, was decided last Tuesday night when, in a game played on the brand-new court at Northrop school, coach Phil Beadle's Northrop team defeated Jimmy Carlson's Knox team, 32 to 17.

During the season, the two teams had engaged the other in eight games, with each team winning four of the contests. Washington, the city's third public grade school, did not put a basketball team into competition this season, due to lack of enrollment.

The city grade school scoring leader was Knox' Phil Hanson, who, in the eight scheduled games plus the playoff game, racked up thirty-three field goals and nine free throws, for an aggregate of 75 points. Hanson's single game record was set on Feb. 14th when he tossed in eight field goals to lead the Knox to a 29 to 10 conquest of Northrop.

Leading the Northrop team to their playoff victory was Mickey Hanson, who tallied ten points, and team captain Lynn Nicholson, who notched eight points.

Swarm of Bees Appears Mar. 27

As evidence of the arrival of spring, Mrs. Robert Rupprecht reports having seen a swarm of bees flying about last Friday, March 27, after having emerged from under the Rupprecht house, where they had spent the winter months.

Keeping Score with "Huck" Olson

Signs of Spring

A short lineup of Thieves and Prowler baseball players were out at the Fair Grounds on Monday and Tuesday afternoons, engaging in limbering up exercises and some informal batting and fielding drills. A March 30th practice date must establish some opening-season record for the Fair Grounds diamond, and the field was in remarkably good shape.

Members of the Thieves baseball organization are slated to hold their annual meeting tonight, gathering at the Civic & Commerce room at the Auditorium, and draw up plans for the 1953 season. It's possible that the player shortage that is reported from the various towns will cause a re-shuffling of leagues and league membership. There is some doubt that the Northern Minny league will continue as a six-team loop; and indications are that the Red River Valley league will be losing a couple of its members.

When coach Ralph Skjod, who will direct the Prowler baseball destinies this season, issues a call for the blue-and-gold baseball candidates, an all-veteran squad will report. Of the team that won the district high school basketball title last year, only Dick Bjorkman and Jack Erickson, both of whom graduated, will be missing. Among the experienced boys that will be out for baseball will be southpaw LeRoy Aasland and righthander Duane Rafteseth, a duo that will provide the Prowlers with a first-rate pitching staff. Joey Poole, Sid Vraa, Jack Hoppe, Cal Vraa, Darryl Durgin, Darrold Dalton, Lyle Guttu, Larry Gilbertson, and Cal Vraa are other baseball lettermen that will be making bids for starting positions on the club.

While the Prowlers, judging by the material that will be available, are the favorites to win the district championship, the Crookston Pirates and the Red Lake Falls Eagles must be rated as title contenders, too. Lloyd Fesler at Crookston will have an all-veteran squad on hand; and Red Lake Falls, with such players as Ken Bombardier, Bozo Emard, Dick Williams, and Chuck Forslund as a nucleus, will prove troublesome. Crookston, with righthanders Loren Hegland and Bobby Caouette sharing the mound chores, will have an edge on the Eagles, for Red Lake Falls will have to find a hurler or two.

Who's on First?

That will be the problem for the St. Hilaire Saints this season, for this week they lost the services of nifty Harlan Olson, who moved to Little Falls. Harlan, who has been one of the finest first basemen around here for the past several years, has been employed in the St. Hilaire creamery, and he will be employed in like capacity at Little Falls. And, of course, he will be playing baseball with the Little Falls team.

In all the years that we having been watching the Saints play ball we have never seen Harlan turn in a bad performance, and there have been times when his glove-work has been of double A caliber. And at the plate, Harlan has been one of the "powers" of the heavy hitting St. Hilaire club, although he has shown a weakness against southpaw pitching. Harlan, who bats from a southpaw stance, had trouble in solving the lefthand slants of the Thieves' Phil LeGault. When Phil the Lefty is in form he makes trouble for all batters, whether they are right-handed or left-handed, so Harlan has a lot of company.

The Thieves will be interested in watching Harlan's progress with Little Falls, for the Falls team, one of the state's stronger Class B teams, were the Thieves opponents in a first round state tourney game in September, 1951. And the locals, behind the six hit pitching of Bob Johnson, who is on the Gopher staff this season, defeated Little Falls, 5 to 3.

Miscellany

The 1954 sub-district basketball tournament will be played here next March 4th, 5th, and 6th. The district tourney will again be played at Grand Forks, being scheduled for the North Dakota fieldhouse on March 11th, 12th, and 13th. — The Northrop grade school gymnasium, which has just recently been completed, will provide splendid facilities for the city's younger generation of basketball players. That gym is surely an improvement over such places as the haylofts of McGinn's and Mogenson's and Penney's barns, where many of us learned our basketball.

Rising above the false to the true evidence of Life, is the resurrection that takes hold of eternal Truth.

Critic Praises Concert by Minnesota 'U' Band March 25

By Lois Ekeren

The University of Minnesota Concert Band, directed by Gerald R. Prescott, was presented at the high school auditorium on March 25, by the Northwest Concert Association. The audience, although somewhat disappointing in numbers, responded enthusiastically and apparently enjoyed both the music and the informality of the occasion. Program notes were given both by Mr. Prescott and Dana Peitersen, Assistant Conductor. Without doubt, this was a worthwhile effort, since much of the concert repertoire of a band must be heard from a different viewpoint than the customary concert fare.

A concert band is constantly faced with a repertoire problem, because only comparatively recently has the band been accepted as a legitimate medium by serious composers. Therefore, to all schools of composition, the director must of necessity resort to transcriptions of organ and orchestra works. A Prelude and Fuge in G minor from Bach's organ works was done in as orthodox a manner as possible by a band, which has such different technical and tonal problems from an organ. The passage-work suffered somewhat from lack of clean articulation, but the phrasing was good, and the fugal entrances sensitively handled.

Next Mr. Prescott turned to four works from the late romantic composers. The Overture to Wagner's "Rienzi" proved to be one of the more successful transcriptions, its almost military character being quite suitable for a band reading. Here was the first evidence of the director's great sensitivity for tone color and ensemble. The movement from the D Major Organ Sonata of Guilmant had both delicacy and rhythmic dash, and the individual lines were woven with finesse, but still one felt the need for the fine articulation which an organist could give better than a section of clarinets.

The Finale from Richard Strauss' "Death and Transfiguration," even though it was another from the same school of writing, was most interesting to hear. Strauss, a student of Wagner's style, wrote this after a very serious illness, to describe his thoughts when he felt death was approaching. With a surprising economy and tranquillity of motion, Prescott brought from his musicians all the lush harmonies, the urgency and passion of the music, which reaches a tremendous wash of climactic emotion.

The highlight of the evening was a masterly performance by Miss Shirley Peterson and part of the band, of the Saint-Saens' Second Piano Concerto, written in less than three weeks for Anton Rubenstein. Miss Peterson is both very musicianly and very businesslike. She was sympathetic to the romantic, personal style of this concerto, and at the same time saved it from any sticky or cloudy interpretation by her crystal clear passage-work, and her meticulous technique.

The band provided just the right degree of accompaniment, affording the maximum enjoyment in hearing the melodic Andante, the charming and almost flirtatious Scherzando, and the brilliant Presto. The soloist deserved all the enthusiasm accorded her performance, and received it with poise and graciousness, despite some lack of concert etiquette on the part of the audience.

It would be thoughtful in the future to remember that applause for a concerto is customarily accorded after the first movement to acknowledge the soloist's cadenza, and then not again until the end of the entire work. To interrupt after the second movement even to show appreciation creates an embarrassing problem for the sensitive soloist, who is grateful for the response, but desires to preserve the continuity of the music.

Following the intermission, Prokofieff was represented by a little march with great style, unceasing motion, a delicious little trumpet solo, and a lyric clarinet contrast. In extreme contrast was a Handel "Musette," before the baritone soloist, James Scheu, was introduced. He sang with rich, warm quality the "Evening Star" from Wagner's Tannhauser. It was pleasant to hear this done in the original language and medium (except for strings, which we missed more than once during the evening), after the thousand and one arrangements made of it for every instrument, voice and text. "One Alone," and "Stouthearted Men," both by Romberg, were nicely done, and of course easy listening. The solo trombonist displayed for fluid tone and technique to great advantage here. She was one of several delightfully capable soloists in an unusually fine brass section.

The group called Writings for Band came as a breath of salt air—we truly welcomed these examples of the vigorous, more dissonant school of contemporary writers. Healy Willan, an English composer perhaps best known for his church music, was an ideal introduction to the others who seemed possibly a little stranger to some ears. The Schumann "Tribal Dance and Parade," and Siegmeister's treatment of two American folk songs, were happy choices to aid the listener in a sympathetic acceptance of modern creative expression. The Benjamin Britten arrangement of a Rossini tune was dainty, cut and gay, and the group closed with the Prologue from Persichetti's "Divertimento for Band"—Colorful, rhythmic, dissonant and stimulating.

Robert Harmon, Lincoln high school band instructor, and previously a member of this band, conducted the familiar "Stars and Stripes Forever." It makes good listening any time, and this performance was especially fun, thanks particularly to nine enthusiastic piccolo players who made the descant an unavoidable enjoyment, and to an especially well-handled trombone counter-theme. Mr. Harmon was warmly received, and Mr. Prescott chose this appropriate moment to present two members of the band who are products of the Lincoln high school music department—Miss June Barstad, and Miss Louella Lund.

Mr. Peitersen conducted the two concluding marches, "On the Quarter Deck" by Alford, and "El Albanico" by avaloyes. It is easy to make nothing special of a march, to let it ride along on its "oom-pah," so to speak, but these were well-done performances, and we would have enjoyed hearing more of the same. This was a fine group of college musicians, who played with understanding, and also with an enthusiasm that is sometimes lost by professionals. "Hail, Minnesota," sung by the audience, concluded the evening, which had offered a great deal of pleasure, and left us hoping that more people will soon realize how much personal pleasure and civic satisfaction they will experience by enthusiastic support of these performances.

Sports Show Set for Minneapolis

Annual Event to Open in Auditorium Friday

Premiere of America's top-flight sports spectacle, the 1953 edition of the Northwest Sports, Travel & Boat Show at the Minneapolis Auditorium, will be at 6 p. m. Friday, April 3.

With eleventh hour preparations now underway, the show promises to live up to the prediction of General Manager F. W. "Nick" Kahler, of the "biggest and best yet." The show will run through April 12 with doors open from 1 p. m. to midnight daily, and water and stage shows twice daily at 3:30 p. m. and 9 p. m.

A section of summertime North Woods complete with running streams, leaping trout in limpid pools, fir trees, birds and animals, and all the accoutrements of the Paul Bunyan country has been transplanted to the Auditorium for the show. Decorations are the most elaborate in the show's history.

More than $500,000 worth of 1953's most up-to-the-minute sports equipment will be on display.

Boat and marine equipment exhibits will be the greatest and most varied ever assembled under one roof in the Northwest. The sparkling displays will embrace cabin cruisers, rowboats, canoes, outboard motors, and other items.

Travel and resort exhibits will be found from 16 states and Canada.

REA

It is seldom that we read about the progress of the Rural Electrification Administration program in the press. We shall therefore study a recent report by Claude R. Wickard, REA Administrator, now resigned, who was appointed in July 1945 by the President and his appointment was confirmed by the Senate. The REA Administrator is responsible to the Secretary of Agriculture.

In the field of Rural Electrification the REA is empowered to make loans to cover the full cost of constructing power lines and other electric facilities to serve persons in rural areas. The loans bear 2 per cent interest and are to be repaid over a maximum period of 35 years. REA loans are repaid from operating revenues of the locally owned and locally managed systems so financed. Part of each consumer's monthly payment for electricity goes to pay off the government loans. The main functions of the REA are to lend money and to give technical advice and counsel where needed in the construction of the borrower's facilities.

We read in the report that by November 1952 the REA had approved $2,643,923,847 in loans to 1,081 borrowers. Additional loan applications of $177,267,350 were on file at the time for new construction and improvements. We find that over 1,000 of the REA borrowers now have rural electric facilities in operation, about 1,230,000 miles of line serving over 3,800,000 farmers and other rural consumers in about 2,600 counties of 46 States, Alaska, Virgin Islands and Puerto Rico.

We read further in the report that rural electric cooperatives have proved the most effective instruments for carrying out the REA program, because of their advantage as a method of making reasonable cost electric service to the people in rural areas. The REA estimated that farms that were recorded in the 1950 census, 88.1 per cent were electrified by June 30, 1952. Membership in rural electric cooperatives is not confined to farmers, but open to all people in a rural area who want electric service, including non-farm dwellings, schools, churches, stores, community buildings and rural commercial enterprises.

By July 1, 1952 the borrowers had returned to the government approximately $862,000,000 in principal and interest on their REA loans. This included about $50,000,000 in payments on principal and interest ahead of schedule, only one fourth of one per cent, is as much as 30 days overdue. It is reported that only one REA foreclosure has been necessary, that had been made to a commercial power company.

We find that REA lines are constructed to serve entire areas—this is known as "area coverage." The test is not whether an individual line will be self supporting, but whether the entire system as a whole is feasible.

It has been demonstrated that instead of a cash drain on low farm incomes, the REA has brought higher real farm income and better living. At this time of acute shortage of farm labor, the efficient use of electric power will make the farmers work lighter and that will help produce food needed.

We shall now study the progress the REA has made in Minnesota. At the time the REA was established 6.8 per cent of the farms in the state were receiving electric service from a central station. It is estimated that 92.8 per cent of all farms recorded in the 1950 census were served by June 30, 1952. By October 1, 1952 REA had advanced $115,568,762 as loans in Minnesota. The State borrowers were operating 73,816 miles of line serving 180,603 farms and rural consumers.

The latest report of debt service shows that Minnesota borrowers have paid $22,475,708 in principal and interest on their government loans, this includes $2,718,718 paid on principal and interest in advance of due date. Thirty-six borrowers were ahead on their payments and none were behind. The first REA financed line placed in operation in Minnesota was the Mille Lacs Region Co-operative on October 31, 1936. The whole REA program is a remarkable achievement in the short time of 17 years, has been an extraordinary boost to the economy of our nation, from the raw material to the finished product of everything in electric uses that has been required in the building of power lines, generating stations and all electric appliances that have been manufactured and sold to rural consumers.

When the history of our time is written, the REA will be recorded as one of our nation's greatest achievements. Much of the credit should be for that stalwart crusader for the common people, the late Senator George Norris of Nebraska, for his splendid work and assistance in getting the Rural Electrification Administration efficiently organized.

PLAYGROUNDS

Several years have passed since the question of a playground was talked about for the northwest section of our city. This section has been built up rapidly, there is not a vacant block in this area. However, there is land available that can be bought west of the KTRF radio station. Mr. Magnuson, the owner of this property is willing to sell one or more blocks for playground purposes. This land will soon be divided into building lots. The City Fathers should arrange to acquire some of this land while it is still available. It is of the utmost importance that more playgrounds be provided to help to keep children off the streets. We can see the value of playgrounds by watching the youngsters play on the East Side playground. Our city is still growing; it is time to act while land is available for playground purposes.

Trash Burners

It seems to me that the City Fathers should make it mandatory that all trash burners must be of an approved and closed type, so as to contain the fire and ashes. Some people are careless when burning trash, as there is a danger of setting fire to nearby buildings. Children have been seriously burned from playing around untended open trash burners. The alleys of our city are a disgrace, half burned rags and paper blowing in all directions. We find that many cities require and enforce, that all trash burners must be closed and of an approved type. This is something for us to think about to make our city cleaner and more beautiful.

I have greatly enjoyed reading the guest editorials in the Family Journal. A hearty thank you to the Times for the opportunity of expressing some of my thoughts.

Political Roundup

By Arthur Naftalin

The old threat of a special session of the state legislature loomed large this week. Churning through the heavy water of the last three weeks of the session, the legislators faced an agenda that appeared all but impossible to complete before the April 21 deadline.

Earlier sessions have been in similar difficulty but have managed to wind up their affairs. This time, however, the proceedings are snagged over the basic problem of taxes, and, unless some agreement is reached between the conservative leadership in the two houses and the Governor, a special session may be the only way out.

Pressing hard against the 90-day session limit, the legislators went into night sessions and made urgent appeals to each other to keep unnecessary debate and extended committee discussions to a minimum. But the big question remained the matter of where to find new revenue to meet what most observers agreed were unavoidably higher total appropriations.

Governor Opposes Sales Tax

The crucial development last week was Governor C. Elmer Anderson's renewed opposition to a sales tax. In his first radio talk concerning proceedings of this session, the Governor declared:

"Under existing circumstances I repeat to you that as of now I am opposed to a sales tax as a haphazard solution to our financial problem."

Some saw this statement as leaving the way open to some form of compromise on the question, but as this week opened the prospects of a sales tax had dimmed. There were urgent meetings of house and senate leaders over the weekend, and some of them were still hopeful that a "package" tax plan—including a sales tax, repeal of the personal property tax, and reduction in the income tax—might be adopted in some form or other.

Other Major Items Stalled

As tax discussions went ahead, other major items—especially action on appropriations—were stalled. The Governor, in his address, said: "I had hoped that by this point in the session I could report some definite achievement and passage of some major progressive measures, I regret there is no such accomplishment of the legislature to report."

He appealed—as did his predecessor, Luther Youngdahl—for the voters to let their legislators know how they feel about the failure to enact the Governor's program, including constitutional revision, party designation in the election of state legislators, power of arrest for agents of the liquor control commissioner, expansion of the mental health program, the employment on merit bill, improved facilities for mentally-retarded children, and carrying out the recommendations of the "Little Hoover" commission for governmental reorganization.

Reactions Are Mixed

The Governor's address was not designed to be blustering or sharply critical, but it was nevertheless pointed in its criticism of the legislators. It drew a mixed reaction, with many leaders feeling that the Governor dealt only with problems of a secondary nature and provided no particular help in working through the difficult problems of finance and taxation.

Those who strongly favor a sales tax were frank in condemning the Governor for having confused the tax issue, and there were some who raised the charge that the Governor was "playing politics" with the financial picture by taking what appeared to be a position in opposition to the sales tax but which he could conveniently switch when the chips are finally down.

Where to Cut Spending?

The only alternative to new or increased taxes is, of course, sharp reductions in appropriations. Facing what some regarded as a stone wall on new taxes, there was likelihood that legislators would set about this week on the grim business of pruning appropriations, and this would certainly let loose loud complaints from educational, welfare, conservation, and all other groups that would be adversely affected.

The possibility of diverting some of the money in the income tax fund remained, but this seemed now to offer less promise than at the opening of the session, because educational spokesmen were pointing out that an increase in basic aid to $80, or at the most $85, per pupil would tax the fund to the outer limits.

Cuts in spending, unless accomplished on a scale that might do serious damage to large and important state programs, seemed to offer no real solution. So the quandary of where to turn next rested heavily on the legislators.

Major Overhaul Needed

The plain truth of the situation is that the legislature's job has simply become too large to complete in the 90-day limit. The tax problem requires extensive study and perhaps a major overhauling before any one can say with certainty what new or increased taxes are justified. There isn't time for this, and yet decisions must be made. Perhaps the current legislative crisis will force senate and house leaders to a thorough reexamination of the procedures they have been compelled to follow, leading soon to an overhaul of their outmoded system of frantic legislating.

Let us show you how good baled hay can be

The best way to judge hay quality is to examine it in the barn this time of year. Here are some things you will notice about rolled bales:

1. The hay is bright and green — just like it was baled.
2. Leaves are sealed inside the bale — almost no leaf loss during handling.
3. Bales that have been rained on are still good — they shed the showers.
4. Rolled bales handle without waste — won't buckle, break or fall apart.
5. Rolled bales are easy to feed — rolled out, cut open or fed whole.

Let us show you why hay in rolled bales is winning blue ribbons for quality at leading shows. Your livestock needs the best.

There doesn't seem to be enough adjectives in the English language to assail and condemn the general sales tax. Mail is pouring into the Legislators against this tax. This type of tax, most of all, would be paid by the low income family whose purchases generally are made in small amounts. It does not have to come out as an "across the board" tax on 2 per cent or 3 per cent of the dollar. If several small purchases are made at various counters, it could run up to 4 per or 6 per cent on the dollar. This tax in small amounts is creeping and painless to the eye but, once adopted, would never be changed. Reports from other states who have it say this about it, "Minnesota will be smart if this tax is never passed."

The state aid parkway into and through Old Crossing Treaty state park wayside will be approved in part. We felt that the roads requested for designation as a parkway are already state aid county roads and in fairly good condition.

However, Commissioner Hoffman stated that the Highway Department would grant funds to fix the road within the park without designating a long stretch of road already under state aid as a parkway. During the past two or three years, the Red Lake River has flooded out the area which was formerly used as a picnic grounds in the immediate vicinity of the Historic Monument which commemorated the treaty between the Indians and the Commissioners for the United States and which ceded to the United States an area of some 11,000,000 acres.

Because this picnic area was washed out and is subject to high water, we have located the picnic grounds on a higher level elevation about a quarter of a mile north of the Treaty Monument and the allotment is requested to provide an entrance road from the end of the bridge into the new picnic area and proposed parking lot. These funds, too, will be approved.

The so-called Farm Bureau extension divorcement bill was passed in the House this week. For the past two years, leading farm organizations have met and discussed this division. The bill passed out of committee as a committee bill showing that all members were in favor of it.

Much Research Done at Mud Lake Refuge

Mud Lake national wildlife refuge near Holt is an important center for wildlife research and an outdoor classroom for undergraduate students of wildlife management. This area possesses an abundant and varied number of wild animals such as are found few other places in the United States. Due to the flat terrain and easy accessibility of the area, most forms of wildlife are readily observed on a tour through the refuge.

Several times each year groups of biology and wildlife management students from such institution of higher learning as the Bemidji State Teachers College and the University of Minnesota make a tour of the refuge, not only to view the many and varied forms of wildlife but also to study the different types of habitat utilized by the animals.

Each year a group of University wildlife students volunteer to work on the refuge for a period of several weeks to gain practical experience and attempt to put into practice some of the things they have learned in the classroom. These students participate in such activities as duck banding, duck habitat improvement, mapping of important waterfowl areas, censusing of waterfowl, identification of plants and animals found on the refuge, controlling duck depredations and many other refuge activities.

These students are compensated with a small wage to cover expenses, but far and away the most valuable compensation they receive is the practical experience they obtain. Several of these students have later remarked how much this experience helped them in meeting problems in other jobs.

Dr. W. H. Marshall of the wildlife department of the University of Minnesota has several graduate students working on problems on Mud Lake refuge. Fred Priewert conducted a study of the refuge mink population for the past two years. He successfully live-trapped about 40 mink and then released them after taking such data as weight, length, sex, age and condition. From the returns on these tagged mink he hopes to find the area over which a mink will wander in search of food, length of life, predacious habits, and similar facts which will aid in the management of the refuge mink population.

Two more graduate students from the University will start research problems this summer. Stanley Harris is working on his doctorate and is studying the ecology of the vegetation during the water level draw-down program now in progress on the refuge. This program is designed to produce more suitable habitat for waterfowl on the refuge and hence make hunting better for local hunters.

Morley Leyton will study the muskrat population with the idea of improving management methods so that better usage may be made of the large number of muskrats produced on the refuge each year.

Ornithologists from all over the nation have stopped at Mud Lake to observe the interesting summer waterfowl population. They consider Mud Lake one of the best spots in the nation for observing waterfowl in action. Dr. Breckenbride of the University Museum is a frequent visitor at the refuge, both for observing birds and also photographing them.

Central Lumber Co. Plans Parley at Grand Forks

Central Lumber company will hold its regional group meeting at the Ryan hotel in Grand Forks on April 10 and 11. The purpose of the meeting is to bring the management together in the exchange of merchandise experience, Oscar Ellingson, manager of the local yard, explained.

The company holds three regional meetings rather than a single large session so that travel distances are as nearly equalized as possible.

In addition to the managers of Central Lumber yards in this area the meeting will include major executives from the company's general office.

Dairy Leaders at Chicago Meeting Plan for Campaign

W. S. Moscrip, D. T. Carlson, and I. O. Lund, the official delegates from the Minnesota Dairy Industry Committee, represented the dairy farmers of Minnesota at the 14th Annual Meeting of the American Dairy association held in Chicago on March 23rd and 24th at the Morrison Hotel.

Delegates in attendance represented nearly 90 per cent of the nation's milk supply. This annual meeting was held to chart the dairy farmers' business action program for the promotion of dairy foods for the coming year. The American Dairy association has become well known as an organization of dairy farmers, designed to increase the consumption of dairy foods through advertising, merchandising, research and public information. This is the dairy farmers' "Self-Help" Program, financed by an investment of one penny per pound butter fat delivered to their respective plants during May and June.

No Beaver, Otter Season in Spring

Many Beaver Lost Last Winter Due to Disease

There will be no season this spring on the taking of beaver and otter, it was announced today by Game and Fish Director Frank D. Blair.

The game research unit of the bureau of game reported that the loss of beaver because of disease during the 1951-52 winter was as large as the take during an open season, and that the reproduction since then has not increased the population sufficient to warrant an open season this spring, Mr. Blair said.

Questionnaires received from 158 state game wardens and refuge patrolmen and 145 from sportsmen's club throughout the state showed the great majority recommending a closed season, Mr. Blair said.

In instances where nuisance beaver must be removed, Mr. Blair said, it will be done under special permit.

Potato Greening Caused by Light, Research Shows

The green spots which home makers complain they are currently finding on many potatoes may be caused by exposure to light, a University of Minnesota extension horticulturist said today.

According to Orrin C. Turnquist, University horticulturist, potatoes turn green when they are kept in the light. For that reason, he advises consumers to select potatoes that have been kept in a place where they have been protected from the electric lights such as under a canopy. At home, the potatoes should be stored in a dark place. Both fluorescent and incandescent lights are hard on tubers.

Since the green substance on potatoes is bitter, it should be cut off before the potatoes are cooked.

N. W. Bell Co. Adds 66,000 Phones to System During '52

Telephone Firm Spends $40 Million for Added Facilities Last Year

Increasing demand for telephone service continues to make necessary large-scale additions to plant and equipment of the Northwestern Bell Telephone company, S. B. Cousins, president, stated today when the Company's Annual Report for 1952 was issued.

During the past year, the report shows, expenditure of $40,600,000 for new telephone facilities was required to meet the demands for service and to make needed replacements and improvements in the company's plant in Iowa, Minnesota, Nebraska, North Dakota and South Dakota.

The company added over 66,000 telephones in 1952 and was serving 1,693,000 telephones in 661 local exchanges at the end of the year.

Comparing 1952 accomplishments and results with those of 1951 and prior years, the report shows that the company's investment has more than doubled in the last seven years, and that in the last dozen years its growth in number of telephones served has nearly equaled the development over the preceding 62 years since the first telephones were installed in its territory.

A corresponding increase in the public's use of long distance service has occurred. In the last 12 years, long distance calls increased from 102,000 per day to 285,000 in 1952.

Rural telephone service also grew rapidly during 1952. At the end of the year, the company was serving 7,000 more rural telephones than at the end of 1951 and nearly double the number at the end of 1940. In the company's territory, the report says, 84 per cent of all rural establishments now have telephones.

The report also shows that the company's earnings improved only four-tenths of one per cent in spite of an increase of $18.1 million in total income. This was due to an increase of $15.7 million in expenses and taxes plus the fact that the company increased its average capital investment by $21.7 million to permit it to meet the increased demands for service.

Look what's here and priced for Action!

It's back again—big, bold and beautiful—the Buick Convertible in the budget-priced SPECIAL Series.

And do you know what that means?

It means a barrel of fine fun for a lot of people who have their hearts set on a sleek Buick Convertible—and their eyes on the price they pay.

For this beauty delivers for just a few dollars more than the Convertible models of the so-called "low-priced three" but what a giant of a difference from there on in!

Here you get Buick power—from a walloping big Fireball 8 Engine now raised to the highest horsepower and compression ratio in Buick SPECIAL history.

Here you get the famed Buick Million Dollar Ride—now made even gentler by softer-acting coil springs on all four wheels.

Here you get Buick room, Buick comfort, Buick style, Buick structure—plus a wonderfully easy handling that far lighter cars would envy.

And here, if you wish, you can have Twin-Turbine Dynaflow Drive* with its jet-like getaway and infinite smoothness—and Power Steering* to make parking and traffic maneuvers still easier.

This could be for you—this dream car with the down-to-earth price tag. Why not come in to see us and find out?

*Standard on Roadmaster, optional at extra cost on other Series.

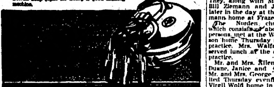
America in Miniature

The State of Maryland calls itself "America in Miniature" because of the geographic variety to be found within its borders. From the mountains of western Maryland with their mines and forests, the Free State sweeps to flat Chesapeake and Atlantic tidewater through rolling countryside suitable for dairying, orchardry, and many types of farming.

Pastry

All pastry should be rolled very lightly to guard against toughness. Use as little flour as possible.



Surge
DAIRY FARM EQUIPMENT

A lot of people like the SURGE!

That's why so many dairymen have waited for a Surge . . . to get a machine that they will WANT to go right on using for years to come.

Because SURGE does give you all the time saving and work saving plus milking speed and ease of cleaning that your money can buy. These things . . . and SURGE SERVICE makes the SURGE keep right on being a good milking machine.

More Cars

Nearly 52,117,000 vehicles were registered in the country at the end of 1951 compared to 48,143,000 in 1950?

30-Ton Truck Turns on a Dime

THIS UNUSUAL TURNTABLE helps speed construction on a new breakwater in Lake Superior near Beaver Bay. Here, Weldon Livengood turns a huge, rock-laden truck so it can back to the end of the breakwater and dump its load with a minimum of lost time. When completed, the breakwater will shelter boats taking on loads of concentrated iron ore from the taconite processing plant being built nearby. A bright future is in store for Minnesota's iron ranges as the mining industry develops the production of usable ore from low-grade ores and taconites. There will be jobs for more men—more prosperity for all Minnesota—if our ore industry can meet the competition of ores from other areas.

Awards Presented at Northwest School Graduation Mar. 26

Dr. James L. Morrill, president of the University of Minnesota, delivered the Commencement address at the 45th annual Commencement at the Northwest School of Agriculture, Crookston, on March 26. One hundred diplomas were given to graduates from the Red River Valley counties of Minnesota and North Dakota. Superintendent T. M. McCall presented medals, trophies, and scholarship awards to students making outstanding achievements during both the past year and for the four years.

Robert Hausmann of Hillsboro, North Dakota, valedictorian, was presented the scholarship medal and plaque; Darrell Hausmann, brother of Robert, received the medal for salutatorian.

Ronald P. Olson of East Grand Forks received the citizenship award for boys, Elaine Thureen of East Grand Forks received the citizenship award for girls and the O. W. Peterson memorial fund award, a gold medal, for greatest progress and achievement in voice. Students receiving honorable mention in citizenship were: Estelle Flatten, East Grand Forks, and Duane Halstensgaard of Fertile. The medal and trophy for speech and dramatics was awarded Edward Graham of Petersburg, North Dakota.

Caleb Dorr progress scholarship awards, amounting to $30. each, were awarded to a boy and girl in each of the three lower classes. Winners were: Freshmen—Barbara Hylland, Grygla; Donald Diedrich, Warren; Sophomores—Marilyn Balstad, Fosston; Willis Finifrock, Barnum; Juniors—Adelle Larson, Twin Valley; Neal Bjornson, Arvilla, N. D. Students receiving honorable mention in the Caleb Dorr awards were: Walter Anderson, Stephen, and Arlene Christianson, Goodridge—freshmen; Mardell Boyum, Mentor, and Donna Miller, Crookston—sophomores; Paul Bergeson, Fertile, and Mary Benson, Grygla—junior. Donna Miller of Crookston, won the Caleb Dorr progress award, a gold medal, in piano instruction.

Scholarship certificates were awarded to students who have been on the honor roll for four consecutive semesters, and these were presented to: Adelle Larson, Twin Valley; Paul Bergeson, Fertile; Mary Benson, Grygla; and Ronald Olson, East Grand Forks.

"Done"

"Done" is often used incorrectly in the sense of "finished," as "It will be an hour before I am done writing the lesson." It is better to say, "It will be an hour before I have finished writing the lesson."

State Asks Bids on Trunk Route Jobs

Several Projects in This Locality Included

Bids will be opened April 17 by State Highway Commissioner M. J. Hoffmann on 13 trunk highway projects, located in 17 counties, at an estimated cost in excess of $3,500,000, it was announced today. The biggest single improvement, from a monetary standpoint at least, calls for grading and paving T. H. 22 from 4th Street in Litchfield to Eden Valley, a distance of 13.8 miles.

Another step in the improvement of T. H. 10 to permit it to accommodate the heavy traffic volumes now using it provides for grading, paving and bituminous surfacing of the 4.9 mile section from the St. Cloud Reformatory to Second street in Sauk Rapids. This will entail construction of two divided lanes in a generally northerly direction from the present terminus of the divided lane highway.

The projects, by county and trunk highway, include in this area:

Koochiching & Lake of the Woods Counties. T. H. 11—Gravel base and plant-mixed bituminous surfacing of 16.8 miles between Spooner and Frontier.

Polk & Red Lake Counties. T. Hs. 92 & 222—Plant-mixed bituminous surfacing of 20.7 miles between Brooks and a point 1.7 miles east of Trail and between Jct. T. H. 92 and Oklee.

Roseau County. T. H. 11—Gravel base and plant-mixed bituminous surfacing of 12.7 miles between Salol and Warroad.

Pedestrians Are at Fault in Most Traffic Mishaps

Most pedestrians who were killed or injured on Minnesota's streets or highways last year were violating either a traffic law or failed to use good judgment, according to the summary of motor vehicle accidents compiled by the state highway department.

A breakdown of pedestrian actions shows that of the 2,143 deaths and injuries, 1,206 could be blamed on the victims themselves. Included in this category were such things as crossing an intersection against a signal, crossing diagonally, crossing not at an intersection, playing in the roadway and hitching on vehicles.

According to the highway department's summary, pedestrians violated laws or acted unwisely in 56 percent of all pedestrian accidents, with the percentage increasing to 65 percent in accidents which proved fatal.

The report also shows that 804 of the accidents occurred during hours of darkness or dusk, with 1,339 happening during daylight.

In many cases, the report reveals, pedestrians were killed or injured despite the fact that they were following approved safety precepts. Two were killed while crossing with the green light at an intersection, 18 were killed when crossing at unsignalized crossings and nine were fatally injured while walking on roads against oncoming traffic.

A total of 110 pedestrians met death on streets or highways due to motor vehicle accidents, an average of almost ten for each month of 1952.

Marshall Jury Not to Report April 6

Marshall county's petit jury for the spring term of district court was ordered not to appear for duty on April 6, as originally planned, by District Judge J. H. Sylvestre of Crookston at the opening of the term March 23. The jury was not dismissed and is subject to call should the need arise, said Edwin K. Rokke, clerk of court.

State Women Open Campaign to Sell "Bond-a-Month"

Mary Pickford to Visit Twin Cities Apr. 23-24 To Promote Campaign

With Mrs. Dwight D. Eisenhower and Miss Mary Pickford sparking the campaign, professional and self-employed persons of Minnesota and the nation are being asked to sign up for a bond-a-month during April's "Women's Crusade for Security."

Mrs. Eisenhower launched the drive earlier this week from the White House. Miss Pickford is making a 15-day tour, including Minneapolis and St. Paul (April 23-24) in the interests of the drive.

Essentially the bond-a-month plan is a free public service offered by banks in which the participant asks his bank to deduct the price of a bond, in any denomination he desires, from his checking account. Every month the participant receives a U. S. Savings Bond from his bank.

Groups to be contacted by representatives of various women's organizations in each county, as coordinated under the county chairman and his women's committee include:

Doctors, dentists, attorneys, store proprietors, garage owners, barbers, insurance men, real estate men, architects, resort owners, hotel managers—and all self-employed persons.

The Minnesota campaign is under the direction of Miss Adelaide Enright, St. Paul business woman, state women's bond chairman.

Mrs. India Edwards to Speak at Nicollet Hotel

Mrs. India Edwards, vice chairman of the Democratic national committee, will speak at a statewide Democratic-Farmer-Labor party rally Saturday, April 11, at the Nicollet Hotel, Minneapolis.

The affair will start with a 6:30 p.m. dinner at which two liberal members of the state legislature, Mrs. Sally Luther, Minneapolis, and Mrs. Coya Knutson Oklee, will be honored guests. William Carlson, DFL legislative liaison representative, will be toastmaster.

Tickets may be purchased from the chairman of any DFL club, or at DFL headquarters, 325 second Avenue South, Minneapolis.

Mrs. Edwards was elected vice chairman of the Democratic National Committee in 1950. Before women's activities were integrated at the national committee she served as executive director of the women's division.

Propose Increase in Iron Ore Levy

3 Solons Submit Bill Tripling Present Tax

Three legislators proposed Thursday that Minnesota forget about levying a sales tax and instead raise the extra money it needs by tripling iron ore taxes.

They told the state legislature that mining companies wouldn't have to bear the burden of the extra tax but could pass it on to steel consumers, "like Texas oil taxes are passed on to Minnesota consumers."

Liberal Representatives Joseph Karth and D. D. Wozniak of St. Paul and Rep. Keith Kennedy, Staples conservative, said the state could raise an extra 60 million dollars a year by boosting the iron ore occupation tax from 12 to 36 per cent and the royalty tax from 11 to 36 per cent.

They estimated this would boost the tax on a ton of iron ore from 37 cents to approximately $1. They said the steel companies could get the tax back by raising the prices of their product.

The higher taxes would apply to high grade ore only and would not be a bar to development of low-grade taconite, the three representatives said.

U. S. Birth Rate In 1952 Sets Record

NEW YORK—More babies were born in the United States during 1952 than in any previous year in the nation's history. The total is estimated at 3,875,000, and the year's birth rate was approximately 25 per 1,000 population.

The past year was the sixth in succession in which the number of births exceeded 3,500,000.

The maintenance of the birth rate at the current high level is described by statisticians as "unexpected" in view of a decline since 1946 in the marriage rate.

Last year's record reflects a large number of second, third and fourth children born of post-World War II marriages and is, to some extent, the result of the relatively low age at marriage in recent years. It also may be considered an indication of a change in attitude of the young married people of the nation as to the size of the family.

Infant mortality was probably the lowest ever experienced in any year. It was estimated at a little over 28 per 1,000 births.

Profiles

Profile silhouettes are prominent in the millinery picture to look best with new costumes. Helmets and toques are also popular, while pillboxes are rounded in feeling. Contrasting color and fabric combinations are used extensively.

News of Past Week from Plummer Area

Mrs. Josephine McCrady, Box [illegible], Plummer, Phone [illegible]

The Plummer Chapter of the Future Farmers of America held their Parent-Son banquet March 28th at the Plummer Auditorium. The purpose of the banquet was to celebrate a good year in F.F.A. work and to further acquaint the parents with this type of work.

The dinner was prepared and served by the members of the FHA, Future Homemakers of America, Mrs. Bill Curran, Home Economics teacher, is their supervisor.

After the dinner, the regular order of ceremony was used both for the opening and closing of the meeting. Mr. Monson, Chapter Advisor, introduced the guests of honor. In the introduction, Mr. Dave Ostby, Chairman of the Board of Education, and Supt. Bjornson were called on for remarks.

Dr. Les Dale was the speaker of the evening. His topic was on progress that has been made in farming and its continued importance both economically and politically.

At a highlight of the meeting Mr. Monson presented Eldon Burstad with the award for being the outstanding senior in vocational agriculture. Eldon was given a medal and a certificate by the De Kalb Foundation.

Entertainment was provided in the form of three musical numbers and a drawing for door prizes. The door prizes were provided by the Ralston-Purina Co.

Plummer Boy Wins F.F.A. Award

Eldon James Burstad, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Burstad of Plummer has been awarded the De Kalb Agricultural Accomplishment Award for 1953. This award is made each year to the outstanding senior boy in high school taking vocational agriculture.

In winning this award the following achievements were listed for this F.F.A. member; president of the Plummer Chapter of the F.F.A., member of the crops judging team, and he will serve as State F.F.A. committeeman from the District at the State F.F.A. Convention this spring. In addition to this he has a fine start in farming and has set up a good program of supervised farming in vocational agriculture.

The regular meeting of the 49'ers Club was held at the home of Mrs. J. W. Pahlen Tuesday afternoon, Mar. 24 with ten members present, Mesdames Gordon Hoflus, W. Rhode, Lem Dobson, Elmer Lee, Alcid Morrissette, R. H. Pahlen, W. Peterson, O. L. Skatvold, J. W. Pahlen and W. Longergan. Meeting was called to order by President Mrs. Morrissette. The annual meeting of the Plummer Co-op Creamery Assn. was held on Monday, March 30 at the Plummer hall. This was the fiftieth anniversary of the creamery. A full ham dinner was served to 388 people. The dinner was served by the Women's Association of the Redeemer Lutheran Church and the First Presbyterian Church.

The guest table was decorated with gold streamers, candles and an anniversary cake at this table besides the present creamery board and operator Gust Craft were seated O. E. Wilson, a past president, Emil Malwitz, president of the Plummer Commercial Club, Stuart McLeod John Lager and Art Stenberg from Land O'Lakes at Thief River Falls.

The dinner program was in charge of the General manager and Secretary Geo. H. Orr, who introduced Emil Malwitz, pres. of the Commercial Club, who very graciously welcomed the patrons of the creamery and their friends stressing the great value the creamery was to the entire community. It seemed most fitting that Mr. Malwitz should give this welcome not only as President of the Commercial Club but also a patron and loyal supporter.

Stuart McLeod, president of Land O' Lakes at Thief River Falls gave the response to the welcome by complimenting the creamery on their wonderful year of business and their extreme loyalty to the Land O' Lakes.

The afternoon meeting was called to order by President Peter Gerardy. The annual report was read by Stuart McLeod. The report revealed a good increase in volume and also a substantial increase in business. The meeting was addressed by Mr. Cob from Grand Rapids Experiment Station, Stuart McLeod, John Lager and Art Stenberg all of the Land O'Lakes at Thief River Falls.

Poisonous Snakes

How many kinds of poisonous snakes are there? Approximately 2500 species of snakes are known to science, and of these about 150 have the venom apparatus sufficiently well developed to be potentially dangerous. This does not, however, include the sea snakes, in the Pacific and Indian Oceans, all of which are venomous. Of the 150 venomous species, about 75 are so small or rare that they can hardly be considered to present any hazard to human beings.

Oven-Fried Fish

Oven-fried fish is different and will eliminate fishy odor in the house. Dip fish in salted milk, then in cornmeal. Place in shallow greased pan, dot with butter and bake in a moderately hot [illegible] oven for about 20 minutes or until fish flakes easily when tested with a fork.
